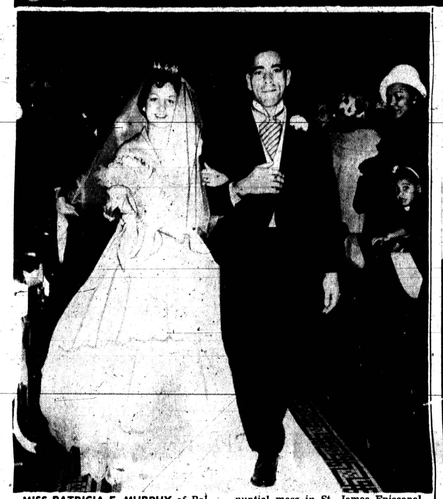
Dade, Jr., were, left to right: Mrs. Howard Murphy, mother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Dade, Sr., parents of the bridegroom; Mr. Murphy, father of the bride; Madelyn Murphy, Randy Harrison, best man, Miss Carol Cole, a bridesmaid; William Lee, an usher, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nelson, bridesmaid and usher, respectively.



MISS PATRICIA E. MURPHY of Baltimore and Charles H. Dade, Jr. of Germantown, Pa. were married in a nuptial mass in St. James Episcopal Church, Baltimore, at High Noon, Saturday.

MR. AND MRS. NORMAN W. UNCLES JR. were married in Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, and feted at a reception in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Saturday. Mrs. Uncles is the former Miss Ernestine Rose Wilson.

Miss Owens Bride Of Hiram Ammons

Saint Cecilias' Catholic Church was the setting, Saturday at three, for the wedding of Miss Shirley Owens to Hiram Ammons.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Marcellus Owens, and Mr. Ammons, son of Mrs. Hilda Parker.

Fr. McCormick officiated at the double-ring ceremony and Charles Parker was soloist.

• • •

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of taffeta and French Alencon lace, made with a scoop neck and lace panels down the front. The cathedral train was bordered in the lace.

Her veil of illusion was held by a pill box of the lace and she carried a Bible topped with two white orchids and carnations with streamers.

• • •

BRIDAL attendants were Misses Bettye Johnson, Ollie Smith and Carol Owens. They wore identical frocks of bronze peau taffeta, the skirts tiered and slightly ballooned. Their shoes matched the dresses, and their hats were tiny pill boxes with bronze veils.

Bouquets were of gold and with the arrangements in cascades. Miss Johnson, maid of honor, carried a crescent of the same flowers.

Flower girls, Rona Ammons and Jill Johnson, also wore frocks of the bronze peau taffeta, and carried colonial bouquets of the same flowers as attendants.

• • •

ROBERT AMMONS was best man for his brother. Franklin Fitzgerold was head usher and Carlton Speights and Jerome Johns were other ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Owens wore a costume suit of sandlewood brocade, the jacket enhanced with a mink collar. Her tall tuban was of heige draped chiffon. Gloves matched the hat, shoes, the dress, and she wore her orchid corsage on her sandlewood bag.

Mrs. Parker wore beige brocade dress with matching pill box and brown and gold brocade shoes and bag. She too, wore an orchid corsage on her bag.

• • •

A RECEPTION, following the ceremony, was held in the Me-De-So Club. Guests were introduced to the receiving line by Mrs. Romine Taylor, aunt of the bride.
