Gadabouting In Baltimore

The goose still hangs high as Baltimoreans mark Xmas

with Lula Jones Garrett

CAME CHRISTMAS — and trooping through the town was strictly a journey through a wonderland made post - card pretty by a baptism of snow.

There's something about Christmas in Baltimore . . . a softened hearth-hugging time in the Maryland city that plays all the strings of one's heart around family reunions, traditional dinners church-going, and anniversaries.

AND THEN there are always enough non-conformists to add spice by not giving a whoopla about all that and who go perking off to other places to see other faces than the familiar old Saint Nicks.

In the latter category, Dr. and Mrs. Martin D. Jenkins of Morgan State College, who were in Florida for an educational meeting and flew on to the Islands for Christmas Day in the sun; and Mrs. Randolph Waters, who was in Jamaica for the Days of Days, where she is guesting with Lady Edris Allen for a couple of weeks.

And the Wilbert (Harriet) Joneses, who hung the greens on their pretty Liberty Heights home, and then gathered at their children, Pamela and Carolyn Jones and Humphrey White and went down to Virginia to spend the holiday with Mr. Jones' relatives; as well as Dr. and Mrs. Fred Adams, who were in Dallas, Texas, for the holiday with his relatives. With them went the George Browns of Morgan College.

TOO, THERE are others who come in to add flip to town doings. . .such as Mr. and Mrs. Louis (Dr. Juliet) Busterman, here to celebrate with Dr. and Mrs. Ted Phifer a 25th wedding anniversary on Christmas Day.

The Phifers had as dinner guests of her brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Albert Burwell, in the early part of the day. . . and were hosts to a number of friends at their place in the evening.

But next day found the Busterman tucked in Johns Hopkins Hospital, after a heart attack early Tuesday morning. Still in the hospital at the end of the week, he is, however, doing quite well.

The Roy Garvins came over from Washington for their traditional dinner with the James H. Murphys. . . joined the hosts for the Phifer party.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Gray and Mrs. Bessie Jackson of Newport, R.I. were guests of Mrs. Violet Walston and Mrs. Corene Jennings. The visitors were en route home from a trip to Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina.

Mrs. Leon A. Brown drew for the holiday her cousin, Edward Hill, Edward Hill, Jr., Mrs. Eleanor Hammond and Mrs. Gladys Blackwell of New York.

THERE WAS a flock of the loveliest parties dotting the holiday calendar.

Early in the week Mercedes Douglass held forth early in the week at an annual Christmas party in her Tioga Parkway home.

The musically talented Mrs. Douglass drew upon her contacts to provide carol signers throughout the evening and into the early morn. . . her singers coming chiefly from the Gerald Wilson's "Baltimore Singers".

Her attractive apartment was candlelit and Christmas decored . . . her buffet was laden and added no little to the eye appeal of the affair were the guests, who included:

Wallace Baden, the baritone; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson, Mrs. Charlotte Mebane, Councilman and Mrs. Walter Dixon, Dr. and Mrs. G. James Fleming.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gilliam, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Norris, Miss Faith Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Windell Wright;

Miss Joyce Weaver, Mrs. Mabel Weaver, Dr. James Davidson, Mrs. Gwendolyn Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd David, Mrs. Eunice Hall, Mrs. Mildred Day and Mrs. Mercedes Rawlings.

THE PRESENT crop of Debutantes were, of course, way out front in the scheme of things.

Mrs. Myles Harrison entertained at cards and luncheon in their Wakefield Road home on Tuesday afternoon for her niece, Miss Brenda Clark, who was presented by the Baltimore chapter of Girl Friends, on Thursday night.

Brenda, chic in a black wool frock and pearls, was joined by Carol Dotson, and Carol Williams debutantes; Terry Smith, a Subdeb; and Carol Sherrington, Elise Jude, Beverly Barrett, Laura Jude, Tina Bates, Brenda Winckler and Gloria Forte.

THE SILHOUETTES were hostesses at a reception for Miss Natalie Thornton, whom they sponsor, in the Kappa House.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Viola Taliaferro, president of the Baltimore chapter of Silhouettes; Mrs. Helen Thornton, mother of the debutante; Miss Thornton, Helen Elaine Thornton, sub deb; and Edward Thornton, father of the debutante.

The honoree wore a dress of champagne brocade with fitted bodice and bell skirt, and carried a bouquet of small red and yellow chrysanthemums. Her shoes were of champagne satin.

Mrs. Thornton chose a blue satin sheath dress, with matching accessories; and Mrs. Taliaferro, gold satin brocade dress with matching jacket. Helen Elaine Thornton wore a frock of deep pink silk with full skirt and matching satin shoes.

Guests included:

Messrs. and Mesdames Albert James, Llewellyn Woolford, Enos Roberts, Earl Melio, Norman Ross, Melville Pugh, Elwood Brown, Johnson, Mrs. Charlotte Mebane, Councilman and Mrs. Walter Dixon, Dr. and Mrs. G. James Fleming.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gilliam, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Norris, Miss Faith Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Windell Wright;

Miss Joyce Weaver, Mrs. Mabel Weaver, Dr. James Davidson, Mrs. Gwendolyn Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd David, Mrs. Eunice Hall, Mrs. Mildred Day and Mrs. Mercedes Rawlings.

SEALED WITH A KISS — Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Pope were caught about to put the finishing touches on their wedding ceremony, recently. The bride is the former Miss Elvir Martin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Martin of 2924 Arunah Ave. Mother of the bridegroom is Mrs. Lena Pope of 4026 Cedardale Rd. The Rev. N. B. Carrington of Union Methodist Church performed the rites at the church.

HAPPY FOR 14 years, the Rev. and Mrs. W. William Albert Henson, 1028 Fulton Ave., celebrated their 14the wedding anniversary with a reception on Dec. 20. They met through the AFRO Lonesome Hearts column. Highly respected citizens, they spent Christmas collecting clothing for the unfortunate and providing for the needy.

the AFRO's Santa, their holiday party certainly should have done justice to it. To begin with, Ann McAllister's beautifully decorated home was a perfect setting for enjoying the classical music and movie theme songs played by a real live Following carol singing, ensemble.

Following carol singing, the wives sipped eggnog as they exchanged presents. The evening ended with a deliciously Christmas meal. Furnishing the entertainment were Elizabeth Day at the piano, William Hoskins, bass, and Matthew Fraing on the strings, and the Lawyer's Wives talented president, Shirley Pinkett, raising her lyric voice in song with Matthew.

Enjoying the evening also were Margaret Koger, Catherine Greene, Anna Williams Daisy Josey, Shirley Harrgrove, Audrey Sexton, Ruth Rosedom, Florence Bailey, Jacqueline Watts and Adelle Foreman.

MISS ANTOINETTE PORTER, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Anthony Porter, hosted the P.L. Youth Group of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority in the officers' lounge at the Winchester Armory, Saturday.

The spirit of the holiday season was caught and enjoyed at this pre-Christmas party by the members of the Girls Club of the Armory. Captain Porter, the host for the group, also served as a chaperon. The other chaperons were Sorors Lillie Ross, advisor; Alice Hall, Margaret Lassiter, Vivian Purviance, Beulah Caldwell, Eva Doud and Mr. Doud.

The silver Christmas tree decorated with blue balls and P.L. cut outs (Zeta colors) and the pretty rainbow colors of the dresses of the young ladies enhanced the atmosphere of the affair.

Out - of - town guests were Soror Sedalia Anderson and her friend, Ann Patterson, from Cherryville, N.C., who were visiting Soror Doud.

The members of the P.L. Youth Group are: Hansonia Caldwell, president; Janet Singleton, vice president; Donna Tillman, sergeant-at-arms; Dianne Lee, corresponding secretary; Ann Lassiter, recording secretary; Janice Marrow, chaplain; Peggy Newman, treasurer;

Brenda Pettiford, Brenda Brown, Janice Marrow, Rayna Keyser, Pat Nicols, Cynthia Brown, Janice Tillman and Antoinette Porter.

Their guests also enjoyed a full evening of dancing, refreshments and fun were: —

Robert McKinely, Delores Snow, Thomas Pratt, Sandra White, Garland Dunston, Ra Elda Williams, Edgar Hamiel, Olivia Atkins;

Robert Adams, Beverly Brown, Robert James, Patricia Grimes, Holman Frazier, Vashti Smith, Antonio Alphonso, Minnie Smith, Jerome Williams, Patricia Alphonso, Irvin Owings, Jacqueline Burke, Dervin Keyser, Janice Hall, Kenneth Adams, Cynthia Dorset.

Ross Nickels, Jo Ann Dorset, Calvin Young, Ann Peashiell, Skippy Owens, Marvin Cooper, and Kenneth Royster, Soror Ross and Soror Ruth Cleaver, chapter basileus.

BETTYE LINDSAY entertained the Rinkle Dinks at a Christmas party following a business meeting of the club, Friday ago.

And while sipping and enjoying a lavish menu themselves, the girls prepared a basket of foods and toys to be distributed by the AFRO's "Mrs. Santa".

Charlie Tilghman, honorary member of the club, was given a plaque inscribed "To have a friend one must be a friend". Ada Smith is president of this group.

CARRIE O. JOHNSON (home ec instructor at Soldiers Point High School) hosted members of her family at a pre-Christmas dinner.

Following dinner she showed films of places visited during her cruise of the Caribbean recently, and displayed souvenirs from the islands.

Incidentally, she has a surprise tucked up her sleeve for Les Femmes, inspired by the cruise, when she entertains next month.

Her dinner guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Johnson and Margaret Gassaway (a non-family member).

GAMMA CHAPTER of the National sorority of Phi Delta Kappa held a brief business meeting on Saturday. . followed with an inspirational Christmas program.

The Rev. Perry M. Tilghman of Trinity A.M.E. Church gave the Christmas message. There were readings by Sorors Ruby Freeland and Beatrice E. Rawlings and a medley of Christmas songs.

Soror Shirley Watkins arranged the program. Sorors Alberta Briggs and Louise Jones set up and decorated the tree, around which gifts were placed for aged persons living in nursing homes.

Dinner followed. Mrs Sibil Tilghman was guest.

POT - POURRI: Fisk University Alumni, hereabouts, will especially want to know that one of their distinguished members, Vernon H. Dixon, Nashville, Tenn. real estate broker, is in Johns Hopkins Hospital. Mr. Dixon underwent a highly technical operation Christmas Eve. Is doing well, hospital reports. Cards will reach him in Room 231 Marburg Clinic. Mrs. Henri Dixon, here for the duration of her husband's illness, is staying in the Sheraton - Baltimore Inn. The Dixons are distant relatives of Harriet Jones of this city.

The Sunny (Linda) Tills (he's the singer) had a five-pound 13 ounces daughter for a holiday gift. Baby arrived on the 13th. Has been named Kristi.

Mrs. Godfrey (Mary) Johnson moved into Johns Hopkins Hospital, Thursday for repairs on a knee injured during an instruction period in physical education at School No. 131, early in September.

The Purveyors Club, of which Esther Arrington is president; Mildred Beale, secretary; and Audrey John son, treasurer; took their Christmas duty seriously. They wrapped scores of packages containing robes, slippers and pajamas, for children in the ward of Provident Hospital.

1962 Predictions

1961 cut the pattern for 1962 and the New Year is but a continuation of the old year, with fresh news, fresh views.

What's coming up as the Wheel of Fortune continues to turn?

This huge city, often a heartless step - mother who turns a deaf ear on her poor and unfortunate, will take better care of them during 1962.

This prediction comes from the way the wind blew during pre-Christmas charity campaign about town. All organization, including the AFRO, report they were able to take care of more families than ever before.

NOT ONLY does Baltimore grow kinder, but warmer.

The weatherman predicts a "fairly mild" winter in contrast to last year's "hardest winter in history."

A new job in the $6,000 bracket for the right person is due to come before March in the Mayor's Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

The specifications are being set up now through Civil Service for a "Division Chief-Education" head. His duties will be radio and TV, public speaking, preparation of brochures, pamphlets, releases and displays to inform the public, educate the total community on fair employment.

The budget for such is about $9,000 yearly.

A LARGE Baptist congregation will move to the synagogue now located in the vicinity of Druid Hill Park. The price at settlement, a cool $1 million.

The opponent who is scheduled to "do the most damage" to a 4th District woman senatorial candidate is being purposely "cut out her tail" by Jack Pollack come the second week of January.

THE VERDA WELCOME Appreciation Testimonial, to be held at the Emerson Hotel Grand Ballroom, will become a success due to an intricated group of donors, sponsors and "angels" who are members of the Citizens Committee of Baltimore.

The date of the event, Jan. 28, will show the town a "full house".

AT MORGAN State College a new director of Harper House, women's dormitory, will be appointed to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Edna Coleman who is ill.

A Baptist congregation will begin construction on a modernistic church at Windsor Ave. and Garrison Blvd, to be completed in 1962. The last word in design.

Harvey Walden, II, 1534 N. Rosedale St., will move his family, bag and bagage, to Chicago when he takes over for his father, the Rev. Harvey Walden as director of the new $1/2 million community center of Grant Memorial AME Church in January.

The Rep. Mr. Walden Sr., rest for a couple of days was in Baltimore over the Christmas holidays helping his son settle his property in preparation for the move.

The Community Center is due for dedication the latter part of January.

AT THE SAME time, the elder Mr. Walden will walk to the altar with a wealthy Chicago widow.

A wealthy Baltimore widow of 15 years is also scheduled to be joined in wedlock at the altar of a Methodist church between Jan. 1 and March. So far it is a secret to all except her close friends.

This wedding will be the wedding of the year since the bridegroom-to-be is nationally known, is now abroad on duty for the State Department.

Roderick Kess buried Thursday

Funeral services were held Thursday at John Wesley Methodist Church, Furnace Branch Rd., Glen Burnie, for Roderick Alexander Kess, 75, retired government worker who died Christmas Day.

Mr. Kess was born Sept. 21, 1886 in Anne Arundel County, Md., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Alexander Kess Sr.

He and his wife, Mrs. Frances Kess, were married 53 years in August.

SURVIVING ARE 38 close kin including his wife, four sons, Alfred Kess, Annapolis; Frederick Kess, Severna, Md.; Thomas and Conrad Kess, Baltimore; four daughters, Mesdames Fannie Nutts, Lucille Gilles, Theresa Morton and Shirley Gee, all of Baltimore;

A sister, Miss Harriett Morgan, Marley Neck, Md.; 24 grandchildren; 8 great-grandchildren and other relatives.

Pecan pie

A favorite with many U.S. Department of Agriculture employees is pecan pie — made by the same recipe for over 25 years in the cafeteria bake shop.

This popular specialty is served every Friday in the Department's cafeterias in Washington, D.C.; and many people take pecan pies home regularly from the bakery sales room.

Now, when pecans are so plentiful and prices are down, you may want to try this family-size version of the USDA pecan pie formula.

THIS RECIPE makes just enough filling for a 10-inch pie or two 7-inch pies. The head baker, Mrs. Sophia Douglas, has found that using shallow pans of these sizes is just about right. A deep pan makes the pie too rich for most people.

If you have to use a 9-inch pie pan, line a shallow layer of filling and use the

Toast '62 with champagne and Hopping John and Eggnog Pie

FOLKS HAVE MANY ways of greeting the New Year. Some go out on the town toasting in the New Year with Champagne. Others extend hospitality to their friends at home.

Be that as it may, food is an important part of any New Year's celebration. Traditionally, it is said that some foods bring Good Luck —pork and black - eyed peas being the most favored. Instead of having pig's feet, pig tails, ribs or neckbones, give a different twist (pardon the expression) to your menu by preparing pork in Chinese style. The recipe is called FRIED PORK WITH WALNUTS.

CUT 1½ pounds pork tenderloin into 1½ x 1½ inch pieces. Add 2 tablespoons Soy Sauce, 1 tablespoon brown sugar and 3 tablespoons flour to pork. In a large skillet, heat 3 tablespoons salad oil until hot. Add pork a little at a time. Cook until pork is brown and tender, about 30 minutes.

Remove pork and put 2 tablespoons oil in skillet. Sauté walnuts over low heat until brown and crispy. Add pork and sprinkle 1 tablespoon soy sauce over top, stirring lightly. Heat pork and walnuts about 5 minutes. Serves four.

HERE'S A VERY old fashion-recipe for a New Year's favorite of the South: "LUCKY" black-eyed peas.

HOPPING JOHN
1 cup dried black-eyed peas
¼ pound lean bacon or salt pork
3 cups cooked rice
1 pod red pepper
Salt and pepper to taste

SOAK PEAS overnight in water to cover. Drain, add water to cover. Add pork, which has been cut into pieces, and cook until well done (do not over cook).

Add cooked rice (it takes 1 cup uncooked rice to make 3 cups cooked) and seasonings to taste. Place in a covered casserole and cook until liquid is absorbed and dish is hot. Serves 8 to 10 people.

To balance the meal, toss up one of your favorite green salads and include a bread of your choice. For those friends who love luscious desserts, have this one ready in the refrigerator:

EGGNOG PIE
1 pastry shell, 10-in., cooled
½ cup cold water
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1½ cups milk
5 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
4 egg yolks slightly beaten
1 cup whipping cream, whipped
2 egg whites
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 teaspoons vanilla extract

SPRINKLE GELATIN over cold water in a small cup and let stand 5 minutes to soften. In top of double boiler mix milk, 5 tablespoons sugar and salt and heat until milk is scalded. Beat egg yolks slightly and quickly stir in about 3 tablespoons hot mixture. Immediately, add yolk mixture in top of double boiler.

Cook until mixture coats a silver spoon. Remove from heat and stir in softened gelatin until dissolved. Chill in refrigerator or in pan of ice water until mixture begins to thicken. Whip cream and set in refrigerator.

Using a clean beater, beat egg whites until frothy and gradually add sugar and nutmeg, beating until rounded peaks are formed. Fold beaten egg whites and whipped cream into gelatin mixture. Add rum and vanilla extract.

Pour into cooled pastry shell. Sprinkle top evenly with nutmeg. Chill in refrigerator 2 or 3 hours.

TO REALLY extend your hospitality during these wintry holidays, serve a warm punch. This is an old English custom that centers around the Wassail Bowl. Here are two such recipes:

GOLDEN ORANGE WASSAIL:
4 cups orange juice
about ½ cup sugar
a 6-inch stick cinnamon
2 whole cloves
2 teaspoon grated orange peel

BRING ingredients to boil, simmer 5 minutes. Strain. Pour into a preheated punch bowl and float orange slices on top. Makes 8 servings.

PINEAPPLE WASSAIL
4 cups unsweetened pineapple juice
1 -12 oz. can apricot nectar
2 cups cider
a 6-inch stick cinnamon, broken
1 teaspoon whole cloves
4 cardamom seeds, crushed

COMBINE ALL ingredients, heat to boiling. Simmer 15 to 20 min. Strain. Serve hot. Makes 2 quarts.

For tidbits prepare this recipe:

PARTY MIX
1/2 cup butter
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon garlic salt
2 cups Wheat Chex
2 cups Rice Chex
½ cup nuts

HEAT OVEN to 300 degrees F. Melt butter in a shallow pan over low heat. Stir in Worcestershire sauce, salt, garlic salt. Add cereal and nuts. Mix gently until all pieces are covered with butter.

Heat in oven on rack slightly above center for 30 minutes, stirring gently every 10 minutes. Spread out to cool. Vary the seasonings by using onion salt, oregano, barbecue seasoned salt. Grated cheese may be added for flavor. No any bite-size cereal without sugar coating may be used.

ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

BY [illegible] RICHARDSON

By Eloise Richardson

Gaiety and a festive atmosphere of fun and good food dominated the annual party of the Annapolis Frontier Club at Carvel Hall on Thursday evening.

While the usual activities of music (and this was great music), games and dancing make parties enjoyable, this party's fun was enhanced by the presence of the distinguished and jolly Chef Josef Matlin, European epicurean artist of Miami, Fla.

Alaskan King Crab sat on his throne among the cold foods and gave significance to the others, such as the assorted cheese tray, assorted cold cuts, roast turkey with Pate' of Liver, and a whole decorated salmon.

Also the lobster salad tray, a whole sugar - cured ham decorated with wheels of fruits and relishes, stufed deviled eggs, cole slaw, tossed green salad, tuna salad, chicken salad, jello mold, tomato wedges, Macaroni salad, potato salad and Creme D' Menthe Parfait.

Hot foods included roast round of beef, baked beans and Knockwurst, Delmonico potatoes, Maryland fried chicken, Virginia baked ham stead, jumbo shrimp creole with rice, backfin crabcake saute, Swedish meat balls and barbecued spare ribs. Cocktails flowed all the evening.

Chef Matlin, famous all over the country, has handled the food in such places as Maison Lafitte at Palm Beach, the Tam-O-Shanter Country Club in Chicago, the Brown Derby Restaurant in Los Angeles, Maxine's at at Beverly Hills, Calif. He has also worked on United States lines of travel to France, Germany and England, and the Matson lines from San Francisco to Honolulu.

THE WIVES of the Frontiers were all gifted by their husbands and there were many lovely - gowns and beautiful costume jewelry on display.

A special gift was presented to Mrs. Florence McPherson, who usually caters all dinner meeting and other occasions for the men's group. Mrs. McPherson is the "Sweetheart" of all the members.

Those who enjoyed this sumptuous party were:

Messrs. and Mesdames J. Edward Bullock, George Phelps Jr., Herbert S. Hillard Thomas Baden, J. Norwood Brown, William J. Taylor, James M. Mosley, Jr., Everett Pettigrew, Carroll H. Hynson, Walter S. Mills, Henry Holland, J. Alexander Wiseman, Francis Noel and James Brown of Baltimore, Miss Mary Wiseman and David Shockley, state deputy of Baltimore.

The Charles Walkers are enjoying Christmas with their children. Miss Rose Walker, who teaches in the public schools of Philadelphia, Charles Jr., a student at Maryland State College and Miss Charline Walker, a student at Morgan are all home, making the household very festive and gay.

The Thomas Hodges are spending part of the holidays with her family in Wilmington, Del.

The William H. Richardsons are entertaining as a house guest this week, Miss Ruth Bradley of Chicago, Ill. Miss Bradley is director of the Tiny Tots Villa in Chicago, where she and her staff and faculty conduct an educational program for preschool children. The institution is accredited by the city and state.

The Richardsons will be "At Home" informally during the New Year weekend for Miss Bradley and Mrs. Annette Lawson of Indianapolis, Ind., who is visiting her sister, Miss Myrtle Moten of Washington, D. C. for the holidays, will also meet their friends.

The Richardsons had as Christmas dinner guests on Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Thomas of Dundalk and Mr. and Mrs. A. Jack Thomas of Padadena.

William, 5, saves brother John, 1

Five - year - old William Perry, 2434 Mount St., was credited with saving his 1 year younger brother, John, 1, when fire destroyed a portion of their third - floor apartment Thursday afternoon.

Young John was choking on smoke from the blaze when William carried him from the apartment. Mrs Gloria Perry, an aunt was on the second floor. She said the door to the apartment and some of the family's clothes were destroyed.
