On the TOWN

Those paperhangers (phony ticket makers) sure conjured up a whole passel of trouble for the sponsors and patrons of that cabaret over the weekend.

Based on evidence at hand they made a bale of dough and got 37 people dragged to the klink in the process.

If they are in hearing distance, I have a bit of advice.

They had better hang on to the profits from the venture because if the pounders can run 'em down — tho they're done trying — they'll need all they made and some. Also waiting is a 365-day vacation — in the klink.

ON JAZZ — Irvin Blumberg, record distributor, files a dissenting opinion to the general belief that the City of Monuments is a strictly big berg.

"I'd say 80 percent of our sales come from jazz enthusiasts," he states.

According to Irvin, jazz is overplayed by r and r for two reasons:

1. Jazz lovers enjoy their sounds at home because there are no facilities to do it elsewhere, and

2. There are several schools of jazz (modern and progressive, etc.) as opposed to the singleness of the big, torrid beat.

Perhaps you have other opinions. If so, this is your soap box, sound off.

THEATRE IN THE FLESH — Despite the lack of recognition, there's a band of 50 faithfuls who are doing a lot locally to keep the candles burning bright in the wings of the live theatre.

They are the Arena Players, moving close to a decade of delighting vagabond audiences.

Currently, according to John Hicklin, who doubles as one of the stars and public relations man, the group is casting for its next production at the Arena Playhouse Downtown, 406 Orchard St.

Curtain time will be Tuesday to Sunday, Feb. 14 - 18.

They will stage three one-act plays from "Three For An Evening," which include "Hands Across the Sea," "Still Life," and "The Flattering Word."

Starring in lead roles will be:

June Thorne, Carroll Seward, and Lorraine Brown, "Hands Across the Sea," a comedy.

Verna Day, Harvey Denmark, and Earlyne Moir, "Flattering Word" also comedy, and Nancy Berry, Wayne Brooks and Joyce Smith, "Still Life," a light drama.

Next production for the Players will be the Drama and Dance Festival at Polytechnic Institute, March 9-10 when the group will join with the Baltimore City Ballet Co. for the two - day festival.

Embree, ex-Colt, arrested again

LOS ANGELES—Mel Embree, one of the first colored players in pro football in Baltimore, was arrested here last week by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The 35-year-old ex-athlete was taken into custody in connection with the theft of a truckload of Scotch whisky.

Mel was signed as an end by the early edition of the Baltimore Colts, playing a part of one season on the club that featured Buddy Young, George Taliaferro, et al.

and the members are dish, rockem and rollem, jazz, and what have you.

Heading the music makers are Howard Spinney, 23, and Carroll Watson, 22, both products of the Solters Point High School in Turner Station.

The two young men conceived the idea of the band while in school when Harold said to Carroll:

"Why don't you buy a guitar so we can start a band?"

And that's the way the group started.

Currently numbering eight men, the boys have played gigs in Washington, New York, Delaware, Pennsylvania and North Carolina.

Their vocalist is one of our favorite guys, Harry (Doc, the Soul Stirrer) Young, a singer who really souls with a song.

The band has appeared on a number of TV shows, including one local ring a ding.

The boys make a nice sound and the Crawler hopes that they get the break they deserve.

Understand they just love to play for cabaret parties and dances.

In short the have horns—will blow.

MAN IN MOTION — A doff of the lid to David J. Johnson Jr., our man in motion. Dave, who operated a public relations agency for many moons in our town, has been snatched as Eastern Regional Sales supervisor for the "Land of Pleasant Living" brew firm.

More congrats to Bob Selkow of Bob's Delicatessen and Restaurant, 115 W. Baltimore St. Bob wants you to know that when chow and refreshment time catch you downtown, the welcome mat is out

THE DOINGS — The master mixer of cultures, Ted Carver of the Bamboo Lounge is at it again. Smack dab in the middle of this Oriental decored setting he has added: ...

The Latin American music of the Los Tremendos each Thursday; the modern jazz and stomp sounds of the Al Gross Quintet Fri- through Sunday and the Blue Monday Stereo Concert and Jazz popular - swing - sing - along, kicking off this Monday.

This added to the slant - eyed, black - eyed peas and African hamburger, yet. Did you ever? ... we haven't either!

THERE'S NO honor for a profit in his own home, sez the saying. Tradition seems to agree because most of us mortals must split the scene and make big before creating a stir on the homefront.

That's just what the Jolly Jax have done. Go Casino and see for thine self!

If you're headed for the New Jockey Club, it'll be wise to oil the torso. Otherwise you might not be comfortable. You see this is where the "nice people do the twist."

Fellas, don't forget to wear your ties and jackets, even if you have to shed them later. As we said, it's the meeting place of nice people.

To its usual package of the Fields, (Mickey and Shirley) Carnival has added another "twist", and that's no pun.

Mad Man Morrison, who did so much for the big, strong lines, heads the twist line each Wednesday.

There's not much twisting at the Red Fox, because it's no room left when the sound hounds converge on the House of Jazz to give a listen to Ethel and the Continentals.

There's not much exertion at Kleeco either. The T & T man rather you relax while enjoying tasty morsels and sippable sips at the lowest tab in town.

If you'll go where North Ave. ends on the sunrise side of town, you can find similar conditions existing at North End, as far as economics go.

As a side dish, Floyd and Mrs. B are offering the jazziest jazz of young son Gary and his lively aggregation.

Better not let much more of '62 slip away before you catch Frank Reddish's "Swinging Affairs of '62." Dave Ross is saying something.

Carlos Johnson, the wailing ax man, and Cornell Muldrow team up to say a whole lot at the Lucky Number, too.

Sid Polski at Knotty Pine and Thee Jones at the Lanvale St. Lounge are both making like the quiet one, especially when Earl Omaro and Fred Thaxton respectively, move center stage.

Stage reminds us it's ... CURTAIN TIME!

Ducks, Poets and Carver hit by midyear losses

Coaches Mack Payne, Sugar Cain and Sodie White are joined in a head - shaking ritual as, along with their teams, they await the start of second half play in the Maryland Scholastic Association basketball race.

Payne, whose Douglass quint finished the first half 1-2, one game behind Calvert Hall, entertains Southern today (Friday); Cain and Dunbar, 3-3 in the first half, visits Patterson Park, and White waits with his Carver Cubs for Tuesday and City.

ALL THREE were hit hard by losses of player personnel at the semester break last week.

The Ducks expect to feel keenly the absence of Ed Balls and Harry Campbell. Both were good outside operatives and played important roles in the surprising play of Douglass during the first half.

"WE'RE IN trouble," says Poet tutor Cain as he laments the graduation of five key men. Dunbar was hit by the loss of Earl Divers, Eddie Beauford, William Perry, George Lewis and William Johnson.

White's Carver five, still smarting from a disappointing first half in defense of its 1961 title, learned it will not have the services of Charles Turner. A strong rebounder, Turner was lost to the team when he reinjured a football shoulder and has not responded to treatment.

OTHER SCHOOLS, however, were similarly hurt by the midyear depletion process.

Forest Park High lost Ma-

Lincoln quint 5-0

LINCOLN, Pa. — There was no time out for the busy Lincoln University cagers during final examinations, which began on January 18 and ended on January 31.

Nevertheless, the Lions retained their lead in the Delaware Valley Conference, with a record of five games won and no losses.

Arthur P. Chippey, CIAA and ATA figure, buried

WILMINGTON, De., — Burial rites for Arthur P. Chippey, longtime official in the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association, will be held here tomorrow (Saturday).

A professor of biology at St. Augustine's College, Raleigh, N.C., for 24 years, Chippey served the CIAA for two decades — as a vice president and chairman of its eligibility committee.

HE ACCEPTED appointment at South Carolina State College in Orangeburg, in 1952, and continued since that time as secreary of the American Tennis Association.

Death occurred on Tuesday following a brief stay at Good Samaritan - Wayne Hospital in Orangeburg. He was 67.

Funeral services were held Thursday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church where Chippey serven many years as lay reader and vestryman.

Russell leads Celts to 130-115 win over Lakers

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — The world champion Boston Celtics, back at peak form with the return of their star pivot man Bill Russell, drubbed Los Angeles Lakers 130 to 115 before a sell-out crowd at Maryland's Cole Field House Thursday night.

Sorely missing their all - around ace, Elgin Baylor, the Lakers were never in the game after the first quarter.

The Celtics broke a 24-24 first period tie to run out 66-48 by halftime, largely on the strength of a hot hand by Sam Jones.

The former North Carolina College luminary hit 20 points in the first half, 16 of them within nine minutes midway of the second quarter.

Sam's running-mate, K. C. Jones spelt the redoubtable Bob Cousy in this splurge by Boston, tallying ten points, mostly on fast break layups after stealing the ball.

Thereafter, it was pretty much a matter of playing out the clock.

Boston Coach Red Auerbach pulled the Jones boys Cousy in the opening minutes of the second half and left the wrap-up chores to the shock troops.

With seven minutes remaining in the game, Auerbach retired Russell and the big, hulking Boston center, who had picked off 24 rebounds, walked off to a thunderous ovation from the 13,000 fans.

Roughnecks on Coliseum card

The "Battle of the 4 roughnecks" may be a fitting description of the feature bout on Tuesday's wrestling show at the Baltimore Coliseum.

The foursome is made up of the roughest characters in these parts. "The Great Scott" and Big Bob Orton are teamed against the "Fabulous Kangaroos," for this 3 - fall slugfest.

Very seldom are our top "Villians" pitted against each other and the action could get out of hand.

The usual set of all - star events will support this match.

The 220 - pound Greek import, Kostos Papalazaros, returns to meet the 231 - pound pride of the mid - West, Larry Simon. Tomas Marin, the Puerto Rican star, is coming in to take on the Hobo wrestler with the unique style, Jolly Charley.

Two handsome ringmen meet in another preliminary. The blond football star, Jack Davis, will match grips with Carlos Milano, the tall Latin from Hoboken, N.J.

Sims places 2nd in N.Y. pin tourney

ALBANY, N.Y. — (ANP) — J. Wilbert Sims, one of the nation's top bowlers and the ranking colored bowler, battled Fred Lening of Yardley, Pa., all the way to the match game final before bowing out and finishing second in the $25,000 fifth annual Empire Open Bowling Tournament here.

Lening rolled 254 in the championship match, to 243 for Sims of Chicago, as the tournament closed here Saturday. Lening collected the first prize money of $5,000. Sims earned $3,000 or finishing second.

It was one of Sim's most spectacular performances.

Sims is sponsored in demonstrations throughout the nation by the Brunswick Company, manufacturer of bowling equipments.

Chesson in pin quarters

Kitty Chesson, the lone tan survivor in the citywide bowling tournament, improved her hopes on a strong finish as she took the alleys last night (Thursday) in the quarter - final round.

Mrs. Chesson, the housewife from Walbrook, took over second place in the standings last Sunday night with a brilliant 213 fourth game. She came out of the Sabbath competition only 12 pins behind the front - running Bonnie Gieselman of Towson.

Mrs. Gieselman went into the quarter - finals with a total of 3,580 pins to Mrs. Chesson's 3,568.

Bertha Lockett and Florence Madison, Kitty's teammates from the Walbrook Lane, were eliminated over the weekend. The former was ousted Saturday when the field was cut from 20 to 12, and the latter went out Sunday when the competition was further reduced to 8.

FOLLOWING HER tourney - leading 956 in the opening set, Mrs. Chesson dropped to 892 the second big game and finished with a 212 opening game, rolled 167, then 157. Her fourth game of 213 bounced her right back into the thick of the fight. She closed out with a 164 to sew up the second spot and a 27 - game advantage over third place Georgia Cooper of Turley Bowl.

Colts to meet Eagles Aug. 11

The Baltimore Colts will announce over the weekend that they will open their 1962 pre-season schedule against the Philadelphia Eagles at Hershey, Pa. on Saturday night, August 11.

This will be the seventh meeting of the teams at Hershey, the previous six encounters having been split three-three. All but one of these games drew capacity crowds to the 17,000-seat stadium.

This is the third pre-season game to be announced by Baltimore for 1962, the previous two being an August 16 engagement with the Redskins in Washington's D.C. Stadium and a September 2 test with the Minnesota Vikings in their Metropolitan Stadium.

Hamm's ups Vedder to manager

The appointment of H. G. Vedder as general manager of the Eastern division of the Theo. Hamm Brewing Co., has been announced by William C. Figge, Hamm's president.

Vedder has been with Hamm's 13 years, serving successively as a district salesman, district manager and Great Lakes region manager before becoming assistant general sales manager of the St. Paul division in 1958.

Prior to his association with Hamm's, Vedder had been manager of super market sales for the Kellogg Co. in St. Louis and is a native of that city. He attended the Graduate School of Sales, Marketing and Management at Syracuse University.

Hamm's Eastern division headquarters is in Baltimore.

Supports Long

Congressman Daniel B. Brester has warmly endorsed the candidacy of Dr. Clarence D. Long, who is seeking to succeed Mr. Brewster as the Democratic Representative from the Second Congressional District.

Representative Brewster is a candidate for the United States Senate on the ticket headed by Governor J. Millard Tawes and including State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, Attorney General Thomas B. Finan and Speaker Perry O. Wilkinson, candidate for Congressman-at-large.
