Congo escapee at Sharp St.

The Rev. Kenneth Jones, who has recently returned to Baltimore from the Congo where he narrowly escaped death, will speak at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. services at Sharp Street Memorial Methodist Church this Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Jones will include in his sermon a report from the Congo. He was formerly pastor of the Woodlawn Method st Church. His appearance at Sharp Street Church will be his first pulpit appearance since he returned to this country.

A graduate of Yale University, he is well known in this country and abroad.

He was featured on television recently as he told some of his experiences in the Congo.

His wife and family will accompany him to Sharp St. for services on Sunday morning.

Gets 100G grant

NEWARK

Msgr. Thomas M. Reardon director of St. James Hospital, Thursday announced the receipt of a $100,000 check from the Fannie E. Rippel Foundation. This was in payment of a conditional grant made to the hospital on Jan. 17, 1961, to aid in meeting the cost of building the present new structure of the Hospital.

bishop, or chief officer of the church.

This means, for example, that he can act as Elder in his own church in Washington, D.C., but he cannot travel to any city where a United House of Prayer for All People is located.

"I cannot visit relatives in cities where there is a church. This could be construed by the court order as representing myself as the Bishop of the Church," said the Elder. "I can't even go to Baltimore."

The court order was the result of a suit brought by Elder W. McClure and others in an effort to set aside as illegal the Feb. 6, 1960 election of Elder McCollough as Bishop of the Church.

Elder McClure publicly declared last August during the trial that he would be a candidate for the post of Bishop "if the people want me."

The court order, in effect, would seem to permit McCollough's rivals — if there are any—or the post of Bishop to actively campaign and electioneer but apparently denies him this privilege. Reason for this anomaly was given by Judge Hart who said that he was attempting to put things back where they were before Feb. 6, 1960.

Asked if he would accept the leadership of the church if he is elected by a bare majority, Elder McCollough said in firm, clear tones: "No. The people have got to want me. It must be by at least two - thirds. I don't want to see the church split in two. I would want a plurality to know the people are behind me.

"But whether I win the election or not, I will continue to serve this church. I will continue to help people and to carry out the work of Daddy Grace," he said.

A MAN of serious composure, Elder McCollough talks passionately about the church and the circumstances which brought him under the influence of Daddy Grace.

"I am anxious that we have the election so the people can decide and the church can continue its real work," he said.

One man who will help decide the date of the election is Atty. William B. Bryant, who was appointed as court receiver for the church and who is currently handling all of the church's financial transactions until such time he can make a recommendation to the Court on the church's affairs and a new bishopric election.

Throughout his conversation, Elder McCollough talked without hestitation, speaking firmly about the church, his love or his parishioners, and the great task that lies ahead.

Sitting across the room from him, nodding occasional assent to his words was his devoted and loyal wife, a beautiful and quiet brown-skinned woman who has been the Elder's loyal companion for some 27 years of a happy marriage.

Just as this reporter prepared to leave, he said to the Elder, "we haven't got a picture of you smiling, Elder. Mrs. McCollough, make him smile."

Elder McCollough glanced at her in mock derision. "Shucks, she can't make me smile." Mrs. McCollough issued a wifely order: "Smile." Elder McCollough looked away quickly and a broad smile spread over his stern features. An Elder in his church, he was still just another husband in his home.

(END OF PART I—Next Week, Part II of this fascinating series on Elder McCollough will deal with his life — what made him join with "Daddy" Grace —what were those first 24 hours following "Daddy" Grace's death like—how did the Elder get into the present situation? For the answers to these and other questions read the Washington AFRO next week

CHERRY HILL NOTES

Many in area mark birthdays this month

By ELMA OGLESBY
EL. 5-8413

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Travers who became the parents of a baby girl on Tuesday, Feb. 6.

February is a very popular birthday month for Cherry Hill folks and especially Feb. 10.

Happy birthday wishes to Angela Kiley, sixth grade student at School 164 and to her sister, Carolyn, 12th grade student at Western High. T h ey both celebrate on the 10th.

Also in the same family, t h e i r grandfather, Arthur Thompson, celebrates on t h e 10th.

Twin birth dates on t h e 10th are also celebrated by Deborah Milland, a student at Cherry Hill Junior High and her mother, Mrs. Hattie Millard.

Also a happy birthday to Paula Kiley on the 9th and to her cousin Vickie Carter on the 9th.

CONGRATULATIONS to all Cherry Hill High School graduates and especially to Barmore Thompson, Horace Staples, Leake Vanlandingham, James Kearney, Elaine Larkins and Larry Oliver all graduates of Douglas High School; Barbara Johns and Dennis Cross, graduate of Southern High School, and Vivian Chambers, graduate of Forest Park High.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Jones have as house guests for t h e next two weeks, their son - in-law and daughter Anita and Lovell Williams and their son, Michael.

The Williamses are moving to Hawaii. Mr. Williams, who is in the Marines, has been transferred there and is taking his family with him. They leave around the 19th of this month.

Carver rally cops mat title

Nick-of-time wins by Milt Brown and Paul Chase enabled Carver to stage a last-minute rush to the Division 2 dual meet wrestling title Thursday afternoon.

Brown and Chase, engaging in the final two matches against Edmondson, were faced with the task of gaining a pin and a decision to pull Carver from a 15-12 deficit with only their two matches to go. They turned the trick.

Brown, the converted football player who is unbeaten on the wrestling mat, outpointed Edmondson's Charley Johnson, 5-0, to clinch the 175-pound title. And Chase pinned Pies Davis in 2:35 in the unlimited class, for the much-needed 8-point rally.

Rights bill hearing due in mid-March

WASHINGTON

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D. - N.C.) said last week that his Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights should begin hearings about March 15 on President Kennedy's first civil rights measure.

The mid - March date, according to the Senator, should enable the subcommittee to report back to the parent committee, the Senate Judiciary Committee (headed by Sen. Eastland of Miss.), in time for a vote by the first of May.

The Judiciary Committee has been assigned the proposal to ban literacy tests for voters in Federal primaries and elections.

Jazz-gospel show at Carnegie Hall

NEW YORK — A dramatization of 100 y e a r s of church music and its influence in the development of jazz will be depicted at a Carnegie Hall concert Feb. 18 featuring Dizzy Gillespie and several gospel groups.

Appearing with jazz trumpeter Gillespie and his Quintet will be:

The Staple Singers, Marion Williams and the Stars of Faith, Prof. Alex Bradford's Singers, Princess Stewart, the Soul Stirrers, the Paterson Singers, the Harmonizing Four, the Caravans, Sylvia Terry and Faye Adams.

RICHARD ADAMS, of Baltimore, has resigned his speech and therapist job in Wright County, Iowa to initiate a speech and hearing program at t h e Children's Center, Laurel, Md., effective April 2. He is a graduate of Morgan State College and the State University of Iowa.

Katanga president and UN enter pact

NEW YORK (NNPA) — The United Nations reported last week that agreement had been reached with President Moise Tshombe on the establishment of one or more joint UN - Katanga missions to speed the removal of mercenaries from Katanga.

The UN, however, would not agree to Tshombe's proposal for a month's time limit.

Residents seek recreation outlet in Northwest area

A meeting to help in the establishment of a Community Welcome Center in the Northeast Baltimore area was held last night (Thursday) at the Milton Ave. Methodist Church, Milton and Oliver Sts.

Disturbed by the lack of recreational outlets in the area, a number of citizens have banded together in an attempt to establish such an outlet.

Joseph A. Chester is president; Mrs. Mildred Thompkins is vice president, and the Rev. James H. Wroten is advisor.
