HARRIET MORTON entertained the Cardigans on Friday evening at a fun-filled session.

First, Eugene Westcott and Carlton Bailey (they're liquor salesmen) showed movies, served samples of their wares and distributed prizes of such lovely items as bar lights, wall plaques, decanters, mixer and stirring sets. Winners included Louise Edwards, Elizabeth Butler, Janie Wright, Marian Barks, Bernice Hall, Mary Williams, Harriett Morton and Margaret Evans.

Following this the girls moved to the Mortons' club room, to greet the men in their lives, who were assembled to be guests at a party. Good music, delectable eatables and sippables, and of course a bit of "twisting" were the order of the evening.

Next on the agenda for this club is a platter party for their children, which will feature one of the town's well-known disc jockeys.

About for the evening were:

Elizabeth and George Butler, Louise and James Edwards, Bernice and Nathaniel Hall, Rose and Jesse Hawkins, Lollie and Albert Hockaday, Maxine and Dennis Jackson;

Margaret and Edward Peck, Vera and James Taylor, Ruth and Bill Tonkins, Beulah and Eugene Westcott, Bernice and George White, Janie and Roland Wright, Margaret and Walker Evans;

Also Myrtle Smith, Gloria Sims, Marian Banks, Mary Williams, Thomas Morton, James Greene, Warren Stanley and Melvin Cade.

THE BALTIMORE Chapter of Moles has been impersonating those "little creatures" for which their initials stand by keeping their monthly meetings "under the hat."

However, each session seems to blossom into a thing of beauty with delectable dishes and elaborate entertainment.

For example that meeting a time back when Helena Hall, Bea Wright and Mary Pitts engaged the skill of a town caterer for a colorful meeting at the Dorchester Road home of Mary Pitts.

Moving up Dorchester Road a bit for their next session with Helen Queen and Bertha Forte, the group met the unusual in entertainment and delicacies all woven around a birthday theme for one of the Moles.

Jackie Spencer and Carolyn Stubbs combined their artistic touches when they entertained the Moles with a gay Parisian evening complete to a live organ combo, which, needless to say, added a "real twist" to that session.

With zesty French dishes and the Moles themselves bubbling with plans for an early spring affair, this was AN EVENING!

Baltimore chapter members are Florence Bailey, president; Emma Dudley, Bernice McDaniels, Helena Hall Blanche Beckham, Bea Wright, Anethia Williams,

Also Helen Queen, Bertha Forte, Mary Pitts, Louise Lockerman, Mary McPherson, Jacqueline Spencer, Jo Rogers and Carolyn Stubbs.

LES GIRLS celebrated their second anniversary with a banquet at the Stafford Hotel, recently.

Resplendent in chic and elegant finery, the members and guests listened to an inspiring address by Mrs. Bernard S. Harris, president of the Cooperative Women's Civic League.

Mrs. Harris commended the group for "the beautiful picture you make; all the beautiful because of the obviously enthusiastic support you give your young men."

This togetherness, Mrs. Harris, went on to say, is an important aspect in our racial development. She then urged Les Girls to "have them continue to go with you and stand with you in your endeavors to attain the finer things and cultured ways of living."

Her remarks then focused on the role of today's young club woman in the community, and the many areas in which orgaizations and individuals are in need of support.

These and other challenges are a springboard for Les Girls, who fully intend to attack problems besetting their community, and to pursue high civic, social, and cultural ideals.

Les Girls include Frances F. Saunders, Roberta P. Woodlon, Ruth B. Hunt, Eleanor Tildon, Gwendolyn E. Rooks, Noel Willis, Marian D. Campbell, Cleo Ashby, Pattie Hodges, and Norma Millings.

They had as their guests Dr. Dakley Saunders, Dr. James Hodges, Arthur Lamb, Robert Dunmore, Dr. Edward Hunt, Lawrence Willis, and Ronald Rooks.

Original plans for the remainder of the evening included attending the Lyric Theatre, where the Baltimore Symphony orchestra was performing.

The warm fellowship, however, precluded arrival for curtain time. So, the members and guests climaxed their evening with an impromptu get-together at the charming Radnor Avenue home of Dr. and Mrs. James Hodges.

CHARMING MRS. CASSIE MILBOURNE was given a surprise birthday party by members of her family on Saturday evening.

The affair was held at her home on Edison Highway.

All guests (who were her cousins) came loaded down with delicious goodies for the occasion.

The honoree, a dream in a dove grey two-piece silk dress, was overwhelmed. The flower decked home featured the many gorgeous potted plants that she likes so well.

Helping her to unwrap her gifts and have a good time were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Henry (Mary) Horsey, Delmas (Ida) Milbourne, Lloyd (Monzella) Brown, Samuel Haskins;

Mesdames Lola Bailey, Bernice Boone, Roberta Richards and Wallace Haskins.

Mrs. Milbourne is a member of an old Eastern Shore family, but has resided in Baltimore for over 40 years. She formerly lived in Deal Island, Maryland.

Her children are Mrs. Costello Johnson, housewife and Delmas Milbourne, principal of School No. 126. She is a member of the Hoffman Street Methodist Church.

POT-POURRI: Dr. Carl Murphy, chairman of the AFRO's board of directors, is back from Detroit and Ottawa, Canada.

As a member of the President's Post Office Committee, he, four other appointees, and six representatives of Postmaster Day, observed postal operations in the two cities.

In Detroit, they marveled at the 20-million-dollar post office, equipped with 10 million dollars worth of machinery, the latest in automation.

There's no hand stamping of letters, for example. It's all done by machine.

In Canada, they observed how the government there is experimenting with a new invisible ink to separate local and foreign mail.

There was dinner at the House of Lords and VIP transportation, et al, for the committee.

Make a cheering call to Elizabeth Steward and Lillian Moseley. No sooner than they were recovering from the shock of the loss of their brother, Otha, in Virginia, their other brother, Morris, died suddenly in Pittsburgh, Pa.

And speaking of such losses, Harry Brown, former postal clerk of this town, died in New York, last week. Funeral services were held here, last Thursday. He was the husband of Carolyn Brown and the godfather of Lottie Johnson Mosee, who came from Detroit for the funeral. Harry and Carolyn moved to New York following his retirement, here, several years ago.

Zeta Phi Beta sorors swung into their Finer Womanhood Week observance, Saturday, with brunch and a fashion show at Wilsons, arranged by Reva G. Lewie and Katharine O. Johnson.

Aiding in arrangements were Doris Howell, Evelyn Hightower and Anne Holt. Elise Hunt's hats were featured with the soror's individual ensembles.

Modeling were Audrey Davis, Althea Cornish, Alice Hall, Anne Hurt, Reva Lewie, Isolene Crowner, Beatrice Pitts, Iris Wheadon and Ruth Cleaver.

Hazel Phillips and Vivian Purviance provided the music. Katharine Johnson did the narrating.

'Twas a "heart" affair when Bonne Coeurs held forth at the Garrison Lounge, Thursday, with the men in their lives as special guests.

To the Valentine theme they added a birthday note for Teddy Johnson and Ray Parker, who had natal days on that date.

Each guy present received a gift of an initialed jewelry box.

Having fun were Charlotte and Teddy Johnson, Leone and Joe Felton, Zelma and Ray Parker, Geneva Dyson, Jesse Peaker, Viola and Milton Randolph, Alverta and Dickie Lee, Natalie and James Phelps and Sue and Alonzo Moore.

FLOWERS IN THE SNOW—And how long-stemmed, sweet-smelling flora, then something must be wrong some place. Maybe you don't use the right kind of fertilizer. are the flowers in your back yard these nice, snowy, winter days? If they aren't blooming like these lovely, kind of fertilizer.

BRIGHT IDEAS

... by Penny Power

"The kitchen is a country in which there are always discoveries to be made," said a famous French chef. Bride or matron, you've probably found that out!

Want to dress up that whipped cream pie? Run your potato parer over a chocolate bar (almonds and all!) and make fancy chocolate curls over the whipped cream topping.

Freezing? Line casserole dishes first with aluminum foil. Be sure there's enough to fold over the top. Once frozen, the wrapped food can be lifted out of casserole, freezing it for other dishes. Put foil-wrapped food back in casserole for reheating. (Just a nickel a day keeps a freezer running!)

Stews freeze very well. Freeze roast poultry unstuffed because of the danger of bacteria. Freeze pastries or meat or chicken pies unbaked. Undercook vegetables when adding to stews and casseroles so when reheated they won't have that warmed-over taste.

Just count the ways you use electric service every day. On the job around the calendar—can you think of anything else that does so much yet costs so little?

Your sewing machine needle won't stick when sewing plastic materials if you sew a strip of waxed paper into the seam. When finished, tear off the paper; your seams will be perfect.

* * * *

Something to think about! It has been estimated that in the course of his lifetime an individual eats 64,000 meals, more or less. And somebody had to plan, buy and cook 'em!

* * * *

In the average American home electricity does in one day what it would take 228 hours to do by hand. Nothing else does so much for so little! And you'll never run out of electricity, because your electric company plans and builds to keep the supply years ahead of the need. Do you wonder why we say dependable electric service is the biggest bargain in your family budget today?
