A TEA and spring impressions with fashions conducted by Mrs. Pauline Brooks, will be held at the St. Johns Methodist Church Sunday, Mar. 25 from 4 to 7 p.m. The funds will go to the Men's Day drive.

The sponsors are Mrs. Esther Taylor and Mrs. Mildred Booze. The Rev. Julius Ford is the pastor of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Queen of Severn, Md. had as their house guest Mrs. Elva Oliver, sister of Mrs. Queen.

Dinner guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Williams, Mrs. Maggie Taylor, Argent Taylor, Ellsworth Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Queen and daughter, Dona; Mrs. Henry Hines, Mrs. Arbutus Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Matthews and children, Sidney, Alene Anita; and Ellen Johnson.

Morristown choir here in April

The 35-member Morristown College Choir, Morristown, Tenn., will spend a week in the Baltimore-Washington area, April 1-8, as guests of St. Marks Institutional Baptist Church.

During the week the choir is scheduled to be received by Mayor Grady, tour the AFRO-American Newspaper Company, visit Annapolis, sing in Washington and possibly appear on television.

The choir will sing at St. Mark's Church, Asbury Methodist Church, Emmanuel Christian Community Church and at Ft. Meade.

The choir is directed by David Dobson, son of the Rev. Spencer Dobson, pastor of St. Marks Church.

Elmer P. Gibson, president of Morristown, will accompany the choir.

Tidewater choir

The Annie E. Banks Chapter No. 42 of the Order of Eastern Star will present a concert featuring the Voices of Tidewater on Sunday at the Masonic Temple, 1307 Eutaw Place.

The group is from Newport News, Va., and is directed by William F. Crump. The time if the concert is 4 p.m.

Cleric likens Ocean City to 'playhouse on sand'

Sunday found scores of miles gale, sleet and snow, ministers in their pulpits interpreting two newspapers reduced to rubble the man-headlines to their congregations. made city and in a few hours, laughed at its calamity and moved on its way."

In both the Ocean City disaster and the Maryland Legislature's action on the public Accommodations Bill, they found words of wisdom.

The Rev. N. B. Carrington, pastor of Union Memorial Methodist Church, told his congregation:

"Had we not draped our alter in the color of purple for Lent, we would have draped it in black, the color of mourning.

"On this first Sunday of Lent, if you have any tears, prepare to shed them now.

"We have been wounded in the house of our friends.

"Oh heartless legislators—only two more votes."

Lamenting the defeat of the Public Accommodations Bill, he continued, "This is not the end."

On the Ocean City destruction he quoted "a wiser voice"— "The storms will come and try the structures built on sand and rock."

• • •

HE POINTED out: "Ocean City was struck by storm in 1933. Men still played the fool and rebuilt on the sands.

"The ocean and the wind conspired to see what kind of resistance this playhouse on the sand could make.

"In a few hours, an 80 miles gale, sleet and snow, reduced to rubble the man-made city and in a few hours, laughed at its calamity and moved on its way."

Afro at Morgan in School for Brides

In a demonstration of "What to wear" and "What to do" to achieve a dream wedding, the AFRO-AMERICAN staged a School for Brides as a part of the annual Women's Week activities at Morgan State College, Wednesday evening.

Using Morgan students as models, correct wear for both men and maids, for weddings from the quietly casual to elaborate formal were shown.

The wedding ensembles were provided by AFRO AMERICAN advertisers, and included gowns that ranged in prices from $39.50 to $150.

Gowns in this portion of the show were from the shops of Rosenthal's Department Store, Eutaw and Saratoga; and Dotty Mae's Bridal Salon, 2318 Greenmount Ave.

• • •

MODELS WERE members of the Charm Club under the direction of Dean Thelma Bando, director of Women's Week. Male models were members of the campus chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity. They wore formal attire from the Tuxedo Center, 1848 Division St.

Bridal bouquets were designed by the Summers-Norwood Florists, 1544 Pennsylvania Ave.

Miss Florence Wilkinson a sophomore psychology major, and Miss Janice Young, also a sophomore, modeled bridal gowns from Dotty Mae's Bridal Shop.

Miss Wilkinson's gown for an informal summer wedding was a ballerina tulle with sequin neckline and shirred sleeves. Her veil was silk bombazine and net.

She carried a white prayer book with white gardenias, pompons and streamers designed by Carl Norwood.

Her escort, Frank Sartor were semi-formal attire for daytime and evening weddings: white dinner jacket, dark trousers, pleated shirt front, black tie and cummerbund.

• • •

MISS YOUNG wore embroidered tiered Swiss organdy with matching gloves. Her veil was tulle. Her bouquet was semi-cascade of yellow jonquils with satin ribbons.

Her escort, John Ruffin Jr. wore a cocktail suit (sometimes called stroller), semi-formal for morning and afternoon weddings; grey jacket, striped trousers, four-in-hand tie, pleated shirt front, grey gloves and pearl grey vest.

• • •

ROSENTHAL'S Department Store provided the gowns for the formal weddings.

Miss Gloria Lockerman, a junior and a French major, modeled an $85 gown of net and lacecover net and taffeta. The gown had long sleeves and was studded with sequins and pearls. Her formal bouquet was of calla lilies and red roses created by Mrs. Loretta Valentine.

Her maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Borden, a senior psychology major, from Jamaica, N.Y.. Her gown was a long, pale blue silk organza with matching bouquet of tinted jonquils.

• • •

LAWRENCE PARKER and Ralph McCloud were escorts, who wore cutaways, the formal attire for morning and afternoon weddings. Their ensembles included grey coat, striped trousers, Ascot, stiff bosom shirt, grey gloves and pearl grey vest.

Miss Claudette Cook, a freshman from Winston-Salem, N.C. and an elementary education major, the formal bride, was in Rosenthal's $150 gown.

The gown was embroidered taffeta over organza and set with fitted bodice and boat neckline. Her veil was lace and tulle with jeweled crown. Her Colonial style bouquet was of large purple orchids over net with white satin ribbons.

Her attendants were Miss Audrey Turner, a sophomore, in pale green organza over net, and Miss Nita Grimes a freshman math major, in pale violet. Their long formal gowns were identical and caught to each side with matching flowers. Their bouquets were tinted jonquils.

Escorts Bernard Wilkes, Robert Jones and Earl Adkins wore full dress, the formal attire for evening weddings: midnight blue suit, stiff-bosom shirt, winged collar, white tie, white pique vest and white gloves.

Music for the wedding scenes was provided by Miss Harriet Ditcher, pianist, with Miss Lula Ruth William as soloist.

• • •

SETTINGS FOR bridal tables were displayed by the Stieff Silver Company, and in addition to silverware showed colorful china and delicately tinted crystal.

China place settings included the Lenox ("Capri" and "Rhodora"; Royal Doulton, "Coronet" and "Burgundy"; Wedgewood, "Asia" and Haviland, "Torse White."

Stieff Silver place settings were in the Lady Claire, Diamond Star, Roe Motif, Surf, Rose and Carrollton patterns.

Goblets and wine glasses shown were the Tiffin "Enchantment" and "Wisteria," and Fostoria "Classic Amethyst", "Debutante Grey", "Fascination" and "Beloved."
