8 listed in NCAA playoffs

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Eight colored players are scheduled to see action in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's regional playoffs at the University of Maryland this weekend.

New York University will field four, two of whom will appear in starting roles. Villanova will take the floor with three, and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, will have one in her lineup.

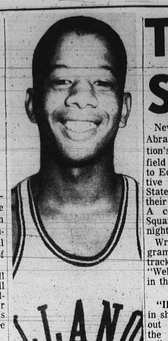
THE CHIEF interest of area fans will be centered on one of Villanova's classy trio, George Leftwich. The 6-foot, 185 - pound sophomore guard was a standout on the track John Carroll High School five of Washington, D.C., two years ago.

Leftwich teams with Hubie White, a 6-4 senior from Philadelphia, and Wally Jones, a 6-2 sophomore, also from Philadelphia, to provide most the Wildcat scoring punch.

During the season, White —who was mentioned on several All - American squads in 1961 — hit a 21.5 average and led the Pennsylvanians on the scoreboard. Jones had a 17 - point mean, and



GEORGE LEFTWICH

Leftwich was 13.4 for the year.

THE VIOLETS of NYU are expected to start Hal Hairston, a 6-7, 210 - pound forward, and Tom Boose, a 6-3, 195 - pound guard.

Also likely to see service with the Gotham quint are Bob Williams, 6 - 4 and 210 pounds, and Steve Jordan, 6-4 and 207. Both fill utility roles and are used frequently in front or back court.

St. Joseph's lone tan entry is John Tiller. The 6 - 8 sophomore weighs 195 pounds and performs at center.

Top Track Writer Salutes Ed Hurt

New York — Jesse Abramson, perhaps the nation's foremost track and field writer, paid high tribute to Eddie Hurt as the diminutive coach and his Morgan State College thinclads made their first appearance in ICA. A competition at Madison Square Garden last Saturday night.

Writing in the official program, the Herald - Tribune track authority extended a "Welcome to Uncle Eddie" in the following manner:

"IF YOU see four runners in shirts which seem to spell out Morgan State handling the baton in the ICAAAA mile relay—and you probably will—don't distrust your eyes.

"It will be Morgan State, and the runners are in the ICAAAA because they belong there.

"At its last convention the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America admitted Morgan State to the lodge, member no. 66 in the family of the oldest college track and field organization in the United States.

"Obviously the application of the Baltimore co-ed institution, which has a male enrollment of fewer than 1,300, met all the rigid requirements of the old ICAAAA.

"WE LIKE TO think, though, that it was a tribute to Morgan State's track coach, Edward Paulette Hurt, that the Bears of Baltimore are now full fledged members of the ICAAAA.

Otherwise things won't change much for Uncle Eddie and his Morgan State pupils who have been on the scene, local, Eastern, national and international, for quite a spell, and always seem to be winning the mile relay or making a great run for it in the invitation meets, National AAU indoor championships, the Queens-Iona Relays, the Penn Relays or wherever.

"We pressbox observers think we have discovered a certain style of running. When we see all four members of the mile relay explode off their marks and runlikehell as far and as fast as they can, we poke each other in the ribs (The Gentleman fro mThe Times uses his pencil) and say, 'Run like a Hurt man.'

"UNCLE EDDIE would be the last man to claim credit for any innovations in running styles or techniques, but the point is that he is recognized by his peers as quite a coaching fella. You'd never hear it from Ed Hurt anyway. He is as soft-spoken and self-effacing as they come. But he believes in hard work and his pupils believe in Hurt, and the combination produces champions and great competitors.

"The newest ICAAAA coach has been working hard at his profession for quite a while, since he is 61 and athletic director of Morgan State, as well as track coach. He also was an illustrious football coach, a mathematics teacher, a basketball coach.

"BORN IN Brookneal, Va., one of 13 children, Ed Hurt attended Howard University, took his master's degree in physical education at Columbia and coached football and basketball while teaching mathematics at Virginia Seminary and College at Lynchburg.

No one looks less like an All-America end, since he was and is a 140-pounder on a wiry, spare five-foot-seven chassis. But Frank Hinkey, of Yale, probably was no bigger, and this was football in a different era.

"AT MORGAN State, Hurt became a legend. From 1929 until he retired on doctor's order to slow down, his football teams won 14 Central Intercollegiate AA titles, had 11 undefeated seasons, six of them undefeated and untied, went 54 games in a defeatless string from 1932 to 1938, went through a war season of five games without yielding a point and concluded the Hurt regime with 176 victories, 51 defeats and 18 ties.

"Owing to wider exposure and more open competition on a wider scale, Hurt is better known as a track coach, and is devoting himself exclusively to this sport now.

"At Morgan State, his Bears were perennial kings of the CIAA, and since 1944 have won 10 Penn Relays titles, a dozen National AAU individual titles and, in the last dozen years, six National AAU mile relay titles in Madison Square Garden, and nine NCAA individual titles.

"UNCLE EDDIE had an Olympic winner and world record holder in George Rhoden, the 400-meter winner in the 1952 Helsinki Games. Rhoden was also his anchor man on his first National AAU mile relay championship team which set an AAU record of 3:19.9.

"Succeeding teams won in 1954 in a meet-record 3:18.2, in 1955 in 3:18.5, in 1959 in a meet-record 3:16.6, in 1961 in a meet-record 3:16.3 and again last week in 3:18.2. His teams have posted four of the five fastest times in the history of the indoor Nationals.

"NAMES OF Hurt pupils who have achieved track renown come easily to mind—Rhoden, Elmore Harris, in the 440 and 600, national sprint champions Art Bragg, Bobby Gordon and Paul Winder, half - miler Bill Brown, Bob McMurray and Nick Ellis, high jumpers George Dennis and Bob Barksdale, Olympic medalist Josh Culbreath in the 400-meter hurdles, among others.

"Mostly, Morgan State is best known here for its mile relay foursomes, and that could be the vehicle for Morgan State's first ICAAAA title in its ICCAAAA debut. He'll get no help, though, from the long - time associates he joins in the ICAAA coaching fraternity.

EDDIE HURT

"Uncle Eddie has received numerous honors in his long career-track coach of the year, football coach of the year, the Omega Psi Phi Plaque, Student Council Scroll for unusual achievement, etc. A most distinctive honor was the naming of Morgan State's million-dollar physical education plant the Edward P. Hurt Gymnasium.

"CHARACTERISTICALLY, CHARACTERISTICALLY, Uncle Eddie disclaims any suggestion he is a coaching genius.

"'I can't pull rabbits out of a hat', he said. 'If I've done anything at all it's due to the help I've had from everybody. I've had only one formula and that's hard work.'

"It's a pleasure to welcome Uncle Eddie and his Morgan State boys to their first ICAAAA championships. Hold that baton!"

Baltimore lad captains New England prep team

ANDOVER, Mass. — The winter sports program at Phillips - Andover Academy was closed out this month with the wrestling team, led by young Ivan Higgins, scoring a 24-20 victory over traditional rival Milton Academy.

Higgins, son of Dr. and Mrs. I.B. Higgins of Baltimore, Md., captained the Phillips mat squad, one of eight varsity teams sponsored by the academy. He was elected last spring after a highly successful campaign in the ring.

THE WIN over Milton avenged a 1961 loss to the same school.

His teammates elected the youthful Baltimorean after he had paced Phillips to a decision over Needham, and later sparked a rally which overhauled and defeated a favored Exeter squad.

HIGHLY regarded as a student as well as athlete, Higgins was chosen to direct the student contribution in the annual charity drive last fall.

Largely due to his efforts, the Phillips Society surpassed a goal of $5500, by more than $50.

THE DECLINE AND FALL OF SUGAR RAY At 41, Sugar Ray Robinson seems to be in hock up to his ears. And the ring is the only place he can earn the money he needs. How long can he take the beatings? Says trainer Whitey Bimstein: "He's going to keep going until some punk kid gets in with him and knocks his brains out."

In this week's Saturday Evening Post, you'll read how Sugar Ray made and lost $4 million. Why it costs him $100,000 a year to live. And why he says: "I never had a day's pleasure fighting in my life."

Postponed charity show on Coliseum canvas

The postponed Greek Charities benefit wrestling show will be staged at the Baltimore Coliseum on Tuesday night.

A diversified, five - event program has been arranged, including a special young woman's bout, along with a tag-team battle royal.

The feature match will spotlight Bob Ellis, the Texas cowboy sensation, and "the Great Scott," winner of seven solo matches here.

Pampero Firpo, the bearded, wild bull of the Pampas, returns after a long absence, to take on the Cuban star, Tomas Marin.

KOSTOS PAPALAZAROS, favorite son of Greece, and a Jim Londos portege, will meet New England's rough and rugged, Lew Albano. The clever Greek will be seeking his fourth consecutive victory here.

Miss Rita Cortez of Mexico, and Miss Carol Little of Oklahoma, will undoubtably pull a lot of hair in their bout. Both of these well experienced young lady grapplers, are capable of participatin in beauty contests.

THE TAG - team battle will introduce Bud Cody and Gordon Nelson,—a highly recommended team recently from England. They will be opposed by a pair of balldpated ruffians, Skull Murphy and Brute Bernard. This unruly duo has been bowling over all competition along the East coast.

Davey Moore KO's Andrade on Coast

LOS ANGELES (ANP)—Featherweight champion Davey Moore Friday night showed why he has just about run out of title opponents. The scrappy battler from Springfield, O., unleashed a relentless assault to stop Cisco Andrade in the seventh round of a scheduled nontitle bout here.

Moore coasted through the early rounds, appearing to be setting Andrade up for the kill.

Moore has said he would like to move up into the lightweight class and possibly challenge champion Joe Brown.

Brown is scheduled to defend his title shortly against Carlos Ortiz of New York.

Carry Back-Yorky duel in prospect

BOWIE, Md. — Dorchester Farm Stable's Carry Back, champion 3 - year-old last season, has been assigned highweight of 127 pounds for the ninth running of the $100,000 John B. Campbell, Maryland's richest handicap, at Bowie on March 24.

Carry Back will concede four pounds to Calumet Farm's Yorky in the mile and a sixteenth fixture.

Leonard P. Sasso's Globemaster is third topweight under 120 followed by Robert Lehman's Ambiopoise, 119.

Yorky received seven pounds from his rival in the Widener Handicap at Hialeah two weeks ago to pose a neck advantage.

Globemaster took the measure of Carry Back in the Wood Memorial last year at equal weights.

Mason returns as Brandywine pilot

Brandywine A. C. announced this week that Casey Mason has accepted an offer to return as manager of the 1962 baseball team.

Mason resumes at the helm of the club he led to one Tri - State League championship and two division titles in five years of managing. Under him the club was twice a runner-up in league play.

The club operated without his services last summer but did not fare so well.

OUTDOOR TIPS

(From the Ancient Age Sportsman's Idea Exchange)

LIVE BAIT TIPS

Roaches make fine early - season fishing baits.

Like the poor they are always with us. But have you ever tried to catch one out of a can full of a couple dozen. (Brrrr!)

Try this: Nail a sharp-pointed dowel to stand upright in the center of a gallon can.

There will always be a roach on top of the stick. Take it away and another moves into handy baiting position.

AND DON'T forget you can do something about stirring up natural conditions along a trout stream.

A stick thrown hard into willow branches over stream will perk up fish below. And, in the next weeks when waters are unpopulated and wooded river is to bait-sized chunks.

Soak in sealed jar laced with a shot of vanilla. If the cats won't eat it, maybe your dog will.

COLORFUL WORMS

If you think the above sounds whacky (but might work), listen to this: (It works too

On those bad days when a chucks are easy to spot in new grass, this:

Instead of stuffing dead chucks down holes, collect them. At day's end, stuff them in branches overhanging bluegill and crappie waters.

"They'll provide a natural source of maggots that will fall into water and draw fish all summer.

STORE SHOTGUN SHELLS

To keep shells dry, pack them neatly in a pound coffee tin. Waterproof seam of lid with scotch tape.

CATFISH BAIT

Every catfisherman has his own formula. Add this to the list: Chop up a half-pound of regular worn just don't seem to say the right things to fish, try dyed worms. Prepare a supply beforehand with bright green, red, or blue vegetable dye your wife used to color cake icings.

Won't hurt worms, but may hurt fish.

NO GUNSHY PUP

Start your pup right by firing a small-caliber gun while he's feeding. He'll be used to fields shots by fall.

(Try for a $50 prize. Send your tip to the A.A. Contest, Sports Afield, 609 8th Ave., N.Y. 19, N.Y.)

THEO. HAMM BREWING CO. ST. PAUL, MINN. SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, BALTIMORE

Now taste Hamm's the refreshingest beer!

The man in the picture has smiled for weeks because Hamm's Beer is clean-cut to the taste with unfoothness aged in. (It leaves you with a wonderful feeling of refreshment!) Now he's smiling because so many Baltimore folks have discovered the great taste that makes Hamm's already, America's sixth largest selling beer. Some of them are here. So look close. You may meet a friend or a neighbor.

"WE DID... and now we've switched to Hamms!"

say these refreshed Baltimore beer drinkers

"You know, I just started drinking Hamm's Beer," says James Wallace, 207 Dolphin St. "It's already my favorite."

"Lately Hamm's seems to taste better, I like it," says Doris Hughes, 2402 Roslyn Ave.

"I drank another beer for years. A few weeks ago I tried Hamm's. I really like it," says Willie Sutter White, 1022 Ashland Court.

"Doesn't have that bitter after-taste. I like it because it's so smooth and light," says Clarence Ware, 2230 Barclay.

"You know, I think I could drink a lot of this Hamm's," says Stanley L. Ray, 2214 North Monroe St.

"It's got the kind of flavor I like. Hamm's tastes good," says Robert Summers, 803 W. Franklin St.

"Hamm's tastes good," says Mary Morgan, 720 Poplar Grove St. "It's got the kind of flavor I like. That's why I've started drinking it."

"Better than any other beer I've tasted. I like Hamm's because it's so smooth and mild," says Isaac Austin, 314 N. Pulaski St.

"Have you?"
