1,000 attend rites for George Edward Diggs, 47

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — More than 1,000 persons attended the Sunday funeral rites for George Edward Diggs, 47, educator of Anne Arundel County.

The 2 p.m. rites were held at the Asbury Methodist Church. The minister, the Rev. I. R. Berry was in charge and delivered the eulogy.

The Rev. Mr. Berry said: "The family has lost a great companion, friend and brother, and the children of our community have lost a good teacher," he said.

In the remarks made by the Rev. Leroy Bowman for the community, he stated:

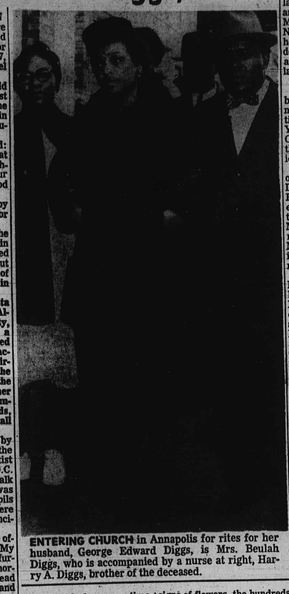
"Mr. Diggs touched the lives of so many people in an humble and dedicated way. He will never die, but will live on in the hearts of men in every walk of life in our community."

In the resolution from Eta Eta Lambda Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, of which Mr. Diggs was a member, he was praised "for his nobleness of character, his humility, the inspiration he had given from the torch was carried among the lives of others," and further iterated that he was the embodiment of manly deeds, scholarship, and love for all mankind."

The scripture was read by the Rev. H. V. C. Diggs, the pastor of Mt. Carmel Baptist Church in Washington, D.C. A spiritual, "You Must Walk This Lonesome Valley," was sung by sixth grade pupils of the Eastport School where Mr. Diggs served as principal.

Miss Naomi Henson offered the solo "I've Done My Work." Other music was furnished by the Men's Chorus. Mrs. Walter S. Mills read the list of telegrams and the obituary.

Mr. Diggs, who had been in ill health for some time, died unexpectedly on March 15. He returned to his home from the school about 10 a.m. and he was found dead in a sitting position by his wife about 2:30 p.m.



ENTERING CHURCH in Annapolis for rites for her husband, George Edward Diggs, is Mrs. Beulah Diggs, who is accompanied by a nurse at right, Harry A. Diggs, brother of the deceased.

• • •

THE ESTEEM in which he was held and the love people in all walks of life had for him was further evidenced in the more than seventy - five baskets and designs of flowers, the hundreds of cards and telegrams, and other messages, and the funeral procession of seventy-five cars. Many people lined the sidewalks and there was no standing room in the church.

Active pallbearers were members of his fraternity, Dr. Aris T. Allen, Dr. Theodore Johnson, Dr. Samuel Callahan, Jerry H. Luck, the attorney of Washington; Charles P. Howard Jr., Baltimore attorney, Lawrence E. Knight, the Rev. Rufus Abernethy, Robert G. Chapman and Francis L. Noel.

Honorary pallbearers were members of the Elementary Principals Association of the Anne Arundel County Public School System, and the Frontiers, International.

Among principals who served were Mesdames Irene Mills, Helen Browne, Alice Battle and Helen Smothers, Misses Rosabelle Landon and Dorothy Taylor and Messrs. Walter S. Mills, Francis L. Noel, Joseph Taylor, Frank Hebron, Henry, Holland and Leonard Greene.

Frontiersmen were Francis L. Noel, Roscoe Parker, the alderman, William J. Taylor, Everett Pettigrew, James Brown, Walter S. Mills, T. Everett Wauls, William H. Richardson, George Phelps, Henry Holland, Carroll Hynson, James Motley, Herbert S. Hillard, Dallas S. Pace, J. Edward Bullock, T. Norwood Brown, the alderman; Thomas S. Baden, Dr. J. Alexander Wiseman and Dr. Aris T. Allen.

Mr. Diggs, an educator in the school system for 24 years, was a native of Annapolis, Eastport. He was the eldest son of the late George Sr. and Ruth Diggs, and was reared by an aunt and uncle, the late Christopher and Katherine Thompson, also of Eastport.

He earned his bachelor of science degree from Maryland State Teachers College and took graduate work at Morgan State College and New York University where he received a master of arts degree. He continued study at the University of Maryland.

• • •

MR. DIGGS was a member of the local, state and national educational associations, the Northwest Street YMCA, the Anne Arundel County Branch NAACP and the Capitol Hills Manor Civic Association.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Beulah Worrells Diggs, guidance counselor at Bates High School; a brother, Harry A. Diggs; two sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Peters and Miss Katherine Diggs of Annapolis; a foster daughter Mrs. Olivia Brown of Washington, D.C.; an uncle, Harry A. Diggs of Annapolis;

Also a mother - in - law, Mrs. Minnie Coley of Goldsboro, N.C.; four sisters-in-law, Mrs. Gertrude McCray of Brooklyn, N.Y., Mrs. Essie Kelly, Goldsboro; Mrs. Ethel Thompson, Annapolis; and Mrs. Ida C. Canady, Goldsboro; and one brother-in-law, James Worrells, Goldsboro.

Hicks Funeral Home was in charge of the body. Burial was in Carver Memorial Cemetery.

Among those from out-of-town who attended the funeral were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Percy Thomas, John Daughtied, Obie Holmes, Allen, Leonard Brown, Bernard Minor; Mesdames Theresa Sample, Ronaldo de Vean, Levenia Miller, Martin Quick, Mae Thomas Jordan, Margaret Quillen, Gladys Coleman;

Also Mesdames Shirley Clark, Pynette Jefferson, Margaret Hollingsworth, Ida Rogers, Mary Elizabeth Jordan, Gladys M. Wall, Margaret Nesmith, Messrs. Herbert Bobb and Claude Rogers, all of Washington, D.C.; Messrs. and Mesdames James Brown, John Holt, Mesdames Sarah Early, Leona Pye, Helen Browne, Edwin Burke and Mary Allen; Miss Sarah V. Jones, supervisor of schools in Anne Arundel County; Messrs. William N. Fields, Weldon Irvine and Fletcher Greene, all of Baltimore;

Messrs. and Mesdames Horace Canady, James Worrells, Roscoe Kelly, all of Goldsboro, N.C.; Messrs. and Mesdames Matthew Pate, Newark, N.J.; Leonard Scott of Philadelphia, Pa.; Leon Brown of Cambridge, Md. and Herbert Hines of Glen Burnie, Md.;

Also Mesdames Eleanor Pinkney of LaPlata, Md.; Minnie Coley, Mary Gunter and Elizabeth Lamply, all of Goldsboro, N.C.; Gertrude McCray, Brooklyn, N.Y., Robena Thaxton, Norfolk, Va.; Dorene Stewart, Churchton, Md.; Vonzella Gilmore Caldwell and Gertrude P. Boney, both of Easton, Md.;

Messrs. George Crawford, Glen Burnie, Md.; Francis W. Gates, Denton, Md.; Leon Taylor, Eastern Shore; William Faison, Horace E. Canady and James Leroy Canady, all of Goldsboro, N.C.

ELDER REVIS, announced his candidacy this week to this newspaper, through Mr. Petty.

• • •

MEANWHILE, a pamphlet, entitled "Special Report by the Committee to Save the Church", was reportedly mailed to approximately 500 elders by an anti - McCollough faction.

• • •

JAMES R. MURPHY, attorney, who said he is counsel for the 14 persons listed as signers of the pamphlet, told the AFRO, that while the group is opposed to Elder McCollough as bishop, it is backing no particular candidate as head of the church.

Mr. Murphy, one of the attorneys who represented class plaintiffs in a successful court fight to have Elder McCollough deposed as bishop, said some of the signers are, the original litigants in the suit.

• • •

THE SIGNERS state in the document, "We sign this letter as United House of Prayer members of long standing and as just a few of the many members and elders who supported and carried on the court fight to save and protect our church.

"We seek no office, no advantage, no favors. We seek only the good of the members and of the church founded and left to us by Daddy Grace . . ."

HENRY LINCOLN JOHNSON, attorney, speaking on behalf of Elder McCollough, called the allegations in the pamphlet, "ridiculous and scandalous."

The pamphlet charges that Elder McCollough took over the church in an election which the Federal Court on August 25, 1961, declared illegal.

Mr. Johnson said the accusation that the election was rigged was a libel on the District chairmen who participated in the election. He asserted that the Court had found the election of McCollough illegal on the basis of insufficient notice to elders and for no other reason.

• • •

THE BOOKLET goes on to state that $150,000 disappeared from Daddy Grace's office at Logan Circle after Daddy Grace's death; it charges improper handling of church property in New York City; payment of $2 million to the U.S. Government to settle an "illegal" tax claim against Daddy Grace; and asserts that large sums of money have not been accounted for to the court - appointed receiver.

Mr. Johnson said the accusation concerning the allegedly missing $150,000 is not borne out in court testimony as claimed in the pamphlet. "The record does not show any such facts," Mr. Johnson said.

• • •

AS FOR DISPOSITION of church property in New York Mr. Johnson contended that the transaction was only a completion of a sale already contracted for by Daddy Grace in his lifetime. He said the church council had approved of the sale of the property, "The Council contains the church's leaders from all over the country," he stated.

Concerning the $2 million paid the U.S. Government for taxes, the attorney said it was paid in lieu of $6 million. He said the church had been liable for the taxes because no certificate had been filed asking that it be granted immunity from taxes as required.

He went on to say that the charge that money had not been accounted for was untrue. "Bishop McCollough has submitted to the receiver, dollar for dollar, every cent received and all bank books.

"Most of the churches have their own money and it is not in McCollough's name."

He called the pamphlet an attempt to "embarrass" Elder McCollough in the church.

• • •

MR. MURPHY said the signers of the pamphlet had mailed them last Friday and Saturday. On Tuesday, Elder Price stated he had not received a copy.

Elder Price said he did not subscribe to material as described in the pamphlet.

• • •

IN HIS LETTER announcing his candidacy, Elder Revis said his campaign through Mr. Petty, should be conducted "without criticism or slander towards other candidates."

As part of his program, should he become bishop, Elder Revis, whose typed statement bore the written signature of Mr. Petty, said:

"Our pastors are underpaid depending upon a free-will offering from the church. Some of our old pastors and members are living in squalor.

"We must change this condition, take them off of relief and put them in decent housing and take care of them with qualified personnel; send our children to vocational and professional schools to qualify them for today's life and prepare them for future leadership for our church and country that they will make better citizens in any community;

"Build homes for our aged members, retire our old ministers with benefits, place nurseries in our churches for our working mothers and staff them with qualified personnel to take care of their children that we may stop them from roaming the streets and becoming delinquents and charges upon the cities in which they live.

He also outlined a building program. Elder Revis is a businessman in Los Angeles.
