AT THE HARLEM—Claudia (Viveca Lindfors), wife of Pontius Pilate, observes Herod Antipas (Frank Thring) as he watches entranced while Salome dances in a scene from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's presentation of "King of Kings," held over at the Harlem. The spectacular Samuel Bronston production, filmed in 70mm Super Technirama Technicolor with a cast of thousands, was directed by Nicholas Ray.

AT THE REGENT— Jason Robards Jr., who believes he has failed as a husband, seeks understanding and affection from screen star Jill St. John, in 20th Century-Fox's "Tender Is The Night," on view now at the Regent Theater.

SAMMY DAVIS JR. in "Sergeants " held over at Met Theatre. .)

JANE FONDA and Laurence Harvey in one of the many torrid scenes in "Walk On the Wild Side," which co-stars Capucine and Barbara Stanwyck and holds for the 3rd week at the Royal. Second feature is "Cash on Demand."

'Valley of Dragons' tops bill at Royal

"Valley of the Dragons" is now at the Royal with Cesare Danova, Sean McClory and Joan Staley in the starring roles.

The thriller relates what happens when Danova and McClory suddenly find themselves whirled away from earth on a comet inhabited by gigantic beasts and primitive humans. They have only dueling pistols at the beginning of their ferocious battle for survival.

Companion feature is "The 3 Stooge Meet Hercule."

'Tender is the Night' featured at Regent

In bringing to the screen F. Scott Fitzgerald's classic novel, "Tender Is The Night," 20th Century - Fox has captured the complex world of a group of American pleasure-seekers in Europe during the turbulent Twenties.

Jennifer Jones, Jason Robards, Jr., Joan Fontaine and Tom Ewell star in the CinemaScope - DeLuxe Color drama, now at the Regent Theatre, which features Jill St. John, Cesare Danova and Paul Lukas in supporting roles.

Sammy Davis Jr. in hit at Met

Sammy Davis, Jr. has a key role in "Sergeants 3," Technicolor Panavision western at the Met Theatre through United Artists release.

He is co-featured with Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Peter Lawford and Joey Bishop.

"I would like to confide in you viewers," Sammy said of the film" that there is at least one Western relic I use in this picture that is authentic and which really did help win the West for Hollywood.

"John Wayne loaned me the beat-up hat he has worn in just about every western he's made for the past twenty years. I wore it with pride and hope it wil make you think I really am a true man of the Old West.".

Dream came true for 'King of Kings' star

Fairy tales do come true, not only in Hollywood but in Chicago, New York and Mardid as well. In this story the heroine is Brigid Bazlen, Chicago high school girl who, by a unique chain of circumstances, won the role of Salome in Samuel Bronston's spectacular production of "King of Kings," held over at the Harlem, presented by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

"It all happened so fast I hardly had time to think about the work involved," Brigid recalls.

are scheduled to be torn down in the downtown rehabilitation effort.

Mr. Denton said he did not know the policy of the restaurants which subscribe to the Bureau. A check with local protest groups later revealed that 11 of the 13 do not serve colored patrons.

THE COMPLETION of the Civic Center with its broad convention facilities and a mandatory open-door racial policy on all the business to be housed there, will mean a great deal to the convention business for Baltimore, the bureau chief said.

"We hope that the civic center will be a place for everybody. It will go a long way toward helping the overall picture in Baltimore," he added.

The $14,000,000 auditorium - sports arena will attract larger groups, from which downtown hotels and businesses will benefit, he said.

The center was started on Baltimore Street in July of 1960 and is scheduled for completion later this year.

Pupils from School No. 139 attend Rubins tein concert

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Nineteen members of School No. 139 faculty, headed by their principal, Samuel R. Owings, attended the recent concert by the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, with Artur Rubinstein, piano soloist.

The theatre party was arranged by Miss M. Almira Miller, specialist in the department of music of the public schools.

A complete sell-out, it was one of the most brilliant of the local symphony concerts of the season. The veteran pianist and Peter Adler, conductor of the orchestra, were recalled to the stage time after time to acknowledge the thunderous applause.

WITHOUT ANY distracting mannerisms Rubinstein performed the famous Beethoven "Emperor" Concerto with rare beauty and classic perfection.

It is an artist indeed who allows the composer to speak, neither minimizing his message nor overshadowing its eloquence.

The symphony did justice to the score, which is a true collaboration of orchestra and soloist, and not merely a background to show off the pianist.

Opening the concert was the "March" from "Reinzi," one of Wagner's early works. Although not one of his great operas, in its fanfare and pomp one heard snatches of patterns that were to blossom later in the glories of "Valkyrie" and "Tristan."

Attending the concert in the School No. 139 party were members of the faculty and guests including: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Owings, Mrs. Mary Raynor, vice principal; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wheaden, Mrs. Irma Woodland and daughter, Mesdames Lillian Jordan, Faye Lee, Aline Lyd Shirley Wood, Audrey Harden, Misses Harriet Washington, Gertrude Williams, M. Almira Miller and your reviewer.

ON APRIL 4th and 5th Morgan State Choir will join the Baltimore Symphony in the concert version of Beethovens opera "Fidelio" (also entitled "Leonora.").

It is to be hoped that our citizens will give these two, local institutions their full support on this occasion.

WITHIN AN hour students of the Frances Wood School No. 176 were transported from their auditorium at Franklin and Schroeder Sts. on a trip to Europe, via a $4,000 Stradivarius violin with Robert Gerle, concert artist, as their guide.

Assistant pilot was Louis Shub, concert pianist, with Young Musicians Series as travel agent.

It was a fascinating journey as Mr. Gerle, with his easy charm, wafted his listeners from Italy with pure classic melodies by Vivaldi of the early school to Germany with the involved patterns of the great Bach.

Then followed a movement from one of Mozart's sonatas, elegant and brilliant in the Austrian composer's style. On to Poland and Chopin with the vivacious rhythms of the national ance, the mazurka.

The French romantic school was represented by a delightful work in imitation of a cuckoo and across the Pyrenees to Spain and the exciting movement of "Andulusia". After a question period, in which the youthful listeners showed mushc interest, Mr. Gerle completed the trip with a rousing dance.

BJC reports 461 student increase

The Baltimore Junior College enrollment jumped by 461 students from 1,170 last February to 1,631 for the current semester, Walter D. Scheid, registrar, announced this week.

This is a drop of 180 pupils from the 1,811 enrolled in the fall.

Of the total, 1,159 are attending day classes with 1,009 full time.

The office also reports a decrease in night school attendance of 72 students from 544 last semester to 472.
