of the seven House candidates will enter the November general election.

This maneuver blocks the city's Republican officials —who know nothing of these GOP candidates — from naming a district slate of their own for the general election.

IN SHORT — it blocks whatever formidable opposition GOP officials might have thrown against the Democrats in the general

This means, too, that conscientious Fourth District voters have little choice but to split their votes between the independent candidates in the primary.

And then hope that the general election will soon go away.

Now, the glum primary picture in this district must be attributed to this situation:

The two independent, Democratic organizations just wouldn't get together on a common slate of candidates—to run against the district's political machine combine.

And this has left the conscientious voter with little place to go — and less to expect after he gets there.

THIS WILL remain the picture — unless somebody gets angry enough, or rather, politically wise enough, to change it.

So — people generally get the kind of representation they deserve.

To demonstrate that they don't deserve these situations — citizens of the Fourth and Fifth Districts have but to rise up in operation.

—Sen. Jones

Senate until the last night. Rather than let the bill go down to defeat, I got it tabled.

"I got the man a job, and he kept it until the Governor gave him $1,000."

MRS. WELCOME said in rebuttal she knew nothing of any other proposed sponsorship of a Spriggs' pay bill, but had entered her own even er had said there was no chance for passage.

Recalling that the bill had passed the House, Mrs. Welcome said:

"We reached the last few seconds of the Legislature, and all they had to do was say 'yes' — and the gentleman rose and tabled the bill.

"I don't know what the purpose was.

"The unfortunate thing is when we introduce bills in the House, we must have the cooperation of our Senator to get a bill passed."

THEN, THE two disagreed on who had proposed the amendments to the resolution. Mrs. Welcome said they were hers. Senator Jones said they were by Senator Joseph V. Mach (D. 2nd Dist, Balto.)

A resolution, introduced by Senator Jones, was finally approved at the past session of the General Assembly, granting Mr. Spriggs $40 a week over a three-year period.

In answer to a query of what State - wide administrative appointments the governor might fill with qualified colored citizens, Mrs. Dixon said:

"He could appoint a public relations assistant. He could name somebody to the attorney general's staff, and to any number of boards and commissions where there are now none."

THE QUESTION of what the NAACP plays in the political life of the Fourth District brought further disagreement between Senator Jones and Mrs. Welcome. He answered:

"The NAACP plays an active part in the recruitment of people to register and vote. Otherwise, I don't think they play any part in the political life of the Fourth District."

"They will," Mrs. Welcome said, "support candidates of favorable choice in the district."

Senator Jones disagreed, stating that the NAACP is supposed to be "non-partisan."

Dr. Dwynal B. Pettengill, assistant director, Morgan's Institute for Political Education, served as moderator. Dr. G. James Fleming is director of the Institute.

PLANS FOR installing 500 permanent chairback seats in the mezzaine section at Memorial Stadium were approved by the Park Board.

The seats will cost between $32,000 and $35,000. They will be paid for by the Colts, the Orioles and Sportsevice, the agency that runs the concessions at the stadium.

The Boad also agreed to workout arrangements for the installation of two escalators at the stadium, and gave the O.K. for the installation of 15 wash basins in the ladies' room.

Josiah Henry draws $35 housing court fine

Josiah F. Henry Jr., former Traffic Court magistrate, drew a fine of $35 in Housing Court Thursday, on two charges of failing to correct alleged hazardous conditions at his rental property in the 1300 block Druid Hill Ave.

Mr. Henry was charged with failing to provide a fire resistant separation between the basement and the first floor, and failing to repair defective interior basement steps.

He explained to Judge Mary Arabian that he had had some work done there which he assumed met city requirements.

However, Murray Schreiber, city building inspector, testified that Mr. Henry was originally notified of the building code violations in July, 1959, and given 30 days to make corrections.

He said further that Mr. Henry was given a warning letter on November 18, 1960, and that the warrants had been issued on Feb. 28 of this year, after the violations had not been corrected.

Mr. Henry contended that he had a plumber to do the work, and had not gotten in touch with city inspectors afterwards because he considered the violations had been corrected.

School 160 holds Md. Day program

The third grade classes of Carter Woodson Elementary School No. 160, presented an informative Maryland Day program this week. It featured folk songs, dances and colorful costumes.

Some 100 persons participated.

The Y-Teens of the school plan an Easter program for the faculty and the Gray-Y basketball team.

The student council, recently organized is composed of members from each class, first through sixth grade. There are also representatives from other organizations in the school.

The Gray - Y basketball team is undefeated in two games, having won 22 to 12 over School 156 and walloped the Druid Hill Ave. YMCA, 20-4.

Suspect quizzed in fatal beating

An E. Baltimore man was beaten to death Tuesday in an altercation at Ashland Ave. and Shuter St.

The victim, Albert Wingate, 366, 915 Shuter St., was pronounced dead on arrival at Johns Hopkins Hospital at 10:45 p.m.

Following his death, a 23-year-old man was picked up at a neighborhood tavern by Eastern District police.

Police said they were directed to the tavern by a woman. Investigating officers said they found Mr. Wingate unconscious in a front room of his home.

With him were his wife Mrs. Eva Wingate, 30, and their 13-year-old daughter.
