'Children embarrased by your prejudices'

"Try at least to keep up with your children. They are studying and playing and eating together every day.

"The children are embarrassed by your prejudices."

Miss Una Corbett, representative of the Baltimore Teachers Union, was speaking Tuesday afternoon before the City Council's Judiciary Committee, asking passage of public accommodations legislation for Baltimore.

"Our greatest task is to teach American democracy," she told the councilmen and assembly of more than 300 citizens. "But the clash between local practice and our teaching makes this difficult task almost impossible."

HUMAN RIGHTS PLEA — Leon Sachs, president, Baltimore Jewish Council, is shown here at right, concluding the requests of 19 organizational representatives before the City Council's Judiciary Committee Tuesday, for a public accommodations law. Committee members shown are: 1.) William D. Schaefer (5th D.); 2.) Walter T. Dixon (4th D.), who introduced the ordinance; 3.) Henry R. Hergenroeder (3rd D.), committee chairman; 4.) Leon A. Rubenstein (6 D.) 5) William L. Hodges (6th D.), and 6.) Philip H. Goodman, Council president.

IMPORTANCE CONFERENCE — Municipal Court Judge Robert B. Watts and City Councilman Solomon Liss (back to camera) take time out for a brief meeting of the minds during Tuesday's hearing on a Public Accommodations Bill. Mr. Liss was one of the most vocal supporters of the measure.

Candidate Murphy cites gains in 6th District

Colored people in the 6th legislative district have lost the battle for political representation by default too long, according to Attorney William H. Murphy.

Mr. Murphy, one of the first colored candidates for the House of Delegates from the 6th District, was speaking at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Frontiers of America.

"The time has come when colored people must flex their muscles and do what they ought to do, and stop crying," he said.

He decried the fact that no colored persons had run for state office from the sixth district and said that the legislative body is the most important government body of all.

"Here is where the deeds and misdeeds are done," he said.

In Cherry Hill, a predominantly colored neighborhood in the 6th District, "there is a growing awareness of the political necessity of being on the inside," Mr. Murphy asserted.

He said that people in Cherry Hill are more concerned with the ballot now than they have ever been.

"They are glad of a chance to vote for someone other than an anti-colored candidate," he said.

Mr. Murphy, who is running on the Democratic slate said that with 40 per cent of the registered Democrats vote, (some 15,000) he could conceivably win a seat in the house.

• • •

OTHERS OF the 18 candidates for state office in the 6th District were also invited, but Mr. Murphy was the only one that appeared.

Charles Cooper, and Ed Smith, House of Delegates candidates, and Clem Venturi, a candidate for State Senator, sent word that they had previous engagements.

There was no word from other candidates.

Other business handled at the meeting included a motion to send a letter to the producers of the TV show, Route 66, for their treatment of a show with a predominantly colored cast, and a decision to support the Boy Scouts of America Conference by sending a delegation.

They also agreed to send a letter to the AFRO protesting editorial criticism of their invitation to Dr. Amos Koontz, who addressed the last meeting.

Dr. Koontz, is a Johns Hopkins surgeon, and a self-styled race relations authority, whose frequent letters to the daily papers generally criticize colored people for not "pulling their load."

His speech at the Frontiers luncheon last week followed a similar vein.

300 at 38th wedding rites of the Parkers

By FELICIA E. ADAMS

More than 300 persons witnessed the 38th wedding anniversary service and reception given in honor of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hilton A. Parker.

It was in the sanctuary of the John Wesley Methodist Church in Glen Burnie.

Mrs. Parker looked lovely in a blue lace and organza dress trimmed in sequins with a wisp of a white hat and pearls.

The Rev. Kenneth Barnes was best man. Miss Amelia Parker, daughter of the Parkers, was maid of honor. IN attendance were Mesdames Alease Garrison, Dorothy Bennett, Marion Sowmns and Pearl Brown.

Ushers wre the Revs. Wesley Kelly, Julius Ford, William Brown and Douglass Bowman.

The Rev. Christopher Scott, pastor of the host church, gave the bride away.

Bishop Edgar A. Love officiated and said in part, "We have assembled this evening to celebrate the happy completion by our friends of 30 years of life together in bonds of Christian marriage."

• • •

Special guests were Mrs. John A. Parker and Mrs. Helen Storr, aunt and cousin of the honorees.

Solos were sung by Miss Yvonne Fisher and the Rev. N. Perry.

The reception was given by the church and members of the South Baltimore District.

The Rev. Mr. Parker is district superintendent.

Many beautiful gifts were received.

The District gave the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Parker a set of fine dinnerware.
