probation officer for the Supreme Bench for five years.

Mr. Brown is the son of Mrs. Benjamin F. Brown. His father is deceased.

OTHER MEMBERSHIPS include the Baltimore City, American, and Monumental Bar associations.

The newly - named prosecutor's community activities include memberships in the YMCA, NAACP, and Frat Men, Inc. He attends Metropolitan Methodist Church.

"Mr. Brown comes to me highly recommended by members of the bar and prominent civic leaders. I have observed him during tenure in the city probation department where he served with distinction for five years. I have also been impressed with the manner in which he represented defendents in criminal cases.

"I am sure Mr. Brown will measure up to the high standards required by the state's attorney's office."

Advised of the appointment Mr. Brown told the AFRO: "I'm delighted and will do everything within my power to justify the trust and confidence such an important post places on me."

of it too."

Cpl. Duckworth was wearing civil clothes and the policeman did not know until after the shooting that the victim was a service man.

Following identification of the victim, the policeman is reported to have said: "I'm sorry about it now."

CPL. DUCKWORTH returned to the States last year after spending several years abroad with the army. Three of his children were born in Germany.

He left Fort Richie for Laurel where his wife was in a hospital to give birth to their sixth child. The baby was born the day the father was killed.

Cpl. Duckworth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Duckworth Sr., parents of 11 other children.

The NAACP official said the soldier was shot at close range, as there were gun powder burns on the left pocket of his shirt.

HE SAID the shooting points up the need for protection of colored service men from local law enforcement officers.

C. R. Darden Sr., NAACP president of Meridian, recently protested to U.S. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy the beating of two Navy men.

"Colored service men have no protection from the brutality of local officials who resort to extreme violence in keeping with the atmsphere of hatred and defiance in the community," Darden said.

Reports are that Mississippi officials will claim the soldier was resisting arrest when he was shot.

Corporal Duckworth had been attached to Camp Rilchie since last September.

The little known camp is located in the western part of Maryland, about 60 miles from Baltimore.

The dead soldier was born in Taylorsville, Miss., May 26, 1934.

He enlisted in the Regular Army in 1953 and had seen service at Fort Jackson, S.C., Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Atlanta (Ga.) General Depot, Camp Chaffee, Akr., Camp Gordon, Ga., and in Europe.

The soldier has been awarded the National Defense Service Medal and the Gold Conduct Medal.

The apartheid conduct of Third Precinct Pvt. P. R. Pelfrey was nipped in the bud by Corporation Counsel Chester H. Gray Tuesday as a disorderly conduct charge against Nigerian student, Vincent Okobi, for walking on the wrong side of 21st St. NW was summarily dropped by Mr. Gray.

Mr. Gray said no outside pressure from the State Department or anyone else had influenced his decision.

The case had aroused the interest of the State Department, the Nigerian Embassy and Howard University because Okobi is not a citizen.

"There was simply too much conflicting testimony and we did not have an iron-clad case. Mr. Gray said.

"I have no desire to blot the record of a student—we want to temper justice with mercy," he said.

The arrest of Okobi had occurred after he had escorted his white girlfriend to her home under the watchful eyes of Pvt. Pelfrey, a rookie policeman of just two weeks.

Upon investigation, the Washington AFRO determined that Okobi was a quiet well mannered person who was well - liked by his fellow students.

Okobi has been upset by the treatment he received from Pvt. Pelfrey and is said not likely to forget his brush with District law enforcement officers in the very near future.

Deputy Chief Albert L. Embrey said his investigation has shown no improper conduct on the part of Pvt. Pelfrey.

He will make a full report on the incident to Chief Robert V. Murray.

Attesting to the importance of this particular arrest and its explosive potential is the fact that, contrary to usual court procedure, Okobi was not required to be present when the charges were dropped.

There had been some confusion earlier in the office of Assistant Corporation Counsel Clark F. King, who, in spite of Atty. George E. Hayes' insistence, would not officially sign any release until Okobi was present.

When questioned by the Washington AFRO later in the day, Mr. King said he had not seen Okobi, although the charges were dropped.

cause of the opportunities.

SCHOOLS IN Wilmington were segregated until 1954, when the Supreme Court issued its ruling on public school, and the city immediately complied.

Wilmington has colored policemen, firemen, three city concilmen, three members of the Charter Revision Commission, one colored municipal judge, and a colored assistant city solicitor.

By 1961, a number of restaurants in the city has voluntarily lowered racial bars, but then an incident occurred which showed that the evil of segregation was still a problem.

It was in April, that four delegates to the AME Zion Church Convention were refused service in a Wilmington restaurant.

The story was published in the local press and the Mayor John E. Babiarz went to the convention where he apolized and pledged to "do something about it."

THAT MAY, Louis L. Redding, a distinguished civil rights lawyer, drew up a public accomodations statement for the City Council.

It was introduced on May 25, passed by the Council on June 1, and signed by the Mayor on June 2.

When the AFRO visited Wilmington this week a check of the eating establishments disclosed none has experienced any "difference one way or the other."

Among the business establishments were exclusive restaurants, cocktail lounges, luncheonetts, corner cigar store-lunch counters, a Chinese restaurant, and taprooms.

All were located in different areas and catered to different classes of customers.

NAACP lauds anti-bias award to Wicomico group

Wicomico County NAACP president Mrs. Kathleen Purnell, this week lauded the selection of the County Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations for the 1962 Sidney Hollander Foundation anti - discrimination award.

"We are very proud —we have certainly worked hard enough to warrant it," There is still so much to do and I feel this will serve as an incentive to work even harder", Mrs. Prunell told the AFRO.

The Salisbury beautician, who is also a member of the Mayor's 18 - month - old biracial commission, pointed out that the commission had accomplished much in a short period of time."

"But more important, it has been done voluntarily and without unnecessary hostilities being aroused," she said.

She apparently referred to the fact that Salisbury's voluntary desegregation of a number of places of public accommodation forstalled anti - segregation demonstrations.

Baltimore - based Freedom Riders bypassed the county for more recalcitrant areas on the Eastern Shore when Salisbury agreed to expland the city commission county - wide.

THE AWARD of $250 will be presented at the annual dinner meeting of the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce April 18.

The five - member jury said that the commission had been honored for "judicious and effective leadership in desegregating public accomodanions and in planning for further integration of education and employment, constituting and outstanding contribution toward achievement of equal rights and opportunities of colored people in Maryland."

The eight major restaurants in Salisbury were desegregated early last year: the three movie theatres in the city opened orchestra sections and all of their balconies to colored, who had previously been confined to one section of the balconies.

Some of the leading motels in the city also admit colored patrons.

Urge Tawes commute sentences

The Montgomery County NAACP branch has called on Gov. J. Millard Tawes to commute the death sentences imposed on two young Spencerville brothers convicted of criminal assault involving a 16 - year - old girl.

Citing the case of a white man sentenced to life for sexually molesting and killing a colored girl, Mrs. Mary Y. Williams the NAACP branch president, said:

"There should be no double standard of penalities for white and colored defendants."

Jiles, 22 and James Giles, 20, were sentenced to death at conclusion of a jury trial before Circuit Court Judge James H. Pugh on conviction of assaulting the teenage girl on July 20, 1961.

Hearing April 16 on city re-districting

A public hearing on a City Council resolution, asking a study toward re - districting Baltimore's six councilmanic districts on a more equitable april 16.

The hearing will be before the Council's Judiciary Committee in the Council chamber.

The resolution was introduced three months ago by Councilman Walter T. Dixon (4th D.)

Decision to hold the hearing came on the heels of the recent Supreme Court ruling, ordering the setting up of equality of representation in legislative bodies.

MEANWHILE, CITY Republican officials have a plan for re - districting the city which calls for the addition of two new districts.

Samuel Hopkins, chairman, City Republican Committee, said this plan will be petitioned to the November ballot, should the City Council fail to act before then.

This plan would leave the Fourth and Sixth Districts as they are, and carve two new districts out of the large Fifth and Third Districts. The First and Second Districts would be enlarged with portions of the Third District.

Political Science Departments of nearby colleges, including that of Morgan State College, have been invited to submit re - districting plans at the hearing.

Hume challenges Tawes, Mahoney to discussion

"It is time we took this campaign to the people. They should be given a chance to consider objectively the issues posed by a panel of experts.

"They should hear each candidate tell in his own words where he stands. This is the proper moral forum for intelligent public discussion of vital public issues."

David Hume, candidate for Democratic nomination for governor, issued this challenge this week, proposing that Gov. J. Millard Tawes and George P. Mahoney, the other two major gubernatorial candidates, appear simultaneously with him on State - wide radio and television.

Mr. Hume, attorney and businessman, further proposed that the three candidates enter an isolation booth, so neither could be influenced by the comments of the others.

Each would be questioned thoroughly by three non - partisan experts on Maryland problems, he suggested, and would then present their proposed solutions to these problems.

"In this way there would be no call for recriminations, personal bitterness," said Mr. Hume, who offered to purchase the first hour of the time, "only a forthright discussion of the people's business."

GOP to name city slate April 26

The Republican City Committee has scheduled a meeting on April 26, for the purpose of nominating candidates to fill vacancies on the May 15 primary ballots.

All such candidates must be filed with the Supervisors of Elections at least 15 days before the primary.
