Tan talent of Colts outshine Redskins'

By SAM LACY

The Baltimore Colts — old hands at using tan talent — whipped the Washington Redskins — latecomers to the interracial business — in a National Football League exhibition here Thursday night, 34-14.

Probably because of their greater experience in the field, the Colts had Lenny Moore score two touchdowns and employed Hezekiah Braxton to set up two more.

The Redskins, playing their freshman season with a mixed lineup, got a good effort from Bobby Mitchell, ex-Cleveland Browns halfback But it was to no avail.

Following two first-half tallies by Moore, Braxton teamed with rookie quarterback Val Keckin to ignite a pair of third quarter markers.

THE MAKEUP of the crowd of 25,632 was an early indication that the new Redskin hiring policy is popular with the fans.

On every approach to the huge stadium, colored persons — in an apparent one-to three ratio—mingled with the incoming patrons. In each case the prospective new customer exhibited the glad-to-be-here attitude of the total.

On the surface at least were signs of forgiveness of the hometown management for its long holdout against player integration.

As it turned out, the game was an expensive one for the winners. A mere exhibition, the victory was by no means worth the cost.

Joe Perry, the club's second leading ground gainer in 1961, suffered torn ligaments in the left knee and will be out of the lineup indefinitely.

The veteran fullback, who is pro football's all-time leading rusher, was hurt midway of the second quarter when tackled by Redskin linebacker Dale Hackbart after a short gain.

IT TOOK the Colts less than 10 minutes to get on the scoreboard, despite the fact they flubbed an earlier chance.

With the clock only eight minutes old, Unitas lofted a fourth down pass to Moore in the end zone, but Lenny let the ball slide through his arms and fall to the turf.

No sooner had Washington taken over on her 20, however, than quarterback Norm Snead fumbled and tackled John Diehl and recovered for terback Norm Snead fumbled Baltimore on the Skin's 18.

Three plays later, Moore again was tapped as Unitas' target. This time he snared John's throw on the 11 and scooted in for the TD.

MITCHELL BROUGHT the crowd alive on the ensuing kickoff, hauling in Braxton's lopsided boot on his 5; and returning it 30 yards.

It was the first time the home folk had a chance to cheer Bobby, the Star attraction of the Skins' "new look," and they made capital of it.

The Redskins maintained the momentum as far as the Baltimore 40, but a 46-yard field goal attempt by Bob Khayat fell short.

A PASS interception by Rod Breedlove gave the Redskins their first real scoring chance. It sputtered out, when Fred Dugan dropped a pass at the goal posts.

Later, Mitchell connected with a Snead toss in the deep corner, but the reception was ruled out of bounds, leaving it again to the fieldgoal team and again for naught.

When finally the Redskins did score, the momentum again was supplied as much by Mitchell as by anyone.

Bobby, after dropping an earlier pass with nobody in front of him, made partial amends by pulling down a difficult throw between two Colt defenders. The catch gave Washington a first down on the Steed 22, and started the TD drive, completed moments later when fullback Jim Cunningham banged over from the 1.

THE SECOND Colt tally was a relatively easy two-yard sprint by Moore, which followed one play after rookie Dave Yohn had intercepted a Snead pass.

The third - quarter touchdown which raced the score to 27 - 7 for the Colts, were largely due to the Keckin - Braxton teamwork.

On the first play of the second half, Keckin hit the former Union University star with a 54 - yard heave that put the ball on the Washington 31.

Three plays later, aided by a roughing penalty, the Colts were on the 2, from where Fred Gillett drove in.

A 17-YARD completion between Keckin and Braxton put Baltimore on the Washington 11. And again it was Gillett's pleasure a few moments later.

Still another of the Colts' tan colony nudged his way into the act in the fourth period when Lenny Lyles outfought Mitchell for a Snead interception and returned it 19 yards.

Nothing materialized, however, as the series ended in a missed field goal try.

Maryland okeys 1st tan athlete

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Darryl Hill, former halfback star at Gonzaga High School, early this week accepted a grant-in-aid scholarship to the University of Maryland.

The 6-foot, 170-pound speedster who was an all-prep selection in 1959 and 60 in Washington, thus becomes the first colored athletic prospect at Maryland.

IT MAY be that he also will be the first tan football player in the Atlantic Coast Conference, a league which has held the line against integration except in tennis.

Since college transfer rules require that Hill sit out a year of residency at Maryland, there may be other schools in the heavily-Dixie conference which will beat the Terps to fielding an interracial squad.

DARRYL, a mercuric ball carrier, resigned from the U.S. Naval Academy last May. Before leaving, he had participated in the Midshipmen's spring football drills and was running with the fourth unit when practice concluded. Coach Wayne Hardin, however, considered the 18-year-old sophomore a fine prospect, particularly as a flanker back where his speed could be exploited.

As a Plebe last year, Darryl scored seven touchdowns and kicked five extra points. His 47-point total was second only to fullback Pat Donnelly, generally considered to be a certain starter at Navy this fall.

HILL, WHO led Gonzaga to the city football championship three years ago and kicked the winning point in the title game, had reportedly also received feelers from Penn State, Pittsburgh and Syracuse.

The slender, 5-11, speedster played freshman football at Xavier University before enrolling at the Academy where the minimum age requirement is 18.

IT HAD been suspected that Hill would be one of two colored scholastic stars slated to receive Terp scholarships. However, the second youngster, Norman Burkett of Baltimore, was not accepted.

Burkett, Maryland Scholastic Association sprint champion and star fullback at Forest Park High School, did not pass the college boards.

Sifford wins $476 in Akron golf classic

AKRON, O. — (ANP) — Charlie Sifford, ranking pro golfer, pocketed $476 in prize money after finishing ninth among a large field of outstanding competitors in the $50,000 American Golf Classic won by Arnold Palmer here Sunday.

Palmer collected $9,000 for finishing first with a 276 strokes total of 276. That increased his earnings for 1962 to $80,198 the highest for one year in pro golf history.

AFTER leading off with a poor round of 75, Sifford shot impressive middle rounds of 71-71. However, he faltered again in the final round, coming in 7 - strokes over par at 77.

In addition to trying to negotiate the rugged Firestone Country Club course, Sifford had to compete with such accomplished golfers as Palmer, Gary Player, Art Wall Billy Maxwell and Dow Finsterwald.

Player, a South African and winner of several major U.S. tournaments, finished just two strokes ahead of Sifford of Los Angeles.

EYES U.S. GOLF TITLE — Former world tennis champion Althea Gibson will make her first major effort in golf on Aug. 27. She is entered in the 62nd U.S. Women's Amateur championships at Rochester, N.Y.

Jackie here for Birdfeast

"Shrine of Immortals" night at the Stadium tonight (Friday) will find Jackie Robinson, former great of the Dodgers, among the interested spectators.

Jackie arrived in the city early this afternoon and will address a Western Police Boys Club gathering before journeying to the Stadium to join baseball celebrities on hand for the induction of Lefty Grove and Jimmy Foxx.

ROBINSON WAS invited to the ceremonies by the Baltimore Orioles, who are sponsoring a movement to immortalize native Marylanders who have become famous in baseball.

With Jackie will be Bob Feller and Bill McKechnie, who were enshrine in baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., last month.

Following the induction ceremonies tonight, the Orioles will take on the Cleveland Indians in an American League contest.

Marichal, Alou lead Giants over Dodgers

SAN FRANCISCO —(ANP) — Juan Marichal pitched great baseball to the delight of 41,812 cheering fans Sunday and Felipe Alou wielded a hot bat as the two led the San Francisco Giants to a 5-1 victory over the league leading Los Angles Dodgers that enabled the Giants to sweep a three - game series from the Dodgers here.

Marichal utilized his deceptive, high kicking style to good advantage, as he defated the Dodgers on just four hits to bag his 15th victory against eight losses. In one stretch, Juan retired the Dodgers in order in five frames.

Alou collected two hits and scored three of the Giants' five runs.

Gaskins top scorer in Towanda Pentathlon

Glen Gaskins, was top scorer with 24 points and four first places, competing in the recent annual pentathlon sponsored by the Dolfield Democratic Club at Towanda playground.

Other high scorers among the 95 boys participating were:

Bobby Brown, 22 points; J. Prettyman and P. Plennis, 20 points each.

can help around the house — lifting furniture and that sort of thing.

No, there is nothing that I wouldn't ask him to do around the house.

MRS. ROSE MEDLEY, 1307 Argyle Ave.: No, I don't think so because after he works all day, he shouldn't have to come home and do the housework.

I don't think he should be asked to do the washing and ironing.

MRS. MARY C. WALTON, 2405 Fairview Rd.: Yes, I think that men should do housework, especially in the family where both husband and wife work.

I wouldn't ask him to wash my clothes (lingerie).

MRS. LUCILLE RIDGLEY, 1822 Division St.: I think it's left up to the couple. If they are both working, both should do the housework. One do the upstairs, and the other the downstairs, or an arrangement of that sort

I wouldn't ask him to scrub floors because I don't like it myself.

MRS. SARAH AUSTIN, 1846 Division St.: Yes, it should be a 50-5 basis. He should be able to do the housework. The woman can't stay well all the time, you know.

I wouldn't ask him to wash clothes or iron them.

MRS. RUTH MACON, 2120 Etting St.: Yes if the woman is working, he should be able to do the housework.

There is nothing I wouldn't ask him to do. Yes, even washing clothes if he feels like it.

MRS. FLORENCE WILEY, 2028 Ettings St.: Yes, I think he should do some things because I'm busy all the rest of the day.

I wouldn't ask him to change the baby, or even watch her if I have to go out.

MRS. MARGORIE JENNINGS, 1838 Etting St. Well I usually have it to my husband whether he wants to do housework, I never ask him to do it outright hoping that he might see it needs to be done.

I don't expect him to do the washing or ironing because I know that he can't do that.

Tommy Davis looms strong contender for MVP honor

LOS ANGELES — The race for the National League's most valuable player award this season has a new name that weighs heavily in the competition.

He is Tommy Davis, one of the two Davis boys on the Los Angeles Dodgers. In fact, at this stage of the National League race, the rivalry for the honor boils down to a stirring duel between Tommy and Willie Mays, of the San Francisco Giants.

TOMMY, not related to Willie Davis, is staking his bid on his heavy run production (118 at this writing) and Mays has a strong rallying point in his major league home run leadership (37 at this writing), his 102 RBI output, and his general all-around excellence as a player.

A lot will depend on whether the Dodgers or the Giants take the National League Pennant. Ulusually, the MVP award goes to the outstanding performer on the flag-winning team, but this is not a hard and fast rule.

MAYS' DOSSIER as a major leaguer is well known. Davis (Tommy, that is) is not so well established in the public mind as a topnotch player. This is only his third season in the majors.

But he has come to be recognized by some of the experts in the game as one of the really solid future stars — if a .355 batting average doesn't give him that status now.

LAST YEAR, when the Dodgers were playing their home games in the yawning Los Angeles Coliseum, where, ironically, the left field fence was a distinct disadvantage to Davis, Bob Prince, a Pittsburgh broadcaster, predicted that Tommy would come into his own once the Dodgers were out of that make-shift park.

Prince said Davis looked like a solid .350 hitter and a 140-RBI man, capable of collecting 40 home runs.

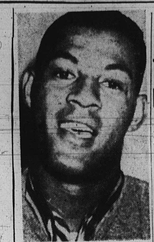
TOMMY SEEMS on the way to make Princes' look like a sound prophet. In addition to his 100-plus RBI's, Davis was batting second in the league (after leading the batting race for weeks) and has whacked more than 20 home runs.

Such statistics were part of Tommy's credentials to the left field slot on the NL all-star team.



ARMY DISCHARGE — Elgin Baylor, regarded in many quarters as the best basketball player in the world, received his Army discharge from Ft. Lewis, Wash., last week and rejoined the Los Angeles Lakers pro cage team.
