Metropolitan tenor to sing here Oct. 21

George Shirley, young Metropolitan tenor, and winner of the Metropolitan's 1961 auditions, will open the Jewish Community Center's Sunday Concert series on Sunday, Oct. 21, at 8:30 p.m., to be held at the Center building, 5700 Park Heights Ave.

Mr. Shirley's program at the Jewish Community Center will include operatic selections, German leidler, and a number of French and Hebraic songs.

George Shirley, who won the Metropolitan auditions in 1961, made his debut with the Metropolitan the same year, as "Ferrando" in "Cost Fan Tutte." He has also appeared as "Rodolfo" in the New York City Opera Company's production of "La Boheme."

Just 28 years old, Mr. Shirley is a graduate of Wayne State University, received his music training with a number of private teachers including Max Klein, and taught high school in Detroit for one and a half years before entering the service. He was with the U.S. Army Chorus in Washington, D.C. for three years.

bum library with 20,000 records, and a recreation room which can accommodate 200 guests and a band.

Jocko, whose name is Douglass Henderson, has private baths for himself, his wife, Jean, and his son, Douglass Jr.

He is a native of Baltimore where his late father, Elmer Henderson, was superintendent of colored schools.

THE POPULAR disc jockey could not be reached for comment. He was reported to be in either New York, where he has presented a series of rock and roll shows at the Apollo Theatre, or in Boston, where he has an interest in a radio station.

However, in a prepared statement, he was quoted as saying that only one-fourth of his income, estimated in the magazine as $100,000 a year, came from radio.

He was also quoted as saying that his physician had advised him to slow down his pace.

WHILE BOTH of the radio stations were maintaining a "no further comment attitude," one source said that the firings could quite possibly be traced to the magazine spread on the lavish home of Jocko.

The source said is was felt that the publication of the article might alienate the people to whom Jocko beamed his program, and they might become resentful.

Jocko left Baltimore some ten years ago for Philadelphia, where he was an overnight sensation.

The gimmick he used was an imaginary rocket ship on which he invited his listeners to ride as he spun the latest hit records.

His show was very similar to one originated by Maurice "Hot Rod" Hulbert in Baltimore, but Jocko was the first one to hit Philadelphia.

Bumbry in charity concert at Lyric

Baltimore music - lovers will hear mezzo-soprano Grace Bumbry in concert at the Lyric Auditorium, Tuesday evening.

The universally-loved singer is featured in a benefit sponsored by Frontiers International. She was the opening artist for Howard University's fall lyceum series on Wednesday night in Washington, D.C., and was greeted by an overflow audience at Cramton Hall.

ASIDE FROM being the first colored person to perform in the featured role of a Wagner piece at its Bayreuth (Germany) birthplace, Miss Bumbry won signal honor earlier this year when she was requested for a White House party by President and Mrs. Kennedy.

In order to fulfill the assignment, the 25-year-old artist was compelled to make a weekend round-trip jet flight from Paris, where she was wrapped in an operatic engagement.

IN TWO short seasons since she became a headliner, Miss Bumbry has become one of the most sought-after singers on two continent.

Her debut at the Paris Opera in 1960 as Amneris in "Aida" created a sensation, and so highly regarded is her Carmen that the Paris company starred her in the role on the troupe's good-will tour of Japan.

Her performance as Venus in "Tannhauser" at the 1961 and 1962 Bayreuth Festivals, won headlines throughout the world and high critical praise.

FOLLOWING are comments of some of the entertainment world's most noted critics:

"The packed house showered her with applause. She sings with regal simplicity and her wide range, from its low sonorous notes to the brilliant high A passed the test magnificently." (Paris Opera debut, March 1960)—Pendleton, N.Y. Herald Tribune

"Obviously a singer with a big career ahead of her."—Schonberg, N.Y. Times

"Bumbry's voice, a naturally glorious, bronzelike instrument, ranged through the house with impressive power."—Time

Miami hosts NHA annual convention

Members of the Nationyide Hotel Association, Inc., will meet in their 9th Annual Convention at the fabulous Hampton House Motel and Villas, Miami, Fla., October 14 - 17.

Theodore R. Hagans, Jr., vice-president and general manager of the New Dunbar Hotel, Washington, D. C., and national president of NHA, announced that hotel, motel and guest house owners and operators from all over the country are expected to attend.

Mr. Hagans is ending his fourth term as National President of the organization.

The management of the million-dollar resort, Hampton House Motel and Villas, is making elaborate plans to insure that all who attend this convention are well entertained during their stay in Miami.

In addition to the interesting business sessions and workshops planned for the meeting, an Awards Banquet and Dance is one of the highlights of the program, and delegates and visitors will enjoy golf, swimming, boating and sightseeing.

A nite club tour is also being planned by the convention committee.

NHA returns to Miami for its 9th Annual Convention after eight years, it being recalled that the first NHA convention was held in Miami at the then Lord Calvert Hotel (now known as The Sir John) in 1954.

Defense Department uses blind workers to assemble kits

Blind adults, at a special assembly center of the Maryland Workshop for the Blind, at 2020 W Mosher St., are employed on a special contract from the U.S. Department of Defense to assemble 146,000 large sanitation kits for placement in Civil Defense shelters.

The kits are designed to provide all necessary sanitation materials to meet the needs of 50 people for a 14-day period.

The large containers serve as commodes, and 16 sanitary items ranging from chemicals to drinking cups and toilet tissues are packed in large round containers.

Additional blind workers at the Maryland Workshop for the Blind's main building, 2901 Strickland St., are employed on subcontract jobs for industry, which include assembly of decanter tops for a major distillery, assembly of industrial Christmas gift hampers, emergency parts for the communications industry and small parts for a major game manufacturer.

2 groups drop liquor license applications

Two applications for licenses were withdrawn before scheduled hearings by the Liquor Board on Thursday. Improvement associations were on hand to protest issuances of licenses in both cases.

A tavern in the 1200 block N. Potomac St. gave up on its application fo a seven-day license. The Federal Neighborhood Improvement Association had gathered more than 400 signatures to a protest petition.

In the second case, the Dukes of Edmondson dropped their application for a beer and wine license for the 700 block N. Poplar Grove St. when faced by protests from the Raynor Avenue Improvement Association, Mrs. Annie E. Wells, president.

A delegation from the association was on hand for the hearing which had been scheduled for Thursday.

Threaten abandoning of city's Fort Smallwood

Mayor J. Harold Grady and the Board of Estimates were still considering at AFRO press time whether an earlier decision to abandon Fort Smallwood, the municipal park in Anne Arundel County, should stand.

Funds for the operation and maintenance of the park have been tentatively eliminated from the Park Board's budget by the Board of Estimates.

While the Park Board had asked $25,000 to operate the park next year, an estimated revenue of $25,000 from admissions, concessions, etc., would have put this cost at about $2,000.

However, other expenses are involved for the city, in policing the park and keeping it in good condition.

Mayor Grady, taking note of some quick objections over the pending loss of the park, said later Wednesday the Board of Estimates would likely restore the cuts needed to operate the place next year.

Dr. R. Walter Graham Jr., launched an argument over a year ago for the abandonment of Fort Smallwood, contending the vast majority of people who use its facilities live outside the city.

This basis was again advanced this year by Charles L. Benton, city budget director, in recommending abandoning the park.

Fort Smallwood is the city's only waterfront park, and should it be abandoned the land, a 100-acre tract, reverts to the federal government.

The laws must be enforced—Sickles

"The laws must be enforced and the rights of our colored citizens in these United States cannot be denied.

That was the position Wednesday of Carlton R. Sickles, Democratic candidate for Congressman - at-large, in commenting on President Kennedy's dispatch of troops to Mississippi.

"The determination backed by action of the United States Attorney General in the case of an American who claims his rights in Mississippi is one example of the many reasons why I am proud to run as a Kennedy Democrat," he said.

Mr. Sickles added that the Kennedy Administration has shown that it will accept no threats designed to intimidate the government.

"I believe that the government's action in Mississippi may deter others from precipitating future crises, and the course of integration in accordance with the Constitution will move forward more speedily," he said.

Importance of education told

By THEODORE SMITH

Buddy Young, local radio personality, speaking at the Douglass High observance of National Newspaper Week, stressed the importance of well-educated versatile persons in today's world.

The former all-pro football player told the students well-rounded football stars are able to get good jobs in the business world once their playing days are over.

A school newspaper display is being prepared by the journalism class for the annual Maryland State Teachers Conference at the Fifth Regiment Armory, Oct. 18-20.

Drivers education is once again being offered daily 3-6 p.m.

Sovials hold first meeting of season

The Sovials held their first meeting of the season recently at the home of Mrs. Marlene Clay.

Tentative plans were made for a card party and a fashion show for charity, and a busy year for volunteer work. Mrs. Vera Macer is president.

Lax enforcement at law luncheon

The observance of Law Enforcement celebration at the Southern Hotel Wednesday hit so many snags a wag was moved to quip:

"This is law enforcement"!

For a while it was one disorderly, disorganized and confused lawful celebration..?

Apparently drawn by the guest speaker, E. G. Marshall, star of "The Defenders," television courtroom drama, or the fact that the ceremony was televised by local stations and Telstar, an overflow crowd descended on the hotel.

To make bad matters worse, many of them had no tickets, but took reserved seats belonging to ticketholders, who nearly doubled the number of seats available.

SINCE TICKETS were not taken at the door, several parties arrived to find both seats and food gone.

This proved too much for already frayed tempers and short patience and the clever or and stair case rumbled with salty complaints when the banquet ended.

Mr. Marshall, rushing to finish his nine-page speech in limited time urged that more programs stressing law enforcement be put in schools.

The celebration was sponsored by the Federal Bar Association, Co - sponsors were the Monumental Bar Association, Women's Bar Association, the Certified Public Accountants' Association and Junior Bar Association.

5 YEAR, 50,000 MILE WARRANTY BACKED BY JARMAN'S 46 YEARS OF INTEGRITY
DOWN PAYMENT & TERMS TO SUIT YOU
LOW BANK RATE FINANCING
WE ALSO HAVE A SUPPLY OF NEW '62s AT BARGAIN PRICES
A lot of Dodge dealers are telling you a lot of wonderful things about the new '63 Dodge cars. We agree — the new Dodges are wonderful. But when some of them start saying only "they" have the best deal — we say "WHOA!"
By best deal, they seem to mean price. If so, we've got news for them and good news for you — a new 1963 Dodge costs you no more at Jarman. All we ask is that you shop and compare. And get the full delivered price before trade. That's the only price that counts.
By best deal, we mean price plus easy terms plus low down payment plus low bank rate financing plus service and satisfaction that come from 46 years of dependable dealing. ALL yours—HERE.
