Provident campaigners hold vote workshop

The campaign to get Baltimoreans to overwhelmingly vote Yes to Question F—the New Provident Hospital Loan—entered its final phase Wednesday when more than 65 community leaders met for a briefing session on how to build city-wide support for this issue.

At a workshop session conducted by the Citizens' Committee for the New Provident held at the hospital annex, representatives from business, labor, civic, social and medical groups heard campaign officials explain the direct action program designed to rally voter approval of a $2.4 million bond issue needed to make construction of a new $8 million Provident Hospital a reality.

"These next two weeks until Election Day, November 6 are critical, said George L. Russell Jr., co - chairman of the Citizens Committee. "This pre-election activity will climax months of long planning."

In the time remaining until Election Day, the Citizens Committee for the New Provident will put into effect a massive publicity drive urging a Yes vote on the Provident Loan and will continuously use radio, television and press facilities to drive this message home.

Volunteer telephone squads have been formed to contact voters throughout the city. Placards, stickers, and hand bills are being distributed in the metropolitan area.

The committee is arranging for movie trailers explaining the Provident story to be screened in neighborhood theaters.

Volunteer workers will speak on Question F to civic groups.

"This is one hospital where everyone who is qualified can practice medicine," emphasized Dr. Saul M. Perdue, Carver High school principal, and chairman of the hospital board of trustees, in his remarks to the workshop volunteers.

Discussion and planning leaders for the Workshop included Mrs. Ethel Rich, Mrs. Victorine Adams, Mr. Russell, and Mrs. Catherine Adams.

Attending this session were:

Mesdames Dorothy Johnson, Emma Green, Evelyn Seay, Emma Payne, Jean D. Williams, Beatrice Bronson, Jean Jones, Susie Cooper, Catherine Adams, John H. Holmes, Eleanor M. Jones, Elroy Young, Blanche D. Hughes, Lena Lee, Mary B. Adams Madeline Pullen, Evelyn A. Johnson, Blanche Johnson, Ethel Rich, Maureen Michelson, Gladys Wallace and Delores Hunt.

jured foot and Mr. Cook always came by to help her.

Thursday she told police, he came by at 8:30 a.m. and asked her if he could do anything for her.

When she said no, according to Mrs. Mullins, she thought her brother left. Mrs. Mullins told investigators she heard no noise and was unaware of Mr. Cook's death until her husband found him.

Mrs. Eura Cook, 64, 2600 block Ridgely St., mother of the victim, reported her son was despondent and was under treatment for a nervous condition at University Hospital.

Police reported that Mr. Cook was arrested and indicted last summer charged with soliciting for immoral purposes.

Records at the State's Attorney's office show John Danzel Cook of the Ridgely St. address was arrested on June 30 and indicted on August 9. The trial was pending at the time of death.

Mrs. Cook said her son had not been working recently due to his nervous condition.

The body has been released to a funeral home in the 600 block N. Gilmor and funeral services had been tentatively set for Monday.

Mr. Cook was a member of a prominent Mt. Winans family all of whom live in a cluster of attractive and modern homes in a section known as "The Hill" on Ridgely St.

Other survivors include his father, Danzel Cook, who is ill at home; a sister, Mrs. Hiantha Campbell; an uncle, Lloyd Cook and three nieces and three nephews. He was a native Baltimorean and a graduate of Morgan

Mr. Leiberman stated that the rotating on call basis of hiring seemed fairest since so many applicants had already been listed with Civil Service.

Mr. Moore, the director, also said that at present enough applicants were available to meet the Center's immediate needs for 80 part - time workers.

ONLY WHEN Sgt. John Pumphrey of the Western District, investigating a missing person report, confronted the boys with the fact that they were last seen with the dead youth did they admit witnessing the tragedy.

Harbor police began dragging the harbor Monday, they reported, but were interrupted when another man fell overboard.

Resuming dragging operations Tuesday, police found the young victim shortly after his father, who had watched the search after leaving work, arrived home.

"It's a hurting thing," Mr. Downes said, "it doesn't seem real, it's like a dream."

Mr. Downes said he questioned several of the boys every day since his son became missing, but they always told him they didn't know anything.

"I don't know why they would be afraid for was missing one day," Mr. Downes shook his head. "It just doesn't seem real."

Mr. Downes was out completing burial arrangements Mr. Downes said, and added:

"She's pretty cracked up over it. He was her heart."

The 30-year-old father said their other children are:

James E., 12; Anthony W., 8; Terry, 7; Sharon D., 6; Allen T., 4; Zachery, 3; and Barry T., 1.

Parents of the eyewitnesses are equally as grieved as those of the victim.

"I can't sleep. Everytime I close my eyes, I see that child in the water begging for help. It's just awful," said one.

"They knew they had no business there in the first place," said another, "that's why they were afraid.

"I sure am sorry for the parents of that boy," he added.

The sprawling housing project is still buzzing with shock and disbelief — at both the tragedy and the ability of the youths to keep a secret that even death couldn't shake from their tongues.

14th Ward, Supervisors of Elections officials revealed.

This office began immediately advising the challenged voters by mail and by notice delivered letters to appear at the Tuesday hearing for verification of their registered address.

Those who appear will be retained on the registration books.

The names of those who do not appear Tuesday will be removed from the registration books and placed on a supplementary voting list at their polling places for the Nov. 6 general election.

Should they appear to vote, they will be required to take an oath that their registered address is correct before being permitted to do so.

The names of those who do not appear will be stricken from the books as registered voters.

Such persons will be required to register again after the November election, in order to be eligible to vote in the primary next March.

Among the 162 challenges brought in by Mrs. Welcome and Mr. Pressman, 23 were directed to voters in Mr. Pollack's home precinct, the 35th of the 15th Ward.

Mrs. Welcome and Mr. Pressman succeeded some weeks ago in uncovering 454 improperly registered voters in this same precinct, during the course of a requested Supervisors of Elections investigation.

THE NAACP said it is important for citizens to evaluate the report of Commissioner Schmidt to Gov. Tawes since its contents have not been disclosed.

It called "disturbing" Gov. Tawes' statement that a riot was averted at Riverside pool and said if the statement was based on Commissioner Schmidt's report "then that document must contain very serious and misleading errors."

The NAACP recalled that a mob of 1,000 on Labor Day became so violent that there was stonings and colored youth and members of the press had to be escorted from the park in police wagons.

Mrs. Mitchell said the NAACP also was disturbed by Gov. Tawes' commendation of Commission Schmidt "for averting serious injuries" and added the charge that police recently allowed "the mass intimidation" of an Indian family which tried to move into a house in the Hamden area.

The NAACP charged also that since Commissioner Schmidt has headed the department it has "made its own secret investigation" of complaints, always reaching the conclusion the complaints were unjustified.

Park loans would improve

The Department of Recreation and Parks will have two proposed loans on the Nov. 6 ballot, which would permit improvements to the stadium, the zoo, Brooklyn Park, renovated playgrounds and new school recreation centers.

They are Question No. K, a recreation loan of $1,200,000, and Question No. L, a park loan of $1,050,000.

The recreation loan would provide for three school recreation centers at Northwood School, School No. 61 at Linden Ave, and Konig St. and in the Mt. Royal-Fremont Urban Renewal Area.

A total of $815,000 has been set aside for these centers.

Sympathy extended to the family of Mrs. Wilbert Jones (Harriet).

They are in Mobjack, Matthews Co., Va., to bury his father, Percy Albert Jones, Sr.

The Jones address here is 2200 Liberty Heights Ave.

There are three grandchildren, Carol and Pamela Jones and Humphrey White.

Carol and Humphrey are in Tenn. State students. Pamela goes to Forest Park.

My, how time flies!

A total of $50,000 has been set aside for additions to the zoo at Druid Hill Park in Baltimore.

Another $50,000 each has been set aside for improvements at Dewees Playground at Queensberry and Harford.

The 64-year-old widow of Walter Ernest Allen, who died at the age of 50 years, left Children's Court City, where her husband was a probation officer for 25 years.

Her home address was 1000 for a maintenance shop.

Another $50,000 each has been set aside for additions to the zoo at Druid Hill Park in Baltimore.

PARK loan would provide for chairback seats in the upper deck at the stadium, additional seat sections, an escalator to the second deck and improved comfort facilities at a cost of $400,000.

A total of $550,000 is earmarked for the zoo for a new giraffe house, an antelope moat, a hippo house and pheasant runs and utilities for future growth.
