Kappa Cabaret Top Social Event...

By Ida Murphy Smith

The brothers of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity really were swinging at the Armory Saturday night for their annual benefit cabaret.

Sam Adams is polemarch; John Wood, vice-polemarch; Joel Carrington and Joel Newton, co-chairmen of the dance...Bobby Felder of D.C. was on the bandstand.

Spotted these good looking gals...Dot Wood in pretty green brocade...two piece in the new A-line...Robbie Chissell in very pretty pale yellow absolutely plain in the Jackie Kennedy style..Ivy Harris in black lame sheath with jacket...Sarah Newton in gold lame sheath, cut low in front with matching shoes ...Jimmie LaForrest in blue and brown jersey full skirt, tight bodice and boat neckline...

Alice Pinderhughes in black sheath with very low cut back...concealed by a lattice-work ribbons.

Bernice Jackson was stunning in a beige crepe sheath ...overblouse and skirt of sheer black lace embroidered with roses.

• • •

THE PRE-PARTY at the Joel Newton's (Sarah), on Harlem Ave., put the brothers' affair to shame.

It was a 6 p.m. supper affair. Guests came promptly to enjoy cocktails and then partake of a variety of dishes on the buffet tables.

Very pretty and tasty too!

About were: John and Dorothy Wood, Bertha and Allen Forte, Lorraine and Clarence Coleman, Alice and William Pinderhughes, Elizabeth and Thornton Umphery, Marion and George Russell, Ivy and William Harris;

Also, Louise and James Edwards, Helen and Osborne Dixon, Phyllis and Melvin Johnson, Elsie and George Colona, Joel and Vera Carrington, Bettye Phillips, Marie Newton, Franklin Williams.

And from D. C., Rosalie and Bill Miller, Constance and James Carter.

THE Phi Delta Kappas, a Sorority of Professional teachers, gathered for breakfast at the Alcazar, 8 a.m. during the Maryland State Teachers convention.

Mrs. Margaret Anderson, a teacher and former assistant principal of Clinton High School, Tenn. now Director of Guidance made the main address.

Her speech was well worth hearing (our Lula was there and this is her story) especially coming from a top executive at Clinton...long before the trouble and the school was integrated.

The place was terrifically crowded...the hotel slipping up on reservations...forcing members of the sorority to give up their seats for their guests.

My mind was on the speech . . . although as you know the teachers were looking out of this world. Gladys Wallace is basileus...she in a blue sheath number with black accessories.

Dr. Delores Hunt was general chairman and presided... a picture in beige and brown two-piece wool with matching accessories.

At the head table were Dr. Houston Jackson, and Area Directors Romaine Jones, Beatrice Rawlings and Marion Jackson.

The committee in charge were Sorors Leanna Farrell, Alice Ford, Inez Redmond, Rosalie McQuire, Beatrice T. Rawlings, Mary Brooks, Isabelle Manns, and Josephine Lansey.

Mrs. Margaret Anderson told the group that "what must be obtained now are teachers who will teach with their hearts as well as with their heads. America is committed as a Christian nation, to help throughout the world... and it would be well to begin at home."

Mrs. Anderson said that colored children come to the southern schools overburdened in a hundred ways which makes them old beyond their years. The road for these children is three times as hard because at every turn there is an obstacle.

She pointed out that after 300 years of subservience, colored children in integrated schools of the south are striving to do a job that adults cannot handle.

"Colored children must have compensatory opportunity and a program must be evolved that will give them higher horizons." Mrs. Anderson believes that the most imperative needs today are teachers trained in intercultural areas: that teachers should exchange in America...not just overseas; that our children need strong guidance in elementary school.

Mrs. Anderson stressed the fact that teachers need to desegregate themselves and help provide more scholarships with job insurance upon graduation for their pupils.

There is a great need for aid for the average American student...she said that nobody is pushing the average child who makes the great bulk of children in schools.

Mrs. Anderson closed with the hope that school teachers of the south come out of the Civil War period into 1962. She hopes they will be able to say..."these too are our children and we are going to do everything we can to help them today, so that they can help themselves tomorrow."

BOBBY Felder ...a fine crowd...the limbo...all added up to a real boss party Friday night at the Clever Kiquejays Annual Cabaret, at Steel Workers Hall in Dundalk

'Twas for benefit of the R. W. Coleman Assn. for the Handicapped. President Gladys Fulton had everything in hand...she in an embroidered green silk...elbow sleeves...round self bound collar...tiny gathers at the waist.

Treasurer Lois Clark looking good in beige peau-de-soie...the bloused top, beaded and sequinned...Member Melinee Yerrell in black crepe.. the new wide Balmain sleeves going into a bouffant top...slim sheath skirt.

Member Pauline Brooks... in black brocade tunic dress.. the tunic slit at the sides to the waist...2-inch jet spanled heads trimmed the tunic and the half-stole at the neckline...Lillian Bates...very attractive in white brocade sleeveless tunic with square neckline and Elizabeth Dett... black A-line skirted cocktail number.

Other members of this hardworking group...who are on the ball are Dorothy Wyche, secretary; Elizabeth Bartz, Roberta Keets, Eunice Brooks and Harryette Coleman.

• • •

AFTER the Clever Kiquejays' cabaret, cute Rita Keets (she's the daughter of the Iglehart Keets (Roberta—her mother is a member of the club), had a breakfast party.

It was at the attractive Auchentorly Terrace home of the Lee Hurtt's (Peggy). Rita prepared all the dishes —delicacies with all the trimmings.

AUDREY Norris and Lula Patterson entertained the Pierians at Audrey's charming Longwood St. home...

Business meeting was ironing out program for year including the next affair...a showing of antiques. Speaker will be Mrs. Anna Bliss, of Philadelphia, renowned in the field of antiques speaking on "The Joy Of Collecting." Pierians will bring their antiques for showing Nov. 9 at Lydia Mussenden's.

Lydia and Hazel Fleming will be hostesses. Hazel is general program chairman...

The group will participate, YWCA International Tea, Nov. 18th...serving Japanese food.

After business and refreshments, the group was given a demonstration in make-up by Rose Wallace, and Ruth Thaxton. Pearl Cole Brackett, president, presided.

• • •

THE We Wives met with Ada Weaver Tuesday night... Ada delighting the group with her service...a delicious ham served with wine sauce ...her macaroni casserole kept piping hot on brass warmer...her cloth a beautiful white linen with lace inset.

President Adelle Foreman firmed up plans for the apron project for Glen Burnie School for Girls...they plan to make 50 with the aid of some of the teens of Jack and Jill.

About were Lillian Ross, Margaret Armstrong, Iris Mapp, Ivy Grinage, Priscilla Lansey, Ruby Reid, Roberta Keets Gwen Tarter, Josephine Brown Margaret Hythe, Bettye Phillips, Vernice Reynolds, Agnes Reaves, Margery Prout, Mae Dyson and Ida Smith.

IT took Bernadine Harrison just a couple of hours with the help of husband, Miles to get-together club meeting for the Chipperettes last Friday night.

When Bernadine discovered Cita Finney's regular meeting would have to be postponed because of Cita's ill mother, she hesitated just a moment, said, "Come to my house on Wakefield Road."

The menu...fried chicken with all the trimmings including hot rolls...(it would take me a week to get together on all this)...

Of course, sister Anita, Alise Clarke and in-law Juanita Harris were on hand along with club members Louise Robinson, Joan Scott, Berine Gail, Arnetta Lottier, Merita Stokes, Peggy Jones, Frankie Wood, and Dorothy Johnston.

ALPHA Zeta Chapter of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority was well represented at the Atlantic Regional Conference held in Washington...October 19, 20, 21. Included among the members who wended their way to the nation's capital were Audrey Davis and Beatrice Pitts who were delegates. Of course the Basileus, Ruth Cleaver, was there. So were Katherine Johnson, Alice Hall, Lillie A. Ross, Isolene Crowner, Catherine Neal, Elizabeth Demby, Emma Dudley, Carrie Johnson, Mary B. Hurt, Mamie Williams ,Beatrice Hall, Beatrice Mayo, Goldia Ford, Ruth Russell, Hazel Phillips, Mary Graves, Mary Adams.

The chapter was highly honored as it took top honors for its scrapbook, first place for attendance of visiting chapters, and second place for chapter reports. The much coveted office of "Regional Chairman of FINER WOMANHOOD WEEK" went to Basileus Ruth Cleaver. Other regional offices gained by Baltimore were Soror Beatrice Mayo, Regional Secretary; Mary B. Hurt, Regional Chairman of the National Project (Adoptions and Foster Home Care), Katharine Johnson, Associate Director of Maryland; and Lillie A. Ross, Regional Representative to A.C.H.R.

The Adam's Chorale directed by Soror Mary Adams, sang at the Statler Hotel luncheon meeting. Other music, a violin selection, by Soror Beatrice Mayo accompanied by Soror Hazel Phillips. Soror Lillie Ross presented a portrait to grand Basileus Deborah Wolfe. MADAM KELFA CAULKER, wife of the Ambassador of Sierra Leone, Africa was the honored soror and guest speaker at the luncheon, while Grand Basileus Dr. Deborah Wolfe was guest speaker at the banquet which closed the session.

ROBERT and Thelma Pollard of Arunah Ave. entertained at dinner immediately following the Friday session of MSTA.

About were Helen Harris of Georgetown and Baltimore, Mary L. Johnson, Helen R. Shorter, Bernice White and Katie L. Smith.

Coming in later for pinochle were Helen S. Butts, Anne Browne, Ellen Smith, Luther Snipes and Ralph Smith.

Mrs. Iona (Tony) Williams, town school marm and lady-in-waiting, was delightfully surprised a Saturday ago when three of her friends feted her at a baby shower.

Supposedly invited out to a club, she was picked up by Jimmie Bowyer who suggested dropping by Delores Hawkins' Winterbourne Rd. home to see if she would join them.

Of course, the latter and Frances Lucas had garnered a number of Iona's pals who were happily awaiting her arrival in the darkened living room.

Following the initial excitement of her entrance, the honoree and guests "ooohed" and "aaahed" over the beautiful gifts which ranged from diapers and bootees to blankets and hand-made shawls.

Members of the Couples Club a majority of whom are avid Baltimore Colt fans, experienced a mood change from gaity to gloom Sunday as they gathered at the West Arlington residence of the Cliff Mackays for their October meeting.

The gloom was brought on by the 35 to 15 outcome of the Colts' encounter with the Chicago Bears with the Colts on the short end of the score.

The gaiety began with the report of Bill Stanford, chairman of the stock committee, that the club's diversified investments, while not exactly booming, were at least holding their own in an unsettled market.

Following the meeting and the game dinner was served Delphine and Tom Warrington, Mary Elizabeth and Charles Laws, Yvette and James Murphy, Edna and Bill Stanford, Isabel and Roland McConnell, Bea Butler, Adel Forman, Verda Williams, Lonnie Greene and John Rich.

Miss Doughtery married at Morgan

The former Miss Juanita Marie Doughtery, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Doughtery, 719 S. Avondale Rd., was married to Lorenzo Merritt, in a double ring ceremony at the Oblate Sisters Mother Christian Center.

The Rev. Howard Cornish, director of the Center, officiated.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Merritt, 3019 Brighton St.

The bride was given in marriage by Carroll P. Smith, her uncle. Miss Joan Doughtery, her sister, was matron of honor.

The bride was lovely in a long - sleeved, floor length gown of peau de soie, encrusted with pearls and embellished by floral appliques.

Her bridal bouquet was a spray of white roses. Lending an atmosphere of Autumn to the ceremony was the street-length gold draped chiffon with matching shoes worn by the matron of honor, who carried, yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids, Misses Mary Johnson, Sandra Merritt and Lois Chimnery, wore dark green draped chiffon dresses with matching shoes.

The bride is a former president of Turner Station, and attended Sollers Point High School there and Morgan State College.

• • •

ATTENDING the bridegroom, an employee of the Bethlehem Steel Co., was Otis Merritt Jr.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Christian Center. Out of town guests were from New York, Washington, North Carolina and Georgia.

The Autumn theme was further carried out there with a four layer cake decorated with a fountain on the third layer spouting green colored water.

Music was by Maurice Murphy, organist, and Miss Lauretta Dorsey, soloist.

The newlyweds are at home at 4515 Fairfax Rd.

Coeds given grooming tips

The Morgan Music Hall Concerts which open this Sunday at 3 n.m. with the National Symphony has generated interest in fashions among Morgan girls as to what to wear.

Mrs. Shirley Howard, spoke last Thursday on the Morgan campus giving hints and tips for good grooming, pointing up the proper attire for an afternoon concert.

She stressed the importance of simple basic dresses, with very closed with high neck and sleeves, or dressy suits. Simple jewelry, no rhinestones, and avoid the extreme dark stocking with dark clothes.

If wearing tinted hose, make sure it is only slightly tinted and picks up the color of the outfit. Since the fashion trend is away from the tinted hose-

She also stressed very little make - up for afternoon as the extreme heavy make-up is on the way out. For young ladies, she advised against the extreme hairdos because the structure of most people's faces and necks do not make these styles attractive.
