Gadabouting In Baltimore

MissLeannaHoward Dr. Woolridge wed

with Lula Jones Garrett

Dr. Thomas J. Woolridge and Miss Leanna Howard are the newest of town newlyweds.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Howard, Chapel Rd.

Charming in a pale green suit and lush orchids, the bride was attended by her niece and godchild, Miss Leanna Hopkins, of Sandy Springs. The physician had as best man his son, Thomas J., Jr.

The Rev. Kelly Jackson officiated at the ceremoney which took place at four on Sunday afternoon. A reception, with members of the families as guests, followed the ritual. The newlyweds are at home on Forest Park Avenue.

FOR INCONGRUITY (but delightful incongruity) take that fashionable and sophisticated group of town gals who are organized into of all things, a knitting club.

It was in their most sophisticated roles that they performed a few days past when they went for a weekend in New York City.

Eyes turned, as if on pivots, when they dashed through the station in their chic suits and ensembles, their luxurious furs, their name hats. They partied in their hotel, saw "No Strings" went to the "Copa" for a drool session over Nat King Cole, etc.

The group has fun, but also achieves in knitting. You should see the coats, the stoles, the frocks they turn out with their own little pink-pinkies and their own knitting needles.

They include Mary Smally, Hellena Edmonds, Mary Walker, Madeline Pyles, Gwendolyn Seaborne, LaVerne Turner, Essie Banks, Ida Thomas, Annie Johnson and Geraldine Young.

IRMA ROY, a cute trick in brocaded pants, deeply rounded spangled sweater, was a hostess to be admired when she held forth for the Girl Friends on Saturday.

Cocktails in the living room and a buffet in the clubroom were the viand offerings . . . a business meeting with plans for the December Cotillion and talk on plans for attending the executive board sessions in New York this weekend were on the serious side.

And nothing is really needed when that gang gets together to provide a fun side. Just mix and shake and you've a party cocktail.

At the meeting on Saturday were Agnes Patteyson, Eliza Robinson (president), Bernice Chatman, Elizabeth Stewart, Olga Parker, Gwendolyn Lewis, who will be the group's representative at the executive session in NYC; Vera Williams, Frances Vessells, Lula Patterson, Gaynell Spaulding, Catherine Laws, Mae Williams, Georgeanna Chester, Mae Parrott, and Catherine Wilson.

FOLLOWING THE ritual of the burning of the mortgage on Union Memorial Methodist Church, Sunday, the Rev. N. B. Carrington, minister, and Mrs. Carrington were host at dinner to Bishop and Mrs. Edgar Love and the Rev. Kenneth P. Barnes, district superintendent.

THE AGNN'S held forth with Pauline Blackwell, the same day.

They are in the midst of exploring places in which to have their spring party, as well as deciding upon a time.

At the session were Bertha Forte, Alease Clark, Thelma Moore, Theresa Brown, Ruth Carter, Helena Edmonds, Gwendolyn Seaborne, Maxine Higginbotham, Masy Smalley, Annie Johnson, Pauline and Alice Pindeshughes.

PEREGRINATORS: Lillie Ross flew to New England, Friday, to serve as proxy for the mother of Baltimore's talented Hansonia Caldwell.

Hansonia, a brilliant young musician, is in the School of Fine Arts, there. Lillie is her godmother.

Hansonia, a freshman, has already been named accompanist for the college glee club (she's a first), is a member of the Student Government, has been appointed a mentor for next year, is on the Dean's list.

In town, last weekend were the Doug Hendersons of Philadelphia. He (Jocko) was giggly over the re ports that a six-page magazine of his fabulous $120,000 home in Mt. Airy brought about his release with WDAS in Philadelphia and WADO in New York. Says his new post will but surely keep him out of the bread line.

In Baltimore they were guests of John and Dot Woods, who gave a bang-up party for them.

Incidentally, this town's Chuck Richardson, is now with the Voice of America, in Washington.

Imogene King and Janet Chisholm were the feminine followers at the Guardsmen's Brooklyn parties in New York, a week back.

The Cuban situation in no way put a crimp into the plans of Mrs. W. Douglas Johnson of Morgan Park and Mrs. Virginia Morris of Greenspring Valley.

Having planned that cruise of the Caribbean, they sailed on the C. S. Argentina, as per schedule, last week. Will put in at six ports ere returning.

Mr. Johnson, to break the monotony of staying home alone, took off for Harpers Ferry last weekend. And back home, he was dinner guest of Dr. and Mrs. Albert Smith.

Mrs. Marie Woolford was honoree at the dinner party given by co-workers at Garrison Lounge, Saturday. Mrs. Woolford is retiring after 22 years on the staff of a downtown store.

Mrs. Addie Dupree Carter of Dayton, Ohio has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Vivien Thomas of Springfield Avenue. She has been in this area to attend the funeral services of Bishop Frank Madison Reid, in Washington and visiting also, Mr. and Mrs. Chester M. Hampton in this city.

POP-POURRI: The Robert (Maizie) Hayes have a February date with the Stork. She was as cute as a bug in a tunic maternity frock of multi-plaid and under-pinned with a black skirt when she assisted Irma Roy at hosting Girl Friends on Saturday.

And speaking of chic-to-the-eye ladies in Waiting, you should have spied Joan Scott, Sunday, at Woman's Power luncheon. That high-riding deep brown hat, above a taupe wool tunic frock was something to see.

MR. AND MRS. Richard J. Zelma Brown gave their daughter, Linda Maria, a birthday party Sunday at the Y. W. C. A. Linda, three was so excited that she greeted but one guest, her best "girlfriend," Yolonda Sumpter, with a hug and a kiss.

The room was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, pink and white lanterns, streamers touched off with orange pumpkins, arranged by Lucille Venture.

The table, with individual decorations planned and made by Miss Elizabeth Williams, was decked with a two-tiered pink and white birthday cake, edged with yellow rose buds, topped with two love birds.

Linda's red velvet dress trimmed with delicate white lace and pearl buttons, was designed and made by her aunt: Mrs. Nellie Cole.

Games and dancing were led by the honoree's mother, assisted by Dreama Brown, Marsha Jordan, Mary Dirver and Lisa Cole.

Mrs. Willard King, librarian, read a story illustrated with pictures.

Linda's Godmother, Mrs. Reba Braillsford, showed a film.

Helping to entertain the small fry and keep them happy were Mesdames Alyce Anthony, Carolyn Carter, Hattie Gissin, who took motion pictures, Virginia Harris Margaret Driver, Shirley Sumpter, who made snap shots all evening and Godmother Bernice Hunley.

Godfather, Fennel Anthony, was on hand to help Linda welcome her guest who included:

Paula Cole, Keith Pennick, Craig Hudson, Cathy Kitz, Keith Connor Rita and Bonnie Harris, Lynn Hays, Anita and Andrew Turner, Cherly Saunders, Deborah Holland Angela Russell, Billly Perry Jr., Herbert Green, Mack Simpson II Monica Marshall, Phillip Cash.

OTHER SMALL FRY celebrating birthdays included that cutie pie Craig Brown, six-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. George (Eloise) Brown.

Assisting the parents in entertaining were his older brothers, Philip and Rodney. Also present were his godmother, Mrs. Mary Ellis. Others about were Mrs. Evelyn Ward, Mrs. Gerneal Coleman, Mrs. Joan Phillips and Howard Evans.

Craig's guests were Stevie and David Ward, Stephanie and Robbie Phillips, Mark Glaze, Emerson Coleman, Jr., Darryl Shelton, Brian Evans and Joshua and Stephanie Smith.

ON SATURDAY past the 3 and 4 year Jacks and Jills had a pre-Halloween celebration complete with colorful costumes from T. V. cartoon favorites such as Popeye and Deputy Dawg to Witches and Mexican girls.

The party was held in the Sunday School room of Grace Prebysterian Church.

After a film strip showing and game period the children enjoyed a typical Halloween feast; Rebecca Davis was chairman of the October activity.

Enjoying the festivities were the following mothers and children:

Gloria Carpenter and Raymond; Anne Davis and Pennie; Joy Tarter and Donald; Helena Hicks and Lynn; and Anne Fuller and Leda.

WOMAN POWER brought out a snazzy looking group at their early day luncheon in the elvedere Hotel, Sunday.

Eloise Richardson, who drove up from Annapolis in Governor and Mrs. Tawes' party, as usual out-batted the best-hatted. Her big white furry that with a big black bow at front topped a gray knit suit. She added a corsage.

The very charming Mrs. Thomas Patterson of Cherry Hill chose olive green knit frock with an autumn haze mink stole and hat. But what intrigued me was necklace of coffee beans fetched from Jamaica. At the same table was Mrs. Octavia Marshall, who wore one of the new chinelle flowered frocks, in deep autumn tones, and also topped it with a mink hat and wore a matching scarf.

Audrey Norris chose a pale beige wool, tucked in with a her hat was of leopard. And chic Pauline Watts highlighted her soft beige mink-colored dressmaker suit with a brilliant green beret. Willie Valentine had also picked up a pale mink hat to top her

Bernice White was charming in red frock, high riding black hat and white jewelry, and Celonia Walker's white hat was all white palettes.

Mrs. Parlett Moore wore one of the smartest of suits, in gray wool with the new stole collar . . . and Verda Welcome, running for the Senate, not only made the longest speech at the session but got the biggest hand when she finished. Her ensemble, from top to toe, was in deep, deep garnet.

And as if this had not been clothes enough, Victorine Adams, of Charm Center, rolled out a fashion show that put even the best-dressed to gasping.

DATE DATA: FACTS will be holding their monthly seminar on Monday evening at 8:30 in the cafeteria of School No. 60 at Gwynns Falls Parkway and Wabash Avenue.

Speaker will be Mrs. Mary Holmgren, wife of the head of Baltimore Neighborhood, Inc. In her own right she is patient admission director of the National Jewish Hospital, a non-sectarian Institute which provides free services of indigent persons who need chest or heart treatment.

Incidently the FACTS group won an A-A rating for services during the oral polio vaccine drive, and will be back on the 15, 16 and 17th for another stint in this area.

Louise Robinson is program director of FACTS. Jimmy LaForest is membership chairman, and under the new ruling, the group is open to anyone who wishes to participate. The session on Monday is also open to the public.

Also coming up another of those gay parties by the Maxtinques . . . this a costume affair on Friday at Dundalk Hall.

The Philomathians meet on Saturday with Mrs. Ruth Mc Abee.

That evening (Saturday) the Whooziis will dance at Union Hall and the same evening Femmes Confidentials will hold forth at Union Steel Workers Hall.

Says widow's might is no longer enough

By LULA JONES GARRETT

Making the summary at the close of this year's luncheon of Woman Power, Sunday, Dr. G. James Fleming told the group that women of the organization are living up to great traditions.

"What Woman Power is doing," said Dr. Fleming, is in the good old American tradition. A 100 years ago hospitals were being established by women. Today, homes for needy and for delinquent girls, while they may now have been taken over by the states, were inaugurated by women.

"There is not the need to sit waiting for God or the Man in the White House to meet all needs . . . but even running scared, you must get out and get what you want" he told the group.

Dr. Fleming also admonished the women to stop giving the "widow's mite" but to step up their giving.

WOMAN POWER, deep in the drive to assure the passing of legislation to provide funds for a New Provident Hospital building fund, had been hosts to present candidates ranging from Governor J. Millard Tawes to the scores of candidates running for other offices.

Politicians present pledged their support to efforts to secure the new hospital which is to be located in the western section of the city.

THE LUNCHEON CONFERENCE was presided over by Mrs. Victorine Adams, president of Woman Power, Mrs. Elinor Burton gave the invocation and the group was welcomed by Mrs. Verna Gosnell.

Dr. Saul Perdue and Morton Macht of the hospital board, and Dr. H. Garland Chissell were also among those welcoming the group. Miss Pauline Blanchard offered the grace.

SPECIAL GUESTS of the organization were members of the Century Club, who have completed the $120 pledges made in last year's drive for funds by Woman Power.

The Century Club membersware introduced by Dr. Delores Hunt.

THE CONFERENCE was arranged by a committee which included Mesdames Lydia Mussenden, Yvette Murphy, Audrey Noris, Verna Gosnell and Ethel Rich, director of Woman Power.

They included:

Mesdames Maurice Adams, Victorine Adams, Martha Allen, Mable Alleyne, Gilbert Banfield, Gwendolyn Baldin, Helen Birt, Emory Boddie.

Mesdames Lavinia Brown, Rebecca Brown, Olga Chambers, Bobbie Chassell, Elizabeth Crutchp, Mabel Fraizer, Verna Gosnell, Catherine Greene, Sophie Greene, Mesdames Eunice Green, Hayshert, Alice Hazzard, Hilda Higgins, Delores Hunt, Aberdeen Jackson, Mesdames Ruth Johnson, Lillian Jones, J ncyLee, b-nnie m-Elizabeth Jones, Jana Ladewski, Sarah Lightfoot, Muriel Marshall, Alice Matthews, Chrystal Matthews.

Mesdames Jean Montgomery, Alice Murphy, Yvette Murphy, Lidia W. Mussenden, Barbara Owings, Mary Hughes Proctor, Ethel Raines, Mary Reid, Ethel Rich, Mesdames George Russell Jr., Joan W. Scott, Betty M. Shelton, Elizabeth Stewart, Gertrude Venable, Emerson Walden, Theresa Waters.

Mesdames Florsita Jones, Pattie Holloway, Alice Ford, Willie Mae Stanley, Regina Henry; and Misses Beulah David Josephine Lassey.

Dr. Larkins elected by N.C. Family Council

RALEIGH, NC. — Dr. John R. Larkins, consultant, North Carolina State Board of Public Welfare, has been elected first vice - president of the North Carolina Council on Family Life, at the annual meeting held at the Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, Oct. 21-23.

The Council is an interracial State - wide organization, attempting to bring together family - minded organizations and individuals to exchange ideas and concerns. It provides an opportunity for all organizations and individuals to consultation and cooperation with families and a means for developing State-wide plans and action on the goals, needs, and problems of the family.

THE MEMBERSHIP of the Council is composed of State, and local health, religious, civic, fraternal, and welfare organizations and individuals interested in fmily life.

Miss Cross makes radiant bride

WASHINGTON

Rev. Emmett Starks of the Mt. Moriah Baptist Church officiated at the impressive double - ring ceremony of Carrolyn Cynthia Cross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Cross, Sr., to Lorenzo Adams Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Williams on Oct. 20.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, Mr. Cross Sr., the bride was a radiant picture in a white floor length gown of rayon peau de soie and Chantilly lace with a fitted bodice that fell gently into a bell shaped skirt. Her detachable cape-type chapel train sat delicately atop her golf with a crown of pearls.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Shirley C. Lee, sister of the bride. She wore a gold satin gown with matching shoes and carried a cascading nosegay.

The bridesmaids were: Marilyn Bowie, Helen Henderson, Vilma Bowie, Mrs. Gloria Smith, Mrs. Bettie Spencer and Mrs. Rosena Gainous. They wore gowns of silk organza in green, pink, blue, lavender, beige and tangerine and carried matching nosegays.

The flower girls were: Misses Arlene Cross and Linda Hayes. They wore white dresses with pink and blue cumberbands respectively.

THE BEST MAN was Robert E. Lee, and the ushers were Joseph Dupars, Aaron Kelly, Frank GGeer, Herson Smith, Lawrence Jamison, and Leo Robinson.

The ring bearer was Andre Henderson.

At the wedding brunch held at the bride's home, Mrs. Cross a native of D.C. looked lovely wearing a Paris pink chiffon gown. Following the buffet, the couple left for a Niagara Falls honeymoon in Canada.

Some of the guests at the reception were Earle W. Gilkey the bride's boss with the D.C. Parole Board; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Zimmerman, pfc. David E. Gross, Jr. of Ft. Sill, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Brown both from Maryland, and others.

MRS. ROSE WALLACE and her distributors will present their Polynesian Gift line from the Mainline Touch and Health, at Wilson's Restaurant, North and Penna. Aves., on Sunday, Nov. 4th, from 4 to 9 p.m. There will be refreshments, entertainment and door prizes. Admission is free.—(Adv.)

Gibbs coed on YWCA tri-state committee

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Ann Williams, sophomore from Fort Myers, was selected to serve on the planning committee of the Alabama - Georgia - Florida YWCA oranization. Miss Williams was selected last week when she and four others from Gibbs JC attended a YWCA retreat on Camp Weed-on-the-Gulf.

The interracial meeting had delegates from Tuskegee and the University of Alabama, Berry, Wesleyan, Lagrange, and Spelman Colleges in Georgia. Gibbs was the lone Florida school there and had 5 of the 30 delegates.

New D.C. Drifters celebrate 2 days

The members of the New York City Chapter of Drifters, Inc. directed the installation procedures of the New D.C. Chapter last weekend. They were entertained at an informal cocktail sip on Fri., Oct. 27, after their arrival in Washington, D.C., at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Jesse Keene. Mrs. Earlene Keene is one of the new members.

The installation and brunch were held in the home of the parents of Mrs. Mary Brownlee, Mr. and Mrs. Elbe Bettis. Miss Erlene Collins, the National President of the Drifters, Inc. presided over the impressive rites. She was assisted by Mrs. Lucile Cliette, National Secretary; Mrs. Perl Harper, President of the New York City Chapter. Mrs. Shirlee Roussrau; Miss Lona Fluker; Mrs. Evelyn Parker; Mrs. Laura Prescott; Mrs. Lucille Willard, and Mrs. Dorothy Gordan.

The presentations made at the installation ceremony were to Mrs. Florence Pendleton, Sec.; Mrs. Lula Sanderlin, Treas.; Mrs. Mary Brownlee, Parliamentarian; Mrs. Ruth Baptiste; Mrs. Marjorie Brookes; Mrs. Dolores Duke; Mrs. Betty Johnson; Miss Audrey Jones Mrs. Earlene Keene; Mrs. Joyce Keys; Mrs. Ethel Lee; and Mrs. Lucille Miller.

Special presentations were made to Mrs. Anna Coles, President of Washington D.C. Drifters, Inc. and to Miss Lois J. Baird, Vice President and Founder of the Washington, D.C. Drifters, Inc.

THE INSTALLATION dance, which was held in the Cameo Room of the Presidential Arms, was the final event of the weekend.

The national colors of the Drifters, Inc. were presented thrugh the tab eldecorations and the gowns worn by the members of the D.C. Chapter. The centerpiece for each table consisted of coral gladioli, sliver magnilia leaves, and laurel.

The New York Drifters, in their long white gowns along with the D.C. Drifters, in coral and silver grey, were breathtaking as they formed a semi-circle during their introduction at intermission.
