the Senior Choir from the Salem Methodist Church, in New York City.

Known as the "Home of Fine Choirs", Salem is justifiably proud of the Youth and Senior Choirs, both of whom have made outstanding appearances along the Eastern Seaboard.

CRITICS HAVE gone all out in lavishing praise on the two groups, which contain some of the finest voices in the New York area.

A distinguished local choir, the Town Choir, had originally been scheduled to appear on the program with the choirs from Salem.

However, because of circumstances beyond the control of the group and its director, William H. Wright, the choir has regretably been forced to cancel its scheduled appearance.

"I would like to urge all our friends and supporters to attend the Festival and avail themselves of the opportunity to hear two outstanding choirs."

TO REPLACE the Town Choir, the Festival has been fortunate in obtaining the services of the talented baritone, Kenneth E. Lockett, who has appeared in Europe and throughout the United States.

He is a former member of the Fisk Jubilee Singers and the Fisk University Choir.

He has given a number of recitals and is currently active with the Etue Octetta, the Great Hymns Choir and is director of the Youth Choir at the Caroline St. Methodist Church.

Mr. Lockett will appear as guest soloist.

TICKETS FOR the Festival are now on sale at the AFRO office, 628 N. Eutaw St., from 8:30 to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. The office will also be open for tickets from 8:30 until 1 p.m. on Saturday.

In addition tickets are also on sale at a number of locations throughout the city.

They are priced at $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children.

A number of groups and organizations have contracted to purchase blocks of tickets, at a reduced rate, and any other group or organization desiring to do the same thing may call the AFRO City Desk at Mulberry 5-0015.

Mrs. Santa extends an invitation to all her friends to attend the Festival and help a family in need.

that these disgraceful practices of Jim Crow and discrimination exist, Mr. Meany seeks to intimidate the people who put the spotlight on them," the former Brooklyn Dodger star told nearly 500 guests.

He said Mr. Meany takes the attitude that "there isn't too much dirt but that labor will withdraw its support from the NAACP unless the campaign for integration and integrity in the labor movement isn't hushed up."

The AFL - CIO President and will not blackmail the NAACP and the colored people." Mr. Robinson said.

Civil rights organizations and social action groups which haven't protested in writing to Mr. Meany should do so at once, he urged.

MR. ROBINSON departed from his prepared speech several times to make comments on union integration and other matters.

He said that young people should be included in whatever decision is made on the future of the Annual City Championship Game, which became the scene of violence and disorder on Thanksgiving in the D.C. Stadium.

He told guests they saw and heard the reason why youth should be a part of decision - making in the appearance of Jeffery Radowich, senior at Archbishop Carroll High School, who brought a "message from youth" on the challenges facing America and its relations with other peoples in the world.

Mr. Robinson said that progress for colored Americans "hasn't been at a pace that the colored citizen or the nation should be satisfied with."

HE SAID some persons, mostly whites, still tell him he should be quiet about civil rights, the problems of colored Americans in Mississippi and other parts of the South.

"No colored person has it made in the country until the most unprotected in Mississippi has it made," Mr. Robinson said.

On local issues, he criticized the D.C. welfare program, deploring "the man in the house" rule, which forbids aid to children if an able-bodied man is around, job or no job.

He said that this rule encourages jobless fathers to leave their families so their children can get public assistance.

J. C. TURNER, president of Greater Washington Central Labor Council, received an award for his contributions to equal opportunity and human relations in the Washington area.

Mrs. Turner accepted the award for her husband who was called out of town on business.

Commissioner Walter N. Tobriner presented the Equal Opportunity Day Proclamation honoring the anniversary of the Gettysburg Address.

Charles A. Horsky, Presidential advisor on National Capital Affairs, brought a message from President Kennedy on the occasion.

James E. Allen, chairman of the EOD Committee, read a message from Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Invocation was offered by the Rev. Dr. George M. Docherty, minister of New York Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Equal Opportunity Day is sponsored annually by the Washington Urban League and several other organizations in the national capital area.

carck in the case of "Baby X."

THE CHILD'S body was found by four teenagers last Saturday while they were romping through the forest-like woods en route to an apple tree on an abandoned farm near the B.O. Railroad tracks, police said.

Dr. Howard Shaub of the Medical Examiners office estimates that the little boy had been in the woods for a month and dead possibly three days before.

The condition of the 30 inch, 17-pound body when it was found makes accurate estimates difficult, so police and medical authorities say "Baby X" could have been dead for six weeks.

Cause of death has not been determined.

Telltale footprints and recognizable photos are all impossible.

But police are still hanging on to the faint hope that enough traces of the child's features are left to produce a reasonable image of the once apparently healthy boy.

THEY FBI has been asked to attempt footprints and a police artist, using a picture of the child's distorted face, has drawn a composite picture.

It is hoped that this image will shake the memory of somebody, somewhere, who'll recall seeing the child, but has missed seeing him during the past six weeks.

Meanwhile, police are sifting birth records at city hospitals in an effort to learn the identity of "Baby X."

This is a tedious and slow job, police said, because the parents of every child born at the estimated time of the dead child, must be checked individually.

INVESTIGATORS SAID Thursday they have covered Mt. Winans and Cherry Hill during the week-long probe, but to no avail.

Ross, Silver Spring.

THE REV. Clarence M. Burton Jr. of Washington said the ministerial group will seek signatures for petitions to present to Gov. Tawes in asking that the death sentence be commuted to life for the trio.

The Rev. Mr. Burton, secretary of the group, said representatives will meet Tuesday in Montgomery County with members of the Defense Committee.

He stated that the case was taken to church groups and human relations in other parts of the country.

The Rev. Walter E. Fauntroy, pastor of New Bethel Baptist, made an appeal to the Richmond (Va.) Ministers Conference at a Monday meeting in Richmond.

Bishop Kelsey took the matter before a church group in Missouri.

MEANWHILE, Mrs. Ross issued a statement following the recent conviction of Joseph Johnson, who was tried separately from the brothers who were convicted earlier.

"These sentences are disquieting to those who cherish equality and mercy in the administration of justice," she said.

"The State of Maryland must not commit the crime of executing these young men. The Giles-Johnson Defense Committee urges the people of Maryland to petition the governor to commute these savage sentences..." Mrs. Ross said that "testimony of the state's chief witness, the girl's escort, conflicts with the account given by him to a friend the day after the episode."

The girl charged that she was raped while she and her escort were out one night in a parked car near the Patuxent River in the vicinity of Spencerville, the hometown of the condemned trio.

COLORED AND white residents of the county established the original Defense Committee, which includes several white ministers.

The national drive to save the trio has the support of the Rev. William E. Bishop, president of the Washington Methodist Ministers Union, and other clergymen in the District.

D.C. hospitals set to probe jim crow

WASHINGTON (NNPA). — Sterling Tucker, executive director of the Washington Urban League, said Friday that eight District hospitals are studying to insure more privileges for colored doctors in private hospitals.

"But we havn't given up, said one officer who said he has checked more than 97 cases alone.

"We will check every hospital and every section of the city until we come up with something, he declared.

They have received numerous calls since the story of "Baby X" appeared in the AFRO Tuesday but none brought solid leads, he said.

However, anyone having information they think would be useful in the investigation is urged to contact Southwestern police. Identity of all callers will be in confidence.

POLICE SAID the only tangible evidence recovered at the scene was a conventional unmarked shopping bag.

This has been sent to the laboratory for examination for clues, they reported.

Investigators theorize that the little boy was taken to the woods in the bag and dumped by someone who wanted to conceal the circumstances of his death.

They also think the child was put there by someone who knows the area, which is at the end of a dead end street and is not frequently traveled, police pointed out.

The teenagers only ran across the gruesome find, investigators said, because they veered off the "faint" trail which once led to the farm.

ATTORNEY GENERAL Robert F. Kennedy has been named as the 1962 recipient of the George H. Richardson Trophy awarded annually by the D.C. Federation of Civic Associations. "His reply indicated that there would be absolutely no difficulties encountered in any of these activities.

"I ALSO asked Dr. Hall what would happen if one of our colored boys, or one of their relatives, were injured and required hospitalization. Would they be treated at a first - class city hospital without hesitance, I wanted to know.

"He told me that Miami, largest city hospital is operated on a non - segregated basis," Dr. Brain explained.

Urges Kenya governor not to unpack luggage

NAIROBI (NNPA) — On the eve of the departure of one British Governor and the arrival of another, Tom Mboya, secretary general of the Kenya African National Union, said here Tuesday:

"This country does not want Colonial governors. Let Mr. McDonald (replacement for outgoing Sir Patrick Renison) not unpack his luggage, for his stay will be short."

MALAYA ECONOMY

KUALA LUMPUR — (NNPA) — With an estimated annual per capita income of $275, the economy of the Federation of Malaya possesses one of the highest levels of living in Asia, according to the official government year book.

"My other question pertained to the disposition of receipts from the game. I asked whether monies involved in the promotion are distributed on a segregated or non - segregated basis.

"His answer," declared Dr. Brain, was that one of the schools to benefit is Miami Jackson High, which is integrated.

Couple seeks brother for adopted German boy

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — (ANP) — Sgt. and Mrs. Harvey A. Collins announced during a visit here last week that they were seeking to adopt a brother for a white German baby they adopted in Germany in 1960.

Sgt. Collins, a pole lineman in the Signal Corps, said he and his wife encountered no housing problems in Germany with their white adopted daughter, Augusta Antoinette, now 3, because they lived in government housing. They were not sure, however, what the situation will be at Ford Hood, Tex., where Sgt. Collins is being transferred.

They also said they anticipate no serious problems finding another child. "People should be broadminded about the situation," he said.

Sgt. Collins, a native of Kendleton, Tex., and his wife were childless in 1959 when they went to Germany. They saw Augusta in a "kinder home" in Landsthul

Dr. Reddick sees new hope after N.Y. meeting

Dr. L. D. Reddick of Coppin State Teachers College, declared that the past weekend is conference in New York was the most important gathering in recent years of colored Americans on the subject of Africa.

Dr. Reddick met with some 70 odd others in hammering out a policy on the relations of America's colored citizens and Africans.

The conference, held at Arden House on the palatial Harriman estate, was sharply critical of the practices of the U.S. Government and the big philanthropic foundations.

Colored organizations and institutions were called upon to by-pass the roadblocks and establish direct relations with the peoples and leaders of Africa.

The free flow of information, by means of speakers, visitors, films, newspapers that is now planned, should mark a turning point in AFRO-AMERICAN relations, Dr. Reddick said.

Student jobs offered by U.S. government

The Federal Government's student trainee examination, gateway to work-study-training opportunities in 16 occupations mainly in science and engineering fields, has been reopened by the Civil Service Commission, with the first of six test dates set for Jan. 26 for those who apply by Jan. 10.

The student trainee program aims to recruit college students and well - qualified high school seniors for training opportunities to be offered by Federal agencies throughout the country.

Most of the opportunities are in physical sciences, engineering, and agricultural sciences.

Competition for the student-trainee jobs has been very keen—in harmony with Government's stepped - up "quest for quality."

Of the 16,000 who passed the examination last year, only 2,000 were selected for the program.

ALTHOUGH work - study programs vary among agencies, there are three basic ways to participate:

Students may attend school full time during the regular academic year and work during the school vacation, may alternate periods of school attendance and employment, or may be employed part time while attending school.

The program enables students to work in their fields under the guidance of experienced and capable professional employees.

It also gives trainees an opportunity to observe and participate in an agency's work and decide whether they later would like to join it for a career.

The written examination is required for all grades and occupational options under the program. In addition to the Jan. 26 test, other tests will be held on March 30, April 27, July 20, Aug. 3, and Nov. 30 for those who apply after January 10.

Student trainees are paid salaries at the rate of from $3,560 to $4,110 a year, according to the level of their scholastic training. They are paid only during periods of actual employment.

After graduation, trainees may be appointed to full-time professional, technical, and other positions at grade GS-5 ($4,565 a year).

However, those with outstanding academic records or those with at least a year's experience under the program may receive GS-7 ($5,540).

Additional information and the application card, Form 5000-AB, are available from college placement offices, post offices, boards of civil-service examiners at many Federal installations, civil-service regional offices, or the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D.C.

Home bombed

BAYTOWN, Mo. — A fire bomb hurled from a speeding car did little damage to the newly occupied residence of Andrew Carter, president and general manager of the Kansas City radio station.

Carter recently purchased the 31-acre estate in a previously all-white section of this suburban community.

The bomb did little damage, just scorching the paint on the house. No occupants of the residence were injured.
