Linwood Koger makes eggnog that really is an 'Egg nog'

By LULA JONES GARRETT

Baltimore — Former Magistrate Linwood G. Koger makes an eggnog that, as he emphasizes, is an eggnog and not a milknog.

And since that time of the year is here when what is needed most is a good recipe in the Christmas spirit, Mr. Koger was the person I sought out, this week.

POINTING OUT the fact that for four quarts of nog, he uses an even dozen eggs, you will understand his emphasis.

The ingredients in this potent holiday drink as prepared by Mr. Koger include, besides the eggs, a fifth of good bourbon, a pound of sugar, a pint of heavy cream and top from three quarts of milk.

• • •

HIS DIRECTIONS are to separate the eggs, setting the whites aside.

Beat the yolks and then begin to add the sugar, stirring very rapidly. Now you begin to add the bourbon, dripping the liquor in very, very slowly and stirring very, very rapidly.

The slow addition of the liquor cooks the egg-sugar mixture and produces the most delectable golden color imaginable says Mr. Koger.

Now add the cream, still stirring rapidly. Add the top milk from the three quarts, and test for sweetness. Add more sugar if desired.

The egg whites, beaten until completely dry are the last to be added. There will be no fuzz on top when the whites are thoroughly blended into the mixture.

This is a recipe, says Mr. Koger, that came from his family in North Carolina, and which he has constantly improved upon.

• • •

MR. KOGER, who served as a police magistrate here, for four years, has retired. He will also retire from the practice of law when he has wound up four cases remaining in his files. He plans to do some of the traveling he has been looking forward to.

The attorney has had an interesting and widely varied life. He served as an officer in World War I, and organized the first of the posts, The Walter Green Post, after coming out of the service.

HE ALSO ORGANIZED the first graduate chapter as well as the first undergraduate chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity in this city, and served as achievement director for the fraternity for many years. In this capacity he established chapters throughout the country.

Mr. Koger also served as alumni secretary for Howard University, where he received the most of his education. He helped organize the Baltimore branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and headed the branch for many years.

He is a former trustee of Union Baptist Church, served on the Salvation Army Board, the Citizens Planning and Housing Committee and the Interracial Commission.

McMahon babies christened

WASHINGTON

Babies Sidney Winstone McMahon and Garret Douglas McMahon, son and daughter of A1/c and Mrs. Sidney W. McMahon were christened at the Simms Memorial Methodist Church by Rev. Richard Hale on Sunday, Dec. 9.

Their father, a resident of Houston, Texas is now stationed at Andrews Air Force Base. Their mother, Bobbie is a native of D.C. and a former student of Morgan State College.

Present at the ceremony were the god-parents; Mr. and Mrs. Womack Coleman, Miss Jacqueline Robinson, Mrs. Gladys Moody, and Mrs. Edith Thompson.

Other guests were Rev. and Mrs. Joseph E. Lee, the grandparents; from Valley Lee, Maryland; Mrs. Catherine Pinkney, Mr. and Mrs. William Monroe and various members of the Simms Memorial Methodist Church.

NCNW cancels confab; May instead

The national convention of the NCNW will be postponed until the week of May 12, 1963 — the day that the founder and first president, Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune died in 1955.

Rather than the convention that was planned, the board of directors will meet Dec. 29 through Jan. 1 at the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

At this time, the directors will complete details for their convention, the highlights of which will be the unveiling of the "Ma" Bethune statue in Lincoln Park of this city and the official opening of the 41-unit apartment building — Bethune House — in Southeast Washington.

This convention is an official part of the President's program for the Centennial Emancipation Proclamation year.

Robert Dowling, cultural director for New York City, has accepted the honorary chairmanship for the NCNW program for 1963.

ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

Miss Wyseola Fannil Morselle, the charming daughter of Lowdnes Morselle of Annapolis, and the late Mrs. Josepha Morselle, former teacher in the public schools of Anne Arundel County, will march to the altar tomorrow (Saturday) to become the bride of Frederick O. Jordan.

A reception for the couple will be held from five to seven o'clock in Washington. The wedding details will appear in this column next week.

• • •

MISS MORSELLE, a Bates High School graduate, is also a graduate of Central State University at Xenia, Ohio.

The annual meeting of the Anne Arundel County Mental Health Association was held at Annapolis at the First Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening. Before the program was presented, a coffee hour was held at which time Mrs. Walter Gray and Mrs. William H. Richardson were among hostesses with Mrs. Richardson pouring.

• • •

DR. FRANK P. RAFFERTY, director of Child Psychology at the University of Maryland and the Emotionally Disturbed Children's Center at Crownsville State Hospital, was the guest speaker. He was introduced by Mrs. Gwendolyn Lee, chief of the psychiatric social workers at Crownsville.

Dr. Rafferty centered his talk around a panel discussion theme, "Mental Illness, Destroyer of Human Talent." Panelists were Mrs. Esther Holahan, director, County Welfare Board; Mrs. James R. Cutting, president, United Church Women, Southern Anne Arundel County;

Also the Rev. William H. Hudnutt III, association president and minister of the First Presbyterian Church; Thomas W. Albert, director, Juvenile Probation Department; Miss Mary Moss, supervisor of pupil personnel for county schools, and the Rev. James F. Madison, president, County Council of Community Services and rector of St. Anne's Episcopal Church.

Amongst members of the board of directors of the association are Joseph Walker, Mrs. William H. Richardson, Dr. Aris T. Allen and Dr. J. Alexander Wiseman.

• • •

THE ASSOCIATION has in its plans for the near future, the setting up and directing of day clinics for the mentally ill in the county to prevent and lower the mental hospital population. It will also open offices in the very near future and serve as an information bureau for the public.

It will also set up a program to help patients in after care when they have been released from the hospital.

Through a typographical error, the name of Mrs. Marian Phelps, president, and the name of her organization were left out of an article discussing activities of the Woman's Auxiliary of Crownsville State Hospital, which appeared in last Friday's edition of this paper.

Also a statement in the article pertaining to the shower given by the schools of Anne Arundel County for the nearly-new shop of the auxiliary listed Mr. Smith as vice-principal of the Freetown School. This should have read that Johnnie Mae Mitchell is vice-principal of the Freetown School.

Also, the column should have read that Mrs. Madeline Cooper Burton of Wilmington, Del., who attended the Harvest Moon Ball of Rho Chapter, is the sister of Mrs. Mary Cooper Baden, a teacher in the public schools of Annapolis. We apologize for these errors.

THE JUNIOR Red Cross Club of Bates High School is doing a terrific job in carrying out its program during the school year.

When the homecoming of Bates was held, this group participated by having one of the most outstanding floats in the homecoming parade, and advertised its work with the slogan "Developing Citizenship through Service."

Seen on the float were Joyce Brown, Mabel Matthews, Margaret Hamilton, Rosie Jones, Barbara Turnipseed, Carolyn Dennis, president of the club, and Edwina Bullock, the young daughter of the teacher-sponsor, Mrs. Marian Bullock.

When the first meeting of Junior Red Cross Council for Anne Arundel County was held, a number of pupils from our schools attended. The meetings are held the first Tuesday in every month at 3 p.m. at the Annapolis School. Mrs. William H. Richardson is chairman for all schools in the Southern end of the county.

Ice capades chalks up record gross

Baltimore Ice Sports, Inc., has presented a $55,725.89 check to the Civic Center Commission, representing the rental charge for the highly successful Ice Capades run in Baltimore.

In making the presentation to Civic Center officials, Robert C. Embry, president of Baltimore Ice Sports, declared: "The 13-day stand by the Ice Capades in the Civic Center attracted a record Baltimore attendance for an indoor show running for more than a week."

PURNELL ELECTED

Major General William C. Purnel, ret., has been elected chairman of the Baltimore Regional Chapter, American Red Cross, succeeding Charles P. Crane, who completed a three-year tenure.

Schools plan singing, plays for Christmas

Christmas will be observed in Baltimore schools during the final week of school, with plays, choral singing, parties, and helping needy families in the community.

Already presented has been the "Messiah," by Douglass High School with a cast of 138 persons.

Dunbar High School has scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 18, 4 p.m., "Amahal and the Night Visitors," which features several choirs, the modern dance group and the band.

The Dramatic Club of Gwynns Fall Park Junior

Yet to come is "Merry Christmas Daddykin," the story of a Madison Ave. executive wro goes away attempting to shape a good-will image of himself for political gain, presented by the Poly Dramatic Players, Dec. 21, 9 a.m., in the auditorium.

High School will stage "Pop Reads the Christmas Carol," Dec. 18 and 20, at the school.

• • •

OTHER school Christmas programs are:

Baltimore City College presents the annual Christmas Concert at Mondawmin Mall, Dec. 17, 7 p.m.

Carver High presents a Christmas Play in the auditorium Dec. 21, 1 p.m., and will pass out food baskets to needy families in the community.

Clifton Park Junior High plans a music program and pageant Dec. 21, 9 a.m.

Houston Junior High presents "We Remember Christmas" featuring the choral group, and dramatic club in the school auditorium, Dec. 21, 9 p.m.

Eastern High senior class, choral and instrument groups will present Christmas Music, Dec. 21, 9 a.m., in the auditorium.

Booker T. Washington Junior High presents "The Littlest Angels" with music by the band, singing by girls chorus and choir, Dec. 21, 9 a.m.

Junior High No. 131, will feature a playlet "While Flocks by Night," followed Shepherds Watched Their by poems, music and a party, Dec. 19, 1:30 p.m.

• • •

MOSHER Elementary kindergarten presents a "Christmas Nursery Rhyme Fantasy," grade level singing, and parties, Dec. 21, 9 a.m.

Bentalou Elementary kindergarten in "The Nutcracker Suite," the 6th grade stages "The Star Went Before Them," and the student council will collect canned canned goods for distributing to needy families.

Franklin Square Elementary 4-5 and 6th grades present "The Nutcracker Suite," Dec. 18 and 21, 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. respectively.

Southern High will have a complete musical program entitled "Christmas Festival" Dec. 21 9 a.m. and Dec. 23 4 p.m.
