GOP elects

At its most recent meeting, the First District Republican Women's Club of Baltimore County unanimously elected officers for the coming year.

Mrs. Robert L. Kaufman succeeds Mrs. George Dabney as president. Her fellow officers are Miss Luttrell, vice president; Mrs. Warren Strader, recording secretary; Mrs. R. L. Snuggs, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Theodore R. Weber, treasurer.

Health picture

Reports of communicable diseases in Maryland for 1962, although not complete, show no great divergence from recent previous years, according to Dr. John H. Janney, Chief of the Division of Epidemiology, State Health Department.

There were no outbreaks which involved the whole Sjate.

Despite the prediction of a high incidence of Type B influenza for last year, in only one county did the disease reach epidemic proportions.

No cases of Asian flu, which has been predicted in epidemic form for the current winter season, have been reported to date.

Meeting set

Andrew Newton, regional director of the Washington Region of the Post Office, will be the guest speaker at the Sunday meeting of the local branch of the National Alliance of Postal Employees.

The meeting will be held at 4 p.m. at 1200 Mondawmin Concourse.

Gadabouting in Baltimore

Miss Nancy Harris, Paul Edwards wed

With Lula Jones Garrett

Miss Nancy Harris, daughter of Mrs. Ophelia Harvey, and foster-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Costello, became the bride of Paul Edwards Jr., Sunday.

The ceremony took place in the Simmons Memorial Baptist Church, with the Rev. William King officiating. Soloist was Miss Lula Toogood.

Given in marriage by Mr. Costello, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of silk brocade. Her veil of illusion, held by a tiara of seed pearls graduated from the front to the waistline at back; her jewels consisted of pearl earrings and a strand of pearls and she carried a cascade of white carnations.

Miss Gloria Bridges, maid of honor, wore a gown of blue lace and brocade and carried gold mums, tied with gold ribbons.

Bridesmaids wore gowned in pink, and carried nosegays of vari-colored mums. They were Misses Rosetta Marck and Dorothy Jessup.

Paul Snead Jr., was best man for Mr. Edwards. Ushers were Philip Edwards and Robert Avery.

A reception followed the ceremony. The reception was held in the Pythian Castle, from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m., and attended by 150 guests. Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Costello entertained the wedding party and 75 guests at a full-course dinner in their home on Belmont Avenue.

For the wedding, reception and dinner. Mrs. Costello chose a gown of blue lace, with matching accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Mrs. Harvey was gowned in tangerine chiffon. Her corsage was of red roses.

MRS. VIVIAN COOK, though absent, was still the focal soror at the luncheon on Saturday, when Alpha Kappa Alpha sorors celebarted Founder's Day at the Sheraton-Baltimore Inn.

Soror Cook, a founder of Epsilon Omega chapter, is confined to the Johns Hopkins Hospital, recovering from an attack of arthritis... but sent a lengthy telegram of greeting to the group.

The sorors in turn, recorded the entire proceedings, which included a special tribute to her by Edith Gordon and an original poem to her by Nellie Moore.

Dr. Dorothy Ferebee of Washington was guest speaker. She talked, principally, on the need for a new and over-all look at the program of the organization.

Nancy L. Arne r, who was chairman of the Founder's Day program presided, and other participants included Jean Owens, who brought greetings; Rebecca Davis, who gave the history of the chapter; Bernice Hunt ley, who made the presentations; and Edna Campbell, who presided at the rededication ceremony.

Tribute (along with long-stemmed red roses) went to sorors who have been members of the sorority for 30 or more years. These included Lilla Barnum, Margaret Buck, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Cook, Mabel Frisby, Rose Hampton, Mrs. Moore, Agnes Patterson, Beatrice Reesby, Marion Reid, Verniece Reynolds, Sara Sampson, Delaphine Warrington and Elizabeth White.

All were present with the exception of Mesdames Barnum, Cook, Reynolds and White.

Tribute was also paid to past national officers, who included Mesdames Campbell, who has served in posts through supreme basileus; Emma Bright and Lillian Murphy, regional directors; Laura Jones, Mabel Frisby, Lilla Barnum and Mrs. Cook. Along with the glowing words they were pinned with lovely corsages.

Edith Gordon was co-chairman of the beautiful affair. And on the committee were Rosaline Allen, Agnese Brown, Dr. Theresa Brown, Margaret Buck, Constantia Jackson, Doris Levi, Appye Morse, Blanche McDonald, Jean Owens, Elizabeth Nalle, Grace Scott, Rubye Walker and Elizabeth Williams.

The musical background was by Jean Turpin. The art work was by Mary B. Adams, who, floored by the virus, came for the time required to arrange the banners, etc., went back home and to bed.

Representing the Annapolis chapter were Beulah Diggs, Berneice Gibbs, Edwin Burke and Emily Buford.

Town sorors there were:

Appye Morse, Rosalind Allen, Theresa K. Brown, Betty Williams, Nellie Pitt, Delores G. Jones, Frances McKenzie,

Evelyn G. Johnson, Ruby M. Taylor, Beatrice G. Myers, Courtney Valentine, Lila L. Terry, Florence Bailey, Leona Carpenter, Emma Gilkes,

MEMBERS OF the Northwest Child Study group took a deep look at marriage and marital problems when they held a session, Friday.

The Rev. Robert Newbold, minister of Grace Presbyterian Church, was speaker. He talked of the minister's role in pre-marriage counseling as well as post-marital advice.

He told the group of his particular plan which includes four sessions prior to the ceremony, and in instances, referals to physicians and psychologists. He noted that most ministers offer advice in this line, and that it is important that the clergyman realize his limitations and be willing to have his parishoners seek expert advice.

Margaret Driver, who heads the group, presided. At the meeting were Vera Flint, Anita Myers, Marion Myers, Ellen Jones, Elsie Scott, Flozella Clark.

Also Anethia Williams, Jimmy Laforest, Ruperta Waters, Margarie Sheffie and Mary Sprow.

Held in the home of Dr. Gladyce Jones, the meeting had co-hostess, Alice Payne.

The session on marriage and marital problems was the first of a series of three on the subject.

A holiday party, by the way, hosted by Marion and Anita Myers and Clarice Parish, was in form of an elegant dinner affair with a secret guest (Harold Jennifer) to put the mother's in tune with the Basa Nova beat.

JFK names Deming Uganda ambassador

WASHINGTON — Olcott H. Deming, a career diplomat, was given a recess appointment Jan. 7 by President Kennedy as the first United States Ambassador to Uganda.

GEE WHIZ SIS — Ardelia Cox, left, and her twin sister Celia, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Richard (Edna) Cox, 1019 Low St., display their different personalities in these three panels. In top panel, Ardelia, the more serious minded of the two, tries to interest Celia in some educational reading. By the time we get to the second panel Ardelia has given up and tries to join Celia in a cut-up session. By the final panel, Celia has decided to take off and go her own way, leaving Ardelia looking just a bit sad. Twins weighed only 3½ and 4 pounds at birth, now weigh 17 and 18. They have eight sisters and brothers, none of them twins.
