6th District News, Views

By Madeline W. Murphy

Working with the staunch citizens of South Baltimore in the NAACP 6th District Vote Registration Drive, one feels the pulse of a city within a city, an inner city, a community organized and yet, disorganized, for there is a groping for more steady, inspired leadership.

The negative, however, is always told and re-hashed, so I'll accentuate the positive, for of such stuff, dreams become realities!

The South Baltimore Playground, which was in the spotlight during the Riverside Pool riots, has a marvelous program, for it actually fulfills the role of recreation, serving the ages from six to sixty.

• • •

PERHAPS, most outstanding is its Youth Volunteer Corps, composed of teen-age boys and girls, who give of their time and talents, assisting leaders in social activities, officiating in games, instructing in physical activities, executing clerical and administrative duties like old "pros."

James W. Smith, center director, who is respected and revered by the community as well as the young people, likes to speak of the center as a "beacon light in citizen building."

They enjoy working in the community with adult civic groups. Which is where the Vote Registration Drive comes in, for those young people are "straining at the bit" to begin door to door canvassing.

The atmosphere of the Field House, built in 1956, is one of warmth, security, cleanliness, excellent discipline and decorum.

South Baltimore Playground, in 1961 was highlighted in a sports story about its athletic teams and their prowess.

In basketball, they have an 18 and 2 record, in the unlimited group call the South Baltimore Playground Stars. Rodie Brodgen, an ex-Southern High Star — MSA star, twice — is captain.

• • •

MRS. KATHLEEN ALSTON with 26 years service in recreation—16 in South Baltimore is recreation leader with children; Miss Sarah Reeves is recreation leader of girls' and women's activities.

These are the members of the Junior Volunteer Corps, who chalked up an average of 22 hours each during December:

Sheila Moore, Dea Sora, Dorothy Levy, Mary Felder, Ballina Canady, Fay Chesnboro, Michael Motten, Hazon Martin, Anthony Moore, Melvin Spriggs Vaughn, Alonzo Alexander, Wilburt Scott, Raymond Bass, Charles Alexander, Beverly Ranton, Michael Bruton, Richard Epps, and Paulette Forbes, chairman of Junior Volunteer Corps.

WITH FIVE densely populated Wards in the 6th District, it is possible to break the 10,000 mark in registered voters now, on and before Feb. 4. That would require 1,400 new names on the books; 280 voters from each precinct. Knock on every door, precinct leaders, let's get busy!

In my recent travels in the district, a new name came on the interested citizen's list: Mrs. Vincent Lomax, 2500 Maisel St. She'll be calling on you in Westport Homes.

Your Voter's Card is the only ticket for the Freedom Train! All Aboard!

Haiti seen as next Castro trouble spot

By GORGE W. COLLINS

Haiti is destined to become the next stronghold of Castro Communism in the Caribbean, a former Haitian government official in exile predicted here last week.

Dr. Roger Rigaud, 49, leader of the Haitian Nationalist underground movement, made the prediction while promising to overthrow the regime of President Francoise Duvalier, dictator of the island country.

"Duvalier will be destroyed," Dr. Rigaud vowed. "Of this I have no doubt. But what worries me is whether the underground will beat Castro to it."

IN AN interview with the AFRO while visiting Baltimore last week, Dr. Rigaud said many of the 70,000 Haitians now naturalized as Cuban citizens, are returning to Haiti.

They are blindly loyal to premier Fidel Castro and are dedicated to the proposition of delivering Haiti into the hands of the bearded dictator, the rebel leader declared.

His countrymen were attracted to Cuba by the sugar cane boom, which gave the man opportunity to "at least" earn bread, "something they didn't get under Duvalier," Dr. Rigaud added.

"To them Castro is their savior and they will do anything he wants them to," the former cabinet minister went on.

President Duvalier, who ascended to power in 1957 when former President Paul E. Magloire was ousted, is an unwitting partner to the Communist takeover, according to Dr. Rigaud.

• • •

"HE ALREADY has lead country to ruin. The economy has completely collapsed. All technicians have fled the country just as most former government officials.

"Illiteracy, poverty, and corruption are all that's left of onec great land," the underground leader said, shaking his head.

"Now Duvalier is giving it to the communishist," he added

The president and tyrant, has appointed known Reds in key government positions, Dr. Rigaud said.

They are Jules Blanche and Erne, Bayer, budget chief and minister of finance, respectively, according to the freedom fighter.

• • •

U.S. AMBASSADOR to Haiti, Frederick Thurston, confirmed this last month when he announced that President Duvalier has known Communists in his cabinet.

Dr. Rigaud declared that Mr .Duvalier and Premier Castro are "close friends" and have been since the former entered a secret agreement with the Cuban dictator following an equally secret visit to Cuba last year.

Castro's brother Raoul spent a week in Haiti laying the groundwork for the Red coup, Dr. Rigaud declared.

Dr. Rigaud, who has lived in exile since 1957, said there is only one way to save his country from the hands of the communists — that the underground: rebellion must succeed.

• • •

DR. RIGAUD has been selected as official spokesman for the movement and has traveled extensively, spreading propaganda and soliciting support. He says the movement now is more popular than ever.

He's a graduate of St. Louis DeGonzaga University where he said he earned his undergraduate degree and his master and doctor degrees from the university's schools of law and commerce.

While seeking aid and support in this area, Dr. Rigaud also was interviewed by Lou Corbin of WFBR Radio, which broadcast his views on its "Issues In The Air" program twice Sunday.

Dr. Rigaud said President Duvalier has squandered U. S. aid and has designated himself as president each time an election was scheduled to be held.

"He has corrupted the army, police, and all other agencies of government to the point where a few soldiers and key officials can live in luxury while most Haitians can hardly earn $5 per year," Dr. Rigaud declared bitterly.

• • •

THE REBEL leader predicted that "there will be bloodshed in Haiti by next May." That's when elections are scheduled, he said, and the Nationalists are planning the revolution to coincide with the election.

"We have no choice," he said, "and if we don't succeed, the communists will!"

After leaving the Haitian army as a lieutenant in 1937, Dr. Rigaud said he held several government posts before being forced into exile.

From 1942 until '52, he served as general secretary of the National Defense and Interior departments, prefect, (equivalent to governor), Inspector General of border frontier, gen-inspector of Legation and Consulates, minister of the departments of Interior and Defense and delegate, he reported. His family is still in Haiti.

A committee of Hatian underground leaders was formed in this area last week, he said, and is made up of freedom fighters in exile here and other countries.

Family dependency usually for 2 years

WASHINGTON (NNPA) —Nearly half of the families who have received aid under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children Program (AFCD) required this assistance for two years or less.

A survey made by the Bureau of Family Services of the Social Security Administration shows that, while crisis comes to some families more than once, there is no evidence that dependency becomes a "way of life" for a large majority of recipients.

The News of the Churches

Prayer of Week

Our Father, how shall we feel Thy presence?
Does it come like the warmth of the bright sun on a winter's day and the cool breeze on a hot day in summer?
Does it not rather come in our conscience whenever we have done best and stand before Thee at close of day without shame?
Help us, then, O Lord to deal justly with our neighbor and walk humbly before our God.
