Hold it! — There's been a change in baby contest

As they say in the best stories, you can always change your mind.

On Tuesday we announced that because the only new parents reported to the AFRO on New Year's Day were AFRO employees, no award would be made this year to the first baby of 1963.

The way the contest is set up, a birth has to be REPORTED to the AFRO to be considered. Out of those reported, we select the infant who was the first to arrive in the world by the clock, and present his parents with $100.

Normally, our employees are not eligible to enter any contest sponsored by this newspaper, but after reviewing the situation, we decided that this time was different.

WE felt that this was one contest in which the fact that a person is employed by this newspaper, could have no bearing on when his or her child was born.

For that reason we have decided to award the $100 prize to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rea of 3229 Yosemite Ave., who had a baby-girl at 12:30 a.m. on Jan. 1. Mr. Rea is a circulation district manager.

We hope this clears up the baby matter, and next year, if you should know about a New Year's birth, please let us know.

Backlog of bills face City Council

A backlog of nearly 300 resolutions faces Baltimore's City Council, which convenes again Monday following a holiday recess that began Dec. 17.

With the mayoral primary coming March 5 and the subsequent general election May 7, this will be the final session for this Council.

A new City Council takes office May 23.

SEVEN original members of this 21-man Council are not running for re-election to their same posts.

They are:

1. Philip H. Goodman, former Council president, now mayor and campaigning to remain the city's chief executive;

2. Anthony F. DiDomenico (2nd D.), who resigned last month after winning election to an Orphans Court judeship;

3. Peter B. Angelos (3rd D.), now a candidate for Council president;

4. Henry R. Hergenroeder (3rd D.D.), now a candidate for city comptroller;

5. Solomon Liss (5th D.), who is a candidate for Council president;

6. Thomas P. Fallon (6th D.), Council member since 1955 who did not seek re-election.

7. William L. Hodges (6th D.), who resigned last month after winning election as his districts state senator.

THIS COUNCIL convening Monday has these new faces, all sworn in just last month:

1. Thomas DAlesandro 3rd, former president, Board of Supervisors of Elections, who was elected by the Council members to succeed Mr. Goodman as president of the body.

2. Herbert J. Herman, named to fill the Second District seat of the now Judge DiDomenico;

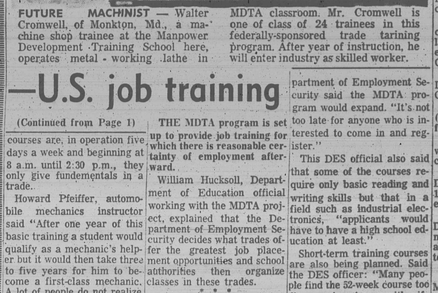
3. Dominic M. Leione, named to the Sixth District seat of the now Senator Hodges.

Councilmen Angelos, Hergenroeder and Liss are all campaigning on rival tickets.

Mr. Angelos is running for Council president on a ticket headed by C. Meredith Boyce for mayor, and Hyman A. Pressman for comptroller.

Mr. Hergenroeder is campaigning for comptroller on Mayor Goodman's ticket, which has Council president DAlesandro running to retain that post.

Councilman Liss is running for council president on a third ticket headed by Dr. R. Walter Graham Jr. for Mayor, and James J. Lacy Jr. for comptroller.



FUTURE MACHINIST — Walter Cromwell, of Monkton, Md., a machine shop trainee at the Manpower Development Training School here, operates metal - working lathe in MDTA classroom. Mr. Cromwell is one of class of 24 trainees in this federally-sponsored trade taining program. After year of instruction, he will enter industry as skilled worker.

—U.S. job training

courses are, in operation five days a week and beginning at 8 a.m. until 2:30 p.m., they only give fundementals in a trade.

Howard Pfeiffer, automobile mechanics instructor said "After one year of this basic training a student would qualify as a mechanic's helper but it would then take three to five years for him to become a first-class mechanic. A lot of people do not realize it takes this much training."

THE MDTA program is set up to provide job training for which there is reasonable certainty of employment afterward.

William Hucksoll, Department of Education official working with the MDTA project, explained that the Department of Employment Security decides what trades offer the greatest job placement opportunities and school authorities then organize classes in these trades.

A SPOKESMAN for the Department of Employment Security said the MDTA program would expand. "It's not too late for anyone who is interested to come in and register."

This DES official also said that some of the courses require only basic reading and writing skills but that in a field such as industrial electronics, "applicants would have to have a high school education at least."

Short-term training courses are also being planned. Said the DES officer: "Many people find the 52-week course too discouraging. A man with wife and family would be under a strain to subsist on $32 weekly but might be able to manage to complete a three - month course. So we hope to begin such classes before too long."

Baltimoreans interested in applying for MDTA training should contact John Sparks, counseling division, second floor, the Department of Employment Security, Eutaw Pl. and Dolphin St.

Heart meeting

BOB HURT who passed Friday, January 12, 1963, is sadly missed by his devoted friends. His family has our deepest sympathy. As we knew him, we would like to pass on this little thought

"I expect to pass through this life but once.
Therefore, if there is any kindness
I can show or any good I can do
for any fellow man
Let me do it now, for I shall not pass in this way again.

FROM HIS FRIENDS.

In Memoriam 3

BROWN— In loving memory of my dear father WASHINGTON, who passed away one year ago, January 20, 1962.

Peaceful, dreamed, resting at last
The worlds weary troubles
And trials are past.
In silence he suffered
And bore his cross
But God called him home
To suffer no more.

LORRAYNE B. SCOTT

BOYKIN — In loving memory of my dearly beloved wife, AGNES M., who departed this life January 19, 1958.

In the book of life there are memories
Of the happiest moments we've spent
And recorded in love is the blessing
Of wonderful parents, our own
You are gone, but the treasure you left us
Is truly a value untold.
A life filled with deeds of kindness
And beauty of heart and soul.

CORNISH— In loving memory of my dear husband, ALEXANDER, who passed away January 12, 1962:

Today my heart is heavy.
My thoughts are all of thee
Oh, how I miss you, dear husband, dear.
None but God in Heaven can see
Some day time fends an aching heart.
But, it isn't true.
For one long year has passed, dear,
And my heart still aches for you.

WIFE,

DUPPINS — In loving memory of our dear father, RICHARD SAMUEL, who departed this life twenty-two years ago, January 16, 1941.

Our lips cannot tell how we miss him
Our hearts cannot tell what to say
God alone knows how I miss him,
In a home that is lonesome today.
Only God knows the heartaches
And tears
Only God knows when I think
of you most of all.
In moments of we deepest grief,
Our Savior comforts us and says
Be of good cheer and do not weep.
Someday with him we will meet,

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain
To have,
To love, and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never.
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

THOMAS— In loving memory of our mother and grandmother, MARTHA, who departed this life twenty-two years ago, January 19, 1941.

Blessed are we see of a beautiful face,
Reflecting an image of heavenly grace—
A spirit which shows many traces of care,
And yet, an expression of sweetest love there
The work of an artist, the loveliest art—
A picture of "MOTHER" that is framed in our hearts.
And though we are crossed to her heaven of rest,
Sweet memories of Mother lie wrapped in our breasts;
The print of her footsteps again we can see,
Her voice we hear, saying, "My dears, follow me."
We hard for us to be,
Faith and patience
To live like a mother, her love,
LOVING DAUGHTERS AND GRANDCHILDREN

SPEARS — In loving memory of my husband and father, CLARANCE N., who passed away January 16, 1961:

The shock of your sudden passing
Was hard for us to bear,
For ours was a love everlasting
With never a doubt to fear.
We miss you; we want you; we love you, too.
Fond memories will never cease,
God bless and keep you forever—
May your soul rest in peace.
