cient funds in the great vaults of opportunity of this nation.

So we have come to cash this check —a check that will give us upon demand the riches of freedom and the security of justice.

We have also come to this hallowed spot to remind America of the fierce urgency of now. This is no time to engage in the luxury of cooling off or to take the tranquilizing drug of gradualism.

Now is the time to make real the promises of Democracy.

Now is the time to make real the dark and desolate valley of segregation to the sunlit path of racial justice.

Now is the time to open the doors of opportunity to all of God's children.

Now is the time to lift our nation from the quicksands of racial injustice to the solid rock of brotherhood.

It would be fatal for the nation to overlook the urgency of the moment and to underestimate the determination of its colored citizens. This sweltering summer of colored people's legitimate discontent will not pass until there is an invigorating autumn of freedom and equality. 1963 is not an end, but a beginning. Those who hope that the colored people needed to blow off steam and will now be content will have a rude awakening if the Nation returns to business as usual.

There will be neither rest nor tranquility in America until the colored citizen is granted his citizenship rights. The whirlwinds of revolt will continue to shake the foundations of our Nation until the bright day of justice emerges.

But there is something that I must say to my people who stand on the warm threshold which leads into the palace of justice. In the process of gaining our rightful place we must not be guilty of wrongful deeds.

Let us not seek to satisfy our thirst for freedom by drinking from the cup of bitterness and hatred.

We must forever conduct a struggle on the high plane of dignity and discipline. We must not allow our creative protest to degenerate into physical violence.

Again and again we must rise to the majestic heights of meeting physical force with soul force. The marvelous new militancy which has engulfed the colored community must not lead us to a distrust of all white people, for many of our white brothers evidenced by their presence here today, have come to realize that their destiny is tied up with our destiny and their freedom is inextricably bound to our freedom.

This offense we share mounted to storm the battlements of injustice must be carried forth by a racial army. We cannot walk alone.

And as we walk, we must make the pledge that we shall always march ahead. We cannot turn back. There are those who are asking the devotees of civil rights, "When will you be satisfied?"

We can never be satisfied as long as the colored person is the victim of the unspeakable horrors of police brutality.

We can never be satisfied as long as our bodies, heavy with the fatigue of travel, cannot gain lodging in the motels of the highways and the hotels of the cities.

We cannot be satisfied as long as the colored person's basic mobility is from a smaller ghetto to a larger one.

We can never be satisfied as long as our children are stripped of their selfhood and robbed of their dignity by signs stating "for whites only."

We cannot be satisfied as long as a colored person in Mississippi cannot vote and a colored person in New York believes he has nothing for which to vote.

We will not be satisfied until justice rolls down like waters and righteousness like a mighty stream.

And so today, let us go back to our communities as members of the international association for the advancement of creative dissatisfaction.

Let us go back and work with all the strength we can muster to get strong civil rights legislation in this session of Congress.

Let us go down from this place to ascend other peaks of purpose.

Let us descend from this mountaintop to climb other hills of hope.

I am not unmindful that some of you have come here out of excessive trials and tribulation. Some of you have come fresh from narrow jail cells.

Some of you have come from areas where your quest for freedom left you battered by the storms of persecution and staggered by the winds of police brutality.

You have been the veterans of creative suffering. Continue to work with the faith that unearned suffering is redemptive. With this faith we will be able to hew out of the mountain of despair a stone of hope.

With this faith we will be able to transform the jangling discords of our nation into a beautiful symphony of brotherhood.

Let us work and march and love and stand tall together until that day has come when we can join hands and sing, "Free at last, free at last; thank God almighty, we are free at last."

which has headquarters in Baltimore, acted two days after a meeting with Mrs. Juanita J. Mitchell, president of the Maryland Conference of NAACP branches, and four Social Security employees who complained of unfair job treatment.

Roy L. Swift, public information for Social Security Administration, told the AFRO that Commissioner Ball had decided that the special committee, as the NAACP official had suggested, be made up of private citizens, labor officials and Social Security executives.

Mr. Swift reported that Mr. Ball would require a few days to seek out people to serve on the committee but that no time would wasted in appointing the panel.

THE SOCIAL Security chief's prompt action came after the publication last Wednesday of charges of racial discrimination brought by the NAACP on behalf of 31-year-old Air Force Veteran Leon Gilmore of Baltimore.

Mr. Gilmore, despite college training, reported through the NAACP that he had been unable to advance in his job, had suffered harassment when he persisted on seeking a promotion for work he was qualified to perform while a Social Security employee over the last two years.

On Monday, Mr. Gilmore was joined by three other Social Security employees who also charge denial of opportunity in jobs there because of color.

These three, Otis B. Hooper, Charles Blackton and Nathaniel Lawson, gave similar testimony.

TO DRAMATIZE what she termed "deep seated resentment of current Social Security job policies by colored employees of Social Security," Mrs. Mitchell had called for a protest demonstration at the agency headquarters on Monday.

A swiftly arranged conference with Commissioner Ball and the four complainants prompted the NAACP official to call off the scheduled picketing of the federal agency.

The Social Security Administration has its national headquarters in suburban Baltimore. Some 10,000 of the workers, 20 per cent, are colored.

Attorney, ex-judge get rights post in Michigan

DETROIT — Attorney Damon Keith and former Federal Judge John Feikens, both of Detroit, were named last week by Gov. George Romney to be co-chairmen of Michigan's first Civil Rights Commission.

Romney announced his choices for seven of the powerful new commission just before he left by plane for a two-week vacation in Europe.

The eighth member, he said, will be appointed early in September, shortly before the commission meets unofficially for the first time.

THE COMMISSION, created by the new State Constitution, will not have legal status until the Constitution goes into effect Jan. 1.

It is the first in the nation to be set up under a State Constitution and will have broad power to deal with civil rights issues involving housing, employment, education, public accommodations and other areas.

Birthday Tributes 1

ADDISON — A Birthday Tribute to the memory of our dear brother, FERDINAND T. on his birthday, August 27th and who passed away July 28, 1963:
If we had seen you to the last
And held your dying hand,
And heard the last sigh from your heart,
We would not feel so bad.
We did not know the pain you had,
We did not see you die.
We only know you went far away
And never said goodbye.
Sisters,
BESSIE BUTLER
MABLE FISHER
ESTHER YANCEY
MILDRED WHIDBEE

MOAN — A birthday tribute to my wife and our mother, EMMA, whose birthday was August 31, and who passed June 8, 1962:
Happy birthday dear loved one
May you have many more
Not on earth, but in Heaven
To that far off distant shore.
Tears come and not presents,
Flowers go to your grave
Oh God, deliver this message
We miss you dear EMMA on your birthday.
