Register to vote, change address now

The registration books are now open for citizens to become eligible voters for the primary election early next year.

Citizens may register at the Supervisors of Elections office, ground floor, People's Court Bldg., Fayette and Gay Sts., 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Thursday.

Who must register—Those who will become 21 years of age prior to next year's election; newcomers to the city who have lived here at least a year.

Change of address — Citizens who have been registered as eligible voters, but have changed their address in recent months without notifying the Supervisors of Elections, should do so now.

* * *

IT MAY BE necessary to register again. Several thousand citizens who have changed their address in the past two-year period, without notification to the Supervisor of Elections, have been stricken from the books as eligible voters.

County agency launches open occupancy probe

A campaign to make available to colored citizens more housing in Baltimore County is now under way by the Baltimore County Human Relations Commission.

It is a program to initiate open occupancy in many of the areas now closed to the colored home or apartment seeker.

Michael G. Holofcener, commission chairman, told the AFRO Thursday, one phase of the program is to get information on available FHA commitment homes to the colored community.

Builders who entered into such FHA commitments after November, 1962 are required by President Kennedy's housing order to sell to members of all races.

Also covered are a number of older homes repossessed by the Veterans Administration and the FHA.

* * *

MR. HOLOFCENER efforts are now under way to get these available homes and apartments before the colored community.

In addition, he said a series of conferences are being held with real estate dealers and mortagage handling firms to obtain as much as possible their cooperation in this campaign toward open occupancy nihousing.

Baltimore County, already hard - pressed for housing for colored families, will be even more so soon, when some 220 such families will be displaced with the closing of the Sellers Homes antiquated project in Turner Station.

Edward L. Feingold, commission director, has announced he plans to speak before a number of organizations, such as the Interdenominational Ministers Alliance, the Congress of Racial Equality, etc., and advise where FHA covered homes are now available, and how to apply for them.

The commission meets every Wednesday evening in the third floor assembly room of the Baltimore County office building in Towson.

Keating urges indefinite life for civil rights unit

WASHINGTON (NNPA) — "This is not a time for reluctant gestures—we must not appear to be throwing scraps to a beggar," Sen. Kenneth B. Keating said Tuesday in tension of the Commission the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

The New York Republican said "the intolerably long delay in acting on civil rights a legislation threatened the commission with extinction inertia despite the face that its continuance would be supported by an overwhelming

* * *

UNDER THE present law, the commission is required to submit a final report on Sept. 30 and go out of business within 60 days if Congress does not vote it new life.

A bill reported out by a Senate subcommittee would extend the date of the commission's final report from Sept. 30 of this year to Sept. 30, 1967, but continues to provide that the unit wind up its affairs within 60 days after submission of this report.

"THIS IS shabby treatment for a commission of outstanding men and a poor reward for the magnificent contribution they have made to the nation," Keating said.

"But more importantly," he added, "it would be inexcusably short-sighted for the Congress to ignore an agency out of existence at a time when help and critical guidance in meeting our civil rights problems is so essenential."

NAACP board lauds DuBois

NEW YORK — Lauding Dr. W. E. B. DuBois as "a pioneer in the struggle for human rights," the NAACP Board of directors passed a resolution mourning his passing in Accra, Ghana, on Aug. 27. He was 95.

The resolution, adopted at the board's quarterly meeting here, called the contributions of the venerable scholar "imperishable"

He was cited as "the prime inspirer, philosopher and father of the protest movement, a founder of the NAACP, an impassioned and eloquent spokesman for equal rights;

"A fierce and uncompromisingly free of colonialism and promoter of the Pan African Congresses, and the most eminent scholar and historian of the Negro race in America and Africa."

Albany case has motive, says lawyer

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Federal indictment of integration leaders in Albany, Ga., is apparently "a bone" thrown to the segregationists by the Kennedy Administrations, a noted civil rights attorney said here.

William M. Kunstler, of New York, one of the lawyers in the Albany Case, said this was his "suspicion."

"I'm afraid they are looking to the 1964 elections. When the Kennedys are attacked by the segregationists, they can say, 'Look, we arrested these people in Albany too; we are not one sided," he said.

The Albany indictment brought by a U. S. grand jury in August, was the first time that the Federal Government has filed felony charges against persons active in the civil rights movement.

Three leaders of the Albany Movement are charged with "conspiring to injure or influence a federal juror;" six others are charged with committing perjury before the grand jury investigating the case. Both charges carry long sentences upon conviction.

Leaque of Women's Clubs in support of rights bills

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

The Maryland League of Women's Clubs, in its general meeting on Saturday, went on record for immediate action in support of the President's legislation on Civil Rights.

"We must become very objective and we must exercise concerted action in unity with other state organizations in this fight for Civil Rights," stated Mrs. Gwendolyn Lee, president of the league.

She also reminded the women of the league's ten-point program, stressing the work be done by the members this year in the areas of housing, employment, and education, all of which the President's legislation emphasizes.

Mrs. Henry Coner, one of the organizers of the newly-formed Maryland Women's Committee for Civil Rights, spoke to the women and gave emphasis to the objectives that the President placed before a group of 300 women, known as the White House Conference of the Women's Committee on Civil Rights, held this summer.

Mrs. Coner, in her talk, stated that President Kennedy outlined and requested that the following points become a part of the planned program of local bodies:

1. That these women work with the local human relations committees.

2. That women of all races and creeds, regardless of status, help in this great effort of inter-group cooperation.

3. That emphasis be placed on all parts of the legislative program for Civil Rights.

4. That all organizations be open for membership to all races.

5. That programs be set up to help combat the school drop-outs problem.

Mrs. Coner reported that at a recent meeting with the Governor, in cooperation with the Maryland Commission on Race Relations, the local Maryland Women's Committee on Civil Rights revealed its plan for a kick-off campaign meeting of representatives of women's organizations throughout Maryland.

* * *

"THE PURPOSE of such a move is to implement President Kennedy's Civil Rights program," stated Mrs. Coner.

The Governor agreed to issue an invitation to such organizations to meet in Annapolis some time in October.

Mrs. Gloria Barnes, historian for the Maryland League, is representing the league on the steering committee of this group.

Discussion at the league's meeting centered around methods of coordinating political action and for timing and techniques in the building-up of pressures on Congress for passage of Civil Rights legislation.

Member clubs were urged to take immediate steps towards helping in this big job. They were urged to support passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1965 by writing to their Congressmen and to the chairmen of the Federal committees.

* * *

THE COMMITTEES and their chairmen are as follows:

House Judiciary Committee: The Honorable Emanuel Cellar, House Office Building, Washington, D.C 20023.

House Rules Committee: The Honorable Howard W. Smith, House Office Building, Washington, D.C: 20023.

Senate Judiciary Committee: The Honorable James O. Eastland, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20025.

Commerce Committee: The Honorable Warren G. Magnuson, House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20025.

This should be done as soon as possible for it is one of the first procedures requested by President Kennedy at the conference he held with the women this summer.

Clubs and organizations of the league were also urged to plan October programs which stress that it is Human Rights Month.

Further, all members of the league were requested to promote a program designed to get all educable children back into school and to keep present enrollments in school.

Mrs. Lee has called a special executive session to implement immediate action by the total membership and individuals of the league in concerted effort.

Mrs. Eloise Richardson, second vice-president of the league, in charge of membership, is sending out a call this year that "every woman become a member of a club, and that every club become a member of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs.

Rev. Jentry McDonald, executive secretary of the Baltimore Branch NAACP and Mrs. Gertrude Gorman, field secretary of the national office were visitors. An appeal was made for the NAACP campaign.

From Mildred's Kitchen

By MILDRED BROOKS

Are you guilty of "Color-less-ism?"

Have your menus become drab and monotonous? Somewhat like last year's hat? Maybe you are guilty of "COLORLESS-ISM" in planning your meals. This fall the female - talk is about Cransberry Red and Parisian Blue. Let's work up some enthusiasm about the colors endowed by nature on some of the foods that make up our daily diet.

A colorful entree, around which many pleasing menus can be made, is this delightful casserole:

* * *

PILAF OF DEAFOOD

1 medium-sized onion, chopped, 2 tablespoons shortening 2 cups cooked rice, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 2 stalks celery, diced, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, ½ bay leaf, crumbled, cup grated cheese, 1 cup cooked shrimp or crabmeat.

* * *

COOK ONION in shortening until browned. Stir in rice. Combine tomatoes, celery, salt, paprika, bay leaf and cheese in saucepan. Heat until cheese is melted. Fold in rice and seafood. Pour into a greased casserole. Cover. Bake in moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.) for about 25 mi . . . Serves 6. A crisp, green salad with a tangy dressing, crisp hard rolls and, perhaps a favorite dessert like apple pie, would make a whale of a menu.

Rice, a versatile staple food, can be the basic ingrient in many glamourous dishes. As an accompaniment to poultry and meats, and artistice platter arrangement can be designed with this umsual Rice Recipe:

NUTTED RICE IN ORANGE CUPS take

2 cups chicken broth, 1 cup uncooked rice, 2 tablespoons butter 2/3 cup chopped pecans, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, salt to taste.

In a saucepan, combine chicken broth and rice. Bring to a boil. Stir. Cover and cook over low heat for 14 min. Remove from heat. Stir in butter, pecans, and parsley.

Season to taste. Flute orange cups and spoon rice into the shell. Serves 6. Arrange on beds of fresh green parsley.

For meals that are "pretty as a picture" the brilliant color of the Tomato is a high point of accent. Try this way of preparing tomatoes for next Company-Dinner:

* * *

GRILLED TOMATOES are prepared as follows:

Wash 6 firm medium tomatoes and cut in halves, crosswise. Springle with salt and pepper. Top each with 1 teaspoon mayonnaise. Broil 2 to 3 inches from heat, 4 to 5 minutes. Sprinkle with chopped parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Shrimp-rice New Orleans

Shrimp and rice, the combination which is such a culinary success in so many famed New Orleans recipes, are joined by mushrooms, green pepper and instant minced onion in "Shrimp 'n' Rice New Orleans" — a delicious main dish to serve your friends this fall.

There's no waste or guesswork when you cook with instant minced onion. Simply measure from the container the exact amount you want to supply the precise onion flavor you want—not too strong, not too weak.

* * *

SHRIMP 'N' RICE NEW ORLEANS requires 3 cups water, 2 chicken bouillon cubes, 1½ cups rice, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons instant minced onion, ½ cup butter or margarine, ¼ lb. fresh mushrooms, ½ cup finely-chopped green pepper, ½ lb. cooked, deveined shrimp, and 2 tablespoons finely-chopped fresh parsley.

Heat water to boiling, add bouillon cubes, rice, salt and onion. Cover, turn heat low, and simer until rice is tender and all of liquid is absorbed — about 20 minutes. Melt butter in a skillet; turn heat low and add mushrooms and green pepper.

A ROASTING CHICKEN is browned and then simmered until tender in California white dinner wine —an adaptation of an old world recipe. Vegetables are cooked with the chicken for the last half hour. Here it is served dramatically in a silver bowl ringed with flowers. The chilled white dinner wine accompanying it is the same type that flavors the chicken so deliciously.

Bunburgers

Bunburgers—a tasty mixture of ground beef, Carnation Evaoprated Milk and seasonings topped with cheese, broiled right on the bun! Perfect for summertime entertaining. The meat mixture can be put on the buns before guests arrive and stored in the refrigerator until serving time.

Thanks to Carnation they stay juicy from mixing time until the last crumb has been eaten! And there's no broiler pan to scrub!

Bunburgers are made with 2/3 cup (small can) undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK, 1 egg, 1½ pds ground beef, ½ cup fine cracker crumbs, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ cup finely chopped onion, ¼ cup finely chopped green pepper 4 to 6 slices processed American cheese and 6 hamburger buns.

Combine Carnation ground beef, cracker crumbs, salt, pepper, mustard, onion and green pepper. Mix gently, but thoroughly. Form into 12 thin patties, about ⅓ cup meat for each patty. Split 6 hamburger buns.

Place meat patty on each bun half, covering bun completely. Place on broiler pan taste Top each burger with about 3 to 7 inches from heat the Broil 5 to 7 minutes, or to sliced cheese.

Return to broiler until cheese melts. Serve at once.

Ham Skillet

Three convenience foods with low price tags—canned chopped ham, butter beans and evaporated milk—are the important ingredients of this taste-tantalizing and protein-rich main dish that you can have on the table in a matter of minutes.

The ingredients for the marvelous sweet-sour creamy sauce are stirrd right into the skillet, eliminating separated milk with its extra richness and superior blending qualities is the key to the success of this smooth sauce.
