Aggies - Bears tilt shifted to lights

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Kickoff time for the football game between the A and T College Aggies and Shaw University Bears, to be played here on October 5, has been changed.

The game, the opening home clash for the Aggies and previously billed as an afternoon contest, is being shifted to that night. The game is now scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Greensboro War Memorial Stadium.

Colts may face GB with rookie ends

GREEN BAY, Wisc., — Although the Baltimore Colts have won 11 of 21 previous meetings with the Packers, they have yet to produce a trlumph in Green Bay.

They've taken four cracks at the Packers here without success and last fall coach Vince Lombardi's two-time champions measured the Colts twice and limited their victims to a single touchdown.

This Sunday the N.F.L. rivals will be at each other again in the Packers' favorite Green Bay hunting grounds.

The game will be telecast back to Baltimore at 3 p.m. (EDT).

* * *

THE PACKERS, heavily favored to smash precedent and become the first team ever to cop three successive N. F. L. titles, will enter the fray fresh from a 31-10 conquest of Detroit, while the Colts knocked off San Francisco, 20-14, last Sunday.

Both clubs claim one-one records.

Flashing an attack that rolled up 295 yards and 27 first downs and reeled off 88 offensive plays to the 49ers' 39, the Colts were dealt another physical setback when out end Raymond Berry dislocated his left shoulder.

It was a discouraging blow since Berry had appeared sharper than ever in his earlier 1963 outings.

* * *

"I'M NOT sure what we'll do about left end at the moment," stated Colts head coach Don Shula. "Neither Alex Hawkins nor Willie Richardson did a bad job in relief last week. One will probably be the starter against the Packers."

Rookie Richardson, making his initial league appearance at end, made a diving catch of a third down 18-yard pass that enabled the Colts to keep a drive underway vs. the 49ers.

It could have been the first of many pro receptions for the swift ballhawk from Jackson State.

* * *

WITH SUCH an appraisal by Shula, it appears likely that Richardson may become the second tan rookie to take over first - call duties at the Colt wings.

John Mackey, the freshman sparkler from Syracuse, continued his brilliant behavior as a tight end by snaring two passes at crucial moments.

As of their first two league contests, the 215 - pound ex-Orangeman had caught five pitches and was second only to flanker Jimmy Orr in yards gained. Orr, with twice as many receptions, had picked up 133 yards to Mackey's 110.

JOHN MACKEY

BOON FOR BALTIMORE—Walt Bellamy, top star of the newly-adopted pro basketball quint, gave Baltimore basketball fans a big lift Tuesday. The big fellow banged in 45 points in the first public intra-squad scrimmage as the Baltimore Bullets prepare for the 1963-64 National Basketball Association campaign. Bellamy and Co., open at the Civic Center home court against the world champion Boston Celtics on October 16.

Outdoor Tips

REVOLVER SAFETY

Do you like to keep a hand-GUN HANDY? But is the safety factor always a nagging worry?

Sure, you give your own kids instructions, show them the why, how and wherefore of shooting. And you feel okay with them . . . but how about their friends.

The kids that haven't been trained. All it takes is one bit of horse play . . . you never feel altogether right.

* * *

HERE'S HOW to end the worries on any double action revolver but still keep the gun accessible, ready for use:

Just lock a padlock in the trigger guard behind the trigger.

Trigger can't be pulled back far enough for double action firing, or to be cocked.

Key on your key chain unlocks the gun in an instant.

SALT ON THEIR TAILS

Squirrel hunters know that under early fall conditions (when leaves are full), many shots are at close range.

And a shotgun blast from even a light guage weapon may chew a young bushtail beyond recognition.

Take this tip: Reload several shells. Pull the regular shot charge, refill with rock salt and recripit.

Salt will carry almost to the end of the gun's range and will kill by stunning rather than penetration.

Meat stays in one piece.

QUIET OARS ROD HOLDER

You've heard of putting your foot in your mouth, well this tip suggests you jam a rod in your boot. Works, too.

Next trout you catch just slow your rod by slipping it down your boot while you set, unhook and creel your catch.

If you wear waders, just slide the rod down your front to achieve the same result.

NET LIGHT

And, if you do a lot of night fishing, an inexpensive flashlight taped to the handle of your landing net will throw some light on a crucial subject.

Switch light on before you swng into action.

SAVE THE DOOR

May be your hunting dog scratches at the door to get in. If so, you know what it does to the door.

One dog owner suggests tacking a piece of heavy duty sandpaper to the scratch area. It saves the door and buffs the dog's nails at the same time.

HOPPER BOTTLE

Store grasshoppers in a bottle with perforated top. Into the perforation insert a grass stem.

To get new hopper, untwist top, pull up the grass. One grasshopper will always ride it up.

Fellowship to celebrate

Baltimore Fellowship, Inc. will celebrate 25 years of progress with a dinner at the Alcazar on Sunday, Nov. 10, at 7 p.m.

During this time Baltimore Fellowship has doubled its membership many times over. Many of the charter members who are still active in the organization will be present at the Anniversary celrbration.

The speaker of the evening the Rev. Walter E. Fauntroy, gained national recognition with the important part he played in organizing the Washington Freedom March. He is pastor of New Bethel Baptist Church in Washington and regional representative of the Southern Leadership Conference of which Dr. Martin Luther King is president.

In 1961 Rev. Fauntroy prepared and presented to the U.S. Congress an exhaustive study of Urban Renewal problems and their effect on minority groups with positive recommendations for their solution This was done in his capacity of Chairman of the Urban Renewal Committee of the Interdenominational Ministers Alliance of Washington.

Baltimore Fellowship has grown from a small but dedicated group of people in 1938 to its present membership which is upward of 400 active members.

Its program which is carried out at Fellowship House, 3200 North Hilton Street, emphasize the importance of all people. Non - members are urged to come and enjoy these events.

The public is invited to the 25th Anniversary Dinner. Tickets, which are $5.00, may be reserved by calling Liberty 2-2995.

"CALVERT COUNTY Days" was held Sunday at Ames Methodist Church. The Res. Paul Johnson, William Edwards, and Joseph Collins were guest speakers.

The Rev. Ernest P. Clark is pastor of Ames.

The Rev. L. A. Dyson, pastor of St. Matthew Church, is on the sick list. He was taken ill while attending Sunday services.

Mrs. Ruth Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gray, was injured in an auto accident. She sustained a broken wrist and head injuries.

A passenger, Sherman Coates, son of Mrs. Nettie Coates of Chesapeake Beach, also suffered head injuries and both are confined to the Annapolis Hospital.

Archie Ford, son of Alexander Ford Sr. of Dunkirk was seriously injured in an accident. He is in the Calvert County Hospital.

Sympathy should be extended to the family of Gilbert Hall, who died this week.

Patrolman shoots man he claims jumped him

William Plater, a 33 - year-old laborer, of the 1000 block Bentalou St., was shot Tuesday night by a Western District patrolman who reported he was being attacked with his own night stick.

Patrolman Carl J. Hutchinson, said that Plater, who is in fair condition at Franklin Square Hospital with a gunshot wound in his stomach, grabbed his expantoon from his hand when he attempted to break-up a disturbance at a tavern in the 1500 block W. Saratoga St.

The officer said Plater struck him over his right eye while another man held him from behind.

As he was wrestling with the two men, the officer reported he managed to get the pistol from his holster and fired two shots at Plater who, he said, was attempting to strike him again.

He stated that after firing the revolver, both men backed off from him and he was able to hold them at bay until the arrival of police assistance.

The second man was placed under arrest and Plater was taken to the Hospital. A third man, an employee of the tavern, was also arrested and taken to Western District for questioning.

* * *

ACCORDING TO a police report of the incident, Patrolman Hutchinson had been passing the tavern when he heard a disturbance. Upon entering, the officer stated he noticed several men fighting.

One of the men, said the officer, was holding the bartender against the bar beating him in the face with his fists.

Patrolman Hutchinson pulled the man off of the bartender and placed him under arrest. Here, according to police, the trouble began.

Art at Institute

For the first time in two years the Maryland Institute will hold an exhibit in its own gallery Tuesday, Oct. 1, with a show of nine new staff members' work.

Running through October, the exhibit will be open 9:30 a.m.—4:30 p.m. each weekday, 7-10 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday evenings, and 9 a.m.—noon on Saturdays.

The exhibiting artists are Robert Forth, Peter Hooven, Lila Katzen, Colile McLaughlin, Jon Schumacher, Peter Seitz, Joseph Sheppard, Reba Stewart, and Jerome Witkin.

Fibrosis March set for Sept. 30

Several thousand volunteer marchers will call on their neighbors on Monday, Sept. 30 to raise funds for cystic fibrosis, the fatal children's disease for which there is no known cure.

John Phelps, chairman for this year's Maryland campaign, said that although Governor J. Millard Tawes and Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin have declared the week of September 29-October 5 as "Cystic Fibrosis Week," the major door-to-door appeal will be made next Monday.

Don Shinnick, Baltimore Colt linebacker, is honorary campaign chairman.

A major portion of the funds collected this year will go to the new Cystic Fibrosis Research, Care and Teaching Center at the Johns Hopkins Hospital.
