Bombing sparks campus protest

URBANA, Ill. — University of Illinois students have for three days held silent vigil in front of the campus auditorium in sympathy for the six children killed in Birminham's racial violence last Sunday.

At the 15 - minute observance Tuesday, representatives of the three major faiths, Catholic, Protestant and Jewish, spoke. Following a Wednesday vigil pickets demonstrated at the local FBI headquarters.

By Thursday, according to Jim Lesar, a leader of the sympathy and protest vigils, along with campus NAACP officials, some 22 other colleges across the nation had agreed to conduct similar observances.

* * *

LESAR TOLD the AFRO Thursday that Gregory Gallo, president of the National Student Association, has sent 400 NSA affiliate universities asking them to hold demonstrations.

The demonstrators hope to focus attention on the need for federal intervention in Birmingham, Lesar said.

Pickets at the FBI office Wednesday presented officials with three demands:

1. That the Federal Government take immediate action to forestall future outbreaks of violence in Birmingham by sending in federal troops to establish and preserve law and order there.

* * *

2. THAT the Justice Department submit to Congress proposals which will give to the Federal Government and its agencies strong, clear, and unequivocal powers to prevent police brutality and terrorism.

3. That if . . . the FBI will remain as inept in coping with police brutality and violence as it has in the past, then we demand an independent investigatory agency be set up which will be capable or remedying such outrages.

The students at Illinois will next week call for a national demonstration at what they listed as the 10 north-based corporations which employ 35 per cent of Birmingham's manufacturing workers, Lesar said.

SC suit appeals for vote referee

KINGSTREE, S.C. —Five Williamsburg County residents have filed suit in federal court asking that county registration officials be permanently enjoined from discriminating against colored applicants.

Filed Sept. 9 in the U.S. District Court at Florence, S.C., the suit charges county registrars have systematically prevented non - whites from registering by using standards not applied to white people.

The plaintiffs asked the court to appoint a federal referee to oversee registration in the county and ordered placed on the voter list nearly 100 persons recently rejected without being given the required written reason.

BRINGING THE SUIT for themselves and all other colored persons similarly situated in the county, were John H. Wilson, Alma M. Wilson, Rosa Wilson, Mable Rich, and Lila P. Nelson, all live in Kingstree.

The defendants, Fannie D. Sullivan, Albert Ard, and Ruth McClary are duly appointed members of the Registration Board of Williamsburg County, according to the brief filed for the plaintiffs.

The brief noted that of the county's 13,000 white residents, approximately 7,500 are registered. But only 500 of the 27,000 colored people can vote. It charged non-whites have been deliberately denied their rights.

TO REGISTER, colored residents are required to meet standards and go through procedures not applied to white people, the brief charged. It said special versions of tests are given to colored and other tests times are not given to whites at all.

The brief said colored people are required to stand in line to receive a registration certificate when whites do not have to appear before the board to get them. It said the board has refused to discuss the problem with non-whites.

When 200 persons appeared before the board to register July 1, the brief said only 65 were approved. This was the first time so many had been permitted to register, it records.

"IT WOULD TAKE six years to register 7,500 colored people," at the rate of 65 per registration day, the brief charged, "wherein white persons have already been permitted to register in Williamsburg County.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs are John H. Wrighten, whose law office is in Charleston, S.C., and Frank E. Cain, located in Bennettsville, S.C. The joint Wrighten - Cain firm is headquartered in Kingstree.

Judge gives doomed man short delay

SPOKANE, Wash.—Charles Will Cauthen, 26 - year - old man whose fate was decided in less than a day in a Georgia courtroom four years ago, received an extension Thursday in his fight against extradition on a first degree murder charge.

Justice of the Peace Ellsworth gave the extension to Nov. 20 to provide evidence in his Feb. 23, 1960, trial at Zebulon, Ga., but denied a request that bond be reduced from $100,000 to $5,000.

Cauthen had been sentenced to die in the electric chair in Georgia for the murder of a white service station attendant, Melvin Perkins.

B'ham youth makes mark in N.E. town

NEW YORK — (ANP)—A hint of the great unknown potential of thousands of colored teenagers is possible in Birmingham, where they have been relegated to second - hand schools, is to be found in the experience of 16 - year - old Genoa Montgomery.

Genoa is the same age as James Robinson who was killed by police after the church bombing Sept. 15.

When Genoa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Montgomery, got off the train in Connecticut to attend Farmington High
