Hobbies! Hobbies! Practically everyone has a hobby and Cationsville's Pinnie Ross's hobby is the making of hats.

Friends saw her creations and began requesting custom made models of their own.

Sunday, in her living room, the creations, perched saucily upon the heads of models Audrey Smith, Betty Simms, Florence Brown and Lucille Banton and were shown to guests, Mrs. Mary Irvine, Charlotte Scott, Beatrice Yancy, Edith Clements, Beatrice Lancaster, Miss Ethel Moody, Mrs. Ann Drayton, Tanyo Wiggins, Lena Brown, Arnetta Rosemond, Thelma Faulcon, Margaret Singletary, Alice Washington, Wila Bouldon, Ethel Woods, Florence Patterson.

Out of town guests included Annie Joe Delaney, Florence Murphy, Ethel Stewart, Susan Steward (Washington) Priscilla Steward (New York)

Glen Burnie's Margaret Singletary sharp in gold metallic suit with black accessories, while Alice Washington wore a navy blue one piece knit dress, long sleeves, sequined neck matching hat and black accessories.

Thelma Ennals in a baby blue woolen suit, black accessories. Lucinda Johnson, grey three suit knit suit, red jacket button trim, Annie Joe Delaney, black wool dress, red jewelry and accessories.

ULTRA ULTRA was the Wilmington, Del. chapter, Delta Sigma Theta's Red and White Ball (Formal) held at that city's Hotel Dupont.

We were the guests of Ruth and Caldwell Brown (he's the principal of Dunlieth Community School). We were house guests of the Raymond Woodards (Mary Ann and I were childhood friends). The Cadwell Brown's entertained with a breakfast after the Ball.

The next day we visited the dynamic Rev. Maurice Moyer and his lovely wife Cleo. The Rev. Dr. Moyer is Delaware's foremost civil rights leader.

Sunday we attended the Floral Extravaganza Tea presented by the Building Improvement Fund Committee of Colemar Methodist Church. It was really an extravaganza!

There were 20 table sponsors, each vying for awards which were presented for the loveliest tables.

The flower arrangements and silver service sets were magnificent. Judges were Mrs. Nellie Allen, Margaret West, Hannah Johnson and Mrs. William Bowie also Hilmar Jenson.

Mistresses of ceremonies were Mrs. Tecumseh Rutledge and Florence Poddrel. The program included musical selections, readings and a fashion show. Presentations were made by Mrs. Margret Black. Mrs. Nancy Gaines was chairman of the tea. The Rev. Harry R. Shead is pastor of Coleman Methodist Church.

Lambda Kappa Mu sorors throughout the U.S. are heeding the call to attend the regional conference. This year's host chapter will be Sigma Chapter (Hampton). The fabulous Golden Triangle Motor Hotel, Norfolk, will be the place and the date is Oct. 26. Luncheon speaker will be William Cooper, director, Federal Demonstration Research Project for Re-education of Unemployed, Unskilled Workers.

Speaking of LKM, in the sorority's official national publication the Acorn Newsletter was a picture of soror Zerita Skates and other demonstrators leaving the school bus which transported them from their stay in jail after the Gwynn Oak Park demonstration this past summer.

In her article, "Report on Gwynn Oak Park" soror Skates tells of the emergency meeting of her chapter of CORE to collect funds. The funds were needed to bail the participants out of jail.

She told of her husband's understanding when informed of what she felt she must do, the problems which arose when her white friend told her parents of the plans and most vividly, her stay in jail.

Zerita said her first thoughts after being released on bail were to get a bath and see her daughter who didn't know where Zerita had been.

The Acorn also carried in its enterety reprinted from the AFRO, BOULE IN SYRACUSE which was written by your columnist. An accompanying note with the Acorn stated that they now get the Baltimore AFRO just to watch for Iota happenings and chit chat.

VIP's held over at the Harlem

The Harlem Theatre in Baltimore is one of 700 theatres throughout the world doing smash business with Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton in "The V.I.Ps," Metro - Goldwyn-Mayer's outstanding new attraction.

Harold Grott is proud to announce the booking of this much - discussed picture, the first to be made by Miss Taylor ..and Burton since their co-starring roles in "Cleopatra."

The story of "The V.I.P.s" concerns the effects on the lives of an assorted group of people when a heavy fog delays their departure from a London Airport.

It was written by the noted playwright Terence Rattigan, marking one of the few times he has written a drama directly for the screen.

'The Leopard' opens at Regent Theatre

Based on the widely acclaimed novel of the same name by Giuseppe di Lampedusa, "The Leopard," CinemaScope, DeLuxe Color Titanus production of Goffredo Lombardo directed by Luchino Visconti, is now at the Regent Theatre.

The 20th Century - Fox release stars Burt Lancaster, Alain Delon and Claudia Cardinale with an impressive cast of supporting players in a multi-million - dollar production filmed entirely in Sicily, the locale of the actual historical facts which the picture depicts.

Already in release in Europe, the picture won first prize at the last Cannes Film Festival, was shown out of competition at the Moscow Festival and opened the Montreal Film Festival in August.

'Stop the World' at National October 21

WASHINGTON

David Merrick's smash musical hit, "stop the World- I Want To Get Off," starring Kenneth Nelson, who alternated with Anthony Newley in the Broadway production, and Lesley Stewart, starts a three- week engagement at the National Theatre on Monday evening, Oct. 21, through Saturday, Nov. 2.

Matinees will be given on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Anthony Newley, who is the composer, author and director of "Stop the World," personally supervised the production coming to Washington.

This unique musical, the hit of London and New York right now, concerns a fellow named Littlechap, played by Kenneth Nelson, who is forever pursuing his Evie, impersonated by the charming Lesley Stewart, through the seven ages of men and in many countries, supported by a chorus of beauties who in Greek - style illustrate in song and choreography Littlechap's unusual and often humorous progress on this unpredictable planet of ours.

Poitier's name thumped for 'Oscar;' Damita a model

By DARCY DEMILLE

CHICAGO — (ANP) — From Hollywood to Harlem . . I don't know if busy Sidney Poitier knows it or not, but two "women - in - the - know" (where the movie business is concerned) have tabbed him for that bronze (or is it gold??) statuette ? called Oscar, come that nerve - shattering time in April when actors and actresses from around the world flock to the 'woods - of - Holly' to see just who is named best in his field.

The flick that is causing all the furor is a production that was given the title "Lilies of the Field." A low - budget picture (when compared to the much - publicized Cleopatra), this 'sleep er' of a film has already won honors for the talented Poitier.

* * *

SPEAKING OF films and such, here's a startling fact: Mickey Mouse is 35 years old!

Apparently, the revertberations that shook Birmingham following the blasting of that now historic 16th Street Baptist Church also shook a number of Hollywood stars.

Two "J"s, June (Allyson) and Judy (Garland) sat up most of the night telephoning their friends for a rush meeting.

At the gathering, it was decided that the best way to aid the grief - stricken families would be to send money for mounting hospital bills and funeral costs.

AHMAD JAMAL, who parlayed "Poincinana" into a fortune, is not only enjoying new success, but has a new wife to help him carry his money to the bank. Married for 14 years (he's now 33) to Miriam, the ship, bearded Jamal recently exchanged marriage vows with a cutie named Shirley.

Thought of as a quiet man, Jamal waxed loud and clear when quizzed about subjects "dear to my heart."

REFUSING TO define his trio's style of playing for fear of being categorized, he said:

"One of the many things wrong with music today is too many labels. It wouldn't be so bad if it was correctly labeled.

"Music's either good or bad. I try to make mine pure melodic, stimulating and technically flawless. I don't consider myself a commercial artist or a piano player — I'm a pianist."

MARK CICELY TYSON for stardom. If you saw her performance in the new television show, "East Side -West Side," you'll agree that this actress has what it takes so reach the top, and to remain there.

Singer Damita Jo has discovered there is gold in them there advertising hills. She had a lot of "payful" fun the other day modeling! — not singing — for a nationally famous bed manufacturer. That's ok. But don't give up the stage, Damita.

Famed soprano sings here on October 13

WASHINGTON

Adele Addison, one of the most highly acclaimed of American singers will appear locally for the first time on Sunday, Oct. 13 at Constitution Hall, 3 p.m.

Miss Addison is being co-sponsored by the Zion Baptist Church, 4830 Blagden Ave., NW, and Patrick Hayes and the Friday Morning Music Club.

This artist is well known across the country for her recordings, television appearances, her performances with the New York Philharmonic and Boston and other major symphonies, and her sound track performance of Bess in the motion picture "Porgy and Bess."

* * *

CURRENTLY ON her fourth cross-continent tour under the aegis of Impresario S. Hurok, the soprano has just completed a triumphant Moscow Concert Debut under the Cultural Exchange Program.

Miss Addison was brought up in Massachusetts and trained entirely in the United States. She has become something of a specialist in rare and difficult music, as well as in the regular repertory.

She was one of the American artists for whom the Ford Foundation first commissioned compositions. Her performance of the work, Lukas Foss' "Time Cycle," with the New York Philharmonic under Leonard Bernstein caused raves from the New York Times critics.
