Annapolis DOINGS

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

The Citizens Planning and Housing Association of Annapolis and Anne Arundel County passed a resolution opposing expansion of the Anne Arundel County jail at its first fall meeting recently.

The resolution, copies of which were sent to the county commissioners, Mayor Joseph H. Grisco Sr. and the City Council, reads as follows:

"Whereas the county commissioners of Anne Arundel County have made plans to expand the county jail at its present site with additional property on Calvert Street, it is hereby,

"Resolved that the Citizens Planning and Housing Association of Anne Arundel County oppose the expansion of the county jail in this area because:

"1. By expert standards of penology the property proposed for this expansion is not large enough for adequate quarters.

"2. The city of Annapolis has offered its cooperation in obtaining an adequate site at a lower cost at a suitable location.

"3. Much needed housing on the proposed site will be destroyed without provisions for relocation of the occupants.

"4. Continuation of the jail in this area will interfere with city proposals for renewal of a wilder area which this is a part, and will tend to perpetuate the present deterioration and dilapidation of housing this area."

The Rev. Warner R. Trayham, vicar of St. Phillips Episcopal Church, is vice - president, and Mrs. Mary Hemphill is treasurer of the group. The Rev. Trayham is representing the body on the city's Citizens' Advisory Committee.

THE PRE - DEBUTANTES of Delta Pi Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority are busy these days qualifying themselves for the previous standing of becoming a debutante this season when their ball will be held.

Recently the girls entertained the sponsors at the home of Dr. Faye Allen and put on a talent show of individual presentations.

Gloria Diggs, who emceed the program sang and recited a poem. Loretta Booth, Betty Ann Queen and Helen Williams modeled garments which they had made.

Barbara Brisco, Karen Evans and Agnes Jackson individually performed by doing interpretive dance numbers.

Others who participated were Gloria Howard, who recited a poem she composed; Paulette Green, an original monologue; Gwendolyn Hairston, a monologue from "Julius Caesar;" Twyla Nored, the telling of a story, and Marguerite Darden, Geraldine Warren and Carolyn White, who recited poems.

Also Patricia Turner performed in a pantomime. Cherry White gave an original two-minute oration and sang. Barbara Ann Rose played a piano solo and Shirley Herndon sang.

The show had as judges, Mrs. Effie Leftwich, Dr. Aris T. Allen and Mrs. Rose Wiseman.

The girls were outstanding and their performances were significant in one of the areas of the pre-requisites required of a debutante. This is one of several projects the girls are doing as entrees toward their coming out party.

THE NIGERIAN Embassy in Washington was the scene where hundreds of distinguished personages congregated on Tuseday evening, Oct. 1 as guests of the gracious Ambassador Udochi and Mrs. Udochi to join the min celebration of the third anniversary of the independence of Nigeria. Also on Tuesday, the country became a republic.

Over 1200 people attended the celebration, and there was great generosity in the serving of food and drink.

Among those seen about from Baltimore were Mr. Herbert Frisby and his wife, Mrs. Carrie Scott, Mrs. Liliza Robinson, Mrs. Virginia Harris, and Algernon Jackson.

It was most interesting chatting with Ralph Brown, foreign reserve officer assigned to Washington. He has served as an assistant information officer in Ghana and prior to that was associate editor of the Herald newspaper in Ethiopia.

Others we chatted with were Mrs. Richard Keifa - Caulker, wife of the Ambassador of Sierre Leone, the Baruchs (he's the nephew of the multi - millionaire, Bernard Baruch), John A. Garba, delegate to the World Monetary Fund;

High court asked to void judgment

WASHINGTON (NNPA) — The American Civil Liberties Union has urged the U. S. Supreme Court to reverse an Alabama judgment upholding $500,000 in libel awards against the New York Times and four colored leaders.

Acting as a friend of the court, the ACLU said the Alabama court's ruling violates the free exercise of speech and press as guaranteed by the First Amendment and the due process clauses of the Fourteenth Amendment.

The libel suit was brought by L. B. Sullivan, Montgomery Commissioner, after the New York newspaper ran an advertisement on March 29, 1960, appealing for funds to defend Dr. King and describing the general harassment of students at Alabama State College.

Although not mentioned by name, Sullivan claimed he was libeled because there were certain inaccuracies in two paragraphs describing police actions at the college campus and against Dr. King.

Birthday Tributes 1

WHITTINGTON — In loving memory of my loving husband and our father, EDWARD, for his birthday October 11.

God saw the road was getting hard,
The hills were hard to climb;
He said, "I'll ease your cares and woes"
And whispered: "Peace be thine."
He saw your home, but days of pain,
His weary nights are past;
His spirit left a vacant frame
Has found peace, rest, at last.

— WIFE, CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN

In Memoriams 3

BROOKS — In loving memory of our dear husband and son, HUBERT A., who passed away October 10, 1961.

When the evening shades are falling
And I am sitting all alone,
My heart then comes a longing home
To you only could come home.
Oh and oft my thoughts do wander
To your grave so far away;
Where a loved one, dearest husband
Two years ago today.

— Wife, MARY
Mother, VICLET

CALVERT — In loving memory of our son, JOHN CLANTON, who passed away October 10, 1960.

I have lost my dear husband,
I have lost my son,
A life linked with my own!

More
As we walk along
Through life's path alone.

— MRS. FANNIE

COLE — In loving memory of my dear husband and our father, DAVID COLE, who passed away October 10, 1941:

A loving sister, we lose, as rare,
The trials she went through so few could bear;
She never complained, she wasn't the kind
Her heart was the truest in all the wide world.
Her love, the best to record,
Her son an extra mile to take her place.
For she is still the dearest of all.

KEYS — In loving memory of our dear mother, BLYTHA, who passed away October 8, 1947:

We often sit and think of her

when all other things decay,
Our love for her will still keep green, and never fade away.

— Loving Children,
MABEL and LORENZO.

PRETTYMAN — In loving memory of our dear mother, VIOLETTA, who passed away October 12, 1959:

God made lots of beautiful things:
Sunset, roses, and trees
