AT THE HARLEM — The brooding Freud (Montgomery Clift) with the lovely girl (Susannah York) whose repressive secrets was the basis for his first discoveries in the field of neurotic love. The film is John Huston's "The Secret Passion," now at the Harlem. Also starred are Larry Parks and Susan Kohner.

AT THE REGENT — Paul Newman is the gallant lover, Joanne Woodward is his glamorous date—in this scene from the new Paramount Technicolor comedy "A New Kind Of Love" which is now at the Regent Theatre. Set against a background of the high fashion emporiums of Paris and New York, "A New Kind Of Love" also features Eva Gabor, Thelma Ritter, George Tobias and Maurice Chevalier.

AT THE MET — Canadian Businessman C. Wallace Floody, one of the master-minds of the great allied break from Stalag III during World War II, checks James Garner's uniform during re-enactment of the famed break for Mirisch-Alpha-UA's "The Great Escape," as Director John Sturges looks on. The film, in Color and Panavision, is held over at the Met Theatre.

THE MASONIC St. John's Day, an annual celebration honoring one of the fraternal order's patrons, was held at Peter's Methodist Church last Sunday.

Guest speaker was the Rev. William Edwards, pastor of the Church and Past Grand Master of the Mt. Olive Lodge No. 25, in Baltimore.

Other program participants included:

The Rev. Joseph Gray, David H.Thomas Jr., of the Alfred A. Young Lodge No. 99; Spencer Sewell, P. S. W. of the Victorine Lodge; Melvin Steward, Ralph Holland and Louis Harvey, W. P.

Also represented were members of the Eastern Star Rainbow Chapter No. 28.

Mesdames Doris Gray, W. M.; and Melvina Edwards, of the Rebecca Chapter No. 35, Baltimore were also present.

Remarks were made by Mrs. Laura J. Smith, P. G. D.; and the speaker was presented by Frank Hawkins.

Mrs. Rosia Lee Lake, 926 Carrollton Ave., is on the sick list and is confined to her home.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hawkins, of Owings. The proud mother is the former Miss Laura Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Smith.

The author of this column and her husband, the Rev. William Edwards, celebrated their wedding anniversary on Nov. 2.

Bridge to close

Closing of the Forty - first Street Bridge for reconstruction will necessitate a major detour for east - west traffic in the area, beginning Monday Nov. 18 at 10 a.m., Transit - Traffic Commissioner James L. Foley Jr., announced today.

Mr. Foley said both east-bound and westbound traffic will be diverted via Druid Park Dr., Clipper Ave., Union Ave. and Buena Vista Ave.

The detour will be in effect for approximately a year.

What should Soft Whiskey be?

According to the dictionary definition of soft, Soft Whiskey should be a whiskey having a soothing or quietly agreeable taste; affecting the senses in a gentle or pleasant manner.

It is.

Carver pupils help AFRO's premiere

A group of Carver Vocational-Technical High School business students this week completed a volunteer clerical project on behalf of the AFRO's Mrs. Santa charity fund.

Under the direction of Mrs. Doris Wheeler, head of the school's business department, eight clerical students researched and typed addresses of more than 300 patrons asked to participate in the AFRO charity Movie premiere of "Gone Are The Days" to be held at the Charles Theatrer on Nov. 25.

The students were supervised by business practice instructor Samuel B. Newton and Mrs. Patricia Smith and completed the project in two days. The instructors incorporated this mailing project into classroom procedures.

* * *

THE TYPING students are: Herbert Sledge, Glenn Hall, Margie Glover, Betty Hubbard, Brenda Gaskins, Linda Creech, Hiawatha Davis and Carolyn Mugar and Geneva Guy.

Two Carver seniors Bryant Davis and Carolyn Meadows have volunteered for after-school office work on the AFRO charity premiere project.

First-Run Films

'The Secret Passion' at Harlem Theatre

"In 'The Secret Passion' we have attempted to do something different and something new in story telling on the screen — we have attempted to penetrate through to the Unconscious of the Audience," says producer - director John Huston in discussing his new Universal film. "I certainly expect it to be the most controversial picture I have ever made." It is now playing at the Harlem Theater.

'New Kind of Love' playing at Regent

The romantic and fashionable city of Paris is the setting for Producer - Director Melville Shavelson's new film, "A New Kind Of Love," in Technicolor starring Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward.

This extremely funny comedy is now playing at the Regent Theatre to enthusiastic audiences which seem to be enjoying themselves immensely.

MUSICAL MOMENTS

Henderson, Morris Queen Chorale featured in Sharon Baptist concert

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Clarence E. Henderson, baritone, and The Morris Queen Chorale, shared honors at a recent concert sponsored by the Senior Choir of Sharon Baptist Church.

Mr. Henderson was in excellent voice, combining interpretations of integrity with polished technic. His ease and dignity were not marred by any distracting mannerisms, as he utilized experienced musicianship and well trained vocal equipment in conveying the meaning of each composition.

Audrey C. McCallum provided her usual experienced support at the piano.

For choral excellence the Morris Queen Ensemble has long held a top position among the community groups of the city.

With the change in personnel (the Chorale is 10 years old) that is the experience of all groups, Mr. Queen has succeeded this season in welding together his singers into a well balanced warmly responsive choir.

Accompanying the Chorale in several numbers was young Ronald Franklin, pianist for the Senior Choir and a promising young musician.

Miss Mildred Williams, directress of the Senior Choir; Mrs. Geraldine Grinner, president, and the choir, joined with Dr. James Moore, pastor, in hosting at an informal reception after the concert.

* * *

WITH A listing of over 2,000 patrons a signal success was marked by the Broadway Theatrical Extravaganza, which was sponsored by the Oblate Sisters of Providence earlier in the season at the Lyric.

Conducted by Clyde Turner, the program was admirably planned with varied appeal of grand and light opera, art songs, a Broadway musical and folk music.

Gordon R. Watkins, a native Baltimorean, was heard in several baritone solos in the Calypso folk cycle and high lights from "Finian's Rainbow".

Geraldine Overstreet, soprano, and Aaron White tenor, sang the highly dramatic duet from the final act of the opera "Aida" - " Terra Addio" (Farewell, O Earth).

German art songs, a Bach aria and the well known "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from the opera "Samson and Delilah" were offered by Phyllis Bash, mezzo soprano.

The third and final part of the program was devoted to freedom and dedicated to the 100th anniversary of the. Emancipation Proclamation. Wanza King, baritone, starred in James Weldon Johnson's "Creation" and de Cormier's arrangement of "If I Had a Hammer".

The production concluded with a trio and chorus from the opera "Porgy and Bess".

* * *

MAIL-BOX Jessye Coston, promising Baltimore singer and a junior at Westminster Choir College, was elected president of the Student chapter of MENC (Music Educators National Conference).

The gifted baritone, who graduated from City College in 1960 was a member of the C. C. Glee Club. His preparatory study in voice was done at the Peabody Prep.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Coston.

Calendar: Saturday Nov. 16 at 1:30 p.m. at the Lyric, the second concert of the Pop Series with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Eliyakum Shapira, with Gladys Callahan, soprano, and Frank Whitmore, baritone, as guest soloists.

Sunday, Nov. 17 at 3 p.m. in the Murphy Fine Arts Auditorium, Morgan State College, Ruth and Naomi Segal, twin duo-pianists in the first concert of the Music Hall Series.

At 4:30 p.m. in First Presbyterian Church, Madison and Park Ave., a sacred concert with Donald King, organist, and Betty Lou LeBrun, soprano.

At 8 p.m. in the Kraushaar Auditorium of Goucher College Center, Roland Hayes, tenor of international fame, in the second recital of the annual Concert Series.

At 8:30 p.m. in the Jewish Community Center, 5700 Park Heights Ave., Ruslana Antonovicz, pianist.

Special shows on 'Black Nativity'

There will be two performances tonight (Friday) of "Black Nativity" the award-winning musical hit now playing at Ford's Theatre.

A special performance at 7 p.m. should help suburbanites.

They will be out of the theatre by 9 p.m.

The second performance will start at 9:30 p.m. and the final curtain will come down at 11:30.

WEBB files appeal for 24-hr. license

Radio Station WEBB has filed an appeal to the review Board of the Federal Communications Commission seeking a reversal of an adverse decision on its request for a 24 hour license.

Now operating on a daytime basis, WEBB had filed application for the 24 hour license with the FCC contending there was a need for its services in the community.

In refusing to grant the request, Basil P. Cooper, the hearing examiner, noted that WEBB had made "an exceptionally strong case" but that because of "technical difficulties" in the proposal "the public interests convenience and necessity will not be served" by granting the application.

'Great Escape' at Met stars McQueen

A faithful film re-enactment of the greatest mass escape from a military prison in the annals of warfare, the famed actual break from Germany's maximum security camp the notorious Stalag IH by 76 allied airmen during World War II, is the subject of the Mirisch - Alpha presentation "The Great Escape" in Color by Deluxe and Panavision held over at the Met Theatre.

This United Artists release literally has a cast of thousands, headed by Steve McQueen, James Garner and Richard Attenborough.

Music Guild states recital

The Eastwide Music Guild sponsors its second annual recital presenting Miss Elaine Taylor, lyric soprano, accompanied by Miss Carol Taylor, at Christ Methodist Church, Washington and Chase Sts., Sunday at 5 p.m.
