I weep for more than a President

Typical of the "mourning" that will occur is the talk here in D. C. to rename the local stadium; the John F. Kennedy Stadium. I expect the country will be doing this kind of thing for many months to come, certainly as long as it takes to absolve their national guilt.

I am sure the biggest memorial will be built in Dallas, Tex. Many people will feel this is justifiable, for they harbored the viper that was the tool in this assassination plot.

• • •

MAYBE R. L. HUNT will donate the memorial for the city.

Dallas was the city that "protected" the President, and did an excellent job of "protecting" Lee Oswald. I only hope the police department in Dallas doesn't have anymore friends they allow to freely enter the station, and mingle with newspapermen and secret service men, and easily kill a security prisoner!

• • •

THIS PARTICULAR part of the assassination plot caused many people to suspect that Lee Oswald was supposed to die. Supposedly, the country will never know who manipulated Lee Oswald.

We are not suppose to know who paid Lee Oswald's bills when he did not work, who paid his income taxes, who paid for his trip to Mexico, who arranged for him to move from New Orleans to Texas, and how he managed to get a job so quickly once in Texas!

While we are "mourning" his death, building memorials, naming our babies John F. Kennedy, and otherwise assuaging our guilt, what are we doing about the General Walkers, and other rightists societies which has probably infiltrated this government to a far greater degree than any American is willing to admit?

What about the murderers of the four little girls in Birmingham, the slayer of Medgar Evers who at the suggestion of his lawyer will be tried by a jury of his Mississippi peers!

• • •

IN THE MIDST of our grief, are we going to continue to allow rightists to tell school children to report their teachers if the teachers do not hue to the organization line.

What are we going to do about the people who are flooding this country with hate literature?

When are these groups going to be investigated? If the NAACP was once called "subversive," might not these rightists groups be as subversive, or is it that the card carrying members are too important to be touched, because they represent a cross section of the economic, social and political milieu of this country?

History indicates that few assassins, and/or those who have attempted assassination have represented a plot by a subversive group.

• • •

BUT, SHORT of the period before and after the Civil War, has this country ever been so divided? Are we not divided on the same issue of a 100 years ago, how to handle the color question.

The British press refers to America's color question as "the rock on which American must stand or fall!"

They are right.

Since this issue is one of such great, and far reaching magnitude might not the forces that seek to keep a status quo country organize and plot the assassination of a President?

• • •

AND IF A group would plot the assassination of a President, then is President Lyndon Johnson safe? Is Robert Kennedy safe? Is any one safe when a President can be shot?

• • •

THESE ARE THOUGHTS that come to a reporter who is frightened by the insideous influence that rightists are exerting in this country, who is very frightened to the point of tears by the implications of the Kennedy assassination.

At this death, I feel much the same way the liberal southern representative feels who encountered a congressman from Mississippi on the Friday that Kennedy was murdered in downtown Dallas.

"Well, I hope you damn rightists are satisfied. Now you've killed him!"

TWO SENIORS of Bates High School from Annapolis were among the group. They were Miss Angela Bryant, the daughter of Mrs. Anna Mae Bryant, and Miss Mary Jean Brown, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown.

The two girls were lovely in their gowns. Angela wore a white taffeta gown, the bodice of which was tight-fitting and strapless. The very full and long hoop skirt was designed at the back with a large double bustle. She wore a single strand of pearls and long white gloves.

Mary Jean's gown was made of white satin. The bodice was trimmed at the front of the serena neckline in bugle beads and plunged in the back with a bow at the back with a bow at the waistline.

Emphasis on the skirt was the fullness which fell at the back. She wore long white gloves and a single strand of pearls.

Prior to the ball the girls were orientated by experts in a charm school for eight weeks. Mrs. Ruthye Corley, professional in her field, conducted sessions in personality, visual poise, make-up, skin care, figure development, wardrobe and social graces.

Mrs. Laura Hillyer taught scalp care; Mrs. Clarice Mason, director of the Voguettes, social graces, and Mr. Antonio Teixtria, dance teacher and director, social graces.

• • •

THE SCROLL of honor presented this year for the first time included Mr. and Mrs. James A. Mitchell (he's the attorney), Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gayle, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Teixtria, Lt. Col. and Mrs. James Hurd, Mesdames Eloise Richardson, Herbert Clinton, Moses Bowers, Charlotte Denson and the Royal Clothiers.

With Christmas approaching most people have started directing their attention to Christmas preparations. Among them is Baltimore's post master, William F. Laukaitis.

In a public a peal last week, Mr. Laukaitis stated he expected a record to be set this year for mailing of Christmas cards and gifts.

He has also requested the cooperation of the public in the annual "Mail Early for Christmas" Campaign.

"Schedule your Christmas mailings so that all of your cards and gift packages going to most distant points are mailed by December 10," Mr. Laukaitis requested.

"Those for local destinations should be mailed at least a week before Christmas."

• • •

SPECIAL ATTENTION should be given to the following suggests, according to he post master:

1. Be sure that each address on your Christmas list is complete with full name, street and number, city, state and zone or ZIP Code number.

2. Be sure to wrap your gift packages with heavy wrapping paper, corrugated cartons, strong cord and adhesive tape.

3. Procure FREE labels from your nearest post office which say "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR OUT-OF-TOWN DELIVERY", so that you can sort Christmas cards into two groups.

Don't forget to put a return address on all cards and packages.

Students to seek

Baltimore Junior College's Student Government Association has approved he collection of funds for a Christmas gift to Provident Hospital, on Tuesday and Wednesday.
