Kay Waller-James Harkless united by President Emeritus

Miss Barbara Kay Waller, daughter, of Dr. and Mrs. Charles J. Waller, became the bride of James Harkless, 32-year-old National Labor Relations Board lawyer on Sat. Nov. 23 at the Sampson Memorial Methodist Church at high noon.

They were united in a double ring ceremony by Dr. Mordecai Johnson, President Emeritus of Howard University.

THE BRIDE, sparkling and lovely despite the grim, dreary downpour of rain wore a floor length off-white gown of peau de soir. The bodice was covered by a detachable jacket of chantilly lace which bottoned in the back.

Her reddish hair, done in a simple coiffeur was covered by a lace coronet crown decorated with seed pearls. It ended in a chapel train of silk illusion.

The bride's "something borrowed" was the simple strand of cultured pearls from Hong Kong from her sister, the matron of honor, Mrs. Harry Orlow Bright.

HER BRIDESMAIDS in jade velveteen were Mrs. Anna Faith Johnson, daughter of the minister who married them; and Miss Dorothy La Guardia. The gowns were floor length, and each wore an open crown hat with short veils falling midway their faces.

THE BEST man to the groom, who was formerly in private practice in Boston, a counselor for a subcommittee of the House Education and Labor Committee and is a graduate of Harvard University, and the Harvard Law School in 1955, was his schoolmate Walter Carrington.

It was feared a few weeks before the wedding that Mr. Carrington would not be able to act as best man due to an expected assignment with the Peace Corps which would rington would not be able to act as best man due to an expected assignment with the Peace Corp which would take him out of the country.

THE US HERS were Herman Carter IUE organizer; Bruce Davidson, a reporter for the Boston Globe; Lewis Naples, Commissioner for the Massachusetts Arbitration and Conciliation Board; Cornelius Hastie, an Episcopal minister in Boston; and Richard Banks, Special Assistant to the Governor of Massachusetts.

THE RECEPTION was held at the Sheraton Carlton, immediately following the ceremony.

The receiving line at the Sheraton Carlton Hotel, where the reception was held caused some comment. Not only was it colorful, but many noticed how much the bride favored her mother, Mrs. Charles J. Waller and how charming was the bride groom's mother here from Detroit. Mrs. Ethel Harkless.

Among the guests who sipped champagne, and listened to the excellent music of Tee Carson and his trio were relatives of the bride groom, were Mrs Ceswa Hogue, and her daughter Sharon; and Mrs. Necia Nembhard from Detroit also, the bride groom's hometown.

The bride's relatives were Dr. Harbert Marshall and Mrs. Audrey A. Ryan, both cousins; and an uncle, De-Witt Waller.

The new Mrs. James Harkless is a staff assistant with the American Friends of the Middle East. Prior to her present position, she taught German at Morgan State College for 5 years.

She attended the Northfield School for Girls in New England and graduate from Howard University in 1954. She received her master's degree from Columbia University, which was followed by a year of study from the University of Munich.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a 10-day honeymoon in New York. They will reside in Southwest.

• • • •

SOME OF the guests were members of New Frontier who could talk of little else than the assassination of the President the day before. They were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kitchen, Mrs. and Mrs. Roger Wilkins Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Baiber, Judge Marjorie Yawson and her husband Belford Lawson.

Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Dillard of Richmond; the president of Virginia State College and Mrs. Robert Daniel; Dr. and Mrs. Henry Stratton and their daughter, Sylvia; Dr. Durward Hughes and Mrs. Dudley Moore and others.

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced that applications will be discontinued for the position of equipment specialist, GS-7 through GS-12 in specialized area No. 5, electronics.

Veal Blintzes

For an unusual and economic meat dish, try these Veal Blintzes Kempinski.

Veal Blintzes Kempinski are made with one-half pound veal, roasted and ground, one-third cup yogurt, one-half teaspoon salt; Dash, pepper, sixteen slices enriched bread, three tablespoons milk and one and one-half tablespoons melted butter or margarine.

COMBINE ground cooked veal, yogurt, salt and pepper. Cut a (three and one-half inch) circle from each bread slice, using a cookie cutter. For each "blintz," make a sandwich of two bread circles and two tablespoons of veal filling.

Before assembling, and to hold blintz together, brush edges of facing bread circles with about one teaspoon of the milk. With fingers, press together gently but firmly the edges of "blintz"; so meat is sealed inside.

Yield: four servings—two Veal Blintzes Kempinski per serving.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly, and, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Warfel gets 10 yrs. in death of soldier

William Warfel, 23-year-old Anne Arundel County rigger, was convicted this week of voluntary manslaughter and sentenced to 10 years in Federal prison.

An all-white male jury found Warfel guilty of the July 5 shotgun murder of a Mexican soldier, stationed [illegible]

Rodriquez was killed during a racial clash between a white gang of teenagers in the Boomtown section of Hanover, in Anne Arundel County.

The young soldier, according to Robert Kernan, deputy U.S. District Attorney, was killed during an altercation involving him, two colored soldier-friends and the white gang.

One of the soldiers: Sp. 5 Connis Hubbard, testified that Warfel shot Rodriquez to death after overtaking a car in which they (the soldiers) were riding on the premises of Fort Meade.

The shooting, Hubbard said, climaxed a three-day dispute which grew out of their efforts to get service in a segregated bar on July 3.

Warfel and a car load of teenagers expressed resentment when they sought service at the bar according to Hubbard and when they drove through the area after attending several parties in Baltimore on July 4, the altercation was resumed ending in death for the young Mexican soldier.

Claiming self defense, Warfel said he fired the gun "in the air" in an effort to "scare them," and did not intend to "hurt anybody."

During cross examination by the government, Warfel admitted that he had "chastized" a freedom rider who took part in an anti-segregation protest demonstration.

A prosecution witness who was riding with Warfel at the time of the fatal shooting, quoted the defendant as saying "you... n r, you have had it now," before opening fire with the shotgun, which he had "test - fired" earlier.

Mr. Kernan had asked for a first degree murder verdict which would have brought a mandatory sentence of death or life imprisonment, but the jury returned the lesser degree aft-

School No. 114 plans bazaar

Plans for a spring bazaar was the principal topic of discussion last week at the first parent - teachers meeting of the Harriet Tubman Elementary School No. 114.

New faculty members were also introduced to the parents by the PTA president, Mrs. Bernice Brooks.

The proceeds from the bazaar will be used to purchase books for the school library, according to Mrs. Charlotte Tavers chairman of the publicity committee.

Mrs. Tavers also stated that several of the parents volunteered to serve as school aides by taking charge of classes while teachers attend meetings and by helping administer the eye-test to pupils.

YWCA to open center for senior citizens in project

The Baltimore Young Women's Christian Association will formally open a new YWCA Senior Citizen Center in the recently dedicated George B. Murphy Homes at George St. and Myrtle Ave. on Monday, Dec. 2 at 10 a.m.

Open house will be held by the YWCA from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 2 to 4 p.m. for civic leaders, community agency groups, residents of the George B. Murphy Homes and neighbors from the surrounding area.

The Center will be open for program geared to the needs of the elderly five days a week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. under the supervision of YWCA staff director, Mrs. Viola Talliaferro.

The Baltimore Urban Renewal and Housing Agency dedicated the $10,000,000 project in ceremonies Nov. 7.

THE YWCA senior Citizen's Center, according to Mrs. Norman M. Gross, president of the Baltimore YWCA, is a pilot project of this Community Chest Agency.

Mrs. Talliaferro pointed out that the center consists of an office for the director and two large rooms, one of which is furnished as a lounge, and the other is not only for residents of the Murphy Homes, but also for all senior citizens in the neighborhood. Right now we are forming a checkers club, a choral group, a gardening club, and other special interest groups."

for meetings and other planned events.

There are sewing machines available, table games, shuffleboard, a record player, television, piano, movie projector and screen, ceramic kilns, and a complete kitchen for special luncheons and dinners.

"We plan to offer quality program in depth," she said, "according to the needs and wishes of the elderly. Our YWCA center is open

Man fined $10 in Traffic Court

"Mr. Meek, you pleaded guilty and I find you guilty," said Judge Aaron Baer, presiding at the 9 a. m. session of Traffic Court Wednesday. "$10 suspended."

Prior to the decision of Judge Baer, James A. Meek Jr., 42, 5000 block Ready Ave., had pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving.

He had been accused of backing into an automobile driven by James J. Rowe, 22, 3000 block 2nd St. who was also charged with reckless driving.

A traffic officer testified that Mr. Meek had been involved in the accident at Light and Baltimore Sts. last month.

MR. MEEK, an employee of the post office, had been driving a mail truck at the time the accident occurred.

He testified, "I looked in the mirror but I did not see Mr. Rowe's car. The first time I saw the car was when I struck it.

"When I got out of the truck I asked him why he had not blown his horn. He said he did not have time."

Mr. Rowe who did not testify, was found not guilty by Judge Baer.

Social Security

By WILLIAM THOMAS

WASHINGTON

Life is full of deadlines. Failing to meet some of these deadlines may cause loss of jobs, failure of a business, or even the loss of lives when needed health measures are put off too long.

How does this affect your Social Security? Failing to meet the deadline of checking up on your Social Security at age 65 may cost you money, and sometimes this can amount to thousands of dollars.

The reason for this is that regardless of how much you earn, there are times when all or some benefits can be paid; but they can only be paid for one year retroactive to your effective filing date for benefits.

Therefore, a person could file his Social Security claim when he is 65, 66, or later and lose some benefits for two, three, or four years back.

MOST OLDER people cannot afford to miss the deadline of checking on their Social Security at age 65, or even at age 62 when earnings are low. While it is true that a person asking for the benefits before age 65 is paid at a reduced rate, by checking on his Social Security early he can determine just how much of a reduced rate it will amount to and if it is desirable to wait until age 65.

Of course, everyone age 65 or over should think about applying for benefits. There is little advantage in waiting until age 72, at which age all benefits are paid regardless of earnings.

Most likely there are thousands of persons who are waiting until age 72 before inquiring about their Social Security. By doing so many of these people will lose thousands of dollars in the intervening years.
