By ELOISE RICHARDSON

Christmas is a time for giving and certainly helping to make needy children happy is a noble act. The Department of Welfare of Anne Arundel County knows over 1,000 children who will have no Christmas gifts unless the public answers their need.

SYC, a project sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Severna Park for these children, is a plan which coordinates Christmas giving in their behalf.

Very similar to Santa Claus Anonymous in Baltimore, those who want to provide Christmas for them may send money and each child will then be sent a merchandise order for $3.00, redeemable for a toy or clothing.

Contributions to SYC should be mailed to P.O. Box 524, Severna Park. Mrs. Esther Holahan is director of the agency. On the committee from the sponsoring organization are Messes. James Doyle, Philbert Evans and Thomas L. Carter, Jr.

Mrs. Estelle E. Rutherford, Director of Volunteer Services of the Department of Mental Hygiene, will speak at the mid-year meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of Crownsville State Hospital.

A REAL TREAT is in store for the public on Sunday, Dec. 22, when the Senior Choir of Mt. Zion Methodist Church presents its annual Christmas Choral Concert at 6 p.m. Miss M. Henrietta Thompson, minister of music, is director of the group. Rev. R. S. Abernethy is pastor.

Emerson Eugene Brown, the son of Rev. and Mrs. Emerson Euyene Brown, Eastport area, was recently promoted Histopathological technician by the U.S. Department of the Interior. His work is with the Patuxent Wildlife Research Center at Laurel, Md.

Brown is a June 1963 graduate of Central State College at Wilberforce, Ohio, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology.

He was educated at Eastport Elementary and Bates High School, and he is a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc.

His wife, Mrs. Lynda Mills Brown, a native of Jefferson City, Tenn., also a June 1963 graduate of Central State College, received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology.

The William H. Richardsons were Thanksgiving holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Laws at Dover, Del. Other dinner guests were Mrs. William Matthews and baby son, William II, and Mrs. Allie Holly of Wilmington, Del.

Mrs. Matthews, the former Cherrita Laws, the daughter of the hosts is in the states visiting her parents. She is living abroad in France where her husband is stationed with the Air Force.

Mrs. William H. Richardson had as guests on Saturday, Mrs. Jacqueline Ziegler, sculptor, and Mrs. Albert I. Cassell, both of Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Ziegler, who was educated in Europe and the United States, is commissioned to do work for the Art Gallery of New York City. She leaves for Nigeria in the next few weeks to join her husband, a Peace Corps executive and where she will pursue further study and work in African

Progress is slow—Wilkins

We are no closer to the ideal of the Bill of Rights than we were last year, said Roy W. Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, at Morgan State College, Wednesday.

Mr. Wilkins spoke to a Bill of Rights Day college assembly.

Prior to his speech, Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, president of Morgan read a citation of an honorary degree awarded Mr. Wilkins in June.

Mr. Wilkins was in a Mississippi jail during the official graduation ceremonies.

The importance of Bill of Rights Day, noted Mr. Wilkins, is that the current racial crisis is a direct outcome of courts implementing the constitution.

* * *

IN SPITE of "this climate of defiance of guarantees of the Bill of Rights," of political chicanery, of contempt for legal petitions, of violence of a reticent Congress, Mr. Wilkins expressed optimism for eventual adherence to the "principles (of) our great heritage of freedom."

"It could be that our role," he said, "as colored Americans is to furnish in the middle twentieth Century, the new and more lasting vindication of the Bill of Rights."

Mr. Wilkins also replied to a speech made by S. B. Fuller, a colored cosmetics manufactures, before the National Association of Manufacturers in which thelatter denied that the colored man was being kept back by the lack of civil rights, but by the lack of initative, courage, ect.

"Mr. Fuller slanders the great body of colored citizens in this nation" Mr. Wilkins declared.

"They have shown courage and persistance and determination against the kind of odds no gambler would accept. They have fought and overcome handicaps that no man should be called upon to face."

He also attacked Fuller's assertion that the there is no color bar in America, by pointing out incidents in which such barries are apparent.

"The kindest thing to say about Mr. Fuller is that he simply does not know what he is talking about," Mr. Wilkins said.

'Excellent character' aids man in death case

An "excellent character," coupled with circumstances surrounding the shooting, brought freedom in Criminal Court Thursday for Merrill McClain, 66, 1900 block W. Saratoga St., on a murder charge.

Mr. McClain, a barber, was found guilty by Judge Charles D. Harris of manslaughter in the fatal shooting Aug. 27 of Mrs. Josephine Maddox, 38, his stepdaughter, but received a suspended sentence.

Testimony revealed that the shooting occured when Mr. McClain admonished Mrs. Maddox for severely beating her child, who at the time was less than two years old.

Judge Harris was told the two had argued on previous instances, when the young mother had beat her child.

* * *

AMOS I. MEYERS, attorney for Mr. McClain, pointed out his client was of excellent character, had not been in trouble before, and the shooting occurred during the heat of a situation where he was trying to protect the child from harmful after effects.

Judge Harris, in freeing the accused man, said he was not imposing a sentence "because of the circumstances surrounding the beating of the child."

Mrs. Maddox, who lived at the Saratoga St. address, was shot twice in the left chest and in the hip, and died Sept. 3 at University Hospital.

Miss Flanagan wed

By MARIAM CAMPBELL

The formal wedding of Miss Frances Flanagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Flanagan, and Raymond Jolley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jolley, all of Baltimore, took place Dec. 7 at Gethesemane Baptist Church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Oliver F. Page.

The bride wore a gown of white peau de soir, trimmed with appliqued lace and sequins, with a jewel neckline, tulip-shaped elbow-length sleeves, and a cathedral train.

Her long illusioned veil was attached to a sequined pillbox headdress and she carried a bouquet of roses.

Mrs. Lindwood Bridgeforth was her matron of honor. Her bridesmaids were Misses Arlene and Angela Flanagan, sisters of the bride, Misses Peggy Parker, Barbara Allen and Barbara Cox.

* * *

MORRIS THROWER SR. of NYC was the best man. The ushers included Howard Rawlinge, Joseph Montgomery, David Campbell, Alton Warren, Wilbur Flanagan Jr., brother of the bride and Wayman Henry of NYC.

Little Miss Susanne Flanagan, sister of the bride, was the flower girl, and Master Morris Thrower Jr. of NYC was the ringbearer.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of Morgan State College. She is on the faculty of Clifton Park Jr. High School.

The bridegroom attended Morgan State College and was just discharged from the U.S. Army as a First Lieutenant.

Following a trip to NYC Mr. and Mrs. Jolley will live on Liberty Heights Ave.

Club News

The Spock-Ettes, member of the Baltimore Child Study Association, are readying for the annual Kiddie Christmas Party. The committee for this are Mrs. Carolyn Hawkins, Vivian Madison and Ruth Hunt.

This group is also making plans for a luncheon card party in March. Entertainment will include a fashion show, and the dance groups of Mrs. Vivian Madison and Shirley Stewart.

Mrs. Ponjala Priest, LeAnna Webster, Shirley Stewart and Vivian Madison are responsible for the details of this affair.

The Spock-Ettes are headed by Mrs. Shirley Stewart, assisting her is Mrs. Eleanor Tildon.

Dance Notes

The Hospital House Staff of Sinai gave a fall dance — The Mardi Gras — at the Zamaski Auditorum in the hospital.

The prize for best costume was awarded to Dr. and Mrs. Edward (Ruth) Hunt. They were garbed in the authentic Indian Chief and his squaw outfits — mocassins, head pieces, jewelry and the like.

Tiny Tot World

On Sunday, Dec. 1, James Priest Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. James Priest (Ponjola) was christened, at the eleven o'clock service at Cornerstone Baptist Church, by Dr. I. Logan Kearse.

God-parents of the child are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Matthews (LeMoyne). The senior God-mother is Mrs. Bertha West, baby's great-aunt.

Later, at his parents' home there was a cocktail and card party, through which Master James slept.

Present were the Godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Liston George, Drs. and Mrs. Stanley Madison, Ernest Brown and Archie Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hutchins of Grantley Rd. are proud of the new heir, Kenneth Charles.

Mrs. Hutchins is the former Waltervie Dockery of Morristown, Tenn. and a graduate of Coppin State Teachers College. Mr. Hutchins is an engineer at Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

Kenneth Charles' paternal grandparents are Mrs. Bertha Hutchins and the late Richard Hutchins of Baltimore. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dockery, the morticians of Morristown, Tenn., are his maternal grandparents.

New Homes

We wish to extend best wishes to the following persons in their new homes.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Knight (Bettye) on Gilray Drive, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Lamb Jr. (Norma) on Winston Ave., Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown (Lorraine) on Carliview Rd., Dr. and Mrs. James Priest on Granada, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Willis (Noel) on Over T T Willis (Noel) on Overland Ave. in Morgan Park.

May you have as much fun living in your homes as you had trouble finding them.

DISC JOCKEY OF THE WEEK

The Top Ten

KITTY BROODY

WWIN Radio's Gospel disc jockey, Mrs. Kitty Broady, formerly with WANN, Annapolis, is heard Monday through Friday from 12:30 to 2 p.m.

Although she has only been on the Baltimore airwaves for a relatively short time, her program is becoming very popular with adult audiences.

Kitty originally started out to be a singer and studied music and voice at City College, New York, and the famour Julliard School of Music.

An illness ended what was a promising career and she switched to interior decoration which she is actively engaged in when she isn't on the air.

She also studied dramatics under the late Sheldon Haskins and acted in various plays with the Penthouse Players of New York.

She is one of the few colored personalities in the American Women In Radio and Televlsion organization.

Her hobbies are designing and making her own clothes. She is married and the mother of two fine boys.

Kitty also doubles in brass as the Traffic Manager of WWIN.

Listed are Kitty's top ten records of the week:

1. "How Great Thou Art" — James Cleveland
2. "I'm Ready to Serve the Lord" — The Caravans
3. "No Coward Soldier"— The Caravans
4. "He Lifted Me" — Myrtle Jackson
5. "God will take care of you" — Harmonizing Four
6. "Is your all on the Altar?" — Gospel Harmonettes
7. "I'm Grateful" — Roberta Martin Singers
8. "Bedside of a Neighbor" —Dixie Hummingbirds.
9. "Do you hear what I hear?" — Alabama Christian Movement For Human Rights Choir.
10. "Too Close" — The Staple Singers.
