Mrs. Diggs hostess to Goldsboro guests

by Eloise Richardson

Mrs. George Diggs, (Beulah) gay widow and popular counselor at Bates High School, opened her beautiful home during the Christmas holidays to friends, honoring her house guests, Mrs. Horace Canady (Ida) and her children, Horace Edward and James Leroy Canady of Goldsboro, N.C.

The spacious recreation room, with its comfortable furnishings was filled with Christmas warmth and gaiety. The large mirror on the wall behind the bar was topped by a starshaped electric blinker with huge decorative Christmas balls which hung like puppets in mid-air.

On each end of the bar were miniature aluminum Christmas tree and tall red lighted electric candles, which were spashed with silver and had poinsettias at the bases.

The table was laden with a big assortment of finger foods, cocktail dips and relishes and the main dish was a shrimp casserole.

MRS. CANADY received gifts from Mrs. King, Mrs. Hilliard, Mrs. Richardson and Eta Eta Lambda Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity.

She was a dinner guest of another sister, Mrs. Ethel Thompson in Eastport, guest of Mrs. Richardson at lunch, an out-of-town guest as the fraternity's New Year Eve party and also the New Year Eve party of Dr. Faye Allen.

Mrs. Canady is a speech therapist with the Board of Education at Goldsboro.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Diggs and Mrs. Rogers hosted a gay party for the Canady children with the Rogers twins, Chris and Sherri. They were assisted by Mesdames Delores Queen and Yetta Jackson of Washington.

The children enjoyed music on records and dancing and as usual were delighted over all the goddies that children look forward to at parties... punch, sandwiches, cookies, ice cream, candies and nuts.

THE NICEST courtesy to be extended to your columnist in 1963 was the presentation made to her by the Colored Women's Democratic Campaign Committee of

The group presented me a citation at its lovely Christmas party on December 14 as an award of appreciation for "outstanding achievement in intercultural and intergroup relation among Democratic women of the city of Baltimore and the state of Maryland."

The body credited me with having caused the United Democratic Women's Clubs to change their policy and accept colored women into their organization for the first time in the history of the state of Maryland.

Mrs. Eleanor Anderson of Baltimore, a tireless worker in politics, also was cited because she followed up and took advantage of the opportunity for the group.

This gesture on the part of this committee was "bigger in scope" than the committee realized. The committee also played a big part in helping to bring this about, and labeled itself being made up of women of vision, race pride (so needed during this crucial period), and demonstrated the importance of appreciating our own people in their cause. Mrs. Victorine Adams is chairman of the committee.

"economically exploited people."

Earlier in the week, Oliver Singleton, regional director of the AFL-CIO, blasted statements issued by the Laundry Baltimore which claimed that and Dry Cleaning Institute of city laundries belonging to the Institute pay average wages of over $1 per hour.

Mr. Singleton objected to this announcement, declaring that "there are too many laundry workers in the city of Baltimore who are earning a pauper's wage."

The union official said many workers were being paid no more than 60 cents an hour.

A $25,000 PAYMENT on a $60,000 pledge to the Provident Hospital Development Fund was made by Jerold Hoffberger to Samuel Hecht, left, George L. Russell Jr. co-chairman, and Louis J. Grasmick, right, associate chairman of the fund. The Hoffberger interests, including the National Brewing Co., Baltimore Transfer Co., Pompeian Olive Oil Corp., the Solarine Co. and the Merchants Terminal Corp., have long been identified with building programs for Baltimore's hospitals and made substantial grants to Johns Hopkins, Sinai, Marcy and South Baltimore General.

News from Eastside

By CHARLOTTE DOWNIE

Our Good Neighbor of the week is pleasant Mrs. Gladys H. Stewart, widow of the late Samuel Stewart, a prominent eastsider and founder of several East Baltimore Fraternal organizations.

Mrs. Stewart, a teacher at School No. 135, resides in the 1600 block of Ashland Ave.

Our neighbor is the mother of one daughter, lovely Gladys Jr., a 9th grade student at Lombard Junior School.

Mrs. Stewart is one of our eastside's most active citizens. In addition to her teaching duties she manages to find time to be president of the East Baltimore Club Auxiliary, secretary of the Eastern Community - Police Relations Council, members NAACP, NEA, PSTA and Maryland Teacher Group.

Among her hobbies are playing Bridge and Pinchole. Her favorite color is blue, verse from the Bible 121 Psalm and favorite hymn is "Near The Cross."

CONGRATULATIONS are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Jacob A. Handy of Washington, D.C., who will celebrate their 64th wedding anniversary on Jan. 11.

They are the parents of Mrs. Gladys H. Stewart (our god neighbor); Mrs. Ione Johnson, a housewife; Miss Maizie Handy, placement secretary at Jacobi Hospital, Bronx, N. Y.; and one son George L. Handy, chief procurement officer for SHAPE who resides in Paris, France.

REALLY doing it up grand for the holidays were the members of the Royal Moonbeams and the Elegant Ladies Savings Clubs.

The members tossed a was "tops." These busy eastsiders are well known for their charity work in the community.

The party climaxed their last charity projects of 1963.

During the festivities the president announced that the Royal Moonbeams had completed the last payment on their $100 pledge to the Provident Hospital Development Fund .... also the Elegant Ladies presented five Christmas baskets to the AFRO's Mrs. Santa to be given to some needy families (Well Done Pals).

Members having fun included Mesdames Marie Smallwood, Viola Jones, Ida Petty, Alberta Barrett, Elsie Knight, Sarah Scott and Anna Warren.

Joining in the fun were Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Jones Jr., Misses Margaret Scott and Roberta Green.

John Hutton, Robert Peterson, Gaylord Barnes, William Barrett, Leon Scott, and William Smallwood.

Ruling due extradition in Cauthen

SPOKANE, Wash. — Charles Will Cauthen, 26, who escaped from a Georgia prison three days before he was scheduled to be executed, may learn this week if he's to be returned to the Peach Sae.

Warden residents have rallied around Cauthen, appealing to Gov. Albert D. Rosellini to reject Georgia's extradition request.

The young man was sentenced to death on Feb. 23, 1959. He was convicted of killing a white service station operator at Griffin, Ga. He has been in Spokane County Jail since his arrest at Warden last August.

Cauthen's attorneys contend he should not be returned because the Georgia conviction was illegal.

The attorney explained that colored were excluded from jury duty in the case, that force was used to get a confession and evidence used in the trial was obtained illegally.

A GOOD CITIZEN is registered to VOTE. Do so today. Next primary election is May 1964. Register at Supervisor of Elections Office, Fayette and Gay Sts.

PENN POINTS

"Penn Points" is a new column with a few new . . . a few old . . . a few informative and a few "just-for-fun" facts about the place where you live . . . wonderful Pennsylvania!

Ask any Pennsylvania schoolboy . . . he'll tell you Gettysburg is the site of the most important battle of the Civil War, where Union Forces under General George Gordon Meade, defeated the flower of the Confederacy led by General Robert E. Lee.

And every fifth grade pupil knows that Lincoln delivered his immortal Gettysburg Address on this famous battlefield. Some may even know the date . . . November 19, 1863.

Recently, Gettysburg acquired fresh fame when former President Dwight D. Eisenhower retired to his home on the edge of the battlefield.

But, how many people . . . young or old . . . can tell you that Gettysburg is the heart of Pennsylvania's largest apple-producing county!

William Penn spelled Pennsylvania "Pensilvania".

"Sweet" Pennsylvania is one of the leading states in the production of Maple Sugar and Syrup — The leading maple counties in the state are Somerset, Erie, Crawford, Tioga, Bradford, Potter and Wyoming.

The manager of a plant which recently located in Northeastern Pennsylvania commented that his plant has had less absenteism due to illness since relocating in Pennsylvania than it ever had before! Proves Pennsylvania's a pretty healthy place to live . . . and to work!

Parlez-vous? Well, you might be speaking French now . . . in fact French may have been Pennsylvania's official language. In the 18th century wars between the English and French, final possession of Fort Pitt by the English decided which language would be spoken in the Great Middle West.

Allegheny County once extended North to the New York State Line before the existence of Butler, Armstrong, Venango, Forest, Warren, Elk and McKean Counties.

MUSICAL MOMENTS

Louis Shub, Baltimore pianist, outstanding in Goucher concert

By ADAH K. JENKINS

One of the outstanding musical events of the mid-winter season was a concert of rare distinction given by Louis Shub, Baltimore pianist, on a Saturday evening at Goucher College.

The entire recital was devoted to sonatas, a form that has proved to be one of the most lasting developments in the field of instrumental music.

Mr. Shub, who has established a reputation, both here and in New York, where he performs annually, as a brilliant and scholarly pianist, displayed new depths of interpretive ability in sonatas from four different periods.

The highly appreciative audience insisted on four encores, which included Rachmananoff and Prokoviev preludes and a Chopin Mazurka.

It is to be hoped that one of our civic cultural groups will sponsor Mr. Shub in this recital at a local hall which will be accessible to more of the students and teachers.

THE LEIGHTON Avenue Piano Students of Mrs. Katrine N. White met at her studio on a recent Monday evening for their music appreciation hour.

Attentive interest was manifested by the young musicians in the television Young Peoples Concert conducted by Leonard Bernstein, and especially in the artistic playing of the 14-year-old harpist.

After an enthusiastic discussion of the concert there was an informal social hour. Students present were: Mya Wood, Vanessa Smith, Pat and Sue Bailey, Linda Smith, Eric and Cathy Allen, Bonnie Harris, Bernadette, Sheila and Tommy Wilson.

The annual Carroling Tour of the Leighton Avenue Neighborhood Group began this season at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sheffey, who organized the club five years ago. At the residence of Mrs. Katrine White they sang carols around the piano and ended the tour with Mrs. Elmer Giles and breakfast.

Participating were: Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rooks, Mr. and Mrs. V. Sheffey, Mr. and Mrs. Julio McCrea, Mesdames Giles, Birtinia Harris, Elsie Cornish, Alice Marshall, Grace Gaskins, Shirley Pinkett, Myrtle Lee, Bernice Owens, Katrine White; Misses Katrine White, and Bonnie Lee; John Murray, Kemit and Lloyd Burton, Lionel Hall, Edward Strickland, Walter Pearl and Michael Green.

THE ANNUAL Holiday Festival sponsored by the Piano Teachers Activities Group was held in the hall of the Gospel Tabernacle.

Admission required of each student was the playing of several numbers from memory. Solo selections and duets were performed by students of primary, intermediate and advanced levels.

Buffet refreshments were served with Mesdames Gwndolyn Lassiter, Florence Carter, Annie L. Williams, Katrine White, Josephine Turner, Gladys Davis, Lantha Clarke and your reviewer, as hostesses.

At a business meeting of the activities grou. held at the home of Mrs. Williams, plans were completed for the annual examination of pupils which will be given by faculty members of the Music Education Department of Morgan State College this Saturday in the Fine Arts Building.

Your writer will have a birthday Jan. 17.

Don Shirley concert at Morgan on Sunday

Don Shirley, the brilliant pianist who will appear in concert at 3 p.m., Sunday (Jan. 12), in Murphy Auditorium at Morgan State college, is an unusual combination of artist and scholar.

Shirley, who will head a trio composed of cellist Jurl Taht and bassit James Candid of his Morgan concert, is a psychologist and composer as well as musician.

As a performing artist, his range embraces classical, popular, folk, jazz, and modern works.

Shirley, a trained psychologist and scholar of liturgical works, began his career as a teacher and lecturer.

For his Morgan concert, Shirley will follow his usual habit of using no program. This is an expression of the creativity which has made the Don Shirley Trio unique on today's concert stages.

COVERING the WORLD

AFRO-AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS
. . . have the world covered 24 hours a day. No matter what happens or where, your newspaper is the on-the-spot observer, relaying the news to you completely, accurately and in the vernacular of the average man. Each issue brings the world a little closer, makes it smaller, more understandable. Hence, you become more compassionate, more understanding of the world, its people and its problems.
