GOP aide says people should recall LBJ's rights record

WASHINGTON (NNPA) — Clay J. Claiborne, special assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Committee, urged the Nation's colored leadership not to forget the "30 - year negative civil rights performance of the man now sitting in the White Hone."

In a speech bristling with politics, Claiborne told the Capital Press Club that colored people should not forget, "in 30 - days," President Johnson's past voting record.

He said the Chief Executive's voting record "as a member of the Congress and his ruling, as President of the Senate, on Senate Rule 22 less than a year ago, is without doubt the weakest of reasons to believe that he will contribute to the success of the current civil rights revolution."

"THE PRESIDENT'S plea, 'I need you now' ... can not be applicable to colored citizens, Claiborne added.

"Throughout the years he served in Congress the voice of America's minority population cried — as it did time and again in 1962 — 'We need you now'; only to fall upon the dead ears of the entire Democratic Southern bloc ... led by Lyndon H. Johnson."

Claiborne, made much ado about what he called the "disappearance" of the face of Associate White House Press Secretary Andrew T. Hatcher from the Nation's TV screen.

"MR. HATCHER'S face is not seen, either on TV or in news pictures, and it presents a great challenge to this illustrious group," Claiborne said.

(Editor's note: About the time that Claiborne was making his remarks, Mr. Hatcher was being shown on nationwide television circuits during a briefing session which he conducted in Texas for the President.)

Continuing on this theme, Claiborne said he could not "find within my limited knowledge of Southern culture to forgive the President when he did not appear in pictures with the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., and A. Philip Randolph, because of their forthright leadership as direct action leaders . ."

THE ASSISTANT GOP chairman expressed concern for the fate of colored Federal employes under "the President's unmerry Christmas Day directive to cut back Federal employment."

He said the President called for still greater cutbacks in Federal employment, despite a claim made last September by a Joint Congressional Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Expenditures that U.S. jobs dropped in August with a new decrease of 3,849 spaces.

But Claiborne said the President's "formula is sound politically." "It calls for holding the Southern vote through job patronage, while harnessing the colored vote by courtships at the White House, plus some well appointed, high sounding, timely placed civil rights speeches . . ."

BLIND HELPED — Mrs. Nellie Snowden, 2716 Rosedale, presents $50 check from Faith Baptist Church to Mrs. Anna Mae Hunter of the Anna Mae Hunter Home for the Blind. Contribution was raised through a candy sale project.

2 in Houston lose Councilmanic race

HOUSTON, Texas (ANP)— Two candidates, who specialize professionally in taking care of other people, were unable to take care of white opponents in run-off races for the Houston City Council.

They are Dr. C. W. Thompson, physician and an experienced administrator, and Earl M. Pruitt, owner of the Pruitt Mortuary and pastor of Greater St. James Baptist Church, Spring, Texas.

Dr. Thompson, 47, was defeated in councilman-at-large race by Bill Elliott, the council's first Republican. Pruitt, also 47, lost in his bid for a council seat from District B to A. L. (Curly) Miller.

Coed given 8 years in death of infant

A Coppin State College coed who confessed she killed her new - born son "because to have a child without being married in my religion is sinful," was convicted Tuesday of second degree murder.

Miss Regina E. Blackburn, 19, 200 block N. Aisquith St., was sentenced to eight years in the Institution for Women by Youth Court Judge Reuben Oppenheimer.

In a statement admitted into evidence during a brief trial before Judge Oppenheimer, Miss Blackburn also said she threw the infant in the incinerator of the Lafayette Housing Project last Oct. 14 because she didn't want it "because it would stop my college career."

Miss Blackburn was a sophomore at Coppin at the time the body of the baby boy was found in the basement of the project.

Miss Blackburn told police that she gave birth to the baby in secret and unassisted.

"I held it a little while in order to make a decision on whether to keep it or destroy it. I decided to put it in the incinerator."

Taking the stand as the only defense witness, Miss Blackburn denied the confession and claimed that she "accidentally struck the infant's head on the bed before disposing of it.

Anthony S. Federico, defense attorney, pleading for leniency, told Judge Oppenheimer that Miss Blackburn was active in the church and that her religion was "very strict."

Rocky would build party whose doors 'open wide' to all

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. — (NNPA) — Gov. Nelson Rockefeller told the Young Republicans of Portsmouth Friday night that he wants to help build a Republican Party whose doors "are open to all men and women" in the broad mainstream of American life.

The New Yorker said he wanted to "build a Republican Party which appeals to the best in people — not the worst."

"I did not enter the race for the Presidency of the United States to 'stop' anyone else within my own party," he said.

"I entered the race for the Presidency because I believe deeply in certain basic principles — principles on which this country was founded and which have been responsible for its rise to greatness —and because I want to further these principles and to serve the American people."

Mr. Rockefeller further asserted that he was in "this race all the way" and sought his assurance to listeners that was "neither a 'summer soldier' nor a 'sunshine patriot' of the political wars."

Senate committee ignores Robinson

WASHINGTON — (ANP)— Congress adjourned last week without any Senate action on the nomination of Spottswood W. Robinson 3rd of Richmond, Va. to a Federal judgeship in the District of Columbia.

The Robinson nomination, sent to the Senate Oct. 1 by President Kennedy, is awaiting consideration by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

This could open the way for President Johnson to put Robinson on the bench temporarily by a recess appointment, or it could mean the President could wait and submit the nomination when Congress starts a new session early this month.

Goldstein, Tydings set to square off

By MAX JOHNSON

State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced Thursday John C. Donohue, 5603 Roland Ave., Baltimore, will serve as state chairman of his campaign for the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination.

Mr. Donohue, a newcomer to political campaign activity, is a member of the Civic Center Commission, a life insurance company executive, and a former All American in lacrosse at St. John's College, Annapolis.

Meanwhile, Joseph D. Tydings, former U.S. District Attorney, who is seen as one of Mr. Goldstein's chief foes, is expected to announce his candidacy for the Democratic Senate nomination on Tuesday.

Also expected to enter the race, but not yet heard from officially, is George P. Mahoney, a perennial campaigner.

Dr. Harry C. Byrd, former president of the University of Maryland, announced his candidacy last fall.

MR. GOLDSTEIN enters the campaign with the solid backing of Gov. J. Millard Tawes' organization.

The others will be seeking independent support, though Mr. Mahoney has long had a close to winning, but not quite, following.

Both Messrs. Goldstein and Tydings have taken strong stands on civil rights, each backing the principles of the late President John F. Kennedy.

This has resulted in high speculation as to which of the two will get the bulk of the colored Democratic vote in the May 19 primary, particularly in Baltimore.

MR. GOLDSTEIN is more widely known in this community, having served in the Maryland General Assembly for 16 years — four years in the House and 12 years in the Senate — prior to being elected comptroller.

Mr. Tydings served in the House of Delegates 1958-61, and resigned to accept the U.S. District Attorney post.

State-wide candidates will be running for the first time on a popular vote basis, Maryland having discarded its unit system.

This means a candidate can win by carrying several of the highly populated areas, without dependence on the small counties such as those on the Eastern Shore.

On the Republican side of the picture, it is generally conceded that if Senator J. Glenn Beall chooses to run again, he will have no opposition of consequence in the primary.

Senator Beall has indicated he will seek re-election, but has not said so publicly.
