EOC to accelerate job opening project

Baltimore's Equal Opportunity Commission is expanding its activities in promoting job opportunities, and will obtain equal employment commitments from the various segments of business and industry in the city.

Leon Sachs, Commission member and acting executive secretary, announced late Thursday meetings will be held within the next few weeks with leading department store officals in this respect.

Then, industry by industry will be visited, with the project gaining acceleration as the staff is increased.

Mr. Sachs said the Commission expects to get not only commitments of equal employment practices as required by law, but also expects to get firms to agree to measures which are designed to insure the legally required policies of merit employment.

THE MEASURES to be discussed are such items as periodic reports of progress to the Commission, training programs, deliberate efforts to eliminate the practices of conventional jobs based on color.

And the adoption of recruitment practices designed to tap the manpower of the merely one favored segmen of the community, Mr.-Sachs said.

"There are some businessmen who feel that the EOC law is a restrictive measure," Mr. Sachs continued. "This is true insofar as the law is designed to eliminate the un-American practice of discrimination.

"But in a broader sense, the law has the effect of compelling an employer to tap a much wider labor market with the greater prospect, therefore, of finding qualified and competent help.

"The successful experience of equal employment laws in this city and in every other fair employment community demonstrates that these laws have helped and not hindered industry."

Taxes again

Taxpayers have been reminded by Irving Machiz, District Director of Internal Revenue for the Baltimore District, that Withholding tax Statement (Form W-2) is a receipt for the taxes withheld from their salary. It is not a tax return.

It must accompany the returned Form 1040 or Form 1040A as evidence of taxes withheld.

Some taxpayers overlook or forget that they worked for more than one employer during the year and upon receiving their W-2 form from a previous employer, the taxpayer then files an amended return. Last year over 2,000 such returns were filed, Machiz said.

These amended returns must be associated with the original returns the taxpayer filed, and in many cases, the taxpayer must be contacted which might cause him some inconvenience.

To avoid this, Machiz said, taxpayers are requested to wait until all W-2 forms have been received before filing their returns.

Five couples end marriages in court

A divorce was granted to Thelma Freeman of 915 Valley St., after she testified that she and Clarence Freeman of 1600 N. Broadway voluntarily ended their marriage on Sept. 1 1956.

The couple was married on September 16, 1945 and are parents of three children. The children are in custody of the mother.

THE DIVORCE which went to Mrs. Eleanor C. Rock of 1931 Druid Hill Avenue, from John H. Rock of 3511 Copley Road, was also granted on voluntary separation.

Their marriage on March 1, 1947 ended on September 1, 1952.

JAMES WILLIAMS of 2907 Brigrton St. made a similar charge in the suit which won him freedom from Mrs. Minnie R. Williams of Newport, Ark.

Their marriage on March 12, 1960, ended on May 1, 1961.

MRS. VERA RANDOLPH, of 2327 Norfolk St., testified that she was deserted by Samuel Randolph.

Their three children were given into custody of the mother and Mr. Randolph ordered to provide $22 per week for their support.

The wife said that she and Mr. Randolph were married on July 1, 1961. On May 12, 1961, she said, he told her he was going to look for work and never came back.

BRUCE-SIVELLS of 1661 Darley Avenue, also said that he was deserted by Mrs. Magdalene Sivells, now of New York.

Their marriage, said the husband, took place on December 27, 1948 and ended on March 15, 1953. "I went work and when I returned she had gone," he testified.

9 perish when fire guts home

By MILDRED O'NEILL

PORT NORRIS, N.J. — A 34-year-old father sobbed convulsively as he watched three caskets — containing his wife and eight children —being lowered into snowy graves Tuesday at the Centergrove Cemetery, in Cedarville, N. J.

The father, David Daniel Johnson, was the lone survivor of his family which had perished early Sunday when a wood — burning space heater set fire to their frame bungalow in the Delaware Bay fishing community 12 miles south of Vineland.

Killed in the fire were: Mrs. Virginia Johnson, 26; and her children, David, 11, Roxanne, 10; Alice Jean, 9; Daniel, 7; Margaret, 6; Virginia Lee, 4; Tracy, 2, and Nicky, 10 months.

Johnson was working on an oyster boat, out of Point Pleasant, on the Atlantic Coast in Central New Jersey when the fire occurred.

A radio message brought the boat back to shore.

When he returned to shore in mid-morning — and was told of the tragedy, he collapsed of shock and sobbed over over: "My babies, my babies, they are gone. All I have in the world is gone."

A physician gave him a sedative.

Benjamin Rocap, county coroner of Millville, Cumberland County, gave the AFRO this version of the fire:

Neighbors on Port Norris Road, in Commercial Township, Cumberland county, were awakened by a red glare of flames from the wooden tenement - type bungalow shortly before 3 a.m. and called State police.

By the time volunteer firemen arrived, the small home was completely ablaze.

The heat was so intense that firemen could do nothing buy spray water into the house from their pumper truck. It took firemen 90 minutes to cool down the smouldering ruins enough so that they could search for the bodies. The undertaker who in charge, William Tongue, told the AFRO, "It was one of the worst sights that I have ever seen. It was terrible. The only thing we could do was to put the bones into rubber pouches in the caskets.

"Six of the children were found huddled next to the front door in the front bedroom.

"The room contained two beds, one on either side, and a large crib for the baby that was crammed against the door.

ry's County, a supporter of the lottery system. His proposal was an alternative to an earlier expiration date sought by Thomas Donaldson.

6. Legal gambling today in Maryland includes raffles, bingo, pari-mutuel horse racing and gaming machines:

a. During the first eleven months of 1963 the Police Commissioner of Baltimore approved 285 raffles and 2,844 bingo games.

b. In fiscal year 1963 Internal Revenue sold 1,253 Baltimore proprietors one or more gaming machine stamp. Federal law requires their purchase on certain devices whether or not evidence exists as to actual payoffs.

c. In 1962 the state realized over $9 million from overall revenues connected with horse racing.

d. Maryland still has over 4,900 legal slot machines.

8. New York State's experience with Bingo after 1958 showed a misappropriation of funds, citizens persuaded to commit frauds, and public officials charged with the division of Bingo being corrupted.

9. Nevada's 1962 crime rate per 100,000 inhabitants for seven major crimes as compiled by the FBI was 2,442.9 while Montana was 959.1, even though Montana has more than twice the population of Nevada.

10. THE MOST profitable betting shops in England are said to be located in lower income areas. There are 18,000 to 20,000 legal betting shops in operation in Great Britain.

11. Bad debts have reportedly increased about 25 per cent since betting was legalized in Great Britain in 1960.

12. Racing forms and gambling are reported to be an increasing dominant home and leisure interest in Great Britain.

13. The British do not attempt to use gambling as a source of government revenue. The intent of 1960 legislation was to eliminate illegal gambling and not to obtain tax money according to a New York State investigation in August 1963.

14. Marylanders defeated a referendum on November 8, 1938 to remove the Constitutional prohibition against lotteries. The vote was 123, 365 to 90,805.

15. Off-track betting is opposed by all thoroughbred tracks in Maryland and the Thoroughbred Racing Associations.

16. The regular session of the 1937 Maryland General Assembly passed a special relief and welfare measure which legalized off-track bookmaking effective May 1, 1937. In anticipation of it approval by the Governor, real estate advertisements appeared announcing the availability of downtown Baltimore locations with counters and vaults for bookmakers. The measure was vetoed on April 15, 1937 by Governor Harry Nice.

Although 25 states have legal pari-mutuel betting only Nevada has legal off-track betting. Since it is a very insubstantial part of gambling in Nevada, there is no comparable experience in the United State with legal bookmaking such as can be found with legal lotteries.

Polls taken in Maryland in recent years show an increasing number of citizens favor both a national and a state lottery.

Indications appear that proposals will be made at the 1964 session of the General Assembly to authorize a state lottery but Section 36, Article 3 of the Constitution of Maryland must first be amended.

sion reported that Anne Arundel States Attorney Anderson has filed a petition in that county's circuit court against Barnes. The circuit court has in turn issued a show-cause summons to the restaurant which must be replied to on or before Feb. 27.

The Barnes Restaurant had chosen to make a court test on the complaint that they had violated the public accommodations law by refusing service to colored citizens.

THE COMMISSION will also ask for a meeting in March with armed forces post commanders in Maryland to explore the problem of treatment of colored military personnel and their dependents in Maryland communities.

The Commission seeks to determine what action post commanders are taking in matters of racial discrimination in off-base communities.

In reply to Commission Secretary Mitchell's request for such a parley, Alfred E. Fitt, deputy assistant secretary for the civil rights section of the Department of Defense, asked that the meeting be scheduled no earlier than March.

Mr. Fitt told the Commission: "As you are probably aware, Secretary of Defense McNamara has issued a directive defining the responsibilities of military commanders whose men face problems of discrimination in civilian communities."

Mr. Fitt requested that the commanders be given time to absorb details of the Department of Defense directive before meeting with the Commission.

THE INTERRACIAL Commission also decided at its Wednesday meeting to ask Governor Tawes to place the job of Commission Secretary under Civil Service.

palgn all the time, selling himself to those who will buy.

He, too, has been a supporter of civil rights legislation — as far back as 1947 when, as a member of the General Assembly, he voted to end segregation on the old Baltimore — Annapolis line.

After becoming comptroller in 1959 — he began initiating an open hiring policy in that agency.

Mr. Goldstein's own Calvert County, however, is a backward blot — having exempted itself from the public accommodations law.

He, of course, was not a lawmaker when this legislation was enacted last year.

So — will the bulk of the colored vote be attracted to Mr. Goldstein or Mr. Tydings?

Past records, as I see it, will not quite be the final determining factor.

Mr. Goldstein has the solid backing of Gov. Tawes— and his strong forces.

Gov. Tawes will be, in office for another two years — another two years to dispense patronage and desired benefits.

Patronage and benefits — not available to either Messrs. Golstein or Tydings, should either be victorious.

Many of the colored political leaders are certain to bear this in mind — and shy from any harsh moves to peeve Gov. Tawes.

IT MUST be recalled, too — the primary's biggest attraction has been the organizational vote.

So — there's a logical conclusion, as I see it.

The Tawes plums in the background, coupled with the leaders bound by past commitments with eyes on those PLUMS — must swing the bulk of the colored vote to Mr. Goldstein.

It's not necessarily Mr. Tydings or Mr. Goldseln.

It's Gov. Tawes and he's got a lot to work with.

In Memoriam

ALSBROOKS — In loving memory of our mother, MARTHA, who passed away January 18, 1963.

We've missed the sound of your footsteps,
And your voice since you've gone,
And though we see you no longer
We love you,
In our minds you are strong.
And so we smile through our sorrow
Our loss cannot be more,
But some nights we hide our tears
For we miss of the dear one God took away.
To His distant and golden shore.
From Her Children, BERTHA and MITCHELL, FLORENCE SCOTT, JAMES ALSBROOKS.

BEVANS — In loving memory of our husband and our father, GEORGE, who passed away January 8, 1963.

You're not forgotten, fatherdear,
Your ever shall you be,
As long as life and memory last,
We shall remember thee.
Devoted WIFE AND CHILDREN.

BONEY — In loving memory of my husband, WILBERT, who passed away January 18, 1962.

The rolling stream of life rolls on,
It will not pause for you,
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile,
Of the one who once set there.
Gone and forgotten by many,
But you will still live in my memory.
Wife, MYRTLE.

BOYKIN — In loving memory of my dearly beloved wife AGNES M. who departed this life January 19, 1958.

We walked together, you and I
In sorrow and in joy.
We shared our pains and happiness,
Yet love made them alloy.
And death shall never end our love
For thru the mist I see
Our God reunion in the sky—
For all eternity.
Devoted Husband, WILLIAM S. BOYKIN.

CHASE — In loving memory of our parents and grandmother, Mother, Josephine Chase — January 18, 1958.

Father, Eugene Chase — January 18, 1946.

What would we give, their hands to clasp,
Their patient face to see,
Hear their voice, to see their smile.
As in the days that used to be,
But some sweet day we'll meet
Beyond the toil and strife,
Where we will never part nor mourn more,
In Heaven, that happy life.
Devoted CHILDREN and GRANDCHILDREN.

CORNISH — In loving memory of my dear husband, ALEXAN-DER, who passed away January 12, 1962.

Then the evening shades are falling
And I am sitting all alone,
In my heart there comes a longing
For my home.
If you only could come home
Out and stay a while,
Two years ago you left us
Without a smile.
MARY CORNISH

CRAWFORD — In loving memory of my husband, JAMES, who passed away January 16, 1961.

You are always in my thoughts
No matter where I go
Always, I think of the dear one,
Because I loved you so.
Devoted Mother, JANNIE CRAWFORD.
