Dunbar basketers down Catholics, tie for 3rd

Dunbar High School cagers, refusing to count themselves out of the Division 1 race, edged Towson Catholic, 69-65, Tuesday, in a Maryland Scholastic Association tilt.

The Poets broke out a 26-all halftime tie to take a 4-point lead in the third quarter, then hung up to win by matching their rivals, point for point, in the final period.

By their victory, coach Sugar Cain's youngsters moved into a third place tie with the Catholics.

* * *

ALTHOUGH Dunbar recovery chances appear remote, there remains hope at the East Baltimore school.

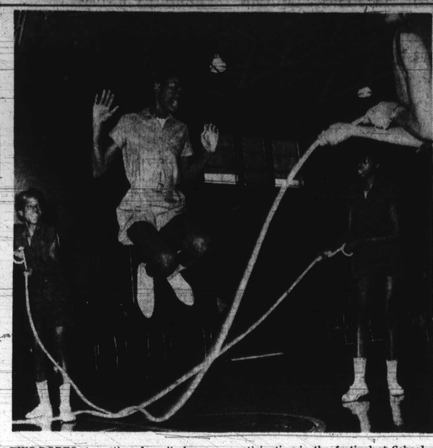
The Poets trail Carver and City, the division co-leaders, by two games. These two teams meet in a head-on clash Tuesday, and each has a game left with Dunbar.

Carver visits one Feb. 21, and City is tackled at City on Feb. 25.

Ga. native 'first' prexy of churchmen

ST. LOUIS — (ANP) — Rev. Amos Ryce II has been elected president of the Metropolitan Church Federation of Greater Saint Louis. Rev. Mr. Ryce is the first non-white to serve as president.

He is pastor of 2,500 member Lane Tabernacle Christian Methodist Episcopal Church and co-chairman of the Board of Directors of the Conference on Religion and Race.



TWO ROPES at one time doesn't phase Charlemange Blackwell, sixth grader at School 19, Lexington and Myrtle, scene of one of the Dance-Tumbling Festivals being held this week. Schools participating in the festival at School 19 on Wednesday included Schools 125, 103, 122 and 1. Henry N. West was host principal.

Southern halts Duck swimmers

Douglass High School swimmers had their streak snapped after 3 in a row, Tuesday afternoon, bowing to Southern at Southern.

The Bulldogs started fast to establish a comfortable lead, then withstood a Duck challenge in the late events to emerge with a 48-45 margin.

Douglass held a 6-5 lead in first places, but succumbed to the 6-3 edge gained by Southern in seconds.

Mrs. Evers sits alone and waits

By WILLIAM WORTHY
AFRO Special Correspondent

JACKSON, Miss. — While a jury of twelve white men debates the fate of another white Mississippian, a lone STATELY BROWNSD DWW stately brown-skinned widow sits alone by her telephine in a one-story frame house on a dimly-lighted street in West Jackson.

At any inoment, a flood of Incoming calls from every conceivable news agency may turn the telephone into a one-line switchboard.

The world will want to knowsher reaction to the jury's verdict.

Her three children have gone to bed

* * *

MRS. MEDGAR EVERS, still in partial shock from the ambush slaying of her husband last June, sits not far from the window through which the fatal bullet passed after mowing down her 37-year-old husband in the carport outside.

The two days before he died, he cautioned his wife against sitting directly in front of that window. She says he had a premonition about snipers' bullets, especially after a firebomb exploded right outside their door.

* * *

IN THE MAIL Thursday morning — the morning of the day the jury was locked up in the jury room — two one-dollar bills arrived at the Evers' home.

The envelope had no street address. It was simply addressed to "Mrs. Medgar Evers, Jackson, Mississippi."

A mother wrote from Belleville, Illinois and told how her children wanted the Evers family to have the money they had saved, penny by penny.

"It's important to me the people still care," Mrs. Evers told this reporter. "If I thought everyone had forgotten, I don't think I could go on."

Hayes new assistant to Morgan president

Herbert M. Hayes, for 25 years an associate of a New York accounting firm, is the new assistant to the president at Morgan State College.

Mr. Hayes assumed his new duties as aide to President Martin D. Jenkins, Feb. 1.

He succeeds Joseph R. Rocha Jr., who resigned his position after one year of service to become a full-time teacher in the department of economics and business.

* * *

MR. HAYES comes to Morgan post from a firm of certified public accountants of New York, where he served from October, 1938 to June, 1963.

Beginning service with the firm as a junior accountant Mr. Hayes progressed to senior accountant, office manager, head of the accounting staff and finally to specialist in systems design and installation. His serice with the firm was interrupted from 1942 to 1946 because of military duty.

Mr. Hayes holds the A.B. degree, cum laude, from Long Island University and the master of business administration degree from New York University.

He has also studied at the Boston University College of Business Administration and at Columbia University.

He has served as treasurer of the New York City Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, as a member of its executive committee and as a delegate to the 1963 NAACP national convention.

He is also affiliated with the Urban League and Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

News from Eastside

By CHARLOTTE DOWNIE

Our Good Neighbor of the Week is lovely Mrs. Lois Lansdowne Harvey of the 900 block N. Bentalou St., a physical education teacher and wife of John H. Harvey, a Bethlehem Steel Co. employee.

Mrs. Harvey is a Baltimorean, and attended Harvey Johnson Junior High, Douglass Senior High and Morgan State College, where she received her B. S. degree.

While teaching Mrs. Harvey attended New York University and received her master's degree in physical education.

To attain her goal, she comuted from Baltimore to New York on weekends for two consecutive years and two summers.

Always eager to keep up with the newer teaching trends, Mrs. Harvey is constantly attending physical education workshops and bringing back to her students and faculty new ideas and methods of teaching.

Our Neighbor still finds time to attend the adult recreation class, where her interest is centered on dancing.

As an extra curricular activity, Mrs. Harvey has organized a dance group at her school, the Elmer H. Henderson Elementary School No. 101, and the Samuel Chase Elementary School No. 135.

Our neighbor is a member of the Unity Community Church at Stricker St. and Edmonson Ave., and is an active member of the Bentalou Street Improvement Association, where she is vice blue, favorite hymn is "Just A Closer Walk with Thee." Her birthday is August 23.

Insurance probers hear new charges

The prolonged investigation into alleged irregularities in the handling of automobile insurance is continuing, William J. O'Donnell, state's attorney and William T. S. Bricker, assistant, announced Thursday.

Mr. Bricker, who is heading the probe, said new complaints are pouring into his office daily and evidence so far indicates that a possible scandal exists.

In addition to the steady stream of complaintants who told authorities they paid for insurance coverage of their vehicles but later learned they were not covered, investigators are interviewing insurance agents.

Mr. O'Donnel told the AFRO that the persons involved - complaintants, agents and "the principal themselves" (persons against whom complaints have been lodged), will be interrogated.

The probe was stepped up last week when several motorists complained to the state's attorney's office that they were not insured although they had paid for premiums.

Mr. Bricker announced that he expected to question 17 agents before compiling new information to be presented to the grand jury.

The persons have already been indicted since the probe began last November.

They are Joseph Dolan, and Albert Holt .

Dolan, 48, of the 1700 block Greenmount Ave., has been accused of failing to discharge his duties as a notary public and violating motor vehicle laws.

Holt, according to the action of the jury, accepted money for an insurance policy, filed a false notice of insurance and forged a UCJ-1 certificate.

UCJ-1 forms are designed to inform the Department of Motor Vehicle that motorists are insured and do not have to pay a $70 fee before being issued licenses to operate a vehicle.

The current probe is concerned with the practice of issuing UCJ-1 forms falsely and reports that monies accepted from motorists are not applied to insurance premiums, Mr. Bricker stated.

Tydings urges Tawes to seek redistricting

ANNAPOLIS — Joseph D. Tydings, candidate for Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate in the May 19 Primary, urged Gov. J. Millard Tawes Wednesday to encourage the General Assembly to act on passage of a congressional redistricting bill.

In a letter to the governor, Mr. Tydings said in part:

"I am not prepared to agree with your leadership's consensus that the Legislature of Maryland will not meet the challenge of enacting a fair redistricting bill."

"There were many members of this same leadership in 1959 and 1960 who said the Legislature would never enact a savings and loan regulatory bill.

"I am fearful that the alternative to my suggestion, namely, to do nothing and await the action of the U.S. District Court, is to invite confusion, chaos and trouble for the citizens of our state."

THE GOVERNOR had made no comment to the Tydings letter at AFRO press time.

Gov. Tawes has held that this Assembly, now convened for a 30-day session, will not enact congressional redistricting legislation.

An opinion of a three-judge Federal Court in Baltimore stated Monday the court may be forced to act on redistricting, if this Assembly does not.

Such action could result in all congressional candidates running at-large in the coming elections.

Morgan enrollment affected by curbing of mid-year prep school graduations

Morgan State College had enrollment decrease, off-regular session as of Wednesday, experiencing a slight enrollment decrease, officials reported.

William W. Proctor, registrar, reported that unofficial tallies indicate the sharpest decrease in enrollment came in the number of new students entering the college.

Only 97 new students had registered for the spring term as of Wednesday, as compared to a total of 195 registered at this time last year.

This decrease was epected because Maryland high schools, which traditionally supply the largest number of Morgan students, have discontinued their mid - year commencements.

UNOFFICIAL AUDITS for this period last year set enrollment in the regular session at 2,400. College officials expect that this term's registration will approximate this figure when a final check is taken after Friday, last day for registration.

Evening School registration, still untallied officially, will swell the college enrollment by about 200. Mrs. Beryl W. Williams, director, disclosed that by Wednesday, 64 new students were among those registering for Evening School courses.

Freshman registration at the college began last Friday (Jan. 31). Upperclass registration was held Monday and Tuesday, with instruction in the spring term for all sessions beginning on Wednesday.

President Martin D. Jenkins will officially open the spring term next Tuesday, Feb. 11, when he gives the Spring Convocation address at 3 p.m. in Murphy Auditorium.

All Day Fair

An all - day fair with a country flavor, "Market Day — Country Style" will be held Saturday, March 21, at Friendship House, 619 D. St., South East.

Plans for the second annual Circle - on - the - Hill benefit for Friendship House have been announced by Mrs. J. Peter Maucher.

ADA for Panama Canal internationalization

The ADA National Board, in a statement released by John P. Roche, national chairman, today called for "internationalization of the Panama Canal under the direction of the United Nations."

In the statement, ADA "urges the American government to initiate negotiations with Panama aimed at protecting Panama's interests," and at establishing "at the earliest possible moment an international commission affiliated with the United Nations, charged with the supervision and administration of the Panama Canal."
