Ex-soccer star, 3-time winner get Schenley aid

A former soccer player, who says he has no kick coming, and a three-time winner are among the most recent recipients of scholarship grants from the Schenley Wholesalers' Foundation.

Noel Carr, a native of Trinidad, West Indies, who co-captained Howard University's NAIA championship soccer team in 1961, and Lewis Woods, whose scholarship was the third he has received from the Schenley Wholesalers this week, were presented with checks that will insure their continuation of medical studies at Howard.

Charles T. Williams, vice president of Schenley Distillers, Co., presented the grants in behalf of the Foundation as the kick-off to a promotional program for O.F.C. whiskey in the Washington area.

* * *

"I HAVE known both of these men for several years and they certainly are deserving of the assistance we are so happy to present," said Mr. Williams.

Carr, who completed his undergraduate work at Howard in 1962, holds a degree of bachelor of science in chemistry. He is in his first year as a medical student and hopes to do medical research in the U.S. after he earns his medical degree.

Until he received his scholarship grant he had been working four nights a week as a switchboard operator to finance his studies. "It got a little rough," he admits, "attending classes all day, studying in the evening and then working from midnight until 8 the following morning."

* * *

WOODS, A native of Dallas, Texas, graduated from the University of Texas in 1961 with a bachelor of science degree in physics. He now is in his third year of medical study at Howard, majoring neurology. Married and the father of an infant son, he hopes to eventually return to Dallas to practice.

He is a leader in his class and has also received two National Defense Student schoolarship.

* * *

ACCOMPANYING Mr. Williams on the scholarship mission was Cliff Cook, assistant to the vice president, who with Mr. Williams launched a search for V.I.P.'s in the area who will participate in local promotion of a series of awards to outstanding citizens.

The V.I.P.'s will be honored and receive commemorative scrolls and plaques, in the name of Schenley's O.F.C. for civic contributions to the community.

MUSICAL MOMENTS

Contemporary composers at world premiere of works here

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Two contemporary composers were present to acknowledge plaudits of world premiere performances of their works by the Baltimore Symphony, under the direction of Peter Adler.

Robert Hall Lewis, whose "Design for Orchestra was written last year, is an assistant professor of music at Goucher. Karel Husa, who was trained mainly in Paris, is now a member of the Cornell University music faculty.

Mr. Lewis' work is written in the atonal mode (no special key,) with vivid, brief melodies and sharply angled rhythms.

In his tone poem "Serenade" for Woodwind Quintet with Xylophone, harp and strings, Mr. Husa achieved a decidedly Oriental effect. The composition in three movements, entitled "The Mountain", "The Night" and "The Dance", was given a sensitive interpretation by the excellent Symphony quintet, with the collaboration of the harpist and xylophonist.

Gina Bachauer, Greek pianist, scored a major triumph in the second pair of January concerts by the Baltimore Symphony.

Louis Cheslock, of the Peabody faculty, was enthusiastically applauded after the playing of his "Symphonic Prelude."

Beethoven's Fifth the "Pastoral" was the symphony of the evening..

Dr. Adler, from the podium, coordinated his forces admirably.

YOUNG MUSCIANS Series presented its third Museum concert in the current season on a recent Saturday morning, with the Baltimore Symphony String Quartet.

The young audience, ranging from elementary to high school level, listened attentively to a program of chamber music that was very much on an adult level.

Another successful chamber music concert sponsored by YMS was given at Southern High School with an audience of music majors.

A piano trio, consisting of William Martin, violinist; Guillerno Perich, violist and Evelyn Schwarz, pianist, gave artistic rendition of words by Carl P. E. Bach, Mozart and Schumann.

Elizabeth Katzenenbogan, of the music faculty at Goucher College, gave a piano lecture-recital, with colored slides, for the music majors at Douglass High School, under the auspices of YMS.

CALENDAR: Feb. 15, Sat., at the Baltimore Museum, a Folk Trio presented by Young Musicians Series in a program of folk songs done artistically.

Saturday, Feb. 22, at 8:30 p.m. at the Lyric, a Pop Concert by the Baltimore Symphony conducted by Elyakum Shapira, assistant director. Popular and patriotic music of two centuries will be featured, with a chorus from 12 local high schools, among which are Douglass, Marion Smith, directing; Dunbar, conducted by Norman Ross and Forest Park, under the leadership of Anna Gallos.

The program is highlighted by Howard Hanson's "Song of Democracy" which we heard at its premiere performance in Robin Hood Dell with the combined Philadelphia high school choruses and the Philadelphia Symphony.

A small memento will be presented to all who attend the concert which is in honor of Washington's birthday.

Sunday, Feb. 16 at 3 p.m. in the Murphy Auditorium, Morgan State College, Marina Arroyo, Metropolitan soprano acclaimed in Europe and this country as a song recitalist and opera star.

Sunday, Feb. 16 at 4 p.m. at Zion Methodist Church, Wabash and Liberty Heights, the second Workshop given by the Piano Teachers Activity Group for parents, teachers and pupils. Admission is free.

'The Ceremony' is playing at Met

It took 23-year-old Saran Miles exactly 34 seconds to shed her stately English upbringing - and her stylish English clothes - for a scene in Laurence Harvey's production of "The Ceremony," now playing at the Met Theatre.

Harvey, who also directed the exciting drama, co-stars with Miss Miles, Robert Walker and John Ireland.

It's as bright as polished brass, as uninhibited as a child at play, as rollicking as a ride on a roller-coaster, as romantic as a June moon and more.

That's the fabulous new Universal release, Howard Hawks' laughter-jammed production of "Man's Favite Sport?" starring Rock Hudson and Paula Prentiss, which literally exploded on the screen of the Harlem Theatre before a delighted audience, that roared its approval with gales of laughter.

TV forum does racial study

NEW YORK—"Race, the Church and Higher Education," a discussion of the racial problem in the United States, was presented on "Lamp Unto My Feet" Sunday on the CBS Television Network.

The broadcast marked the annual observance of Race Relations Sunday by the Methodist Church, to focus attention on the general racial problem of all minority groups in this country, with particular emphasis on the problem of such groups in higher education.

GUESTS PARTICIPATING in the discussion were Dr. Clayton Calhoun, president, Paine College, Augusta, Ga., Dr. James Thomas, staff member, Methodist Board of Education, Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Katherine Cudlipp, president, Student Government Association, Randolph-Macon Women's College, Lynchburg, Va., and Miss Elnitra Kendrix, graduate student, Drew University Theological School, Madison, N. J.

Dr. George Crothers, program host, led the discussion.
