CHERYL RENEE BRANCH was honoree at the gal a end-of-the-season cookout given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Branch, on the lawn of their Tioga Parkway home, Saturday.

Guests who came to dance, play games and dine included:

Cheryl Saunders, Joe Howard, Rodney and Bruce Lawson, Terry Murphy, Anthony Rogers, Lisa Moore, Lethia Coombs, Linda James, Stephanie and Phyllis Janey.

Ernest Jackson, Robin and Angela Gross, Robin Kane, Denise and Dennis Thornton Stepehen, Janie, Denise and Valerie Smith, Beverly Latham.

Gail Rucker, Saundra Turner, Brenda Haynie and Bernadine McCray.

THE A.A.N.N.'s (they have the darndest interpretation of those letters . . . which-if-I printed it here, I'd surely get canned) shoved off, Saturday night, for a meeting in Washington with Theresa (Terri) Brown.

They held forth in the Browns' new and extraordinary club room (bar, seats, even ash trays swing from the ceiling), added business to their fun. Now there's no guess about their dance. The much-looked toward affair will be on the Saturday following Thanksgiving Day, and in the Cherry Hill Hall.

Attending the past Saturday meeting were Pauline Blackwell, Mary Smalley, Maxine Higginbotham, Helena Edmonds, Heromione Weaver, Anne Johnson, Laura Robinson, Alice Pinderhughes and Gwendolyn Seaborne.

JELLED ALSO are the plans for the annual dance of the Continental Society for the Underprivileged Children of Baltimore.

October 23 is the date. Emerald Gardens is the place and you are privileged to provide a meager $5.50 (tax deductable) to aid in the club's charities which include the House of the Good Shepherd, aid to a "Continental Child," assistance to Med-Chi (camp for diabetic children) the children's ward of Provident Hospital, the YMCA Campership Fund and the Lafayette Community Center.

Hostesses on the occasion will be:

Helen Gattis, who heads the club; Odessa Dyson, Phyliss Thompson, Delores Young, Sevella Carroll Lillie Branch, Mattie Mumby, Helen Quarles.

Serena Holmes, Ellen Howard, Margaret Beaman, Edith Davidson, Frances Branch, Willie Cardwell, Sue Miles, Charlotte Holt, Doreva Stanley, Helen Chamberlain and Elmly Peck.

THE LADS AND LASSIES of Jack and Jill. They are the 11-12 year-olds who held their first activity of the year, a get-acquainted cook out on Saturday.

Great Falls on the Potomac was the selected spot.

The group met at Lynn Carpenter's house, pooled their cars and journeyed together to the Falls. There they had a chance to visit the museum, view the Falls and Canal Locks, climb the rocks, go fishing and fowling, feed the ducks, play soft ball and eat the delicious barbecued food their parents prepared for them. The weather was perfect and the group spent a glorious day.

Mark Carpenter, Lynn Carpenter and Clinton Jennifer hosted this activity.

Jack and Jill members participating were:

Mabel Gee and son Cassarew Jr.; William and Ivy Harris and children, Barbara and Donna; Kay Carter and sons, Mark and Michael Carolyn Willis and daughter Caren.

Earl Parker and son Ralph and Raymond; Earl Davidson and daughter, Patricia; Ruth Jennifer and son, Clinton; Harry and Leona Carpenter and children Lynn and Harry 3rd; Gail Browne and John Stokes 3rd.

Guests were Eugenia Parker and children, Norma Gene and Norman Jr.; Margaret Davidson and Robert Shaw.

POT-POURRI: Herbert and Diana (Harris) Brown have named their eight pound-one ounce bundle of joy Kevin Roderick. Their son arrived at Johns Hopkins, Wednesday.

Flozella Clark flies to Atlanta, Ga., Saturday, to join relatives who will make the sad trek to Gibsland, La. for the burial of her aunt, Mrs. Essyline Burford. Mrs. Burford, who is, incidentally, the oldest sister of the AFRO's European correspondent, Olie Stewart, died suddenly in Phoenix, Arizona, Tuesday. Her son, Capt. Lawrence Burford, will fly from Germany, where he is studying medicine at the University of Heidelberg. Gibsland is the home site of the family.

Scoring a first is Charlene Hodges Byrd, who has been made supervisor of English in Charleston, W. Va., Kanawha County. She is the daughter of Mrs. J. Ethel Hodges of this city.

Bill and Alice Pinderhughes will be joining the Forest Park colony . . . in an elegant manse on Hilton Road. The James E. Dinkinses have acquired a Koko Lane property . . . and Margaret Holliday is the new possessor of snazy place on Edgewood Road.

Davis Wright, teacher, still has his mouth open in surprise! When he walked into Charles and Gwen Hillen's Warwick Avenue home on Friday evening (to deliver a pattern for his wife, he thought) he found preparation for a dinner in honor of his birthday. There to dine with him were Mrs. Wright (Bea), Ethel and Clift Murray and Bettye and Paul Moss.

Hints for Homemakers

INEZ KAISER

It is the little things that mean so much. Regardless of whether it is adding a pin to a suit, placing a bud in a vase or softening your family wash, that small addition makes all the difference in the world.

In talking to many homemakers recently, it was amazing to learn that so many women did not realize that the addition of a fabric softener can make their clothes softer and whiter. In fact, a number of them were not aware that they were even on the market.

I constantly tell them that the most satisfactory brand that I have found is FINAL TOUCH. It does just what its name implies. It makes all the difference in the world in the way your clothes look and feel.

The main thing I like about it is that it whitens as it softens. Sellers Blue has been added to it, which does a terrific job of whitening. Once you use it as directed, you will be surprised how soft all your clothes will be. This fabric softener even makes ironing an easier task.

Another good feature about FINAL TOUCH is that it removes static electricity in lingerie and dresses.

I cannot overemphasize the importance of pouring it in your last rinse water and not on your clothes.

The distinctive blue FINAL TOUCH container is one you cannot miss when you go shopping.

Smile, and the world smiles with you is really a true saying.

Have you ever stopped to think why so many people frown or are hesitant to show their teeth when they talk? It is my guess that they are self-conscious about the appearance of their teeth.

Pepsodent

If you are one of these persons, take heart. All you have to do is brush your teeth daily with PEPSODENT Tooth Paste to make sure that your teeth are sparkling-clean. It cleans your teeth their whitest. In case you don't believe me, just try it and see for yourself.

When you really stop to think about it, a bright, shining smile is most important. It can help you so much in your everyday living. Why, it can make your children happier when they are cross or ill, soothe your husband when he is disturbed or perplexed or make your employer happy to have you around.

Now I know that there are many other brands of tooth paste that you might have tried, but, take it from me, PEPSODENT does a terrific cleaning job. To prove that I am right, the next time you shop, look on the shelf for that red-and-white package of PEPSODENT Tooth Paste and put a tube in your shopping cart.

Use it and see if the world doesn't smile with you.

Seeing is believing, and, believe it or not, I saw it with my own eyes. No one told me so.

In a recent visit to the Research and Development Center of Lever Brothers, I viewed with much interest the way that WISK, a heavy-duty liquid blue detergent, cleaned clothes. Why, you can place it directly on the heavily soiled area, without any harmful effect to the garment. The remainder of the product is then added to the wash water. It removes the heaviest of soil from clothing.

I was greatly impressed, because liquid WISK started working instantly, and, as a result, insures a full cleaning cycle for your clothes. It was not necessary for me to wait for WISK to dissolve — as with powders and tablets — to see how well it cleaned.

You will never know how pleased I was to learn about its laundry use as well as its many other household uses. It does an excellent job of cleaning walls, floors and white-wall tires. Why it even removes blood, lipstick and diaper stains. All I could think of was the money I would save if I bought one product instead of many to serve all of my cleaning needs.

The cost of this detergent pays for itself, because it is really a saving when you think of the extras you get for your money. I recommend it, because I know WISK puts its strength where the dirt is.

Time brings about a change — even in toilet soaps. Did you know that LIFEBUOY has really changed? You would hardly recognize anything about it now.

The shape, color and fragrance are not the same. The distinctive odor that was its alone, has disappeared. Instead, new LIFEBUOY has a more fragrant odor. It is one that is most pleasant and that you will like.

Recently, I shopped for several bars and had a hard time deciding which color to select. Now it is available in delicate coral, white or pine green, which will blend with the decor of your kitchen or bathroom.

Speaking of bathroom, LIFEBUOY is just the soap to use to bathe with. It not only gives adults who are active that added protection, but is perfect for children to use as well. It doesn't matter whether your husband is a construction worker, professional man or a lover of golf — he can be assured of being protected for 24 hours with regular use.

If you are on the go all the time, like I am, you will just love to use it yourself. In fact, it is a toilet bar that active people like to use.

There is no wonder in my mind why famous-ball players pack a bar of LIFEBUOY wherever they go.

committee chairman, also noted that:

"The inadequacies of the educational program of these deprived schools have forced ambitious students to seek enrollment at the so-called prestige schools, creating over - crowding and forcing such schools to operate on a double-shift plan.

"Such over crowding in these schools, with their consequent weakened instructional program, will continue so long as the inner city schools suffer neglect."

CORE informed the city officials that a close study of the pending school budget "will reveal that inner city schools like the Dunbar High School suffer great deprivation and neglect. This should be a matter of deep concern to all citizens of Baltimore and particularly to the Board of Estimates with its committment on sound fiscal and economic policies for our city."

CORE officers in releasing the letter, said they had no "present plans" for action; Chairman Griffin explained that "this is our first step. We have called attention to the Dunbar situation, we are waiting to see what the city will do to remedy a deplorable set of conditions."

Escape drills urged for fire prevention week

Fire prevention agencies in Maryland are urging all families to hold home fire drills on Oct. 7 at 7 p.m. during Fire Prevention Week.

These agencies feel that many of the over 100 people who die in fires in the State each year would have survived if they had planned a means of escape before fire occured.

Families are urged to prepare plans for use in the event their regular means of exit is blocked by fire or smoke. This should include the location of windows which might serve as emergency exits.
