—School report

original committee in Oct. 1962.

The final report contains specific recommendations affecting all phases of the public school program.

The recommendations pertain to programs for academically talented pupils, the extended use of advisory committees, closer liaison with city officials and agencies, equality of educational opportunities and improved counseling services for pupils.

The report also details programs for disadvantaged pupils, curriculum development, non-teaching duties of clerical and secretarial staff, school construction, family life education, intergroup relations, public information services, recruitment of staff, and textbooks, to list but a few of the areas in which recommendations are made.

MR. HOBBS, committee chairman, felt the following recommendations were particularly worth noting:

1. Improvements in the retention of professional staff by increased clerical staff members, increased elementary teachers, elimination of non-teaching duties and extended use of advisory groups and consultants.

2. A concerted effort to bring school buildings up to modern standards by replacing obsolete schools, accelerating the school building program, improving school building maintenance, improving school equipment maintenance and replacement, and increasing the use of schools for educational and recreational purposes.

3. Establishment of closer relationships with colleges and universities, State Department of Education, other city agencies, and other civic groups.

4. Reorganization of the curricular program on a kindergarten to 12th grade basis, including the appointment of an assistant superintendent for curriculum development.

5. Expansion of auxiliary services to teachers such as counseling, school social work, instrumental materials, and instructional research.

DR. ROBERT C. Lloyd, administrative assistant to the superintendent, served full-time during the two-year study project as the staff coordinator.

Approved for permanent positions in the school system by the Board were:

Leslie J. McLaughlin, Ruth D. Morrow and Irvin L. Steinbach, clinical psychologists; Lois C. Buckler, Virginia D. White, Merete F. Nielsen, elementary school teachers; Ann M. Dorweis, elementary art teacher; Tressa F. Keech, Ruth W. Wicks, Harlee A. Russ and Richard Sherrill, secondary school teachers; Mack-C. Statham, secondary school music teacher; Rosetta Davis, Irene P. Hill, John E. Kennedy, and Barbara C. MacDonald, school social worker; Fruma E. Pressman, speech correctionist.

Delaware collision kills Phila. man

PHILADELPHIA

A collision of two tractor trailers on Route 301, two miles west of Middletown, Del., Friday morning took the life of 43-year-old Jay L. Johnson, of 3412 Spring Garden St.

Johnson, who was driving a truck owned by the Noble Trucking Company, of Philadelphia, was pronounced dead at Wilmington General Hospital.

Authorities said the other trailer was driven by Harold Jones, 42, of Siler City, N.C., who was admitted to the same hospital with head injuries.

Asks US probe of McDill bias

TAMPA, Fla. (NPI) — The U. S. Civil Rights Commission has been asked by the local NAACP branch to look into complaints of job bias in the state employment office and the McDill Air Force Base.

message which was sent to the South African President on Oct. 23.

THE THREE Africans, Vuyisile Mini, Zinabele Kaba and Wilson Khayinga, were convicted on 12 counts charging them with sabotage, propagating the aims of the banned African National Congress, recruiting members to be sent abroad for military training and an alleged responsibility for murder.

A death sentence appeal to the South African Supreme Court was denied on Oct. 2. Their only chance of reprieve stands with the exercise of mercy by President Swart.

The American Committee on Africa, of which A. Philip Randolph is a co-chairman, has been actively working to save the lives of the three African leaders as part of a world-wide campaign led by the Committee for the Release of Political Prisoners in London.

Is it proper to call for Gordon's by name in English Pubs?
It's not a matter of being proper. It's unnecessary. For when most Englishmen ask for gin, they expect to get Gordon's. After all, its distinctive dryness and delicate flavour have been a part of English life for 195 years. Americans, however, have been enjoying Gordon's for a somewhat shorter span of time. So it is wise (and proper) to specify Gordon's by name. Your first sip of a Gordon's martini will tell you why it's the biggest selling gin over here as well as in England and the rest of the world.

Hayes Repertory Co. at Coppin Tuesday

On Tuesday, the Helen Hayes Repertory Company will make its first appearance in the Baltimore area when it presents Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" at Coppin State College.

Featured in the cast of "Twelfth Night" next Tuesday will be Ed Zimmerman, most recently seen in "Luther" on Broadway; Richard Herd, who has made television appearances on the "Phil Silvers Show", "Naked City" and "The Secret Storm"; Robert Penn, whose twenty-five year career in the theater includes seventeen Broadway plays and television roles in "East Side, West Side" and other shows.

The performance will be in the Pullen Gymnasium at Coppin State College, 2500 W. North Ave., at 8:15 p.m. and is open to the public without charge.

'WE SHOWED 'EM—That's what U.S. Senator-elect Joseph D. Tydings seems to be saying to Fourth District Del. Clarence M. Mitchell 3rd and his wife Mrs. Clarice Mitchell during victory celebration Tuesday. Mr. Tydings beat incumbent Republican Sen. J. Glenn Beall by a two to one margin to give Maryland two senators on the Democratic side of the Senate.

CELEBRATING—Joe Tydings and staunch supporters live it up in wake of his impressive victory in Tuesday's election. From left are Fred Campbell, Claude (Buddy) Young, chairman of Athletes Committee for Tydings, and Stephen H. Sachs, legal brain trust of the Tydings campaign. More Inside coverage of the election both locally and from other areas of the country. Included is an article on what is was like at Senator Humphrey's Washington home on election night.
