Modern Modistes give dinner party

with Lula Jones Garrett

The Modern Modiste Club recently sponsored an "appreciation" dinner party at the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA to entertain all the people who travel with the club in the summer on various tours to New England and Canada.

Money made from these trips is used for food and clothing for baskets at Christmas to help unfortunate families.

Members of the Modern Modiste Club are Mesdames Violetta Wade, president; Virginia Tabb, vice president; Florence Kelley, recording secretary; Irene Matthews, financial secretary; Ada News, treasurer; Alethia Cook, corresponding secretary; Bernice Mitchell, Minnie Cain and Lillian Trotman.

Entertainment was provided by Mesdames Juanita Hall Davis, Emma McQueen, Patricia Scott; Misses Virginia Tabb, Sandra and Marcia Malone and company; Messrs. Arthur Warner, Kenneth Roberts and James Trotman. Mrs. Lillian Trotman was program chairman.

ELEGANCE and beauty were all aglow when the Women's Civic League held its annual flower show at Mondamin on the Mall on Sunday.

In spite of the lateness of the season, there was a profusion of beautiful flowers brought in by participants from all over the city. The can goods entered by the Carrollton Avenue Neighborhood Club added a lot of interest.

The highlight of the show was the Rosebuds Fashion Show with Mrs. Nikki Randolph as commentator.

The very professional little models were the Misses Joyce and Joan Finney, Little Michelle Harvey escorted by her brother Irving Cannaday, Misses Ernestine Lee, Bryan Pinkney; the sister, Misses Pia and Kim Pinkney Miss Lisa Randolph, Miss Stephanie Morris, Misses Denise and Pat Williams, Miss Roslyn Taft and Miss Thelma Tate.

All were stunning in the latest of fashions.

Charter members, Mesdames Nellie Waters, Veol Coleman, Vivian Cook, Edith Scott, Augusta Chissell and members from all over the city and many guests helped to make it a delightful occasion.

All are waiting in anticipation for the group's Lafayette Square Flower Mart.

Mistress of ceremony was Mrs. Betrice Pitts. Mrs. Naomi Camper is president.

THE CAMP Fire Girls are conducting their traditional Candy Sale during the month of November. The Camp Fire Girls in this area have doubled in size — and in response to their need, Project Camp Site has begun.

In the rolling hills of Harford county a magnificient camp site has been leased, and proceeds from the Candy Sale will be used to provide campaign equipment. Camp Fire Girls in pairs will be selling candy in your area. Don't turn them down.

These girls need the recreational and educational activities that camping provides, together with the opportunity to cultivate self-reliance, initiative and the ability to cooperate as a group. Help them by buying a box of candy when Camp Fire Girls come to your door. Better still, buy extra ones for gift.

The Master Beauticians' Association has released its roster of new officers and committee heads for the coming year.

Mrs. Rosetta Tilghman is president of the Association. Some 25 other officials were elected at a recent general meeting. They include the Mesdames Blanche White, first vice - president; Hattie Powell, second vice - president; Flora Irving, third vice-president; Catherine Briscoe, financial secretary; Betty Knowlin, recording secretary; Marie Steen, corresponding secretary; Rosetta Addison, treasurer; Ivory Powell, chaplain and Ruth Lucas, sergeant - at - arms.

Named to the trustee board were the Mesdames Florence Know, chairman; Florence White, Ola Mae Johnson, Flossie Brown, Mary Stevens and Mr. Roger Sanders.

The Master Beauticians executive board is comprised of Mesdames Catherine Kirk, Cricty Carr, Everett Butts and Mr. William Foster. Serving on the legislative board will be Mesdames Mae Nicolson, Bessie Holly and Susie Rodgers.

Membership committee chairman will be Mrs. Ivory Powell, Mrs. Grace Terry will head the ways and means committee and Mrs. Dorothy Butler is chairman of the special units committee.

Adventure whispered in the wind and Glenn Robert, age five, heard its call. "Of course," his mother said, "you can go up to Marky's to play. Be home around lunchtime," she called after him.

But lunchtime passed. Glenn's mother went out and looked up toward Mark's house. There was no sign of Glenn. She called Mark's mother, "I thought they went back to your house." Two more phone calls—no one had seen him. Could some stranger . . . ?

She pushed the thought from her mind and quickly dialed another of Glenn's kindergarten friends, this one on Hollow Road, many streets away. "Yes, he's here. Hold on, I'll get him."

Problems have a way of disappearing when you lift your phone.

Glenn's mother hung up the phone and smiled; the adventurer was on his way home.

For emergencies of any size—pleasure any day—phones are friends.

COOKING IS FUN

Jamaica chicken fricassee is favorite of Island Farm Queen

For 17-year-old June Scott, selected by the Jamaica Agricultural Commission to be this year's Jamaica Farm Queen, the reward of a trip to New York—her first—became the most exciting event in her life.

Along with it came all the trimmings—a look at the World's Fair, a tour of Manhattan and the chance to see a Broadway show.

AS A FARM girl and one of nine children in the family, June has had plenty of opportunity to practice the culinary arts. Other points on which contestants are judged include appearance, personality and the extent to which they actively help out on the farm.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Scott, own a small 25-acre farm in the York Pen district and the principal crop is sugar cane.

THE TALENTED young farm queen, who plans to to study nursing when she graduates from high school next year, was entranced with the variety and number of aluminum cooking utensils in a Madison Avenue kitchen, which is used for developing and testing new recipes.

"So many," she said with her charming accent when asked to select a pan. "Most of our pans in Jamaica are of aluminum also, although we do not have so many and so pretty."

Then she nodded thoughtfully as Mrs. Maggie Murphy, director of the test kitchen, explained that many experienced cooks prefer aluminum for cooking because its even-heating qualities permit better temperature control.

"Yes," June agreed. "That is something we learn in our Jamaica 4-H Club."

With that, the attractive young farm queen declined the use of an apron, and, substituting American - type cooking oil for the refined coconut oil she ordinarily uses, began to prepare a succulent Jamaican Chicken Fricassee.

JAMAICA CHICKEN FRICASSEE, as Miss Scott prepares it requires 1 2-1/2-pound frying chicken, 1/4 teaspoon thyme, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon black pepper, 1/4 cup cooking oil, ¾ cup chopped onion, 1/4 cup chopped shallots or 1 leek, chopped, dash hot pepper sauce, 2 tablespoons butter, and 1/2 cup hot water.

Cut chicken into serving size pieces. Season with thyme, salt and pepper and let stand 10 minutes.

A coat of wax on the chrome of kitchen chairs will prevent rust.

Synthetic rubber gloves for cleaning are not affected by acid solutions and cleaning fluids.

Place a piece of wax paper on clothelines so heavily starched items will not stick.

Final nature tour set for Lee park

The next tour in the series of Fall nature lore walks sponsored by the Bureau of Recreation will be in Robert E. Lee Park. All interested resident are asked to meet with tour leader Elmer Worthley, at Roland and West Lake Aves. at 2:45 p.m., Sunday, November 8. This is the last in the series of fall walks. The spring series will begin in April.
