Haven't tried Smirnoff—where have you been?

Smirnoff invented a whole new way to drink: Screwdrivers that taste like orange juice. Gimlets like lime juice. Highballs like your favorite soft drink. Filtered through 14,000 pounds of activated charcoal, Smirnoff is remarkably free of taste and odor—mixes perfectly with anything that pours. It leaves you breathless.

SMIRNOFF SCREWDRIVER Pour a jigger of Smirnoff Vodka over ice in a glass. Fill with orange juice—stir.

SPG all the way for LBJ

LEICESTER, N.C. —Simon Peter Gudger was all the way for LBJ here this year and was all the way for him — that is, James A. Garfield — in 1881.

Gudger, 102, was the oldest person voting in Buncombe County. He qualified by reason of age to cast an absentee ballot so he would not have to travel to the polls.

The former slave, who has spent most of his line as a farmer except for brief stretches as a railroad man and operating a whiskey still, now lives on Social Security and the produce from his five and one-half acres of land with his wife, Cora.

Christian marriage is man's noblest aspect

Lula's away

Mrs. Lula Jones Garrett, AFRO women's editor and conductor of the weekly column Gadabouting, is on vacation. Her weekly column will appear when she returns.

"Christian marriage brings out the noblest aspect of man — his generosity," said Joan Ronr, a member of the Society of Jesus, in his discussion in the "Problems Arising in Christian Marriage" at the Morgan State College Student Union lounge.

"Christian morality," Mr. Rohr began, "is not a set of rules." Rather, he indicated, it is based on the love of God and neighbor.

Mr. Rohr spoke of Christian marriage in light of Christian morality when he called marriage the "permanent — communion — in which two people can adequately and unselfishly care for their offspring.

Selfishness, he pointed out, is the main problem in Christian marriage. This selfishness leads to other problems such as alcoholism and adultery, he said.

The fifth in a "Date Line" series sponsored by the Student Union Special Events Committee, the discussion was given in an attempt to answer questions on Christian marriage and religion.

The Sutton Place Penthouse was the beautiful setting for the elegant Champagne Sip given by the Faculty - Trustee Wives of Morgan State College on Friday.

The decor of the room was such as to have a conversation lounge effect on one side and a cocktail lounge on the other with the beautifully decorated buffet table in the center. The sight of the city from the Penthouse gave one the effect of airplane travel.

The guests were entertained during the evening with several guitar solos by Irene Adona; a "Gumey Bird" dance by Thelma Smith; two solos — Body and Soul and Sunday Kind of Love by Mrs. Warrenie Hall; and and instrumental solo plus incidental music by Mrs. Clara S. Green.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jenkins, wife of Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, president of Morgan State College, will entertain the Faculty and Trustee Wives at her home on Sunday, Nov. 15 at 3 p.m.

Members and their husbands attending Friday night's affair were:

THE OMEGA Psi Phi Fraternity held its 43rd annual national achievement week observance at the New Mt. Zion Methodist Church, Liberty Heights and Wabash Aves., with civil rights as the 1964 theme.

Two awards were made for 1964 Citizen of the Community to Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin and Chapter Man of the Year to Earl Koger.

Earl K. Hagan, Harlem Park Junior High School mathematics department, gave the principal address.

"Twas a busy—BUSY session when "The Organization" met with Ernestine Lewis in her beautiful White Chapel Road home on Saturday past.

Ernestine, recovering from a spell of sickness, was indeed a charming and gracious hostess, surprising each of her guests with a small token to express her appreciation for their many kindnesses during her illness.

Much of the evening was spent assembling and wrapping gifts for the men and women at the Anna Mae Hunter Home For the Blind. These will be presented by the club members on the Friday after Thanksgiving.

Shower time, a special feature at each meeting, drew ohs and ahs as the honoree, Mrs. Veronia Green, opened her gifts. What an array of toilet articles, jewelry and lingerie she received.

Needham Lewis, Ernestine's husband, received the husband's gift of the month, a handsome yellow shirt and matching socks.

At the appointed hour, Ernestine invited her guests to dine with her at a lavishly spread table. Joining her were Mesdames Marian Amprey, Mary Bacote, Mae Cornish, Leana Ferrell, Veronia Greene, Geneva (Jean) Johnson, Jeanette L. Johnson, Henrietta Jones, Lillian T. Wilson and Alphia Williams.

Mrs. Christina M. Jenkins, inventor - executive director of Hair Weev, Inc., Cleveland, and Dr. S. H. Preston Jr., the vice president, were guests at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Evangeline D. Pearson, 1635 N. Hilton St.

Mrs. Jenkins was in the city to conduct a clinic for beauticians.

Present at the luncheon were Mrs. Jenkins; Dr. Preston; Mrs. Cornelia Raynor, Mrs. Virginia Hoes, Mrs. Etta Johnson, Mrs. Smith, and Mrs. Anna E. Davage, Donn Pearson and James Pearson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, 2400 W. Lanvale St., were hostesses for a halloween party for: Allen Stokes, Bryant Stanley, Phillsin Scott, Robyn Roberts, Cathleen Lewis, Wendell Jones, Spencer Johnson, Preston Johnson, Robin Hillen and Lynne Hicks.

Sheryl Greene, Dreeck Gilmore, Leda Fuller, Kathleen Davis, Lynette Davis, Raymond Carpenter, Linda Brown, Lanier Braxton and Juan Boston.

Bright - colored halloween decorations set the mood for the midday affair. The children were greeted with a mansized-scarecrow seated on the front porch with their names printed on it.

In another corner of the 231 Prestiman St., made porch stood a huge stock of cornstalks.

Mrs. Vivian Cook assisted the children with lunch and a talent show. Then the children played games. Mr. Johnson ran his unusual collection set of trains.

Parents present were mesdames, Gloria Stokes, Doreva Stanley, Grace Scott, Jackqueline Lewis, Lillian Jones, Corrine Johnson, Dorothy Johnson, Hattie Hillen and Marjorie Gilmore.

Ann Fuller, Rebecca Davis, Ann Davis, Gloria Carpenter and Zelma Crown, who was chairman of the group.

Highlighting Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority's Founders' Week was the dynamic speech of Mrs. Annie Whitehead Neville, Grand Basileus, during the public meeting, at the Holy Trinity Church on Sunday, Nov. 8.

Mrs. Neville is a native of Rocky Mount, N.C. and principal of Lincoln Elementary School there.

Mrs. Neville said, "May we go forth in our communities as agents of the Civil Rights Bill, being examples for our youth and being acquainted with the affairs of our community through "Greater Service Greater Progress."

Other participants on the program were soloists Mrs. Dorothy Reddick and Miss Patelle Green; Mrs. Emily Bryant, basileus of Alpha Alpha Sigma, Mrs. Catherine Royston, honoree of Alpha Alpha Sigma; Mrs. Carolyn Robinson, national board member of the sorority, and Miss Sonia Lynch, who introduced members of the under graduate chapters.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Robinson and Mrs. Eliza Hill were host and hostess at a dinner recently at their south Morley St. home.

Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Sterling Bourdry, Francis Adams, Mesdames Gladys Waddell, Dorothy Moore, Ethel Richardson, Pink Stokes and Din Jose Eduardo El Segundo Abramovitz.

Warm, friendly small talk and a delicious dinner highlighed the cozy gathering.

Members of the Eclipse Pinochole Club met recently at the home of Miss Anna Willis of Mt. Holly.

Cards followed the regular business session. Winners were Mesdames Dennis Esther Thomas, Marjorie Short, and Ametha Hamlett. Mrs. Thomas is president.

200 MILES TO POLLS—Miss Jannie Bonaparte 231 Pressman St., made the trip from her New York job to her Baltimore precinct to vote Nov. 3. She has worked in N.Y. ten years and says she has never missed coming home to vote in city, state and national elections.
