and O'Donnell Heights sectors are also included, he said.

THE CHARGES were leveled at the Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co., largest insurers of autos in Maryland, which has been publicly accused in recent days of wholesale cancellations of policies without just cause.

Mr. Pressman stated, in releasing his findings:

"Many people who live in these areas have magnificent driving records over a period of years, some without any accidents or motor vehicle violations whatsoever.

"Yet, they have been caused to suffer great hardships and expense for no other reason than that they live in these areas.

"Since the state law makes it necessary for a motorist to carry insurance or pay a large penalty, the state owes it to the motorists o protect them from the unfair treatment which they are receiving, not only from Nationwide but from some other companies."

Mr. Pressman said his investigation of this practice would be continued.

Robert Huff, regional manager, Nationwide Insurance Co., was queried by the AFRO on the accusations Thursday, but declined to comment.

Mr. Huff said he had been misquoted so much in the daily press, he has decided not to comment on anything.

Meanwhile, the Baltimore Association of Insurance Agents Inc., representing 172 independent insurance agencies in the metropolitan area, voted Wednesday to urge a complete investigation of the cancellation practices of all companies.

The motion was made by Eugene Kibbs, of a Towson agency, and seconded by Earl Roger Sr., who operates a city agency under his name.

—Md. GOP

man and one of two members of his race in that body, summed the situation up for the AFRO thusly:

"We have a fusion ticket endorsed by the Democratic State Central Committee and, of course, the Republican Committee.

"I feel that a majority of the Democrats, who voted for the charter government, will support this ticket, and the Republicans will have an excellent chance for election.

"This election is by petition. Each of the candidates must be party. But the Republicans will gain representation, not now enjoyed, by winning. Democrats will gain representation, not now enjoyed, by winning."

Here are the county council candidates on Senator Alton's fusion ticket:

1st District—George F. Bachman Sr. (D), Linthicum Heights; 2nd District — John A. Cade (R), Glen Burnie; 3rd District — Phillip F. Scheibe (D), 303 11th Ave., Baltimore;

4th District — Murray D. O'Malley (D), Odenton; 5th District — Charles C. Hartman Jr. (R), North Severna Park; 6th District — John M. Whitmore (D), Annapolis, and 7th District — William R. Woodfield Sr. (D), Galesville.

Under the new charter form of government, the seven councilmanic districts have replaced the eight former election districts.

The Democratic county executive candidate among the five of that party who is named on literature soliciting support as a friend of Gov. Wallace is Charles J. Luthardt Sr., of Pasadena.

LATEST REGISTRATION breakdown of Anne Arundel County eligible voters, taken for the past November elections, showed a total of 83,656 persons on the books.

Of these, Democrats numbered 61,700, Republicans 20,123 and Independents totaled 1,833.

A further breakdown showed there were 8,263 colored citizens registered and 74,847 whites on the books.

Mr. Brown recalled there was an approximate 80-percent turnout of colored voters in Annapolis during the November general election, to combat the Goldwater presidential threat.

He predicts there will be a sizeable flow of such citizens to the polls on Jan. 26, possibly 50 percent or more.

Should this occur and the GOP's Senator Alton wins, along with Baltimore's Mayor McKeldin, Baltimore County Executive Spiro T. Agnew and all three Howard County Commissioners it will put the metropolitan area at the top in GOP hands.

sical and mental well - being.

Some observers of the Toby Town controversy viewed the health department order as added pressure to yank the land from colored ownership.

It was reported that a white woman who had allowed the Toby Towners to use her water supply had informed the health department of the situation.

A WASHINGTON real estate investigator, has also been brought into the matter to find out who owns property in Toby Town, Ellard is expected to complete his investigation within 10 days.

Land involved in the controversy has been passed own within families from generation to generation and, in some cases is not clear who is the rightful owner or owners.

THE ORDER of the health department demanded that the Toby Towners install sewage facilities, toilet facilities for each property and remove debris scattered about the settlement which does not have sanitation services.

Mrs. Edith Throckmorton, chairman of the Montgomery County NAACP, promised that a request for an extension would be made. She previously had termed the request "unreasonable" considering the financial status of the residents.

The NAACP also indicated that it was anticipating court action in the land controversy. Mrs. Dovey Houndtree, Washington attorney, has been retained by the NAACP for the case.

Mrs. Throckmorton said "the NAACP will follow through financially in providing legal aid to the residents."

The NAACP chairman also reported that the civil rights group has scheduled a meeting Feb. 13 to deal with housing and release for Toby Towners under the Equal Opportunity Act of 1964.

THE HEALTH department requests followed knowledge a few days ago that the one and one quarter acres of land thought to be owned by 76-year - old Robert A. Martin, had been obtained by a white friend in a land tax transaction.

The friend, in whom the illiterate Mr. Martin held much confidence, is Washington I. Cleveland, an executive with the Automobile Association of America.

Martin had worked for Cleveland for 15 years at the rate of $2 a day and transfer records show that Cleveland acquired Martin's property for delinquent taxes.

The County Welfare Department has sued Cleveland on charges that he defrauded Martin by "concealing foreclosure proceedings after buying the land at a delinquent tax sale."

The petition charges that Cleveland brought the land for $600 plus $47.16 in back taxes. The property is currently worth $5,000.

Martin has been receiving old age public assistance since 1955 and the Welfare Department charges that Cleveland knew Martin received this aid and failed to comply with a law requiring consent of the board before buying the property of any welfare recipient.

Martin has said he has received no money for the land.

Cleveland has denied any fraud or deceit in acquiring the property.

the offending parents can be separated from the child, the child is immediately placed in a foster home for protection.

When even mild cases of beating come to their attention, the public nurses were advised to regard these as "serious" and to follow up by convincing the parents of the dangers involved or by notifying the proper authorities.

It has been shown, the nurses were warned, that families in which "child" beatings occur are often later the scenes of severe and crippling thrashings.

One problem listed was that of educating those parents who see nothing wrong with meltreating their children. Psychiatric help was agreed to be the best answer.

Besides the police department, investigation of child beating cases is also handled by the Department of Public Welfare and the Family and Children's Society the nurses learned.

Dr. C. G. Bauman, Western District health officer, was moderator for the program.

Other panelists included: Miss Alice Blanchard, policewoman; Mrs. Floella Clarke, of the Family and Children's Society; Miss Esther Lazarus, head of the city welfare department; Miss Mary Margaret McIntyre, social worker, and Dr. Philip Jansen, both of University Hospital.

POWELL VS. SHRIVER

Poverty setup hit on race

WASHINGTON

Harlem Congressman Adam Clayton Powell again lashed out at Sargent Shriver director of the poverty program, Thursday for not having a single colored person on his anti-poverty staff in a policy-making position.

In critiding Mr. Shriver in a speech before the AFL - CIO Legislative conference here, Rep. Powell charged that the anti-poverty chief "has relented as policy - makers those who know most about poverty and lack of opportunity."

Mr. Shriver has "chosen the top echelon as if from a private club," Rep. Powell said.

Rep. Powell further charged that Mr. Shriver had overlooked colored persons in favor of whites.

"Even after I had a conference with Sargent Shriver on this subject and suggested Mr. Whitney Young (National Urban League Director) to fill the vacancy at the head of the Community Action Program, Mr. Shriver placed Mr. Richard Boone, a white man, as the acting head of the program," said Rep. Powell.

He also said that when con-

gress again considers the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 he would propose the repeal of the provision allowing governors the right to veto a local anti-poverty projects.

Explaining why he was opposed to this provision, Rep. Powel said it has caused delays in the crusade against misery and need.

"In some cases, this power has been abused by the governor through the threat of possible veto," he declared.

When the one we love has passed away,
God took her home — it was His will;
Within our hearts she lives still.

MARY, VERNON and BLYTHE POWELL

YOUNG — In loving memory of my mother, MAMIE H., who passed away January 16, 1960:

Dear, bright eyes a tender smile,
A loving heart that knew no guile,
Deep trust in God that all was well,

Her life a ministry of love,
Some gentle act of love she'd do,
No thought of self, but of "the other;"
Above He said: "Well done, dear mother."
