OF WILLS AND ESTATES

$88,000 estate is distributed

A second distribution, of $15,872.48, last week, practically closed administration proceedings of the $88,034.99 estate of Mrs. Katie R. Williams, who died, here, three years ago.

Mrs. Williams, one of a quartet of women of this city, who were highly successful in the undertaking business, died on January 13 1963.

She was the most recent to die, with Mrs. Robert T. Elliott of East Baltimore, being the first.

In the group also were the late Mrs. Helen Holland, and Mrs. Frances Hemsley, who is still living.

• • •

KNOWN TO be a shrewd business woman, who lived frugally and modestly, and who believed in paying cash for purchases, it had been expected that Mrs. Williams was worth far past the $100,000 mark.

However, prices for the properties she owned, including land adjacent to the Arbutus Memorial Park, brought less than expected, in fact, less than the appraised value.

Under Mrs. Williams' will, a half of her estate went to a cousin who worked for her, Mrs. Sophia Fleming, and a fourth each, to Leroy Williams and Charles Powell, also employees, who purchased the business upon her death.

• • •

MRS. FLEMING, who died on September 16, 1964, received $36,878.53 upon a first administration accounting, and Messrs. Williams and Powell, $13,439.27 each.

Upon the second distribution, $7,036.24 went to the estate of Mrs. Fleming, and Messrs. Williams and Powell received $3,868.12.

The balance went for debts, including funeral bill, commissions, attorney's fees a $3,693.84 mortgage and taxes.

The estate was administered by M. E. Lefko.

• • •

MRS. FLEMING made a will 15 days prior to her death, which left her home and $100 per month for five years to her son Joseph Fleming.

The balance went into a trust to be administered by Mr. Lefko.

At the end of the five years, the trust will be dissolved and the estate turned over to the son.

• • •

EARLIER, a bank account in the name of Mrs. Williams and Joseph Fleming, a minor, had been discovered among Mrs. Williams assets, but the court ruled that this was a part of the Williams estate.

This resulted in $13,000 going into the Williams' estate.

Mr. Lefko is also administrator for Mrs. Fleming's estate.

By court order $1,000 is being retained by the administrator to settle any possible claims in the Williams estate.

• • •

MRS. LUCY JOHNSON BOND, executrix, received the property at 2459 Brentwood Avenue, listed in the estate of Joshua Fuller, according to an account filed in Orphans Court, this week.

The property went to Mrs. Bond for cash advanced the deceased.

Mr. Fuller is survived by a son, Wilbur Fuller of 2363 Barclay St.

• • •

ARCHIE WILLIAMS has been named to administer the estate of Roland Carrington who died on August 12, 1964.

The estate is estimate at $2,000.

Mr. Carrington is survived by four children, Calvin M. Carrington and Mesdames Mary Reid, Hortense Maddox and Eunice Proctor.

• • •

THE ESTATE of James H. Jackson, who died September 29, 1961, will be administered by William Gosnell.

The estate consists of a bank account of $1433.69.

Mr. Jackson is survived by a niece, Miss Anna Clayborne, of 1213 Shields Place.

• • •

WILLIAM SLOCUM, who died on May 21, 1964, left an estate of about $1,000 according to papers filed in Orphan's Court this week.

He is survived by a son, Eugene W. Slocum, who will administer the estate.

The deceased is also survived by his sister and a brother, Mrs. Tressa Simpson, Mrs. Josephine Fauntleroy an Mrs. Queen Dilber, Slocum of this city.

• • •

MRS. VASHTI JUDE will administer the $1,800 estate of her mother, Mrs. Elise Minor.

Other than Mrs. Judge, Mrs. Minor is survived by other daughters, including Mrs. Sylvia Shipley of this city, Mrs. Portia Sealo of New York, Mrs. Gloria Phillips of this city, Mrs. Cleota Bennett of Juneau, Alaska, and Mrs. Fannie Nelson of Newark, N.J.; and a son, John A. Minor Jr., of this city.

Harrison L. Young found dead in garage

Harrison L. Young, 63, 1316 N. Kenhill Ave., was buried in his native Salem, Md., near Cambridge, on Thursday.

He was found dead in the garage near his home on Sunday morning.

A daughter, Mrs. Floretta Dean of New York, told the AFRO: 'We didn't know what happened. All we know so far is he had been out with his grandson and brought him home.

"He had planned to go to work. A friend found him face down in the garage and couldn't awaken him. It was about eight o'clock Sunday morning."

• • •

An employee of Bethlehem Steel Co., Mr. Young was skilled as a carpenter and did repair jobs as a sideline.

He was described as one associate as 'an extremely nice person...and goodlooking too!'

Born on the Eastern Shore, Mr. Young came to Baltimore about 1940. Shortly afterwards, he joined Gillis Memorial Community Church, where he was a senior usher.

• • •

Mr. Young is survived by his wife, the former Miss Edna Stanley, who has been hospitalized for sometime; four daughters, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Gladys Farrare and Miss Selena Young, both of Cambridge; and Mrs. Argella Jackson, Baltimore.

Two sisters and three brothers also survive.

They are: Mrs. Lillian Molock, Cambridge; Miss Goldie Young, Baltimore; James and Herman Young, both of Vienna, Md., and Clinton Young, Cambridge.

There are also seven grandchildren. — B. M. M.

Grab 2 said to have told part in rights slayings

ATLANTA, (UPI) — Two of 18 white men indicted last week by a Federal grand jury in Jackson, Miss., were taken into custody Monday by FBI agents in Atlanta and Shreveport, La., in the slaying of three civil rights workers.

The FBI said James Jordon was picked up in Atlanta and Horace Doyle Barnette surrendered to agents in Shreveport. Both men allegedly have given confessions to the FBI in the triple slaying near Philadelphia, Miss., last summer.

In Atlanta, Special FBI Agent Joseph K. Ponder said Jordon was charged in two separate indictments with violation of civil rights and conspiracy, and conspiracy against the rights of citizens. He was released on $5,000 bond.

• • •

BARNETTE'S BOND was set at $5,000, which he was expected to post later. Barnette, who once worked in Meridian as a salesman, now lives in Cullen, La., where he is employed as a truck driver.

Ponder declined to state where or how Jordon was picked up by agents. Jordon and Barnette were among those indicted by the Federal grand jury in Jackson Friday.

Jordon, who once lived in the Meridian area, reportedly has moved to Atlanta. He is 38 years old and married.

BJC enrollment hits new high

City and educational officials, including Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin and former school superintendent Dr. George B. Brain have frequently voiced the opinion that junior colleges in the Baltimore metropolitan area are not only needed but popular.

The accuracy of this position was shown last week by enrollment figures of Baltimore Junior College, which show the February Evening Division student total will reach 725.

Dr. Watson Pindell, director, said this will be the highest enrollment in the history of the college.

The number and nature of courses account for the heavy influx of students, Dr. Pindell said. A total of 62 different courses are offered, including:

Business administration, engineering, science, mathematics and social sciences.

Pointing out the difference in the February and September class schedules the director said that Math E 108, a combination of college algebra and trigonometry is being offered for the first time in the evening.

Dr. Harry Bard, who is drawing up the city's proposed redistricting plans, is president of the college.

Angela Moore in running for grant

Miss Dorothy M. Kell, principal of Western High School, has announced that Angela A. Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred V. Moore of 3402 Duvall Ave., is among the 639 Finalists in the 1964 - 65 National Achievement Scholarship Program for outstanding colored students.

About 230 of these finalists win four - year college scholarships according to John M. Stalnaker, president of the National MERIT Scholarship Corp. The awards will range in value from $1,000 to $6,000 ($250 per year to $1,500 per year), depending upon the student's need.

Winners will be announced April 1.

Two hundred Achievement Scholarships are underwritten by the Ford Foundation and the remainder by corporate sponsors.

It's understandable if LBJ was bored

By RAY ROONE

Those among the 10,000 who jammed the inaugural gala for entertainment rather than respect for President Johnson must have left feeling that it wasn't worth it.

Their feelings were justified. The show in general was a flop, ranging from overworked material as dished out by Carol ("Hello Dolly") Channing to distasteful quips as thrown out by TV nightman Johnny Carson and Comedian Woody Allen.

If President Johnson was as bored as the audience, it was understandable.

• • •

THE PRESIDENT, like many other big democrats (and they made up the majority of the audience), had heard Miss Channing's lines on two other occasions, once at The Salute to LBJ and again at their Atlantic City convention. Hearing the same stuff a third time was just too much.

But the audience was more tolerant of Miss Channing (she got applause several times) than it was of both Carson and Allen.

Most of these dismayed listeners just sat silently as the duo went about their separate antics.

• • •

CARSON SPLIT his pants when he shot off rather inappropriate and rude remarks about Sen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy's newest addition to their family.

He said something that was just as erroneous as it was ridiculous about the Senator naming his new son. Carson said Kennedy had named his new boy "Grand-Central Station" to demonstrate his loyalty to New York.

Allen spent much of his time telling of the big sacrifice he had made to come from London to appear on the show; and spent the rest dealing in sickening racial and religious material which he thought was funny.

• • •

IT WAS anything but that, and the audience, as it did to Carson, let him know it. They only applauded out of politeness — the largest outburst erupting when he left the stage.
