ETA SSTA Sa RORS and a Phi Beta Sigma shown shown I Founders' Day luncheon of the sorority, in Baltimore, Saturday. Left to right are Sorors Ruth Cleaver, Katharine O. Johnson, Reva S. Lewie, L. Olivia Bates, Ovella D. Queen, Mary B. Hurt, basileus of the chapter; Althe Cornish; Ernest W. Lee, who heads the local Sigmas; Mrs. Lee and Soror Elizabeth C. Demby.

Gtingtingal in Baltimore

Zsosorors recall y of ofthleadership

L ly Lula Jones Garrett

chic chic ils stepping into the Sheraton-Balate Sa ate Smorday afternoon, were Zeta Phi Beelebraielebra ag the 45th anniversary of the four soror soror .

hered sered As whole of Alpha Zeta chap- trinklinrinklin, t of friends, to join them in e to the to tenir five "pearls", the young sponsor sponsored by Phi Beta Sigma Frater- the st the se erity on the campus of How- y in 19r in 19s. The Zetas are, actually, the which which "ras a true "brother" frater-founder Viola Tyler Goings, ns guest representative of hese "pearls." She is Mrs. dionel Desbordes, a lovely hing in red brocade that Unand And A oca. iveing, on whom the hos- esses pinned flowers.

Second there was a mo- her-daughter team sparking he program, to say nothing f having the first of three generations as a guest. hese were Soror Olivia ates, who gave the ad- ress; Soror Ovella Queen, er daughter, who presided . . . plus their mother, Mrs. lla Carter and Mrs. Bates ther daugther, Mrs. Dab- ey, in the role of guests.

Then add Soror Reva G. Lewie, who fetched her teen- ge daughter Marcia (the ounest guest present) and husband, Lemuel A. Lewis. Mrs. Lewie was chairman of the Founders' Day Com- mittee.

The Misses Clara Coulbourn, Belle Cambell, Loretta Valentine, Grace Dabney of Washington, D. C., Viola Planter, Ella Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. James Benton, Miss Jennifer Manning, Mr. and Mrs. Alanzo Peter, L. A. Lewie Jr., Miss R. Marcia Lewie, Mrs. Lula Patterson, Mrs. Irma H. Rawlings,

Mesdames Sylvia Lyles, Ethel Wilson, Rosaland R. Lee, Janice Tribble, Dr. Robert J. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gibson, the Rev. Walter Cleaver Mrs. Geraldine Desbordes, Misses Jacqueline Fleming, Marian Jones and Shirley Kyle

JAMES MURPHY was unanimously elected for his sixth term as president of the Couples Club the other Sunday during a spirited meeting at the residence of the Tom Warringtons on Braddish St.

William Stanford was returned to office as vice president; Seretha Greene remained as secretary; John Rich as financial secretary and Charles Law as treasurer.

Plans for a more determined effort to increase the club's stock portfolio were adopted following a detailed report by Bill Stanford, chairman of the stock committee.

Bea Butler reported on the annual audit of the club's books.

Seen about were Seretha and Lonnie Greene, Mary Elizabeth and Charles Law, Adele and Bea Foreman, Vernice and Medford Reynolds Yvette and James Murphy, Edna and Bill Stanford, Bea Butler, Lula Patterson, a guest; John Rich and Cliff Mackay.

With the transaction of business disposed of the group was served and afterfive supper.

* * *

THAT CHARMER—Naomi Camper! To have seen her smilingly bustling around at Lemmel Junior High School Sunday, as the Maryland League of Women's Club's fashion show got on the road you would not have thought that she had a concern in the world.

But she did. And you'll never guess what she was concerned about. 'Twas that she might have the measles! It was not measles that fetched all those pimples, but an allergy. So what, quipped Mrs. C. I had chicken pox when I was 50 . . . So why not measles now? . . .

Mrs. Camper is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the League, and it was her brain child that combines the efforts of that organization and its member clubs to add to the funds of both.

The fashion show on Sunday drew a full house despite the weather. It was delightfully done, with Pauline Brooks and Marguerite Belefonte coordinating the affair Mrs. Brooks supervised and staged the show, and Mrs. Belafonte assisted with the staging and doing the running commentary along with Odelle B. Rea. And that galaxy of models provided their own clothes . . . that is with the exception of Ruth King, Mabel Burton and Tenyo Wiggins, who modeled styles from the Pauline Brooks Salon. Other guest models were Jean Williams, Pennie Ross and Leroy Taylor.

Incidentally some 150 followers of Mr. Tayler (most widely known male model in the city) garnered tickets from him to see his spring ensembles. Mrs. Williams wore two very striking ensembles . . . one a lounge outfit with bugle beads and crystal paved shell and contrasting pants, and a ball in silver embroidered white. Pinnie Ross showed the gown, with matching coat, also in white and silver, that she wore to the recent inaugural ball, and Mrs. Belafonte brought the house down in cherry red velvet, a ball gown and matching coat.

Other models, and the clubs they represented were:

Margaret Jackson and Shirley Strother, Que-Ettes; Florine Brody and Edna Simmons, the Postal Alliance Auxiliary; Thomasina Clements and sondra Lamont, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority;

Frances McRay, Iota Phi Lambda Sorority; Vashti Smith, and Marie Phillips, Philomathian; Carolyn Dotson, Urban League Guild; Harryette Reynolds and Gloria Howell, Council of Women.

Gwendolyn Biddle and Peggy Brooks, Business and Professional Women's Clubs; Harriette Demory and

(Continued on Page 18)

Melanie Paschall celebrates tenth birthday with party

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse O. Paschall entertained in honor of their daughter, Melanie, who celebrated her 10th birthday, Saturday.

The party was in the home of the parents on Radnor Avenue.

* * *

DINNER was followed by a game period conducted by Richard Robinson and Mrs. Odessa F. Dunston, after which there was the opening of gifts presented to Melanie.

At the close, stories were read to the guests by Mrs. Clara C. Fraling of this city and Mrs. Vivian C. Robinson of Aberdeen, Md.

* * *

ATTENDING the party were:

Andela and Cathy Robinson, Brenda and Doria Cole and Stephanie and Regina Terry of Aberdeen;

Karen Trent, Sondra Spencer, Gwendolyn Ruffin, Denita Jones, Michele Millings, Matthew Fraling, Peggy Bosely, Kym Rainy, Chris and Michael Dunston, Cathy and Beverly Gilchrist and Mitchell and Megeen Paschall of this city.

Second Chance at Youth!

You're younger looking . . . with a new hair color in 17 fashionable Lady Tinta recipes, your gray, dingy hair, with the natural lustrous color of youth. Tinta leaves hair soft, radiant—young looking! No harsh odor or dried-out hair, because Tinta is ammonia-free and has lanolin conditioner added. Today, let Tinta give you a second chance at youth! Come in 10 different youthful hair color shades. $1.50 plus tax at your favorite Druggist.

Tinta CREME COLOR SHAMPOO

MEET THE WINNER

CAROLYN DOTSON of MISS BEAUX ARTS

The folks at Schaefer would like to congratulate Baltimore's own Carolyn Dotson on her selection as Miss Beaux Arts. We're sure you're all looking forward to meeting her when she visits your neighborhood on behalf of Schaefer beer.

Schaefer

Schaefer Breweries, New York and Albany, N.Y.; Baltimore, Md.

dri drive n th this easy asy

Th Trailways' new re routes avoid tri traffic, towns, st stop lights!

ur four fir Tr trip on Trailways—ever ever ho any other way!
whisks whisks you smoothly over new, direct highway highways. Restroom aboard. Seats r easy easy air.

BALTIMORE TO/FROM		1-WAY
YORK YORK		$ 6.80
OKE KE		$ 9.25
MIS TIS	3	$29.50
NDO DO	3	$27.35

RAILWAYS/AIRWAYS BUS TERMINAL
FAYETTE AYETTE PL. 2-3115

RAILWAYS.
st st travel on earth

It takes know-how to be well-dressed

It is not the money spent on the wardrobe that creates a well - dressed woman. Neither is it the number of items in her wardrobe.

Of course it takes a bit of both of the above, but more important is clothes know-how, a serious consideration of one's self, the strength to turn down a fad that is not flattering to your figure and time for shopping for exactly the clothes that fit your way of life.

It takes time, too, to choose and pick from the myriad of accessories for the exact item that will enhance the ensemble you own. And above all it takes a flare for fashion.

* * *

THESE are the conclusions that a panel reached, this week, and shown here are some of the women the panel decided to fit into the category of well - dressed young matrons.

All, shown this week, are, or have been career women. All think that a limited number of fine items in their closets are to be desired over a number of closets filled with nondescript dresses, coats, hats, etc.

* * *

"WHEN you hear a woman boast that she has 52 pairs of shoes, or that she 'just can't resist hats,' look out," said one. "You are more likely to be looking at a dowdy lady."

The panel chose for illustration of women who choose clothes with taste, appropriateness and enhancing to their personalities, this week, Mesdames Albert Laforest, Mrs. George Lottier, Mrs. Charles Hillen and Mrs. Robert Bailey.

* * *

STATURESQUE and curvy, Jimmy (she is actually named James) as she is known to friends, has little time for frou frou and frills. Her clothes are all "lines," and she would rather have one "name" frock than a dozen off a store rack.

In the photograph, Mrs. Laforest is shown in a simple black designer wool, and a single piece of jewelry, a star fish. She likes exotic mingling of color in her evening clothes. She is no fur buff, but of the latter her first love is a beautiful mink stole that she sometimes wears with afternoon clothes.

* * *

MRS. Laforest, the wife of a highly successful physician, is a former business woman, who now confines her activities to her family, club work, church work and social responsibilities.

She, at one time, owned and operated a trucking business, which she inherited from her mother. The latter was the only woman to have successfully run such a business in Baltimore.

* * *

MRS. GEORGE LOTTIER is a career woman. She is president of the Lottier - Nixon Interviewing Service which employs 50 interviewers. Her firm, which has an inter - racial staff, does field work for marketing resource firms. And she and her partner, Mrs. Lucille Nixon are doing quite well, thank you Tall and slender, with velvety golden brown complexion and sparkling black eyes and hair, Mrs. Lottier is the gal with the flair for color. She can mix a half dozen colors that no one ever thought of before and come up looking like a dream.

Those clothes she doesn't design, she picks with moment - inspiration . . . and then does the accessories as she runs across "exactly the right thing." She's the type that you turn to look at when she passes. She (Arnetta) is the wife of the purchasing manager of the AFRO - AMERICAN.

* * *

FOR MRS. Charles Hillen there is no shopping about. She buys only for the "complete" wardrobe, and when she does heads straight for the boutique shops and the little salons. Her clothes are of understated elegance . . . the kind that will be as fashionable year after next as they are this year.

Mrs. Hillen, whose husband is an Internal Revenue agent, is also a career woman. She holds a post as assistant personnel officer in the U.S Public Health Service Hospital, as well as carries on an active social life.

* * *

MRS. ROBERT BAILEY, wife of a patent lawyer with the Federal government, frankly admits that she likes clothes, that she buys enough of them, but that she needs a large wardrobe.

She combines travel, a social life, a church life and a civic life with her career as vice principal of a large city elementary school. And, with all of this maintains a consistent study program.

Mrs. Bailey holds a degree from New York University and the University of Southern California, has studied in Mexico and Puerto Rico and friends were startled, last year when no work was attached to her European tour. She holds offices in the National Moles, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority and the Mariners of the Presbyterian Church.

She's a stickler for accessories, as shown above, when she independently of rule, combines a shiny black bag and tam with the elegance of a full - length ranch mink coat.

THESE ARE only four of the ladies who lend glamour to the Baltimore scene. Readers are invited to suggest others. Names may be sent to the Women's Desk, the Afro - American.

MRS. ALBERT LAFOREST

MRS. GEORGE LOTTIER MRS. CHARLES HILLEN MRS. ROBERT BAILEY

Generation must be best or will be last

This generation will either be the best produced in the history of our country or it will be the last, W. Norris Weis, principal of Lemmel Junior High School, told members of Iota chapter of Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority, Saturday.

The sorors were celebrating the 28th anniversary of the founding of the business and professional women's organization at a luncheon held in the Sheraton-Baltimore Inn.

* * *

SPEAKING ON "Enlightened leadership for a dynamic Age, Mr. Weis told the group that if this generation fails, we might all find our world "a cinder circling around the sun in shame".

It is for this reason, said he, that leadership must start with the individual, and each individual must resolve to go forward; must realize that leadership can be wrong and if wrong, resolve to turn around and take a right course.

Mr. Weis added that good leadership must be trained for, and must involve not only the head, but the hands and the heart.

Mr. Weis was presented by Mrs. Lena K. Lee, attorney, and a former city school principal.

* * *

PRESIDING AT the luncheon was Soror Betty M. Shelton, chairman of the Founders' Day Committee. Other participants on the program included Soror Violet Hill Whyte, who gave the invocation; and Soror Kathleen B. Newsome, a member of the Founder's Day Committee, who brought greetings; and Soror Mary Sliva, who gave the history of the sorority; and Soror Pearl W. Hall, chapter basileus, who gave the closing remarks.

Miss Margaret Lindsay was soloist and the background music for the affair was by the Haithcock Ensemble, which is composed of Soror Elizabeth Day, Matthew B. Fraling, Jr. and William Haithcock.

* * *

FOLLOWING THE luncheon a show of fur fashions was presented by Mr. Albert of the Mitchell Fur Company. Mrs. Willia Blair was narrator and the models were Mesdames Joy Tarter, Constance Haywood, Margaret Yale, Frankie Hinchen; and Misses Anita Turks and Miriam Curtis.

* * *

IN ADDITION to Mrs. Hall officers of the chapter are:

Mesdames Newsome, first anti basileus; Anita P. Smith, second anti basileus; Gladys C. Baird, recording grammateus; Lavinia Cox, epistoleus; and Veta Greig, parliamentarian.

The Founders' Day celebration was arranged by a committee that included Mesdames Imogene B. Douglas, Frankie Hinchen, Naomi Johnson, Myrtle Jones, Esther D. Morris, Arabella Ross, Bertha Sembly, Mary Silva and Sorors Shelton and Newsome.

WED 50 YEARS—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Mickle Sr., 3000 Westwood Ave., Baltimore, recently marked their 50th wedding anniversary. He is a retired contractor. There are six children, twelve grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Family attends Mt. Pisgah CME Church.

Miss Dawson bride of Rev. Traynham

Miss Jocelyn Phyllis Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Dawson of Long Green, Md., and the Rev. Warner Raymond Traynham were married in St. James Episcopal Church here, Saturday.

The Rt. Rev. Harry Lee Dell, Bishop of Maryland Diocese, performed the ceremony and celebrated the Eucharist. The Rev. Fr. Donald O. Wilson, rector of the church, assisted.

Charles H. Covington, 3rd was organist.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hezekiah E. Traynham of this city is rector of St. Phillips' Mission, Annapolis, Md.

* * *

MISS DAWSON, given in marriage by her father, was attended by her cousin, Miss Minerva Dawson of Washintgon. She wore a gown of white taffeta made with a boat neckline and long sleeves on the beaded bodice. The A-line skirt flowed into a chapel train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of pearls and she carried white roses.

The attendant wore pale green taffeta which also carried a train, in a deeper shade of the green, and featured a boat neckline and bracelet length sleeves. Her flirtation veil was attached to a headpiece of bows of the taffeta and her bouquet was of pink sweetpeas and baby's breath.

Sidney Pinkett, also of Washington, was best man for the Rev. Mr. Traynham.

* * *

A RECEPTION was held in the Guild Hall of St. James immediately following the ceremony, and the parish of St. Phillips' will honor the couple at a second reception Sunday.

Inclement weather delayed the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Traynham's flight to the Virgin Islands Saturday evening, but they flew down next day, where they have been the guests of Bishop and Mrs. Cedric Mills for the week.

* * *

FOR HER DAUGHTER'S wedding Mrs. Dawson was gowned in a pink lace sheath, a flower hat with short veil and matching accessores. Mrs. Traynham, mother of the bridegroom wore pale gold chiffon embroidered with rhinestones, and matching hat and accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white roses.

Mrs. Elmont Grayson, sister of the bride, who was a hostess at the reception, wore red brocade with matching hat and accessories.

For her flight to the Virgin Islands, the bride wore a white wool suit bound with brown leather.

A GRADUATE of Howard University School of Music and of the Peabody Conservatory, she was, until her marriage, employed at the Social Security.

The Rev. Mr. Traynham is a graduate of Dartmouth University and the Virginia Theological Seminary. He attended Oxford University in England on a Reynold's Scholarship. A Phi Beta Kappa, he is accredited with the highest scholastic achievement ever recorded at Virginia Theological Seminary.

THE REV. FR. WARNER TRAYNHAM and Miss Jocelyn P. Dawson leave altar at St. James Episcopal Church, Baltimore, where they were married, Saturday.

WHEN LAMBDA KAPPA MU, professional and business women, celebrated the 28th anniversary of the sorority at a luncheon honoring the founders, Saturday, among the sorors and guests attending were, left to right: Mrs. Audrey Williams, Mrs. Mary Hall, Mrs. Esther Morris, Mrs. Zola Boone, and Mrs. Ann McAllister; Mrs. Mary J. Mitchell, Mrs. Helen Bishop, Mrs. Della C. Majette, Mrs. Dorothy R. James and Mrs. Lillian P. Jones.