1st, 2nd armies to consolidate

FT. MEADE—The Department of the Army announced last week the merger of headquarters of the First and Second Armies will begin July 1.

The action grew from Defense Secretary Robert McNamera's plan to curtail military facilities throughout the country.

Beginning in July all operations under the jurisdiction of the First Army, based at Ft. Jay, N.Y., will move to Ft. Meade, according to the Defense Department.

The consolidated headquarters will administer the activities of Army installation in 15 Eastern states.

Primary function will include training and readiness of Reserve Components, employment of Army forces in case of natural disaster or civil disturbance; support of Civil Defense plans and support of Army tactical and air defense units, it was reported.

SCOUT UNITS FORMED — During the 55th anniversary of Boy Scout Week, A. D. Anderson, Baltimore automobile dealer, was presented with a plaque for sponsorship of a dinner at which 17 more scout units formed. Shown at the presentation for the Greater Baltimore area were are left to right: Eagle Scout Thomas Strehle of Troop 305, sponsored by St. John's Episcopal Church; Mr. Anderson, Cub Scout William Johnson of Pack 580, sponsored by School 145, and George M. OH THAT sneaky Ann Drayton! "What're you doing, Sunday? Come over and have lunch with me," says she. "Got a luncheon engagement, got a dinner date.' I tell her. "So what? Make it in between," she says. And I do. Pull on a raincoat, hang a scarf about my head, and dash out in the rain. So, I'm inspecting Ann's newly docrated second floor apartment (she's now housing her millinery business on the first floor of her Elgin Avenue place) Ah-ing over the beauty of her living room, done in muted golds and muted greens, of her fluffy bedroom ... of her gay kitchen and colorful bath ... and open the door to the dining room. And what to my wondering eyes did appear?

No miniature anything. Sabina, but a table laden with luscious foods ... from spoon bread to baked ham, and all the betweens; an elegant birthday cake, the prettiest of gifts including an elegant sweater Ann had garnered on her recent trip to Europe ... and best of all, a bunch of gals I hold dear to my heart. Oh, that sneaky (and adorable) Ann!

EDITH DAVIDSON had called earlier in the week to say that she was having a few folks in for dinner on Sunday, to meet some visiting Guatemalan dental students who are touring several U.S. dental schools.

She (Mrs. D.) is a member of the Baltimore Council for International Visitors, and she was doing a stint at helping to have foreigners know and learn about American customs. But you know Edith. What had started out to be a medium sized dinner party in her Hilton Road home, had, by Saturday night mushroomed to such proportions that she and Dr. Davidson had to transfer the party to his club.

So, 'twas a very elegant dinner and reception at which Dr. and Mrs. Davidson held forth in Me-De-So House, Sunday evening. The guests of honor were Hugo Hernandez, Piedro Mariloquin, Gauthier Ordonez, Marcelo Morales of Latin America.

Guests also included Dr. and Mrs. Isaac Batelo, standing: Mrs. Mary Hall, Mrs. and Mrs. Lemuel A. Lewis, and Mrs. Maude Young of Washington.

'Sweethearts Ball' set at Glenwood Club

Johnny Sparrows and His Bows and Arrows will play cupid at the "Sweethearts Ball," 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. Saturday at the Glenwood County Club.

That's when the Howard County recreation - family-fun resort will stage its annual St. Valentine celebration.

Sparrows and his Arrows, makers of melodic music, will not be playing the traditional role of cupid. Instead of matching couples, they will b furnishing the beat for matched couples to dance.
