Upon any such default, the balance unpaid on said note, or any renewal thereof, shall, at the sole option of the holder thereof, be and become at once due and owing; and said Trustee shall, when requested in writing so to do by the then holder of said note, take possession of said personal property, or any part thereof, wherever it may be found, and sell the same at public auction, at such time and place as said Trustee may determine, to the highest and best bidder for cash in hand on the day of sale. Failure to foreclose this trust deed upon the happening of any said defaults shall not be a waiver or any subsequent default, or defaults.

All other notices and advertisement of such sale, and personal service of such notice on the Borrower, are hereby waived, and the sale may be adjourned from time to time without further notice or advertisement thereof, other than by oral proclamation at the time and place appointed for the sale.

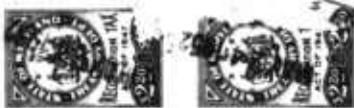

If said property, or any part of it, is sold hereunder, said Trustee shall, to the extent possible out of the proceeds, pay: (1) the expenses of executing this trust, including a commission of 3% to said Trustee, and the costs of repossessing, storing, selling and transferring said property; (2) the amount then owing on said note, including interest, delay charges and expenses incurred hereunder by the holder; and (3) the balance, if any, to the Borrower.

The Borrower agrees to keep said property insured for actual cash value against loss by fire or theft, and if a motor vehicle, against collision damage with a $50.00 deductible provision, in some solvent insurance company, or companies, with loss, if any, payable to said Corporation or other holder of said note, as its or his interest may appear at the time of loss; and should he fail to do so, the holder of said note may so insure said property, and all premiums on such insurance shall bear interest from the date of payment, and shall be a part of the indebtedness secured by this trust. Said policy or policies of insurance, together with the certificate of title to any motor vehicle hereby conveyed, if requested by said Corporation, shall be delivered to and held by said Corporation, its successors or assigns, until the indebtedness hereby secured is paid in full.
