Two Boston ministers and 81 other civil rights demonstrators have been imprisoned in two concrete "bullpens" in the Selma prison camp, according to word received early Friday.

The demonstrators have been in the unheated bullpens since Monday with no beds, no blankets and no chairs, a Selma minister charged during a telephone conversation with the wives of the Boston ministers.

Daily food for the prisoners, who range in age from 14 to 80, consists of boiled white beans and cornbread, a minister said. Last night local churches arranged to send in a dinner of pork chops, lettuce, bread, milk and ice cream. They also sent a thousand aspirins at the request of the prisoners.

Locked out of home, husband gets divorce

Oscar Williams testified that he went to North Carolina on a week's vacation and returned not only to find he couldn't get back into his home but that another man have moved in during his absence.

The testimony won him a divorce from Mrs. Ethel Williams of 2031 W. Baltimore St.

Mr. Williams, who lives at 1711 McCullon St., said that he and Mrs. Williams were married on July 12, 1949 and lived together until August 1, 9158.

They are parents of four children, whose ages range from eight to 13 years old. He is under court order to provide $30 per week for their support.

• • •

MRS. AILEEN FOWLKES was granted a divorce rfom Hilton M. Fowlkes on grounds of desertion. She said that she and Mr. Fowlkes, married on July 27, 1947, ended the union on August 16, 1962.

The wife told a Master of the Court that she and her husband had an argument and he left. Later he phoned, she said, to ask if he might return and get his clothes. She said that she consented, but that when he came, six days later, he had been drinking and she told him to leave.

• • •

But, added the wife, he returned that evening, broke down the door, came in and beat her. He was arrested and she taken to the hospital.

Mrs. Fowlkes was given custody of their daughter. He was ordered to pay $20 per week for the child's support and $5 per week for $6 weeks on support arrears ordered prior to the divorce proceeding in a dinner of pork chops, lettuce, bread, milk and ice cream. They also sent a thousand aspirins at the request of the prisoners.

• • •

JOSEPH R. BURKE of 2726 Ashland Ave. divorced Mrs. Loretta Lee Burke of 820 Clintwood Ct. after testimony that they ended their five years of marriage by common consent.

He agreed to provide $30 per week for the support of three children.

• • •

ALSO TESTIFYING that their marriage ended voluntarily was Frenklin D. Dozier of 2011 W. Saratoga St., who divorced Mrs. Dorealhea L. Dozier of Atlantic City.

The couple, married on Oct. 16, 1959, separated in May, 1961. He said he and Mrs. Dozier have one child who is with the mother and who he is supporting.

• • •

MRS. VIRGINIA COOK of 1432 John St. was granted a divorce from John W. Cook of Snow Camp, N.C. on grounds of voluntary separation. They were married May 31, 1954 and separated May 1, 1956.

Mrs. Irene Aiken of 304 Lyndhurst St. divorced Monroe Aiken of Brooklyn, N. Y. on a similar charge.

This couple was married on July 10, 1956 and separated on July 29, 1962. She was represented by William Toadvine, attorney.

Louisville enacts fair job ordinance; seen Dixie's first

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (UPI)—An ordinance banning discrimination in employment practices was passed by the Louisville Board of Aldermen Tuesday night.

The city's human relations commission, which asked for the measure, said it is probably the first fair employment bill enacted by any southern city.

The legislation, which is about the same as the fair employment section of the federal civil rights act, also allows the commission to serve as an enforcement agency.

Congo rebels score ambush

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, (UPI)—Reports reaching here Tuesday said Congolese rebels ambushed a column of government troops and white mercenaries Monday in the Northeast Congo.

The rebels were said to have been armed with modern Soviet assault rifles, bazookas and flamethrowers.

Two mercenaries and eight Congolese army troops were killed, the reports said and 35 other members of the column were wounded. The mercenary commander, German Maj. Siegfried Mueller, was reported missing.

One radio report said Algerian officers were in the rebel band. The ambush occurred about midway between Stanleyville and Paulis.
