Fasting Goucher girls want USA out of Vietnam

Goucher College women joined other students around the world this week in fasting to dmonstrate their feelings on the position of the United States in the Vietnam situation.

The nine young women who attracted widespread attention, began the voluntary refusal of food at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

They said they did not request fasting by all people but preferred to be joined in th 72-hour starvation act by individuals sincerely devoted to ending the "senseless war."

Woman - like, they expressed deep sympathy for the suffering of the Vietnanese people.

• • •

IN A LETTER addressed to the Goucher community students and people everywhere, they pointed out that th Vietnam conflict could bring on world war and they asked:

(1) Withdrawal of the United States from Vietnam.

(2) Negotiation for peace

(3) Critical examination of the Vietnamese situation by "the intellectual community" of students everywhere.

(4) Student action in anyway they feel will be effective to end the war.
