Baltimore County News

On Feb. 16, Charles Moylan Jr., state's attorney for Baltimore, discussed the political apathy of most voters and means of becoming more involved and affluent politically with the Sickles Score, the 20 lovely local ladies who voluntarily operate the Congressman's Baltimore office.

Among those in attendance for the political seminar at the new Ruxton Towers Apartment were Congressman Carlton Sickles, Assistant States Attorney Malcolm Kitt, Mrs. Hattie Gordon and Score husbands Bernard Aiken, Joseph Francus, Michael Kitt, William Ross and Robert Smelkinson.

The lovely ladies of the Sickles Score, led by charming Jackie Smelkinson, are Zelma Aiken, Laura Fleischmann, Sylvia Francus, Mindell Freedman, Evelyn Goldstein, Alice Goodman, Judy Katz, Florence Kitt, chairman of the political seminars; Ellen LaVan, Dorothy Lewis, Shirley Nathanson, Sue Offit, Ilene Peremel, Dora Lee Resnick, Cookie Rosenthal, Joan Roth, Pinnie Ross, Rona Seidman, Patricia Thomas, Gail Yumkas, Marcia Yumkas and Alice Schreiber.

AMONG the speakers favoring the continuance of the Baltimore County Redevelopment and Rehabilitation Commission and a frontal attack on the county urban blight at the hearing called by Senator Pine on Feb. 16, were Iona Smith, of the East Towson Community Association; Eugene King, speaking for the Catonsville Civic League, and William Ross, for the League for Human Rights, Baltimore County.

The consensus was that possible new legislation providing more local controls by the county council, was desirable but the problems in the decaying communities should have the immediate attention of the officials and citizens of the county.

THERE ARE several community, civic and human relations organizations active in Baltimore County that are in dire need of the talents of many citizens of the county and are all calling for more active individual participation in attempts to solve many of the county problems.

These organizations are the Turner Station Civic League, chaired by Reginald Evelyn; the Catonsville Civic League, Hanah Lindsey, president; the East Towson Community Association, Iona Smith, president, and the League for Human Rights, Baltimore County, William Ross, president.

Joseph Thomas, attorney of Turner Station, and Mrs. Barbara Bradshaw, professor of sociology at Goucher College, were assigned the task of finding more and better employment opportunities for colored residents in Baltimore County's local, state and federal government establishments at the executive board meeting of the League for Human Rights.

Other action of the League's Board was the full endorsement of the Real Estate Board of Greater Baltimore's action in requesting the extension of the presidential executive order to cover all federally guaranteed housing lending, the appointment of a nominating committee to present a new slate of officers at the annual meeting on Thursday, April 9, in the Turner Station area and greater participation in the housing problems of all county residents living in substandard housing.

TWO OFFICERS of the Provident Hospital Auxiliary met with ladies of the Catonsville area at Banneker Elementary School Monday, Feb. 22, to organize the Women's Auxiliary of Provident Hospital - Catonsville Twig.

At the meeting, called by Mrs. Martha Holmes, president and Mrs. Muriel Cousins, vice president of the general body, Mrs. Joanna Smith was elected president; Mrs. Naomi Hopewell, vice president; Mrs. Gertrude Smith, secretary; Mrs. Elsie Williams, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Fannie Hayes, treasurer; Mrs. Pinnie Ross, financial secretary; Miss Mae Thomas, public relations, and Miss Sedonia Ray, chaplain.

Mrs. Holmes told the group, that the Auxiliary was desirous of forming a general branch and from this several twigs in other metropolitan areas to function as integral parts of the auxiliary in their many projects such as the 19th annual Tea and Fashion Show, Sunday, April 25, 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the Douglass High School Auditorium.

Monthly meetings of the Catonsville Twig, will be held at the Banneker School on the Fourth Monday.

ON MONDAY, March 1, Mrs. Mabel Fletcher begins training as a school crossing guard at the Baltimore County Police Headquarters in Towson.

This fine achievement fulfills one of Mrs. Fletcher's long desires for she has a deep interest in the youth of her community as exemplified by her active participation as assistant superintendent of the Grace AME Church Sunday School for many years.

THE RETURN from Korea of Captain Joseph T. Hicks occasioned great joy for lovely wife Kay and children Jody and Kim. Captain Hicks will be stationed with the Edgewood Anti - Aircraft Missile Unit.

Glamorous Rosetta Johnson celebrated her second wedding anniversary at her neat, Cadillac Avenue apartment last Saturday. Rosetta, wife of Andrew Johnson, now stationed in Korea, had for her guests Miss Barbara Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cosey, Dr. William Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grant, Mr. and Mrs. William Ross, Mrs. Gladys Hunter and Mr. Hensie Page.

The Contileers Social and Charity Club and guests danced to the music of the Gliders at the Catonsville National Guard Armory last Saturday night.

This organization, formed last April, has been doing a tremendous job in helping needy families wih food and finances. All are Catonsville lassies and include Bereese Hall, Mary Scott, Violet Williams, Floragena Pye, Delores Lynch, Anita Maybin and Mae Redd.

CATONSVILLIANS attending the fabulous Omega Psi Phi Mardi Gras at the Eastwind on Pulaski Highway Friday night included Mr. and Mrs. Norman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William (Pretty Ann) Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ennals, Mr. and Mrs. Vernell Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. William Ross and Miss Thomasina Baskerville.

Catonsville Junior High School reading specialist Edith Clement was breathtaking in a sequined green formal gown. Lovely in a black crepe gown with large red roses was Morgan State College cafeteria supervisor Thelma Ennals and Audrey Smith was stunning in her Kelly green formal evening dress.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY. If you can't overlook the faults of others you are not very far up the road of perfect love or brotherly kindness. . . W. B. Dunham

NOTES OF sympathy should go to the Kinsey Jones family bereaved by the sudden death of Edward Jones, who was Mr. Kinsey Jones's brother. The Rev. William Edward presided at the funeral services held at Mt. Hope Methodist Church in Sunderland, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. George (Virginia) Thomas of Owings, Md. are this week's new AFRO subscribers.

Miss Lillian Wilson of Robert St. in Baltimore was the guest of her family in Dunkirk, Md. Sunday.

Darnell Offer is back home after a pleasant visit with his relatives in Washington, D.C.

MARCH 26

The PTA of Dunbar High School will present a program at 8 p.m., featuring a fashion show and the Dunbar Choir, band and Modern Dance Group.

FEB. 28

A tea and fashion show will be held in the recreation hall of Trinity AME Church, 2130 E. Hoffman St., near Collington Ave., from 4 to 7 p.m.

How to remove fruit stains

Whenever you spill fruit juice on a table cloth or on your clothing, it's a good idea to sponge the spot with cool water before you forget the location of the spot, say textile chemists at the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

• • •

SOME FRUIT juices, citrus among them, are invisible after they dry. But later they will turn yellow with age or with heating. This yellow stain may be difficult to remove.

Fresh fruit stains can often be removed from fabrics by sponging with or soaking in cool water, or by working a detergent into the stain and rinsing.

Old stains and fresh stains not removed by this method can be removed by bleaching. Be sure to use a bleach that is safe for the fabric.

Musical program presented for hospital patients

The Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church Gospel Singers presented a musical program for patients at Sheppard and Enoch Pratt Hospital, last Saturday.

Included in the program were the Celestial Choir, the Epps Chorale, the Drayton Gospel Singers and the Male Chorus.

Music was presented under the direction of Normal Soloman. The appearance was made at the request of Mrs. Marie D. Randall, a patient.

ICF to celebrate 2nd anniversary

The International Christian Fellowship will celebrate its second anniversary Saturday, March 6, at the Episcopal Cathedral of the Incarnation, University Parkway and Charles St.

Guest speaker for the event will be the Rev. Moses Chow, of China.

Others slated to appear on the program which will begin at 7 p.m., are a Morgan State College Chorus, made up of students from various countries; and pianist Miss Lu-Ping-Su.

The program will also feature the installation of officers by the Very Rev. John N. Peabody, president of the Maryland Council of Churches.

Miss Neverdon with Peace Corps

Miss Barbara Jane Neverdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Neverdon, 427 N. Pulaski St., is one of 42 Peace Corps Volunteers who left for Liberia this month.

They will teach in elementary schools, replacing a group of Peace Corps Volunteers who completed their two-year assignments in December. Several of them will replace Liberian teachers to free them for further education.
