408,100 votes pour in over three-day period

The races for top teachers in many of the schools are close and exciting.

Last week bundles of votes came in for Mrs. Charlotte Shockley and Mrs. Bernice Brown at Cherry Hill. They both have over 10,000 votes.

Although Douglass was a late starter, interest is mounting among nominees there as well as in many of the senior high schools.

Due to the tremendous interest in this contest and the large number of votes sent in —this week the AFRO received 408,100 votes for your Favorite Teachers — the standings printed in today's paper include all votes received by Wednesday morning.

Votes received after Wednesday morning will be in the Favorite Teacher Standings printed in Tuesday's AFRO.

WHOSE TEACHER IS BEST? — Farley Johns, a student at School 163, and his sister, Denise Johns, who attend School 180, contemplate ways to put their teachers in the finals of AFRO's Favorite Teacher Contest to make them eligible for two cruises to Nassau. Farley and Denise are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johns, of Cherry Hill. The AFRO display is in the mall of Mondawmin Shopping Center.

very well. She loves to travel and would love to take the trip very much.
Dear AFRO,

Mrs. Tucker is my fourth grade teacher. She is in room two in the basement. She is a very strict teacher. She teaches 36 children. She has a daughter named Sharon Tucker. Sharon Tucker is in the first grade. During the weekend, she lets us make our own instruments and log cabins. I made my log cabin out of ice cream sticks.
Dear Sir:

I noticed in the Friday edition af the AFRO you stated a Mr. Clyde Leadum of School 103. It should have read Mrs. Clyde Leadum.

I am sending in 300 more votes for my favorite teacher because Mrs. Leadum is the finest teacher I have ever known. She is very kind and considerate and always interested in our progress in school.
To the Deciding Committee

Greetings. We are sending the names of these hard working teachers, and asking you if there is any way that you can see your way clear to arrange for them some kind of a vacation. It sure would make us very happy because these are hard working teachers, and if you can't do any better, please send them to Atlantic City, if you can't send them to Nassau.

And, again we thank you and trusting and hoping.
Dear AFRO: . . . . . .

I saw the picture of another teacher in your Friday's paper, and I thought well, here I know the best teacher in the world and I didn't even send her picture. So here it is. Mrs. Ruth M. Payne. She is loved by her pupils and she loves her pupils.

Some teachers, all they think about is that pay; check every two weeks, but not Mrs. Payne. It's not how much you learn, it's how well you learn. So I want my favorite teacher, and everybody's favorite, to win.

As hard as she works, she needs a vacation, so I hope justice will be done, and she gets it.
(Editor's Note: Sorry, we can't use pictures in color.)
Dear AFRO:

My favorite teacher is Mrs. Velma Ferguson. She teaches at Harlem Park 78. I think she should have this trip, because she is trying very hard to make good students out of the children she teaches. I think she would enjoy the trip very much. It would be wonderful if many of her other students would vote.

Thank you kindly for reading my letter concerning my favorite teacher.

We, the children of
Dear AFRO:

School 20, would like to have Mr. Greskovich, the best teacher in School 20, enter the contest in that he has done a lot for the fifth and sixth graders that have been at School 20. He's a very nice teacher and has always been concerned about his students.

colm were not done by the Muslims. Nothing can be gained by Muslims rising against one another.

"There are other elements implicated who have everything to gain.

"The Muslims from both sides know who they are. This is not a time for brother to kill brother."

"IT IS NOW believed that police authorities have movies showing what happened in the Audubon Ballroom on Sunday when Malcolm X was cut down in a hail of bullets as he arose to address 500 followers.

37X said a highly trained and intelligent group infiltrated Malcolm's new organization and termed the traitors socialists or communists.

He said they grew stronger while Malcolm was away in Egypt last year. His absence included the period of the violent riots in New York and other seaboard cities.

Leadership of the RAM group is being attributed to a list of people including Robert F. Williams, the former North Carolina leader who fled the country after kidnaping charges were placed against him and who now broadcasts regularly from Cuba.

Charles 37X said the young, rebel group became restless when Malcolm X returned home and preached a bit differently, that is, acknowledged that not all whites are devils.

Another view was that in his trips abroad Malcolm made too much progress toward bringing together colored races of the world and this led to his death.

IN CHICAGO where he is under heavy guard and has a convention scheduled Friday through Sunday, Muhammad continued to deny that the Black Muslims had anything at all to do with Malcolm X's murder.

With Malcolm's funeral set for Saturday, both Chicago and New York were tense and jittery with thoughts of what could happen if violence is initiated by either group.

The action was initiated by a resolution from Marshall W. Jones, vice-president of the Second District Oranization and a member of the Baltimore City Park Board.

THE LETTER acknowledged Councilman Hergenroeder as "a man of some ability and independence," but added that "his record of stubborn opposition to fair employment practices and public accommodations legislation is sufficient in itself to disqualify him from this key position at the present time."

Durket's letter scored the "unconscionable delay" in filling the vacancy left by the death of Councilman Arthur several months ago and declared that this delay had focused attention on the power which will be held by the "swing" Councilman.

"If the current spectacle of a paralyzing factional standoff within the City Council continues, this single tie-breaking vote could assume special significance In view of the fact that colored citizens now represent 40 percent of Baltimore's poualation . . . and in the light of steady progress which has been made toward racial harmony in our community . . . we fear that Mr. Hergenroeder's election at this time would have a disturbing and disruntive effect."

Soft Whiskey.
How do we soften it without lowering the proof?
Most people would like to know the answer to that one.
Others (and we're no exception) are trying to come up with a Soft Whiskey the easy way.
We thought lowering the proof would be the trick. No good! The result: a watery whiskey. But not Soft Whiskey. We're not so perfect either. We fail miserably with Soft Whiskey experiments. Finally after over 22,000 of them we succeed. A way of softening whiskey without draining its strength.
86 proof that could do anything that an 86 proof could do. Only do it so softly.
86 PROOF
Calvert Extra swallows easy. It's gentle going down. It sort of walks softly, but carries a big stick.
As for letting you in on how we soften Soft Whiskey, this much is safe to tell. We do things with Calvert Extra that some distillers wouldn't hear of. Like doing some distilling in small batches as opposed to large ones.
You really can't expect us to tell you more. Not after all that work.
That soft we're not.

Dr. Newsom speaks on Okla. U. panel

CONCORD, N. C. — Dr. Lionel H. Newsom, president of Barber - Scotia College, will appear as a guest speaker for the annual Religious Emphasis Week program to be held at Oklahoma State University from Feb. 28 through March 3.

—If King

numerous plots planned to take his life.

ON HIS arrival at International Airport in Los Angeles Wednesday for a series of public appearances, King was surrounded with police protection.

In an airport press conference he rededicated himself to non - violence in the Civil Rights movement to the point where he said there should be no retaliation if he himself were killed.

Several years ago a deranged woman attempted to kill King by stabbing him in the chest with a knife as he autographed books in a New York book store.

Top leaders have mixed reactions. There is agreement that it would be a disaster too serious to guess the national reaction and most think there could be some violence.

It is also felt widely that the non-violent movement, because of the progress which has come through it, and because of the dedication of other leaders to it, would continue as a major force.

"THE COUNTRY would probably suffer a much more serious loss than even in the death of President Kennedy," says Andrew Young, executive director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, who explained that Dr. King "is the sole person who has advocated a course of non-violence in a world of violence."

Young said that "without this restraining voice, I'd hate to think of what would happen to the pent - up hostility and frustrations of 20 million people.

"It would deprive the world of a voice of peace and prevent the fulfillment of what promises to be a career of world peace making.

"Non violence has enough of a heritage of success and has gained the confidence of enough people so that it would continue."

Although the movement would continue in the South, Young said that he thought it "would not spread to the North" without the Rev. Dr. King's leadership.

ANOTHER LEADER who feared violence was John Lewis, head of the Student Non - Violent Coordinating Committee, who now is working with the voter registration drive in Selma, Ala.

Lewis commented, "Speaking for our own organization SNCC is committed to non-violence as a technique or tactic in effecting social, political and economic changes in America.

"It would take more than an assassination to change our tactics.

"At the same time, we recognize the fact that hundreds of thousands in the Delta of Mississippi, in Alabama and in the slums of the North are restless. We cannot speak for how long they will remain non-violent."

CONGRESSMAN Adam Clayton Powell characterized the possible end of Dr. King's leadership as "Certainly a loss for white America.

"Rev. King has been one of the few, with me, who has said non - violence is the only way to achieve equality."

Powell expressed the fear that "if something should happen to King, the violent element would take over the vacuum."

A TOP NAACP spokesman, speaking from New York, said that the loss of any civil rights leader "would have a tremendous effect.

"The terrible impact would be much greater than from Malcolm X."

He noted that the people who make the threats openly are seldom the ones who carry them out and that secret attempts are the most dangerous.

AMONG DR. KING'S close supporters is the Rev. I. Logan Kearse, pastor of Cornerstone Baptist Church and a man who has traveled with the civil rights leader.

The Rev. Mr. Kearse said that he was not certain "it is guilt becoming to mak conjectures on what would happen if any person meets a tragic end," but did say that "Dr. King has taken his place among a very select group of world leaders whose influence could never be diminished by death.

"Martin King has so effectively preached and practiced the doctrine of non - violence that his followers would adhere to it no matter the circumstances of his end.

"In all probability, he would be a more powerful force for non-violence in death than in life."

DR. LAWRENCE REDDICK, of Coppin State College and historian of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, also declined speculation, but outlined his achievements.

"He has done more than any single person," Dr. Reddick stated, "to give stature to the movement for equality. And he is recognized as this leader not only in America, but all over the world."

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, reacted this way to the question about harm befalling Dr. King listening to final arguments and rendering a decision.

"I think that would be an unspeakable horror I hate to contemplate and it just must not happen."

THE NAACP instituted the charges on Jan. 14, contending that sections of the Constitution had been violated by police who admittedly raided homes without search warrants.

The two Veney's, Samuel and Earl, have been indicted by the grand jury with the Christmas Eve hold-up of a liquor store and the wounding of a police lieutenant.

Samuel Veney is additionally charged by the jury with the murder of Sgt. Cooper.

Police Commissioner Bernard J. Schmidt was named in the civil action as defendant and argues that the searches were legal on the grounds police had arrest warrants for the suspects.

The arrest warrants. NAACP lawyers maintained, were not sufficient to permit police to search homes.

The seven-day hearing also revealed a large number of the raids, said to have been made on "reliable information and with probable cause" were conducted as the result of anonymous telephone calls.

Several raids have been conducted since the hearing. However, police in these cases were armed with search warrants.

THE FBI in a bulletin released on Thursday said that Samuel Veney has been placed on the "top ten" wanted list.

The bulletin stated the 25-year-old fugitive is believed to have left Maryland along with his older brother, Earl, 31.

FBI assistance was requested on Dec. 29, and a Federal warrant was issued charging both men with unlawful interestate flight to avoid prosecution.

He is vice president of BURHA's Credit Union, and a member of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials and the Citizens Planning and Housing Association.

Kenyan shot outside home

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — R. Gama Pinto, a member of Kenya's Parliament who once was detained on charges of Mau Mau sympathies, was shot and killed Wednesday outside his suburban home.

Authorities said Pinto was slain by three gunmen who ambushed him as he sat in his car with his three-year-old daughter.

Pinto, 35, who was believed to have Communist sympathies, was shot four times, twice in the heart.

ARRESTED BY co authorities during the Mau Mau terror in the 1950's Pinto had been active politically here since Kenya gained independence in 1963.
